Kansas Recants
After 56 years of total drought Kansas now has 3.2 per cent beer. Westbrook Pegler tells some of the results on page 7.

The Washington Post

The Weather
Today and tomorrow—Fair and continued cold.
Yesterday's high, 43; low, 30.
Details on Page 5.

NO. 22,201 Entered as Second-Class Matter, Postoffice, Washington, D. C. WASHINGTON: MONDAY, MARCH 29, 1937 X * Copyright, 1937, By The Washington Post. THREE CENTS

C.I.O. Sit-Down Strike Denounced by Green As Perilous to Labor

Statement Emphasizes Rift Between Rival Union Groups:

Manufacturers Call New Tactics Illegal

Declare Factories Have Right to Adopt Own Means of Eviction.

On the Labor Front.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, termed the sit-down strike illegal and disavowed it "as a part of the economic and organizatio policy of the federation."

Chrysler strike negotiators failed to solve the union recognition problem in an Easter parley, and John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, left for New York to work on a new soft coal miners' contract.

Disavows Sit-Down.

In a statement sharply emphasizing the cleavage within organized labor, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday termed the sit-down strike illegal and disavowed it "as a part of the economic and organization policy" of the federation.

First outright repudiation by Green of the sit-down, this action was regarded as a virtual challenge to John L. Lewis and the Committee for Industrial Organization, success of which in use of the sit-down has enabled it to rival the older A. F. of L.

Green said that "public opinion will not support sit-down strikes" and that "temporary advantages gained (by labor) through sit-down strikes will inevitably lead to permanent injury."

McGrady to Take Part.

Through its conciliation expert, Assistant Secretary of Labor McGrady, the Government meanwhile moved to stave off what might prove a disastrous strike of 400,000 bituminous coal miners with announcement McGrady will go to New York tomorrow to participate in negotiations of Lewis and Appalachian mine operators.

Only three days remained prior to the Wednesday night strike deadline, and the Associated Press reported from New York that the deadlock continues unbroken. The miners are seeking a cut from 35 to 30 hours in the work week, a 15 per cent pay increase, two weeks' vacation with pay, and a guarantee of 200 days' work annually. Operators want a 40-hour week and continuation of present wage scales.

McGrady said last night his entry into the negotiations is voluntary and that neither Lewis nor operators had invited him.

These developments were accompanied yesterday by a declaration from Representative Dies (Democrat), of Texas, on the heels of Saturday's White House conference, that "the Government has made a mistake in refusing to take a firm and courageous stand against sit-down strikes."

Green's Statement.

After the conference Saturday of Congressional leaders with President Roosevelt, the latter's intention not to intervene against the sit-down became clear when Senator Robinson (Democrat), of Arkansas, issued a statement which asserted Federal laws had not been violated or Federal property seized and defined these as the sole conditions which would justify governmental action.

During the day, also, the National Association of Manufacturers, made public a sit-down strike analysis it has sent to its members, wherein it was determined that such strikes are unlawful, because they involve "a seizure of the property of others" and that sit-downers are liable to both civil and criminal action at law.

Green's statement was as follows:

"The sit-down strike has never been approved or supported by the American Federation of Labor because there is involved in its ap-

Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

Estranged Father Shoots Two Sons And Kills Himself

Vineland, N. J., March 28 (AP).—Two boys leaving Sunday school services were critically wounded today, police authorities reported, by bullets fired by their father before he killed himself.

Landis Township Police Chief Peter T. Maguire related details of frantic efforts to forestall the triple shooting after the body of William J. Gillerin, 37, was found slumped over his unconscious sons, Robert, 7, and Raymond, 5, in his automobile a half mile south of here.

Gillerin met the boys, along with another son, Joseph, 14, when they left Memorial Presbyterian Church Sunday School. He gave Joseph a note to take home to his estranged wife, Angelina, in which he told, Maguire said, of his intention to kill Robert, Raymond and himself.

Mrs. Gillerin called Vineland police, who quickly sent a request to all police in the vicinity to watch for the Gillerin car. Fifteen minutes later the car was found, but too late to prevent the tragedy.

Glass to Attack Court Plan In Radio Address Tonight

Drastic Rebuke Is Contrast With First Air Talk Aiding Roosevelt.

By Russell Smith.

For the first time during the angry controversy over Supreme Court realignment, proponents of the President's plan yesterday assailed individual members of the court in a statement which said candidly they seek personnel changes "because of economic attitudes (of the court majority) and not primarily because of age."

The attack, directed mainly at Associate Justices Butler, Sutherland and Roberts, was that of the Utility Consumers National Policy Committee in a report which asserted that "the majority of the court has virtually nullified effective national and State regulation of utilities by 'flank attacks.'"

The utility consumers committee is composed of representatives of utility protective leagues, centering mostly in New York and New Jersey, but includes two college professors and a representative of the League for Industrial Democracy. Its statement was issued through a local office.

In the statement which announced conclusions of the report, sent yesterday to the Senate, the committee also included quotations from Senator Smathers, freshman Democratic Senator of New Jersey, heartily indorsing these views and declaring it will be his "duty and privilege to inject this new thought into the debate that takes place in the United States Senate" on the court plan.

Advocates of the reorganization had matters mostly their own way in the week-end publicity, but silence of its foes was simply a lull before the storm awaiting what may be the major attack tonight when Senator Glass (Democrat), Virginia, goes on the air with an opposition speech he has worked on through weeks of illness. Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic floor lead-

on Page 2, Column 3.

SENATOR CARTER GLASS.

congratulation he received following that address, and among the former he cherishes one from President Roosevelt in which the President stated, in effect, that Glass' was the best campaign speech he had ever heard.

Adding to the drama of Glass' appearance tonight is the apparently widening breach within the

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Attack Opened On 3 Justices' Economic View

Court Change Backers Admit Age Is Not Real Issue.

By Russell Smith.

For the first time during the angry controversy over Supreme Court realignment, proponents of the President's plan yesterday assailed individual members of the court in a statement which said candidly they seek personnel changes "because of economic attitudes (of the court majority) and not primarily because of age."

The attack, directed mainly at Associate Justices Butler, Sutherland and Roberts, was that of the Utility Consumers National Policy Committee in a report which asserted that "the majority of the court has virtually nullified effective national and State regulation of utilities by 'flank attacks.'"

The utility consumers committee is composed of representatives of utility protective leagues, centering mostly in New York and New Jersey, but includes two college professors and a representative of the League for Industrial Democracy. Its statement was issued through a local office.

In the statement which announced conclusions of the report, sent yesterday to the Senate, the committee also included quotations from Senator Smathers, freshman Democratic Senator of New Jersey, heartily indorsing these views and declaring it will be his "duty and privilege to inject this new thought into the debate that takes place in the United States Senate" on the court plan.

Advocates of the reorganization had matters mostly their own way in the week-end publicity, but silence of its foes was simply a lull before the storm awaiting what may be the major attack tonight when Senator Glass (Democrat), Virginia, goes on the air with an opposition speech he has worked on through weeks of illness. Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic floor lead-

on Page 2, Column 3.

Federal Home Loan Banks to Enter Markets

Will Offer Debenture Issue in Investment Field; Expert Selected.

The Federal Home Loan Banks yesterday announced their intention to enter for the first time the open investment market and pursuant to the announcement named Everett Smith, New York expert, as financial representative.

Heretofore, the Federal Home Loan Banks have obtained funds solely through Treasury and member subscriptions to their capital stock. Member institutions include building and loan associations, cooperative banks, insurance companies and savings banks, among others.

Program Is Explained.

Smith, a Seattle, Wash., native, now with the Discount Corporation in New York, said in a statement issued by the banks:

"To make available to approved mortgage-lending institutions an increasing volume of funds for home financing, the banks are now preparing to offer a consolidated debenture issue, which will be the joint and several obligation of the banks, to the investing public. Further debentures may be offered from time to time as additional funds are required."

There are 12 Home Loan Banks serving the various regions of the country, the banks being located in New York, Chicago, Boston, Pittsburgh, Winston-Salem, N. C., Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Des Moines, Little Rock, Topeka, Portland and Los Angeles. Each bank is managed by a board of 12 directors, 8 of whom are elected by member institutions with 4 being appointed by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington.

Banks Paying Dividends.

"The banks have proved themselves self-supporting and are paying dividends to the Government and their other stockholders," Smith added. "Each member institution is required to subscribe to stock in

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Capital Chill Ignored For Easter Rites

President and First Lady Attend Church at St. Thomas'.

Record Throngs Attend Many Services; Winter Togs in Parade.

Although much of the parading had to be done in winter togs, Washington celebrated a happy Easter yesterday.

In weather that was as fair as it was snappy, residents of the Capital and their thousands of visitors made all their holiday appointments, and record throngs attended many of the special services.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt led the Easter processional by attending 11 a. m. services in St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, where they are members.

With Mrs. Roosevelt, two grandchildren and Mrs. James Roosevelt, wife of the eldest son, at his side, the President listened to the Rev. Howard S. Wilkinson preach an Easter sermon on the text, "Risen With Christ."

Communion was administered to the Chief Executive at the close of the service and then to the 1,000 others in the congregation. For a few minutes before the Presidential party started back to the White House, Mr. Roosevelt talked in low tones with the Rev. Wilkinson as he leaned over the tonneau of his car.

Showered With Glass.

Shards of glass, born by the brisk wind, were showered over the President's party when a photographer's flash light bulb broke on the pavement close to his car.

Sarah Roosevelt, James Roosevelt's daughter, and William Bonner, son of Elliott Roosevelt, scampered out of the church and home immediately after the sermon.

It was Mrs. Roosevelt's second observance of the day. Up with the dawn, she joined nearly 15,000 other worshipers at the Knights Templar service at Arlington National Cemetery. For that occasion, the First Lady gave up wearing Easter apparel for a comfortable gray fur wrap.

Another early service drew several thousand to the foot of the Washington Monument, where the Schola Cantorum sang Easter anthems in the outdoor Sylvan Theater. Arturo Papalardo directed a chorus of 200 voices, and Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, canon of Washington Cathedral, recited the Lord's Prayer.

Scores of churches began their full Easter program with sunrise services, and one, Ninth Street Christian Church, timed its first rites with the exact moment of sunrise, 5:51 a. m.

Numerous Visitors.

Congregations at Washington Cathedral, as well as at other churches, were augmented by the attendance of many out-of-town visitors in the Capital for the week-end. Incoming crowds reached the city by train, airline, bus and motor routes through the early part of the day.

Even the Washington tourist camp, which has had plenty of spare space through the winter months, was filled to capacity. More than 75 auto trailers were there yesterday.

Many of the large hotels reported all rooms taken.

The Right Rev. James E. Freeman, D. D., Bishop of Washington, just back from a trip to California, preached at the 4 p. m. Easter service in Washington Cathedral yesterday. At the earlier 11 a. m. festival service, the Easter congregation heard the Right Rev. Charles Fiske, former Bishop of Central New York.

Services throughout the city were marked by programs of special music, arranged by church choirs and soloists. Easter anthems were a conspicuous part of the morning services, and last night many of the parishes devoted their entire service to Easter cantatas, pageants and musical programs.

The popular cantata, "The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, was presented in nearly a score of churches.

"A Legend of the Grail," a miracle play by Douglas Horton, was given at the evening hour in First Congregational Church.

All Catholic churches held special masses through the morning hours, climaxing their day's program of services with a solemn high mass just before noon.

Art Model, Mother and Boarder Slain

Father Finds Beautiful Daughter and Wife Strangled.

Triple Murder Occurs in Exclusive N. Y. East Side Area.

By the Associated Press.

New York, March 28.—One block from the apartment where Nancy Evans Titterton was murdered on Good Friday of last year, an Easter-celebrating father today found his beautiful daughter, her mother and a strange man slain in their apartment.

Joseph Gedeon, upholsterer, invited to the home of his estranged wife, Mary, for Easter dinner, walked into the flat shortly after 3 p. m. today and found:

Veronica (Ronny) Gedeon, his 20-year-old daughter, a professional model, lying nude and dead on her bed, her face discolored and marked.

His 54-year-old attractive wife dead beneath Veronica's bed, her face also discolored and marked. She was in her nightgown.

The body of a man unknown to him but later identified by police as that of Frank Byrnes, bartender, who had roomed in Mrs. Gedeon's flat for five weeks. Byrnes, clad in his underwear, had been stabbed six times around and through the left ear with an extremely slender instrument which was not found in the apartment. He was lying on the floor of another bedroom.

With Gedeon when he went into the apartment through a door which he found closed but unlocked were his other daughter, Mrs. Joseph C. Kudner and her husband. They called the police.

Women Strangled.

Medical Examiner Thomas A. Gonzales said "manual strangulation" was the apparent cause of the women's deaths. Examination of the body of Mrs. Gedeon, he said, indicated she had been criminally assaulted before she was killed, and her body thrown under the bed. There was no indication, he said of such an assault on the younger woman. It was certain, he said, that the same person killed all three of the victims.

The neighborhood around the apartment house at 316 East Fiftieth street, was thrown into instant confusion after police arrival, as residents recalled the brutal murder of Mrs. Titterton nearby with its similarity to the present case.

Mrs. Titterton, talented young wife of a radio executive, was ravished and murdered by John Fiorenza, youthful upholsterer's helper, and her body thrown into a bathtub.

Fiorenza was recently executed for the crime.

Man Killed First.

Assistant Chief Inspector John A. Lyons said after examination of the bodies and the scene that he believed Brynes was killed first.

"He was undoubtedly attacked as he slept," the officer said, pointing out that there was blood on the man's bed although his body was found on the floor. The fact that all his wounds were on the left side of his head seemed to indicate he was sleeping on the right side.

Tentative reconstruction of the case by detectives indicated Byrnes was killed first "to get him out of the way," that Mrs. Gedeon was then slain and that the killer waited in the apartment for Veronica to come home. The officers determined that she arrived at about 3 a. m. and said they planned to question her escort later.

Her fur coat and purse were found in a clothes hamper in he bathroom and her dress in one bedroom. Apparently she wore only an undergarment when she was killed.

The officers speculated that she undressed partially, went into the bathroom and was killed when she emerged.

No Robbery Motive.

There was little evidence of struggle in the aparment, Police Inspector Francis J. Kear said, and emphasized that there was "no larceny."

A pekinese dog owned by the women, was found in the apartment. Neighbors told Kear that the dog usually was belligerent in the presence of a stranger and that it had not been heard to bark during last night or today, a fact Kear noted as "important."

Canvass of the 24 families occupying the next six-story building revealed none had heard unusual usual noises save Cosmon Cambinias who lives on the floor below. Cambinias told officers who re-

Continued on Page 3, Column 3.

Freighter Sinking; 32 Aboard Await Rescue at Dawn

San Francisco, March 28 (AP).—Thirty-two or more persons aboard the sinking freighter Volunteer far out in the Pacific awaited daylight and rescue today by the British steamer Fresno City, which arrived alongside a few hours earlier.

Globe Wireless, which reported the arrival of the Fresno City after a 240-mile rescue run, disclosed also that there were passengers aboard the stricken ship, but their number and identity were not known here.

Advices said the Volunteer, a cargo ship, could accommodate a limited number of passengers and that a few persons were so listed, in addition to her crew. Reports from Tokyo said a crew of 30 and two passengers were aboard.

The silence of the Volunteer's wireless for several hours left her exact condition unknown to the outside world.

Italy Rushed Troops To Spain From Africa, Says Captured Major

America Prepares—For Peace!

U. S. Strengthening Defenses Amid Growing Threats of War

While Program Is Not as Ambitious as Some European Nations,' Government Is Increasing Power on Land, Air and Sea.

Europe is rearming on a gigantic scale. War rumors fill every front page. Clashing Fascist and Communist ambitions apparently are bringing another great war nearer and nearer. What is democratic America doing to meet any threat of involvement? The following series of articles discusses American defensive measures.

By Edward T. Folliard.

April 6 will be the twentieth anniversary of America's entry into the World War—a war that was to end wars. What has happened to our Army and Navy since that conflict came to a close?

How do they fare today?

EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

The answer is that America again is engaged on a program of preparedness. It is rearming. Its fighting forces are being rehabilitated—this after many post-war years of neglect, years in which the Nation fairly weltered in altruism, years in which it sponsored some disarmament and peace treaties and cheered all others, meanwhile, allowing its own fighting machine to grow weak and rusty.

Today, however, America is pushing a program of enlargement and modernization on land, on the sea and in the air.

Actually this program has been under way for three years, but in the hurly-burly of the New Deal attack on the economic front, it has been largely overlooked.

Compared to the programs in hysterical Europe, that of the United States is far from ambitious. The more rabid apostle of preparedness may not be satisfied with it. But at least he can look at the picture today and not experience the shudder that must have wracked him on that fateful April 6, 1917.

The Army, long a prey to Treasury watchdogs on Capitol Hill, is at last beginning to take on a bit of fat.

The wings of the Air Corps are being strengthened.

The Navy, now that limitation treaties have expired, again is being built up so that it will be "second to none."

A plan for industrial mobilization, something that was lacking in 1917, is ready, and Congress has before it a bill to give it the force of law and to curb war profiteers.

The Nation at last seems determined to have a real American merchant marine, an indispensable auxiliary for the Navy in time of war.

Such, briefly, is the picture of national defense in America nearly 20 years after Congress, amid cheers, voted to throw this country's lot in with the Allies and make the world "safe for democracy."

A preparedness program costs money.

Until recently, there was no real public sentiment for strengthening America's armed forces. No gen-

Continued on Page 7, Column 7.

2 Mine Blasts Kill Nine in Pennsylvania

4 Rescue Workers Caught in Second Explosion; 7 Bodies Found.

By the Associated Press.

Dubois, Pa., March 28.—Two explosions killed nine men deep in the workings of a coal mine near this northwestern Pennsylvania town, and their bodies were carried out today by rescue workers.

Four of the men were rescue workers who entered the shaft after the first explosion which had trapped the other five.

The mine, operated by the Northwest Mining & Exchange Co., is about 14 miles from here on the outskirts of the mining settlement of Kramer. It normally employs more than 800 men but only the five had been working in the pit Saturday night when the explosions occurred only 35 minutes apart.

Few of the inhabitants of the settlement—most of them away to spend Easter Sunday with friends—knew of the explosions until late today.

P. F. Nairn, deputy secretary of the State Bureau of Mines, who hurried here from his home in Carrolltown, Pa., to direct rescue operations, said:

"There were two explosions. The

Continued on Page 3, Column 4.

New 'Machine With a Memory' Imitates Mechanism of Brain

By the Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, March 28.—Invention of a machine with a memory, named the memnoscope, which stores up in a bit of "gray matter" made of aluminum foil and copper, an electrical image that can afterward be recalled in its original likeness, was announced here today.

The memnoscope is a new electrical testing apparatus. But its structure is a simplified working model for the theories of scientists that human memory is probably electrical. It is a new proof that an electrical charge can assume a specific "shape" and hold the assumed form.

The memnoscope's problem is to remember pulsations of electricity occurring when alternating current is converted into direct current by ignition. It was invented by B. E. Marshall and W. E. Pakala, of the Westinghouse Research Laboratories.

As an "eye" for the memnoscope they set up an induction circuit which picks up the pulsations to be watched. The "eye" telegraphs these pulsations to a "brain." The brain is a round, rapidly revolving copper roller, an ordinary commutator in form.

This brain has only 147 "cells." Each is a segment of the commutator, a wedge of copper containing a bit of aluminum foil capable of storing a small electric charge.

Each charge is an image of one of the pulsations under observation. The segment, like the spoke of a wheel, carries the electrical image around one revolution, which takes one-thirteenth of a second. Then a brush draws off the charge.

It is conducted away, ready for work. If it "remembers" correctly, it carries the electrical image of trouble in the ignition. It has never failed. It shows its memory of this kind of trouble by tripping the shutter of a camera.

In the human brain the "parts" needed for a living memory machine have already been identified by scientists.

Each of the brain's billions of protein molecules is an electric dynamo. Even the smallest of these brain dynamos has scores of millions of separate, atomic parts. Each is more complicated than the largest human machine ever built.

Moreover these living dynamos are not, like man-made machines, bolted to fixed positions. Dr. Cohn has proved that they twist to and fro, like oscillating compass needles.

Electrically, the human brain is a powerhouse. It normally gives off about 12 pulsations a second, a current of 20 to 90 millionths of a volt and a two to three millionths of an ampere.

2 Here to Share In Guggenheim Scholars' Fund

Cleric and Educator Get Fellowships to Pursue Their Studies.

Two Washington men, one a religious scholar, the other a poet, will share in the $130,000 fellowship awards for 1937, announced yesterday by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation.

The local recipients were listed among 63 scholars, writers, composers, artists and scientists who will carry on their respective projects in all parts of the world.

The Rev. Dom Anselm Strittmatter, O. S. B., of St. Anselm's Priory, received a renewal of his fellowship to continue his studies in the history of Christian life and thought.

Sterling Allen Brown, assistant English professor at Howard University, received a fellowship to assist him in creative writing.

Both men have been widely recognized in their fields. Father Strittmatter's researches have been published in leading scholarly journals in this country and abroad.

Brown has published a volume of poetry, "Southern Road," and many essays and poems by him have appeared in various journals. He plans to use his fellowship to write a long narrative poem, "When Ham Laughed."

Four Baltimore men, two of whom

Continued on Page 22, Column 2.

15,000 Join Dawn Services in Arlington; Mrs. Roosevelt Honors Unknown Soldier

By Jay Walz.

A cold wind cut across the silent slopes as Easter dawn broke over Arlington National Cemetery yesterday.

But the nip in the March air was as nothing to the multitude of nearly 15,000 who rose early to worship there. For that very air carried to their ears the words of the Rev. G. Ellis Williams, who was saying:

"The Lord is Risen."

"If a Man Die He Shall Live Again."

"I know that My Redeemer Liveth."

And the glad message—repeated as it has been now for more than 1,900 years—warmed the spirits of the throng—even as did the rays of the clear Easter sun that presently broke upon the crowd in the great amphitheater.

The annual Knights Templar services were as colorful as ever. The Knights in plume and uniform made a stirring entry as the United States Marine Band struck up "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, arriving just before the 7:30 a. m. ceremony started, appeared in the box of honor to the right of the stage.

Every seating place in the large open-air temple was occupied, and hundreds more stood in the surrounding archway.

It was another celebration of Easter. But Mr. Williams, who is superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Churches in the District of Columbia, was not unmindful of those war dead who, having "given the last full measure of devotion," lie dead in Arlington's quiet hillsides.

"On this day of Resurrection we cannot believe that they have died in vain," he said in his sermon.

An Easter tribute was again paid the soldiers who fell in battle after the service. Advancing to position before the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Knights Templar formed a guard of honor, while Mrs. Roosevelt placed on the Tomb a large cross of white lilies.

Eugene E. Thompson, chairman of the program, opened the amphitheater service with a short greeting in which he announced that for the first time the Knights of the District were joined in the annual ceremony by the Grand Commandery of Virginia. In the audience were large numbers of Knights and their friends from all parts of Virginia. Their officers and those of the District Grand Commandery occupied boxes flanking the proscenium.

The Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., chaplain of the House of Representatives, delivered the opening prayer, and Theodore C. Lewis led in the singing of Easter hymns. The Rev. John C. Palmer, D. D., grand chaplain of the District Grand Lodge, F. A. A. M., recited the New Testament Scripture which tells the story of the first Resurrection morning.

Dr. Williams assured the Easter gathering that since the day of long ago when Jesus' followers found the rock before His tomb rolled away, there "can be no doubts about the continuity of life."

Since the beginning of time poets and philosophers have expressed the feeling that there was, or might

Continued on Page 13, Column 8.

French and Russian Charges Against Rome Are Supported.

Own Men Killed In Fascist Rout

Prisoner Admits Duce Had 40,000 on Front at Guadalajara.

By the Associated Press.

Valencia, March 28.—Thousands of regular Italian troops, returning from service in Ethiopia, were sent to Spain to aid Francisco Franco, an Italian prisoner of war told the Associated Press tonight.

Maj. Antonio Lucciano, captured by advancing Spanish government troops, talked freely of Spanish military operations when interviewed in the loyalist prison here which houses several hundred other Italians.

He said he belonged to the Littorio division, a regular Italian army division in the Ethiopian campaign. On his return to Italy, he said, officers and men were asked to serve again and almost all agreed and were sent to Spain. He said they brought the same uniforms used in Ethiopia.

Lucciano, who said he lived in New York in 1928 and 1929 where he was a glove importer, declared Fascist troops at Brihuega on the Guadalajara front were entirely Italian, and that they totaled four divisions of 10,000 men each.

Charges of Italian intervention in behalf of Franco's Spanish rebels threatened only last week to plunge Europe into war.

Madrid Demand Refused.

French and Russian charges that Premier Mussolini had sent thousands of troops to fight in Spain gained support in the British House of Commons from David Lloyd George, who warned that failure of Great Britain to resist Italian imperialism was endangering world peace.

The crisis abated when a spokesman of the British foreign office virtually gave Il Duce a "clean bill" against the charges, and refused a Spanish government demand for action to halt the intervention.

"There is no conclusive proof that a single Italian is fighting in Spain," the British spokesman said.

Maj. Lucciano also described tonight how Italians killed hundreds of their own men in the confusion of the retreat at Guadalajara.

"The men were moved around so quickly and positions changed so often that there was so much confusion Italians killed hundreds of their own men, but I could not attempt to set the figure," he declared.

Killed by Own Men.

Lucciano said he led a company into a town near Brihuega believing other units would follow immediately. When they did not arrive, he said his company found itself under fire of government troops ahead and Italians to the rear. He said the majority of the company was killed and the rest captured.

His account followed government statements that many Italians must have been killed by troops on their own side because of the large number of bodies found in places said never to have been under government fire.

Maj. Lucciano denied, however, that there had been any internal fighting or mutiny among the Italians.

Bombing Is Kept Up.

Madrid, March 28 (AP).—Both Spanish government and insurgent aircraft kept up bombing operations today, but no widespread Easter Sunday fighting was evident between land forces disputing possession of the Iberian peninsula.

Reports to Madrid said flotilla of government warships returned safely to Cartagena Harbor after bombarding Malaga and Motril and other points occupied by the insurgents in their January offensive along the southern Mediterranean Coast.

The government squadron cruised up and down the coast in concentrated action, also hurling bombs into Melilla, Spanish Morocco.

Government land forces pressing westward along the coast were said to have occupied strategic hills near Motril, which, government press reports said, the insurgents were evacuating.

Reports from the Guadalajara front northeast of Madrid said government and insurgent troops were fortifying their positions.

Today's Index

	Pages
Amusements	14
Bridge	14
Classified Advertisements	19, 21
Comics	20
Crossword Puzzle	14
Death Notices	18
Editorials	6
Financial News	18
Hollywood	14
Pegler's Column	7
Pictures	8
Radio	17
Society News	10
Sports News	15, 16, 17
The Post's New Yorker	14
Woman's Page	11

Strike Parley Reopens Today Without Lewis

C. I. O. Chief Called to N. Y.; Murphy Still Hopes for Early Agreement.

By the Associated Press.

Lansing, Mich., March 28.—Chrysler strike negotiators failed to solve the union recognition problem in a brief Easter Day parley, and hopes of some 80,000 idle workers for an immediate return to their jobs were left dangling.

The parley will be resumed tomorrow morning without the presence of John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, who was forced to return to New York for work on a new soft coal miners contract.

Gov. Frank Murphy, who had guided the conference for five days as a peacemaker, said the difference between opposing sides was "largely a question of the degree of bargaining."

Lewis May Return.

Announcing that Lewis left for the coal conference "with the consent of all parties," Gov. Murphy added:

"A settlement can be reached at any time. It may possibly be reached during Lewis' absence. Otherwise he will return as soon as possible."

A reliable source close to the parley, however, said it was doubted that the difference would be composed without Lewis' presence.

The C. I. O. leader will be replaced by Lee Pressman, the committee's general counsel, and Richard T. Frankensteen, organizational director for the United Automobile Workers, who struck to enforce their demand to be the sole bargaining agent for 67,000 Chrysler employes.

Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the automotive corporation, who came here Wednesday to join Murphy and Lewis in debating the major strike issue, will continue in the conference. K. T. Keller, president of the firm, and B. E. Hutchinson, vice president, will remain with him.

Murphy Is Confident.

Gov. Murphy, still voicing confidence and sticking grimly to his job as ace negotiator in automobile labor disputes, took time off before noon to attend Easter church services. After the conference adjourned, he left for an overnight visit in Detroit. Chrysler remained in Lansing.

"Progress is being made," the Governor said, repeating a phrase heard many times in strike negotiations, "and I am hopeful for an early agreement.

"The issue has been collective bargaining from the very beginning of the conference. We have worked five days and five nights on that point. It is largely a question of degree of bargaining."

80,000 Idle in Strikes.

In Detroit, 60,000 idle Chrysler employes and 20,000 others thrown out of work in related industries because of the strike awaited the outcome of the conference and a possible signal to return to work this week.

The Nation-wide strike front had narrowed slightly yesterday with the number of idle men in labor disputes estimated at 124,000, compared with an estimated 150,000 idle last week.

Seek Radio Settlement.

Representatives of another C. I. O. affiliate, the United Electrical and Radio Workers, were attempting to bring about an agreement with the General Electric Co. on demands for wages and hours. Officials of the two groups will resume negotiatoins tomorrow in New York.

The case of the "sit-down" strikes, which has left many law enforcement agencies in a quandary over enforcement, had attracted attention of the Natoin's executives in Washington.

In Kentucky, Gov. A. B. Chandler and Mayor Neville Miller of Louisville declared sit-downs unlawful and urged workers to refrain from participating. Sit-downers were evicted a week ago from the Louisville Textile Mill.

February Building In District Shows A Gain of 300%

Building permits issued in Washington last month more than tripled those of February, 1936, Secretary of Labor Perkins said yesterday in the monthly Department of Labor report on building activity.

The Washington increase, from $2,019,521 to $7,915,714, was among the greatest in a general gain of 83 per cent for the 1,524 cities included in the survey. The increase in permit valuations in these cities over January, 1937, was 33 per cent.

Permits for multi-family dwellings to cost nearly $1,300,000 and for school buildings to cost $1,200,000 were Washington projects listed by the Secretary as among the "important" projects for the country as a whole.

Non-residential building activity gained 13.5 per cent over the previous month and 24 per cent over February, 1936. Operations in repairs, alterations and additions were up 30.7 per cent compared with January, and 71.8 per cent compared with February, 1936.

"This is the second time in eight years," the Secretary said, "that February permit valuations have exceeded January valuations."

The increase in building activities, she said, was noted in every section of the United States except in New England, where comparative reports showed a decrease in activities.

PWA Bond Transactions Bring $187,912 a Week

By the Associated Press.

The Public Works Administration said yesterday the Federal Government has been taking in an average of $187,912 a week as the result of PWA'S bond transactions.

The estimate was based on profit from bond sales and interest collected during the last 19 weeks. The total amount of interest collected through the week of March 18 was placed at $19,107,040.

Through the week of March 22 profit from RFC'S bond sales had mounted to $9,963,163.

New Faces in Congress

Anderson, 'Baby' Legislator, Gained Fame as Prosecutor

CHARLES ARTHUR ANDERSON.

St. Louis Representative Walks With Limp as Result of Gangland's Attempt to Get Even; His Only Hobby Is Baseball.

By Hope Ridings Miller.

His biggest tussle with underworld tyranny nearly cost personable Charles Arthur Anderson his life. His limp is a constant reminder of a night four years ago when a gangster-trick almost worked as it was planned.

The story goes back to 1933 when the Representative of Missouri's Twelfth District was prosecuting attorney for St. Louis County. The notorious Kelley kidnaping case was in court. On the evening of the day when Angelo Rosegrant was convicted of complicity in "snatching" Dr. Isaac Dee Kelley, noted St. Louis physician, Anderson was driving home.

At a curve in the road, a car deliberately swerved against him machine, forcing him to pile up in a ditch. He was pinned under the car. Several blood transfusions and a long sojourn in a hospital brought recovery. Although he recently discarded crutches for a cane, he will have to submit to an operation before he can walk normally again. He is convinced the car that caused the wreck was driven by Rosegrant's friends.

A close call—yet; but it was all in a day's work for a man whose 37 years have been peppered with drama. Anderson has been in law long enough to know that around an attorney's head the bullets of hatred fly just as freely as bouquets of admiration.

Incidentally, he has had more of the latter in the past decade than most men get in a long lifetime. For two consecutive years—1935 and 1936—he was nominated for the St. Louis award as outstanding citizen. He has served two terms as prosecuting attorney for his county; and has been president of countless organizations, including Missouri's Prosecuting Attorney's Association and the same State's famous Crime Prevention Bureau. Has some refreshing theories about curbing crime. Believes it's largely a matter of improving the environment of youth with delinquent tendencies.

"Criminals aren't born; they're bred by unfortunate surroundings," was the way he put it. "Boys' clubs, worthy of the name, can do more to save our country from gangsterism than all the prisons and high-powered punitive measures put together."

A Democrat and, thus far, a stanch New Dealer, Anderson doesn't see eye to eye with the President on the proposed Supreme Court change. "In my opinion nine judges can do the job as well as 16," he said.

"If they can't, if any change is to be made, it should be done by constitutional amendment. I don't believe it's my privilege to back any measure that should be decided by the people back home."

Anderson is an ex-service man and was once commander of the American Legion; so he had hardly landed in the House when he was placed on the Military Affairs Committee—a position rarely attained by baby Congressmen. Has another claim to distinctionn. He has been by far the most-photographed "face" among the new Representtives. Cameras clicked him 721 times in one month when he was prosecuting attorney in the widely-publicized "Ware baby" case in St. Louis.

As for hobbies—Anderson admits to only one. "It's baseball," he said. There's a reason: he was once a professional player. Wont be surprised if one of his four sons turns out to be a St. Louis Cardinal, or even joins the Boston Red Sox—as Daddy did.

Sit-Down Strikes Are Assailed By Green in Assault on C. I. O.

Continued from Page 1.

plication grave implications detrimental to labor's interests. It must be disavowed by the thinking men and women of labor.

"First, public opinion will not support sit-down strikes. That means labor loses public support when any part of it engages in sit-down strikes. Without such support organized labor cannot win strikes or establish and maintain itself as a vital force in the economic and industrial life of the Nation. Labor cannot afford to lose the support of public opinion.

"Second, temporary advantages gained through sit-down strikes will inevitably lead to permanent injury. The public generally will not long tolerate the illegal seizure of property. If persisted in it will through State and Federal lawmaking bodies force the enactment of legislation providing for compulsory arbitration, the incorporation of unions and other repressive forms of legislation which will deprive organized labor of freedom of association and liberty of action within the limitations of both moral and statutory law. Such action wold be a severe blow to labor.

"Labor should refrain from engaging in sit-down strikes and maintain its freedom of action and association rather than experiment with it and as a result be subjected to oppressive legal regulation and compulsory arbitration. Labor therefore runs the risk of losing more than can be gained by engaging in sit-down strikes. It must be free to strike against injustice and oppression and for higher wages and better living standards. It must be permitted to picket when strikes occur. It may be greatly restricted and perhaps denied the exercise of these elemental rights if it persists in engaging in sit-down strikes.

"I therefore publicly warn labor against this illegal procedure. Both personally and officially I disavow the sit-down strike as a part of the economic and organization policy of the American Federation of Labor."

In its summary of the sit-down strike report, the Manufacturers Association said, in part:

"A combination to conduct a sit-down strike is an unlawful conspiracy under the common-law rule, and under the statutes of most, if not all, of the States.

"Such conspiracy is criminally punishable when entered into; it becomes actionable in a civil suit for damages against all who call, participate in, aid, encourage, abet, or direct it, if it is actually carried out.

"Even though the conspiracy is confined to relatively few persons at the outset, all who participate or assist thereafter become equally liable with the original conspirators.

"Punitive or exemplary damages may be recovered in a civil suit for conspiracy. * * *

"It is an indictable conspiracy at common law to prevent others from working, by force, violence, threats, or intimidation. The threats and intimidation need not be actual, but may consist of "moral intimidation" occasioned by the general attitude and conduct of a body of persons acting in concert.

"One whose premises are occupied by a tresspasser is not obliged to rely exclusively upon public officials to eject the tresspasser. He may employ "self-help"—indeed the law contemplates that recourse shall be had to public assistance only where necessary. But in ejecting a trespasser by force, no more force may be used than is reasonable and necessary. Exceeding this limit, which is sometimes fixed by statute, makes the employer liable to an injured trespasser."

Federal Home Loan Banks to Enter Markets

Continued from Page 1.

the bank in its region in an amount equal to at least 1 per cent of the aggregate of unpaid principal of the subscriber's home mortgage loans.

"The banks had consolidated resources of $181,935,296 as of December 31, 1936. Since the inception of the system in October, 1932, the banks have made loans totaling $281,932,356, of which $136,531,626 had been repaid by December 31, 1936, leaving $145,400,729 outstanding.

"The banks have no direct dealings with the individual home owner, their function instead being to provide a national reservoir of funds on which member institutions can borrow in much the same way that commercial banks can draw on the Federal Reserve System. The mortgage eligible for loans cannot exceed $20,000, nor can they be on a building housing more than four families, thus insuring that the small home owner will get the benefit of the system's credit facilities."

Flood Control Will Be Aired By Rivers Unit

Program Outlined for Conference Here on April 26-27.

The thirty-second convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress will be held here April 26 and 27 at the Mayflower Hotel, it was announced yesterday by Representative Jack Nichols, national vice president of the organization.

Recent flood districts and the menace of ever-widening drought areas have precipitated a demand throughout the United States for a comprehensive program to prevent these tragedies, it was pointed out in the official call for the convention. The formulation of such a program will be the aim of the meeting, which is expected to draw a representative attendance from all parts of the country.

Among important proposals scheduled to be introduced will be the one to change the cost allocation feature of the present flood-control law as a result of the disasters in the Ohio and Mississippi basins. The convention will receive a report from a special interstate flood-control committee, headed by Tom R. Hutton, of Binghamton, N. Y., which has made a special study of this problem.

Flood Unit to Meet.

The spring meeting of the Mississippi River Flood-Control Association, of which United States Senator John H. Overton, of Louisiana, is president, will be held in conjunction with the convention. Revision of the Markham plan for flood control on the Mississippi River in the light of the Ohio-Mississippi floods probably will be one of the most important matters to be considered by the convention.

The Projects Committee of the Congress, headed by Representative William J. Driver, of Arkansas, will meet April 23 and 24, immediately preceding the convention for consideration of individual projects.

Governors of each State, the Territories and insular possessions, have been asked to name delegates to the convention as well as mayors of cities and the presidents of chambers of commerce, waterway, flood control and conservation associations, industrial, agricultural and civic organizations. A distinguished list of speakers, including President Roosevelt, have been invited to address the convention.

Program Outlined.

Outstanding matters to come before the meeting include the following:

1. Obtaining adequate appropriations to initiate the 255 flood control projects in 40 States.
2. Passage of a new river and harbor bill at the present session of Congress, authorizing such new projects and the enlargement of existing projects, seacoast, lake and inland, as are needed to meet the increasing demands of commerce and industry.
3. Development of the major river basins of the United States.
4. Protection of water transportation and extension of its benefits to obtain low-cost water transport for heavy products.
5. Continued assistance of the American merchant marine.
6. Orderly development, conservation and use of the Nation's land and water resources.

Glass to Use Radio to Fight Court Change

Scathing Rebuke Expected Tonight; First Air Talk Aided Roosevelt.

Continued from Page 1.

Democratic Party over the court plan. Observers attributed Saturday's conference of the President and Congressional leaders, in large degree, to concern regarding this division.

The effect of Glass' speech cannot but add emphasis to the peril which many party leaders have said privately the Democracy faces if the President persists in his determination to press the plan to enactment, according to commentators here.

Sought Party Unity.

On that other momentous occasion, Glass was striving to restore his party to unity. His declaration for Roosevelt had been awaited eagerly by party leaders. Just before he made it, he learned the then Secretary of the Treasury, Ogden Mills, would follow him immediately with a radio reply, and, burning with anger, the Virginian castigated Mills as indulging in "backstairs methods of controversy." He charged Mills had obtained an advance copy of his (Glass') speech, and concluded:

"I prefer to keep my rapier clean and play the game as gentlemen in their code of ethics require."

The main body of his speech had been equally biting in its wholesale denunciation of Hoover Administration policies, but within a few weeks, Glass had declined repeatedly to become Roosevelt's Secretary of the Treasury as successor to Mills.

Differ on Policies.

In quick succession followed a number of acts by the President with which he disagreed, and through most of the present Administration he has been either privately or openly antagonistic to Roosevelt policies.

It was charged by anti-Roosevelt forces at the time that Glass' speech had been used to allay fears the Administration would desert the gold standard, and this charge was reiterated later when that action was taken. To Glass' fear that such a step was in contemplation was attributed his refusal to accept the Treasury post.

Thus far, however, Glass has made no major fight against any Roosevelt proposal. He has stated his opposition at various times, and voted the same way, but his speech tonight will mark his first serious and irremediable split with the Roosevelt forces.

Suicide Survey Planned.

New York, March 28 (AP).—The New York University School of Medicine announced tonight plans for a one-year survey to determine why people commit suicide.

Court Change Backers Attack Economic Views of Justices

Utility Consumers' Committee Declares Reform Is Not Sought 'Primarily Because of Age;' Butler, Sutherland and Roberts Named.

Continued from Page 1.

er, will answer him the following night.

Another blow was struck at the President's proposals yesterday when the executive council of the Junior Bar Conference declared its membership, by a 4-to-1 vote, had adopted a resolution charging these proposals mean the "eventual destruction of the independence of the judiciary."

The conference said its membership includes 4,200 lawyers.

Confidence of the President's supporters in outcome of the contest was reiterated, however, by Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, Democratic chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, who forecast enactment of the recommendation into law "along about the ides of July."

Decisions Assailed.

Basing their report principally on a study of Supreme Court opinions upholding "cost of reproduction" as the basis of valuation for property of various types of utilities, the utility consumers committee said that in these decisions "the majority judges have given their own meaning to the vague 'due process' clause of the Constitution, overriding the views of legisaltors and commissions."

On this score, the committee continued:

"Declaring laws wholly void has been the Supreme Court's more spectacular method of disagreeing with Congress and State Legislatures. But in using its power to interpret laws, too, it has felt free to disagree, and this influence has been just as important for the country, even if less showy. * * * In reading their own ideas on utility regulation into the Constitution, the judges have been influenced not by the experience and the economic philosophy which they brought to the bench.

Utility Rulings Cited.

"In the matter of electricity, telephones and other State-regulated utilities, and the nationally regulated railroads, as well, the majority's rulings since 1932 now require that 'reproduction cost' be considered as basic in rate-fixing. This attitude has precluded the possibility of different States experimenting with different standards of rate-fixing, and has prescribed for them a method defensible only on the assumption that high rates are a good thing.

"Economists almost universally have objected to the 'reproduction cost' method of valuing utility property. The 'prudent investment' method was well on its way to becoming established when the reconstituted majority of the Supreme Court began attacking it in the Southwestern Bell Telephone case in 1923. 'Prudent investment' meant starting with a valuation based as nearly as possible on what had been invested in the plant, leaving out any imprudent and unnecessary outlays. It meant keeping careful track of the additions made to the plant thereafter. It provided a definite valuation, in contrast to the uncertainties and speculative possibilities of the 'reproduction" method of valuing."

Asserting the court's position on "fair value" as the valuation rule for utility properties had remained virtually unchanged from the turn of the century, the committee said of Justices Butler and Sutherland, on their opinions:

"The year 1923 marked the shift in dominant view of the court on 'fair value.' Among the then majority, Mr. Justice Sutherland, now on the court, was appointed in September, 1922, and Mr. Justice Butler was confirmed in December of the same year.

Two Appointed by Harding.

"Both were appointed by President Harding at a time when regard for public interest was on a lamentably low ebb. Both had joined consistently in setting up methods which would destroy effective regulation. Mr. Justice Butler had represented railroad companies in valuation matters, and had contended for methods which were validated by the majority with remarkable promptness after his accession to the court. Within six months he himself wrote a crucial majority opinion, and three years later crystalized the basis of valuation which would result only in the breakup of regulation as an effective instrument of public policy."

Then followed a study of opinions of which the committee said the effect "has been largely to destroy effective State regulation," culminating in a Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone case ruling in 1935, wherein the court invalidated the device of price index numbers used by the Maryland Utility Commission to establish fair value. Pointing out that the majority opinion was written by Justice Roberts, the committee continued:

"This final destructive decision and opinion was written by Mr. Justice Roberts in a telephone rate rase within gve years after his entry on the court. Just before his appointment by President Hoover in 1930, he had been a member of the board of directors of the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania, and of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the one an affiliate of the Chesapeake & Potomac whose rates were before the court and the other the holding company of both. Quite notoriously the A. T. & T. controlled telephone companies have supported reproduction cost and other factors in the determination of 'fair value' which were subversive to effective regulation."

O'Fallon Case Mentioned.

Pursuing its analysis of valuation opinions, the committee said these opinions resulted in abandonment of the "prudent investment" theory, "based as nearly as possible on what had been invested in the plant, leaving out any imprudent and unnecessary outlays" and meaning "keeping careful track of the additions made to the plant thereafter."

This was contrasted with "the uncertainties and speculative possibilities of the 'reproduction cost' method," which is valuing a plant in terms of what it would cost to reproduce it new at the time of the valuation. The committee also pointed out that valuation methods are important because utility rates are based, in theory, upon such valuations.

Tracing these opinions to the famous O'Fallon case decision of 1928, the committee said:

"In the O'Fallon case (279 U. S. 461) the basis of valuation for administration of the 1920 transportation act was the fundamental issue. The majority opinion was written by Mr. Justice McReynolds in 1928, and Mr. Justice Butler did not participate in the vote; but the conclusive leads to the decision were made in preceding utility cases in two of which Mr. Justice Butler himself wrote the prevailing opinions. His views which had been argued vigorously on behalf of his railroad clients became the law of the land. They served not only to impair gravely State public utility regulation but to destroy the entire program of Federal regulation as enacted by Congress in 1920."

Urge New Viewpoints.

In conclusion, the committee said: "The proponents of President Roosevelt's proposal to reconstruct the court have stressed the age of judges. Regard, however, for the circumstances of appointment, especially since the beginning of the Harding regime, shows clearly that the basic trouble has not been age, but the personal views of the judges when they joined the court. Mr. Justice Butler and Mr. Justice Sutherland, appointed by President Harding, and Mr. Justice Roberts, appointed by President Hoover, have not changed their views intrinsically since their appointment, at least not in the public utility and railroad fields. This is not primarily a matter of age, but of rigid points of view at the time of appointment to the court. In reading their own ideas on utility regulation into the Constitution the judges have been influenced not by their ages, but by the experience and the economic philosophy which they brought to the bench. What is needed is new judges who see differently, whose regard for public policy is not clouded by fixed attitudes toward private interests. The significance of the age provision for retirement or supplementing the number of judges is to furnish a constitutional method by which past packing of the court can be undone, and the majority can be reconstituted in line with public opinion and needs. For this purpose President Roosevelt's proposal is eminently suited. While it should be supplemented by constitutional amendment to place reasonable restrictions upon judicial action in passing upon constitutional validity of legislation, it furnishes the best immediate method not only to permit the enactment of essential national policy, but also to re-establish and revitalize State and national policies of utility and railroad regulation."

Mass Meetings Planned.

The committee which drafted the report included the following:

Dr. John Bauer, director American Public Utilities Bureau; Prof. James C. Bonbright, Columbia University; McAlister Coleman, director, New Jersey Utility Users Protective League; Dr. Harry W. Laidler, executive director, League for Industrial Democracy; Percival R. Moses, chairman, Utility Division of the New York City Progressive Committee; Prof. Carl Raushenbush, New York University; S. M. Sadi, New York; George Slaff, chairman, Utility Consumers co-ordination Committee, and Samuel Slaff, New York, counsel to the committee.

Maj. George L. Berry, president of the Pro-Roosevelt Labor's Nonpartisan League, announced the league will sponsor a series of mass meetings on Patriots Day, April 19, in 25 major cities "and scores of smaller cities and towns" as demonstrations for the President's plan.

The major meetings will be held in Chicago, Indianapolis, Des Moines, Kansas City, St. Louis, New Orleans, Minneapolis, Denver, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Butte, Omaha, Seattle, Houston, Birmingham, Atlanta, Nashville, Baltimore, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit, New Haven, Rochester and Boston.

Greeks Observe Independence Day

Greeks of Washington yesterday celebrated the Independence Day of their nation with ceremonies at Cetral High School, attended by many notable Greeks of the Capital, the rector of St. Sophia Church, A. Lalousis, presiding.

Greece gained her independence from Turkey in 1821-29, and by the Protocol of London in 1830 was declared a kingdom, Prince Otto of Bavaria ascending the throne.

The board of trustees of St. Sophia Church, with many leaders in Greek culture in the city, observed the picturesque ceremonies, in which children, dressed in native costume, and churchmen in vestments took part, with a flag salute climaxing the tableau.

Stalin Attacks 'Writers' Gang From America'

Says 'Well Known Rascal Max Eastman' Heads Capitalist Spies.

By the United Press.

Moscow, March 28.—Josef V. Stalin, Russia's strong man, laid down a broad Bolshevist program tonight and warned his people to be constantly on guard against "wreckers, spies and terrorists sent into Russia by foreign governments."

Stalin's warning, in which he attacked a "well-known gang of writers from America headed by that well-known rascal Max Eastman," was contained in an official communique. The program, embracing 12 points, was revealed, however, to have been made by Stalin in a speech to the Communist Party's central committee on March 3.

He said it was necessary for Russia to be brought face to face with the details of sabotage and spying—as described in the recent "Trotsky terror trials"—in order that Bolsheviks both within and outside the party would be able to combat the "capitalist conspiracies."

He demanded first that the party turn its attention from "current problems" toward the bigger problems of international and internal nature and renewed his bitter attack on the exiled Leon Trotsky, whose resources, he said, include "the remnants of the defeated classes of the U. S. S. R."

The 12-point program outlined by Stalin included:

Preparation for the big problems, internationally and internally.

Raising the Communist Party's work to great heights.

Striving for political successes in order that economic success "may not be built upon s d."

"It is necessary to remember," he said, "that the capitalist environment is the chief factor which determines the international situation of the Soviet Union. It is necessary to remember—and never forget—that while there is a capitalist environment there will be wreckers, spies and terrorists sent to the rear of the Soviet Union by reconnoitering organs of foreign governments."

Stalin's other points were a lecture against political negligence, in which he recounted, one by one, the dangers of ignoring the attempts to wreck the Soviet state, and the facility with which this sabotage has been carried out.

In Congress

Senate.

Meets at noon.

Judiciary Committee resumes court reorganization hearing.

House.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills affecting the District of Columbia.

There is a Big Difference

Most any blue unfinished worsted suit can look good for a week or two, but it takes hand tailouring of the most expert kind—the Hickey-Freeman kind of tailouring—to imbue a suit with style and smartness that will never forsake it. Select your blue unfinished worsted in single or double breasted model.

$55

Goldheim's
1409 H STREET

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

AT SLOAN'S
ART GALLERIES
715 THIRTEENTH STREET N.W.

Valuable Flemish Tapestry, Grandfather Clocks, Semi-Antique and Modern Oriental Rugs in all sizes, Antique and Modern Furniture for all parts of the home, Chinese and Japanese Art Objects, Paintings, Water Colors, Prints, Bronzes, Bric-a-Brac, Draperies, Old Weapons, Silverware, Plated Ware, Mink Auto Robe, Fireplace Adornments and many other articles of virtu.

At PUBLIC AUCTION
Within Our Galleries
715 THIRTEENTH ST. N.W.
TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
March 30th and 31st, April 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, 1937
AT 2 P. M. EACH DAY
From the Estate of Emily Roberts Coxe, the Magruder Estate and Others.
ON EXHIBITION
Today, Monday, March 29th
Catalogues on Application to
C. G. SLOAN & CO., Inc., AUCTIONEERS
Established 1891

Your Stocks and Bonds Make Good Collateral for a Bank Loan

If you have marketable securities and need money at any time, you should have no hesitation in asking us for a loan.

We assure you courteous and prompt attention

The WASHINGTON
Loan and Trvst Company

F Street at 9th 17th Street at G

Member, Federal Reserve System and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

SPECIAL NOTICES

SECRETARIES EARN BIG PAY
BOYD GRADUATES WIN THE PRIZE POSITIONS
BOYD SCHOOL 1922 F ST. N.W. NATIONAL 2716

Have Your EYES Examined Today!

If you already wear glasses make sure they are properly fitted. Don't wait for pain or affliction before acting, get relief at once.

Have Our Registered Optometrist Examine Your Eyes TODAY!

Optical Department

Jewelers, Platinumsmiths, Stationers

A. KAHN, INC.
Arthur J. Sundlun, Pres.
45 Years at 935 F St.

Cruiser Plans Delayed as Aid To Arms Check

Navy Request for 10 New Ships Sidetracked as Peace Move.

In the hope that adherence to limitations of the defunct London naval treaty will promote world action toward stabilization of armaments, the Navy Department has sidetracked for the present a request for authorization of ten new cruisers, it was learned last night.

This information coincided with word from high Administration quarters that it is hoped Great Britain, instead of the United States, will sponsor an international move of some kind for such stabilization within the next 12 months.

If such general collaboration as this is planned, it is in line with that development, it is believed, that a series of White House conferencces has been arranged with British officials, including the visit here of Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor General of Canada.

New Warning Issued.

Previously, W. L. MacKenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, and Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade, have conferred in recent weeks with the President. Norman H. Davis, American Ambassador at large, now is on his way to London for an international sugar conferences during which he will discuss with British leaders the advisibility of proceeding to Geneva for sessions of the League of Nations disarmament group.

These developments came as a warning of "ruthless and barbarous" submarine warfare to bar neutral aid to belligerents in a new war was issued by naval experts as Congressional leaders were putting finishing touches to a new American neutrality act.

Senate and House Foreign Affairs Committeemen will meet this week to reconcile defferences in the Pittman and McReynolds neutrality measures, already passed separately by the Senate and House, to prevent opportunities for war-time profits from involving the United States in hostilities.

"Ruthlessness" Predicted.

Urgency of such legislation with the world girding for war at an unprecedented rate, was stressed by Commander E. Z. Hazlett, jr., in the current issue of the Naval Proceedings.

Hazlett predicted certain sea lanes will be barred to all shipping and that merchant vessels found in these areas will be subject to submarine attack on the ground that they will be considered carriers of contraband. He added:

"Ruthless and barbarous! Yes, and cruel violation of so-called neutral rights as well. But the ruthlessness will apply only to an inanimate neutral trade which is aiding the enemy; there will be personal suffering and death only in case the neutral's greed for commercial gain leads him to disregard the warnings. That neutrals must bear their share of suffering in time of war is generally recognized as inevitable."

Lieut. Comdr. J. C. Hubbard, also writing for the Naval Proceedings, warned of the possibility of unrestrained submarine warfare, "sinking all vessels indiscriminately which enter the 'war zone.'"

Farm Researchers' New 6-Story Home To Be Ready Today

A new building to house researchers for the Department of Agriculture was to become available today for the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The new six-story structure, to be known as the Standardization Building, is located at the corner of Twelfth and C streets southwest.

In early April equipment for about 150 technical and scientific workers will be moved into the new structure from the old Standardization Building on C street.

The new building will be devoted to measuring and classifying farm products such as cotton, wool, hay, etc., so that standards in color, thickness, quality, etc., can be set up for use in trade and in agriculture, both American and international.

Great care was taken in construction of the building to provide the most modern facilities. Storage rooms for specimens are guarded around the clock by watchmen, special windows will assure technicians pure north light, and complete fireproofing systems have been installed.

Strip-Teaser Will Sue If Theater Cancels Act

London (Monday), March 29 (U.P.). Diana Raye, American strip-tease dancer who refuses to tease British audiences unless she can strip, said today that she will sue for 50,000 pounds sterling — that's $250,000 and more than Minsky's ever paid —if she is kept off the Palladium stage tonight.

Diana, enraged because the producer of "Swing Is in the Air" decided that London isn't quite ready for strip-teasing yet, had threatened to "raise hell" if her act was canceled. She decided today that the best way of raising hell would be to ask for $250,000.

Auto Leaps on Bed, Woman Sleeper Hurt

Akron, Ohio, March 28 (AP).—An Easter nap was rudely awakened for Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gooding today by an automobile which crashed through the side of their house and into bed with them. Mrs. Goodin, 27, was injured. Her husband escaped. The automobile came to rest on the bed.

A woman driver told sheriff's deputies she lost control of the car and it plunged 100 feet off the street and into the house just outside the city limits. She and a woman passenger were unhurt.

Rockefellers Easter Airing Is Cut Short

Ormond Beach, Fla., March 28 (AP). John D. Rockefeller's Easter Sunday automobile ride on the beach was cut short by a swiftly rising tide today. The 97-year-old capitalist sped back to his winter home at 50 miles an hour.

Wirephoto: New York Model Slain

Copyright by the Associated Press.

VERONICA GIDEON,

20-year-old bathing suit model strangled to death in her New York apartment by an assassin who also killed her mother and a boarder.

Artists' Model, Mother, Boarder Found Slain in N.Y. Apartment

Continued from Page 1.

ported to Kear that at about 11 o'clock last night he heard what seemed to be screams and the sound of a scuffle from somewhere below his apartment. They lasted ten minutes, he estimated, and he had just decided to dress and investigate when they ceased. He went back to sleep.

Mrs. Gedeon, who owned another apartment house nearby, moved in to the Fiftieth street address last October 15 with her daughter. About six weeks ago she advertised one room of the five-room flat for rent and after interviewing several applicants, rented the place to Byrnes.

Byrnes, Kear learned, was employed by the exclusive Racquet and Tennis Club on Park avenue as a waiter-bartender. He remained unidentified after discovery of his body until a fellow-worker was brought from the club on suggestion of neighbors and identified him. A card in his pocket suggested that "in case of accident," a Miss Gannon of Brooklyn be notified.

Byrnes, papers in his room indicated, came to America from London 13 years ago and had worked in various restaurants and clubs here since.

Kear's offices, minutely examining every resident of the building, said they learned Miss Gedeon was intensely popular, dressed expensively and had a number of aparently wealthy admirers.

Inspector Kear said Stephen Butler, a Wall street runner (581 Lexington avenue), who was Miss Gedeon's escort last night, was questioned and told police he had taken her home at 3 a. m. today, leaving her at the door.

Tonight Detectives Rudolph McLaughlin and Thomas Tunney left for North Adams, Mass., in connection with the investigation. Police officials would not comment on the reason for their trip.

Shortly before 8 o'clock tonight police picked up for questioning an unidentified woman who telephoned the Gedeon apartment while Assistant Chief Inspector John A. Lyons was there.

Lyons said the woman refused to reveal her identity but intimated on the telephone she "might have information about the murder."

The call was traced as Lyons talked to her, and she was picked up in a store in the Bronx, several miles from the apartment.

Later Inspector Kear said the woman was Miss Jean Kapp, 21-year-old Bronx artist's model, who was a close friend of the slain girl. He said Miss Karp was unable to furnish any information leading to a solution of the crime.

Lyons also said his officers were interested in the bed arrangement of the apartment.

There are three bedrooms, two small ones with single beds on the east and west ends of the apartment and one with a double bed between them. Byrnes' body was founnd in the small bedroom on the east, the bodies of the two women in the small bedroom on the west. Since the bed in the room where the women was found was too small for both to use, Lyons assumed they had occupied the larger central bedroom. Whether they were killed in the large bedroom and dragged into the small one was considered important.

Lyons said the small room in which the bodies were found gave evidence of having been occupied, possibly by a woman boarder. He learned from neighbors that several weeks ago there was a woman boarder in the Gedeon home.

It was announced after the two detectives left for North Adams that they were to question a student there who was reeently attentive to Veronica. Police withheld his name.

Skunks, Resenting Slaughter, Retaliate Against Churchgoers

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Charles Town, W. Va., March 28. Skunks have been making things uncomfortable for the Yoke Fellows class, men's Bible class of the Presbyterian Church, one of the largest of any such group in the Eastern end of the State.

The animals first visited the class in its basement classroom, drove it out to seek shelter in another part of the building, and now threatens to take over the entire building.

Neil Anderson, sexton of the church, is championing the Yoke Fellows' cause against the skunks, and while he has emerged successful in several engagements with the invaders, the issue is by no means decided.

The trouble has been brewing for several months, when a mother skunk set up housekeeping under a basement window of the church building. She was not disturbed, for at that time there appeared to be no real reason to oust her; and before long things were humming about the den. At times ominous warnings of what was brewing were wafted to the Yoke Fellows on the Sunday morning breezes, but, like dwellers about the base of a rumbling volcano, the class waited, reluctant to appreciate the menace at hand. Then came a Sunday, about three weeks ago, when the skunks, intoxicated with the first feel of spring, or with their own rapidly increasing strength of numbers, launched their grand assault. The engagement was brief; the Yoke Fellows retreated in humiliating disorder, and the little invaders noted with satisfaction that the classroom beside their den was locked up, and no more Yoke Fellows' sessions disturbed their Sunday siestas.

Finally four of the pests were killed.

In retaliation, the skunks have extended their operations to cover the entire church congregation. Today they were very successful, driving several worshipers out of the building, and making one woman so sick that she required the attention of a physician after returning home.

U. of V. Art Exhibition Opening Set for April 4

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Charlottesville, Va., March 28.—An exhibition of paintings by Elinor F. Hopkins, a native of Hot Springs, Va., will be given in the Thomas H. Bayly Memorial Building at the University of Virginia April 4 to 30, under the auspices of the museum of fine arts of that institution.

Miss Hopkins studied interior decoration at the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts in New York and Paris; studied painting at the Academie Delaclise, in Paris, for four years, and one year at the Maryland Institute in Baltimore. She is a member of the National Association of Women Painters and Sculptors, and was awarded the society's medal in December, 1933, for a painting called, "Study in Yellow and Green."

S. P. C. A. Group Elects.

Winchester, Va.—Dr. Lewis M. Allen has been re-elected president of the Winchester branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for another year.

Dogs Guard Hermit's Body.

Cleveland, March 28 (U.P.).—Neighbors searching for Andrew Drellishak, 80-year-old hermit farmer who had been missing since Thursday, were prevented from entering Drellishak's home by two collie dogs guarding the door.

• ESTABLISHED 1865 •

CALL BARKER

For "Hard-to-Find" Things

For instance, Monel metal mouldings for hardboard installations or . . . all size hardwood dowels for homecraftsmen. Whatever your lumber problem, Barker answers it quickly, satisfactorily and at the lowest cost.

GEO. M. BARKER • COMPANY •

LUMBER and MILLWORK

649-651 N. Y. Ave. N.W.
1523 7th St. N.W.
NA. 1348, "The Lumber Number"

2 Mine Blasts Kill Nine in Pennsylvania

Continued from Page 1.

first one caught the five who were working. The mine operates on a five-day week, so had been idle during the day.

"The other four men, rescue workers, were killed by the second explosion. They had gone in trying to reach the others."

Nairn said he believed the explosions were caused by the ignition of gas, but that the source of the ignition was unknown.

Fire broke out in a part of the pit after the blasts, but was extinguished before spreading far.

Nairn said the bodies were found huddled together about a mile from the entrance of the vast pit. The mine passageways and workings extend 4 miles underground from a shaft dropping 300 feet down.

Between 80 and 100 men, most of them from surrounding mining communities, took part in the rescue operations. J. J. Forbes, head of the Upited States Bureau of Mines station at Pittsburgh, arrived with others to aid the rescue work.

In contrast to the scenes so familiar at mining disasters—groups of anxious friends and weeping women and children of the victims—only a handful of spectators stood about the Kramer pit. The rescue work continued grimly and methodically amid a silence broken only by occasional words of instruction by the rescue leaders.

The five men killed by the first blast were identified by mine officials as: John McHenry, 49, Dubois, Pa.; Andrew O'Connor, 54, Punxsutawney, Pa.; Thomas Heberling, 46, Dubois, Pa.; Francis Dixon, 43, Dubois, Pa.; George Hill, 30, Dubois, Pa. The other four who died in an effort to reach them: Steve Yasenchak, 29, Stamp Creek, Pa.; William Lewis, 59, Punxsutawney, Pa.; William Laird, 43, of Big Run, Pa., and Bill McCracken, 42-year-old assistant foreman.

School in Virginia Destroyed by Fire

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Staunton, Va., March 28.—With the mercury in the low 20s, Miss Ruth Revercomb ran a quarter of a mile Friday night from her home to the Baptist Church in Deerfield and vigorously rang the steeple bell, waking the community to fight, unsuccessfully, a fire that destroyed the community school.

The four-room one-story frame structure was erected 20 years ago.

Villagers quickly formed a bucket brigade, but their efforts were futile. Aid was summoned from a CCC camp at West Augusta, and combined forces of Deerfield residents and camp members prevented the flames from spreading to other buildings.

Peaceful Sit-Downs Are Upheld by Bishop

Seattle, March 28 (AP).—The sit-down strike is not to be condemned unless circumstances justify, Bishop Gerald Shaughnessy, of the Catholic Diocese of Seattle, said today in an Easter sermon.

"However," he added, "a sit-down strike is a dangerous procedure and should be taken only as a last resort and when the leaders can maintain control, assuring no danger of bloodshed on the one hand and no property damage on the other."

J. B. Frazier, 80, Dies; Served in U. S. Senate

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 28 (AP). James Berlah Frazier, 80, former United States Senator and twice Governor of Tennessee, died today of a heart ailment. He had been ill several months.

Frazier was defeated for re-election to the Senate by Luke Lea, of Nashville, in 1911.

He was elected Governor in 1902, and re-elected two years later. He did not complete his second term as Governor. United states Senator William B. Bate died, and in March, 1905 the Tennessee Legislature elected Gov. Frazier to succeed him.

Suspect Is Seized In Torso Murders

Cleveland, March 28 (AP).—A man who went beserk with a butcher knife was captured and held by police tonight as a suspect in connection with Cleveland's torso murders.

He brought terror to a neighborhood about a mile from Kingsbury Run, where most of the victims' dismembered bodies have been found.

Residents called police as the 23-year-old unemoplyed chef went mad, waving a long knife and cursing loudly. He retreated and barricaded himself in his rooms.

He broke up 12 windows, a stove, a chest, an ice box, a bed and an oak dresser. Four policemen called him to a window and held his attention while Police Hergt. Edward Hesoun crept in behind him and clubbed him unconscious.

Mexico Arrests Mattson Suspect At U. S. Request

Mexico City, March 28 (AP).—Police today arrested a man wanted, they said the United States embassy told them, for questioning in connection with the kidnaping last December of 10-year-old Charles Mattson, of Tacoma, Wash.

The prisoner was identified by authorities as Alexander Pompez, 47, a native of Key West, Fla.

The Mexican attorney general's office said it did not know whether charges were pending against Pompez in the United States, but added the arrest was made at the embassy's request.

Two officers arrested the man early this morning as he drove along San Juan de Letran, one of Mexico City's main thoroughfares. He was driving a seven-passenger sedan bearing Illinois license plates.

Documents in his possession showed Pompez entered Mexico as a tourist two months ago. He was described as of swarthy complexion, with gray hair and brown eyes.

School Session Called.

Charlottesville, Va., March 28.—"How Can Private Schools at the Present Time Best Prepare Boys for College," is the theme that has been selected for discussion at the meeting of the Virginia Association of Preparatory Schools, to be held in Madison Hall, at the university, April 5.

Congress Plans Busy Week on Major Bills

Crop Insurance and Guffey-Vinson Coal Measures on Program for Senate.

By the Associated Press.

Congress, putting aside three months of comparative inactivity, will busy itself this week with major legislation, including crop insurance and the Guffey-Vinson coal measure.

Those items were on the Senate's program on debate this week. The House had legislative and Disrtict of Columbia appropriation bills before it.

Speaker Bankhead, contemplating Congress business up to now, said:

"I don't know exactly why things are so dull, but it appears that emergency conditions are decreasing and Congress wants to be more deliberative, particularly since some of the measures hurriedly enacted were invalidated by he Supreme Court.

"Greater deliberation, I believe, is a good thing.

None of the regular appropriation bills has been enacted. Three have passed both Senate and House, but differences between the bills of the two branches must be composed in conference.

Except for interludes when its railroad and civil liberties investigating committees have held hearings, the Senate has devoted major attention to the President's court proposal, now in hearing before the Judiciary Committee.

The House awaits Senate action on the court bill before it steps into the controversy.

Six Skillet Slingers Seek Cooking Crown

New York, March 28 (AP).—Six of the country's most skillful skillet slingers tonight awaited the opening gong of the second annual contest to determine the national cooking championship.

Assembled from different parts of the country, the sectional winners of a competition sponsored by the women's national exposition of arts and industries will begin tomorrow a three-day "cook-off" in Grand Central Palace.

Candidacy Announced.

Charlottesville, Va., March 28.—A. J. Harlow, well known business man and former mayor of the town of Orange, has announced his candidacy to represent Orange and Madison Counties in the House of Delegates in the primary election to be held in August. The only other avowed candidate is W. C. Williams.

Envoy's Home Stoned.

Moscow, March 28 (AP).—The residence of Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitzu was stoned today by an unidentified youth who hurled a brick through a front window. He was arrested by a guard. The embassy called the incident to the attention of the foreign office, which expressed regrets.

OLD FASHIONED
Our FAMOUS COOL WEATHER DRINK in the AIR Conditioned
30¢
RAINBOW ROOM
DANCING
From Noon. Cocktail Dancing, 5 to 7.
Supper Dancing from 10. No cover or minimum except Sat. (Saturday, Min. $1.00 from 9:30)
Now! Free Parking After 6 P.M.
Hamilton Hotel
Completely Air Conditioned
14th & K Sts. R. S. Butler, Mgr.

ARCADE-SUNSHINE CO., Inc.

Arcade Sunshine's Exclusive

SHIRT PACKAGING & LAUNDERING pronounced Best

in any language!

No matter how you say it, you'll enthusiastically join the thousands of smart men who say, "It's the best!" when referring to the Arcade Sunshine unique time and temper saving shirt packaging and laundering idea. Think of it! Men's shirts immaculately cleaned and returned with no pins, no buttons fastened. Individual Packaging is the answer . . . no soiling of cuffs and collars by having to pry starched buttons loose . . . missing buttons replaced and mending done, no extra charge. The most convenient and satisfactory service is ready and at your command.

Tune in Station WMAL: Tonite and every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5:45 P. M. The Laff Parade with famous Screen, Radio and Stage Stars

Phone COLUMBIA 8010

ARCADE-SUNSHINE

"Washington's Complete Cleansing Institution"

Hush-Hush or Health?

Navy Medical Center Chief Traces Syphilis To European Lands at Dawn of Christian Era

Admiral Butler Declares Hush-Hush Attitude Also Existed Then.

By Gerald G. Gross.

(This article si one in a series to acquaint citizens with the tragic neglect of the venereal disease problem in the District of Columbia.)

While it is commonly supposed that syphilis originated in the New World and was introduced to Europe in the late fifteenth century, there also exists a school of thought which believes the disease was prevalent on the Continent hundreds of years earlier.

One of the leading members of this group is Rear Admiral Charles S. Butler, commanding officer of the Naval Medical Center in Washington, who for more than three decades campaigned aggressively in the interest of syphilis control.

When his book, 'Syphilis Sive Morbus Humanus," was published a few months ago, he sent hundreds of copies free to every medical library in the country and to the presidents of many colleges.

Cites Augustan Physician.

One of the arguments advanced by Admiral Butler in support of his theory that the great pox was known to the ancients is the fact that the Augustan physician Aulus Cornelius Celsus (25 B. C.-50 A. D.) described its symptoms.

The "hush hush" attitude toward veneral disease was common at the dawn of the Christian era, even as it is today, according to Celsus' observation in his "De Medicina." Witness the following translation:

"The next diseases are those that affect the private parts, the nomenclature of which among Greeks is not only tolerable but now fully sanctioned by practice; for they are freely employed in almost every volume, work or treatise of the physicians. But with us Romans, these terms are certainly filthy, and never employed by anyone who has a proper regard for modesty in language. Therefore it is evident from this explanation that there is no small difficulty in maintaining at the same time a delicacy of expression while delivering the precepts of the art.

"Not that this circumstance ought to deter me from treating on them. First, because it is my intention to comprehend everything in this work which I have found to be conducive to health; in the next place, because every person ought to know the treatment of those maladies which we so reluctantly expose to the view of another."

Twenty centuries later finds doctors still trying to get that thesis across—"every person ought to know."

Here, then, is another physician, this one a contemporary Washingtonian, describing still another aspect of syphilis because "every person ought to know."

Dr. H. writes:

The effects of syphilis on the urinary tract are all late manifestations. First, there are the nodular masses which manifest themselves as tumors involving the various portions of the urinary tract consisting of the kidneys and the sex organs of both the male and female. Secondly, the various disturbances in the mechanical operation of the urinary tract.

The recognition of these masses as being due to syphilis is dependent upon the consistency of the masses when they may be felt either externally or through internal examination. In addition to this, the blood reaction is positive.

The disturbances of the mechanical acting conveying system of the urinary tract are due to the damage which has been done to the spinal cord which may be compared to the central office of a complicated telephone system. When this central telephone system function is upset, the switches which set the active, worm-like, expulsive forces of the tubes which convey the urine from the kidney and the expulsive contracting force of the bladder, are interfered with, with the result that there is a paralysis of this function, and the urine, instead of being propelled outward, lies dormant in the various portions of the urinary tract, including the kidney, the tubes from the kidney to the bladder, and the bladder itself.

Early Treatment Urgent.

The presence of the various masses in the various portions of the urinary tract are very adequately taken care of and disappear following the administration of the various drugs which are used in the treatment and cure of syphilis.

All things being equal, of course, the best treatment in any individual case would have been in the early stages of the disease when the first chancer appeared, nevertheless, these late results are very satisfactorily handled.

These unfortunate mechanical disturbances are now controlled in different ways. First, by intensive treatment of the central nervous system lesions, improvement may be expected if the condition has not been allowed to progress too far or persist too long. Even in the cases where they have been allowed to persist over a long period of time, there is now a drug available, the administration of which is usually successful in taking the place of the central nervous system or switchboard stimulation function so that these active, propulsive functions may be stimulated as long as the drug is taken.

When the central nervous system destruction has become permanent and beyond repair this drug must be taken continually in order to insure adequate functioning of the muscular portions of the urinary tract.

Again, as has so frequently been emphasized, the best treatment is early treatment of the first lesion, but where this has been neglected marvelous and satisfactory results are obtained in most instances by proper treatment of the central nervous system switchboard-like mechanism and the actual muscular propelling tissues themselves. The masses are also satisfactorily reduced by medication, surgery or both.

Syphilis should be treated at whatever stage it may have progressed, but, above all, it should be treated.

(Prevention and cure of syphilis in expectant mothers is the subject of the contributed article to follow.)

Believes Venereal Diseases Appeared in 25 B. C. to 50 A. D.

Former Employe Sends $1 for Hammer He Lost

Milwaukee, March 28 (AP).—Paul L. Moskowitz, Milwaukee attorney, was flabbergasted by the following note received yesterday from Tom Lindelond, of Fagerstrand, Flekkefjord, Norway:

"I worked for you about two weeks in 1928. I lost a hammer while unloading a truck. I am now sending you $1 for the hammer. Pardon me for not doing it before." Moskowitz, who has been receiver for the Milwaukee Sash & Door Co., said he was sending the $1 back to Lindelond because the receivership was completed a year ago.

Warrenton Man Dies Of Automobile Hurts

Warrenton, Va., March 28 (AP).—James Flynn, 64, of Warrenton, died in Fauquier County Hospital today of injuries suffered last night when struck by an automobile on the Lee highway near here.

Lonnie O. Milam, of North Arlington, said by authorities to have been the driver of the car, was not held.

Moncure Enters Race.

Fredericksburg, Va., March 28.—Frank P. Moncure, member of the House of Delegates from Stafford and Prince William counties, yesterday became the first in this general section to enter the campaign for the General Assembly, with the chief skirmishing to take place in the Democratic primary on August 3.

AUNT HET

BY ROBERT QUILLEN

"I'll miss Pa while he's gone this week, but I've been on the verge o' bein' sick for a month and now I'll have time to relax and enjoy it."

Copyright, 1937, Publishers Syndicate.)

Caroline Democrats To Honor Capt. Smith

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Fredericksburg, Va., March 28.—Officers and executive committees of the Caroline County Democratic organization and the Young Democrats of Caroline will honor Capt. C. T. Smith with a dinner on his ninety-fifth birthday Friday.

Guests of honor will be Representative S. Otis Hand, of the First Virginia Congressional District, and E. R. Combs, State comptroller.

Capt. Smith is the only living commissioned officer of the Confederacy. He is chairman of the Caroline County Democratic organization.

$20,000 Estate Willed To Clarksburg Library

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., March 28.—The Clarksburg Public Library will receive $20,000 from the estate of Miss Nannie R. Lowe, former Salem College professor, whose will was probated here yesterday.

Only four bequests were made by her. The Protestant Union Hospital, where she was a patient some time, will receive $1,000, and $500 was left each to the First Presbyterian Church here and to Miss Alethia Boggess, of New York City.

The residue of her estate of an estimated value of $25,000 will go to the library.

Cupid's Jailhouse Blues.

New York, March 28 (U.P.).—Everything had been set for John Maddalena, 42, to become a bridegroom at 4 p. m. today. But at the time he should have been ducking rice with 19-year-old Ida Brescia he sat alone in Bronx County Jail. A former sweetheart, Lena Alleva, 23, charged Maddalena promised to marry her.

Shock by Insulin Tested as Cure of Dementia Praecox

Elgin, Ill., March 28 (AP).—Officials of the Illinois State Hospital for the Insane reported today a young German doctor had experimented with the "insulin shock" treatment in an attempt to cure dementia praecox in 13 patients.

Dr. Gert Heilbrunn, who studied the new technique at Muenzingen, near Berne, Switzerland, was brought here at the suggestion of Dr. Arthur Weil, of the Northwestern University Medical School. Dr. Heilbrunn has been working with the patients about five weeks.

"This is one of the most promising things I have ever seen," commented Dr. Charles F. Reed, director of the institution.

In the treatment, patients are given a daily increasing dose of insulin until their "shock" is ascertained. This dose averages from 50 to 100 units, although it may range from 3 to as many as 250. The shock produces violent reactions of the nervous system—so violent in some patients they have to be tied down.

The dose, said Dr. Reed, is administered before breakfast. The reaction is permitted to continue until about noon, when the patient is fed sugar or glucose. The patient then is quiet and alert, ready for a heavy meal, Dr. Reed said. The treatment is to be continued six months before results are announced.

Work in Palestine Lauded by Einstein

New York, March 28 (AP).—Prof. Albert Einstein, in a message to the Passover celebration of the National Committee for Jewish Workers in Palestine, said tonight the modern methods of production introduced by Jewish immigrants to Palestine "have dignified labor and resulted in improved conditions for all."

He expressed confidence that Jewish difficulties in Palestine would be ironed out and praised England for defending law and order there "energetically and resolutely."

Parade Ban Observed.

Ponce, Puerto Rico, March 28 (AP).—Nationalists today observed the authorities' ban on a demonstration scheduled to be held in Mayaguez. The town was tranquil. Authorities feared a repetitoin of last Saturday's disorders at Ponce, where 18 were killed in a clash between police and demonstrating nationalists, who seek the independence of Puerto Rico.

Gather for Fever Parley.

New York, March 28 (AP).—Physicians from 20 countries gathered here today for an international "artificial fever" conference beginning tomorrow. They will tell of discoveries in a recent and sudden spread in the use of artificial fevers to treat a large variety of diseases.

10,000,000 Chinese Facing Starvation

Chungking, Szechuan Province China, March 28 (AP).—The drought and famine which has settled down on Szechuan Province has reduced 10,000,000 persons, a fifth of the province's, population, to the verge of starvation, foreign missionaries here estimated today.

The missionaries, trying to carry on relief work among the hungry peasantry, are considered the best informed persons concerning the tragedy which threatens to spread over nearly all western China.

Mission workers assumed a pessimistic attitude concerning the disaster today. A spokesman said:

"Unless heavy and widespread rains come before the rice-transplanting season, late in April, there is danger of a famine of terrible and enormous proportions."

Mrs. Lucretia Blankenburg

Philadelphia, March 28 (AP).—Mrs. Lucretia L. Blankenburg, 91, widow of former Mayor Rudolph Blankenburg, and pioneer leader for woman suffrage, died today of pneumonia. For 60 years she had been active in woman's club works and also an ardent promoter of world peace and an active prohibitionsit. For 16 years she was president of the Pennsylvania State Suffrage Association.

Louis A. Dent, Jr., Ordered Freed in Friend's Shooting

Louis A. Dent, jr., civil engineer son of a prominent Washington family, was released last night after being held for more than 24 hours following the shooting of his lifelong friend, Jerry Lanahan, 21, of Oxon Hill, Md.

His release was ordered after investigators of the shooting late Saturday in an apartment at 1701 Park road northwest became convinced, detectives said, that Lanahan fired the shot himself.

Meanwhile, detectives were studying the contents of two 'good-by" notes allegedly written by Lanahan. One was addressed to his wife, Margaret. The contents of the other were withheld.

Lanahan is in Emergency Hospital where physicians reported he had an even chance to recover. A .22-caliber bullet was fired into his chest just below the heart.

Lindberghs Take Off.

Bagdad, Iraq, March 28 (AP).—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off today en route to Aleppo on their way to Turkey. Mrs. Lindbergh before their departure, said they might push on from Syria to Istanbul if the weather was favorable.

Auto-Train Crash Kills Five in N. C.

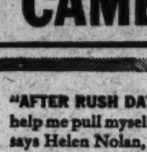
Charlotte, N. C., March 28 (AP).—Five persons were killed here today when a Southern Railway passenger train struck their automobile at a crossing on the edge of the city.

They were Robert Clarkson, 50; his son Bryce, 25, who was said by Detective Sam Deweese to have been driving; Mrs. Gertrude Walker, 30, and her son, Joe, 13, and L. D. Hawley. All lived here.

Deweese said the driver of the machine apparently pulled squarely in front of the locomotive. The detective said there was nothing to indicate why the driver failed to see the train.

Liggett's THE REXALL DRUG STORES

Chest Colds . . . Yield quicker to the Poultice-Vapor action of VICKS VAPORUB



Champion Bicycle Sprinter says: "ME FOR CAMELS!"

AND WILLIE HONEMAN adds: "I'll say Camels are mild! They don't upset my nerves. And smoking Camels helps keep my digestion ticking along smoothly." When you smoke Camels, you enjoy a sense of well-being.

"AFTER RUSH DAYS, Camels help me pull myself together," says Helen Nolan, newspaper reporter. "I enjoy Camels often for their mildness and their rich, delicate flavor!"

CAMELS COSTLIER TOBACCOS

COMPLETE INSURANCE SERVICE

C. B. NARKLE, President
W. OLIVER MURRAY, Vice President
ALL LOSSES ADJUSTED AND PAID PROMPTLY
HENRY KING, Secretary
SAMUEL S. KAUFMAN, Treasurer

WOLF & COHEN, INC.

ESTABLISHED 1878

"Consult Us for Every Form of Personal and Property Insurance"
NAtional 7777-78

312-317 Homer Bldg. 13th & F Sts. N.W.

Statement of the Condition of the
AETNA INSURANCE COMPANY OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT
—on the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME
Net premiums	$17,176,829.62
Total interest and rents	1,437,234.04
Other income	305,764.69
Total income	$18,919,828.35
DISBURSEMENTS
Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$6,978,572.53
All other disbursements	10,616,279.35
Total disbursements	$17,594,851.88
ASSETS
Real estate	$1,302,318.50
Bonds and stocks	45,760,486.05
Cash in company's office	4,510.62
Deposits in banks	4,558,619.57
Agents' balances	2,578,133.69
Interest and rents due or accrued	222,177.26
All other assets	249,824.56
Gross assets	$54,676,070.25
Deduct assets not admitted	3,981,786.98
Total admitted assets	$50,694,283.27
LIABILITIES
Net unpaid claims	$1,854,561.82
Total unearned premiums	16,519,005.63
Other liabilities	5,464,260.66
Capital paid up	7,500,000.00
Surplus over all liabilities	19,356,455.16
Total	$50,694,283.27

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR

	Total	District of Columbia
Fire	$12,028,090.55	$28,089.56
Ocean marine	824,392.93	768.51
Motor vehicles	1,658,255.73	8,351.93
Earthquake	21,635.91	72.00
Inland navigation and transportation	1,056,821.32	6,931.27
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	1,043,822.45	944.28
Hail	271,211.81	.....
Sprinkler leakage	39,983.93	4.83
Riot, civil commotion and explosion	150,249.89	552.84
All other aircraft	43,648.80	105.36
Rain and flood	38,716.30	205.13
Totals	$17,176,829.62	$46,025.71

J. R. STEUART, Vice President.

G. H. GRANT, Assistant Secretary.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of February, 1937.

[Seal.] E. L. UPTON, Notary Public.

Statement of the Condition of the CENTURY INDEMNITY COMPANY OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT
—on the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia

INCOME
Net premiums	$6,502,329.71
Total interest and rents	243,777.31
Other income	26,668.12
Total income	$6,772,775.14
DISBURSEMENTS
Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$2,724,735.01
All other disbursements	3,073,495.73
Total disbursements	$5,798,230.74
ASSETS
Bonds and stocks	$6,971,519.48
Deposits in banks	1,178,071.64
Premiums in course of collection	1,465,932.69
Interest and rents due or accrued	38,421.38
All other assets	101,939.98
Gross assets	$9,755,885.17
Deduct assets not admitted	183,282.80
Total admitted assets	$9,572,602.37
LIABILITIES
Total unpaid claims	$3,419,389.40
Total unearned premiums	2,824,046.48
Other liabilities	517,959.02
Capital paid up	1,000,000.00
Surplus over all liabilities	1,811,207.47
Total	$9,572,602.37

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR

	Total	District of Columbia
Accident	$116,179.68	$4,798.43
Health	18,267.45	258.00
Auto liability	2,220,630.21	24,695.54
Liability other than auto	915,908.85	15,902.76
Workmen's compensation	1,474,798.75	39,262.41
Fidelity	227,361.26	2,573.59
Surety	401,169.93	126.04
Plate glass	155,920.20	5,008.43
Burglary and theft	282,366.70	10,714.23
Auto property damage	637,392.89	11,798.77
Auto collision	20,159.68	147.26
Property damage and collision other than auto	32,174.11	464.74
Totals	$6,502,329.71	$115,750.25

FRANK G. BUSH, Vice President.

G. H. GRANT, Assistant Secretary.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of January, 1937.

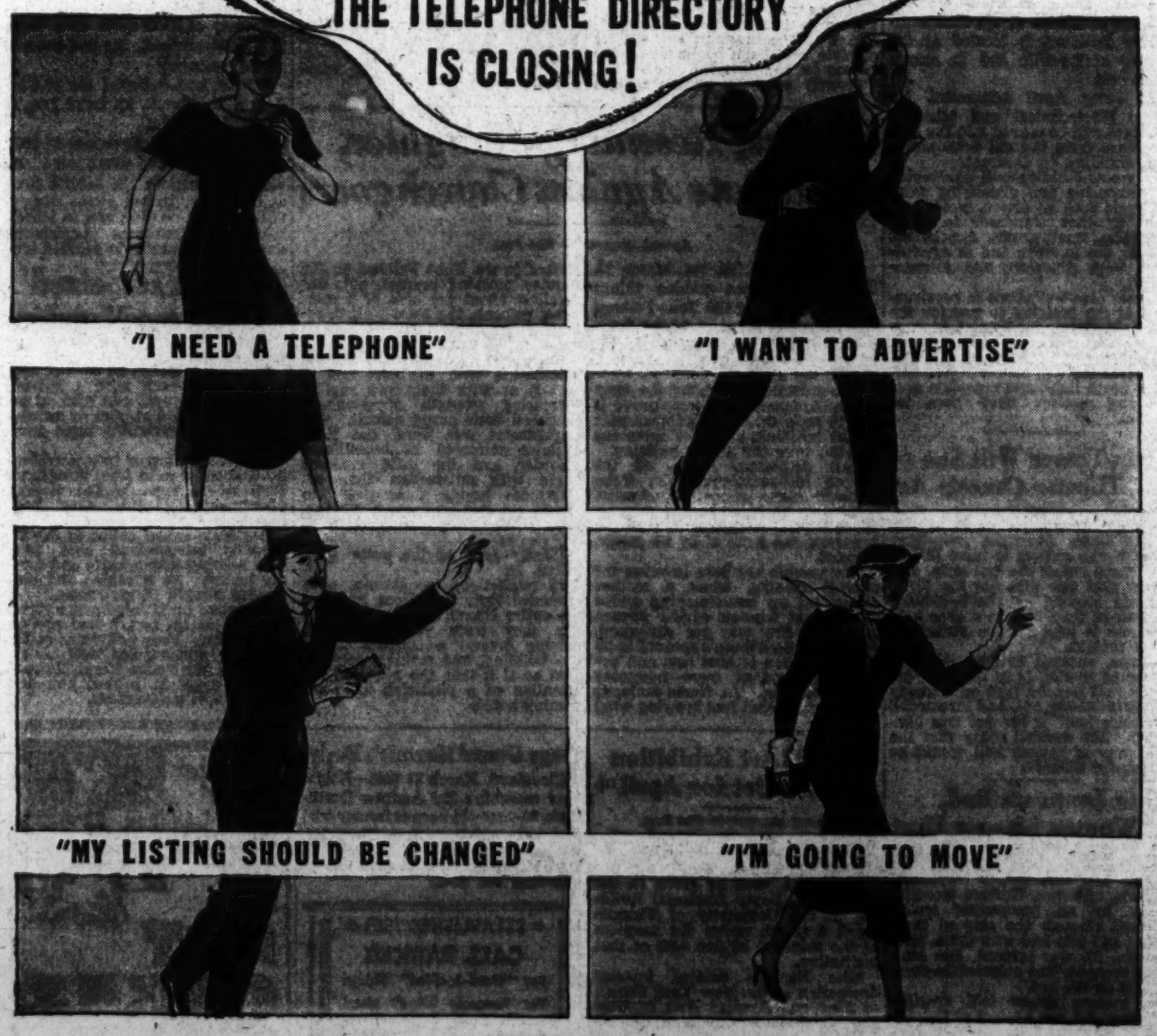
[Seal] D. F. KIRSHEMAN, Notary Public.

CLAIM DEPARTMENT
National 7072.

ASSOCIATE AGENTS:
Norment, Smith & Fuller, Central Natl. Bank Bldg. Lloyd R. Turner, 600 7th Street S.W. Wm. R. Ellis, 1539 I Street N.W.

Hurry!

THE TELEPHONE DIRECTORY IS CLOSING!



The new Telephone Directory goes to the Printer soon. Going to get a telephone? Going to move? Need directory advertising? Please let us know today so you may be properly represented in the new telephone directory.

Just Call Metropolitan 9900

THE CHESAPEAKE AND POTOMAC TELEPHONE COMPANY

Julius Manger, Hotel Magnate, Dies in Capital

Owner of Hostelry Chain Victim of Unexpected Heart Attack.

Julius Manger, owner of one of the largest hotel chains in America, died yesterday morning after a heart attack in his apartment at the Hay-Adams House. He was 70.

Death came unexpectedly at the breakfast table, after he had seemed, said his daughter, Isabel, "in the best of spirits."

Manger's interests were wide. He owned ten hotels located in Washington, New York, Boston and Chicago, and his etsate, it was estimated, amounts to several millions.

Born in Booneville, Mo., November 25, 1867, he was graduated from Tulane University Law School, and at 28 entered the coffee business in Galveston, Tex.

Entered Building Business.

Shortly thereafter he left the coffee business to enter the building business with his brother, William, in Galveston and Brooklyn, N. Y., where they built 500 homes in the Bay Ridge section.

They also built the Builders' Exchange in New York City, which in 1907 they traded for the Plaza Hotel in Chicago. This was the first hotel owned by Manger and his brother.

The chain grew and when William Manger died in 1928, Julius Manger became sole owner.

In addition to the Hay-Adams House, the Annapolis and the Hamilton in Washington, Manger owned the following hotels in New York City; the Windsor, the Imperial, the Endicott, the Martha Washington and the Grand; in Boston, the Manger, and in Chicago, the Plaza.

Active in Organizations.

He was a member of the Hotel Men's Association of New York, the New York State Hotel Men's Association, the American Hotel Association, the Westchester (N. Y.) Country Club, the New York Athletic Club and the Pelham (N. Y.) Country Club.

In addition to his wife, the former Lilian Muir Weissinger, whom he married in 1914, Manger is survived by two sons, William and Julius, jr.; two daughters, Isabel and Lillian, and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Myers.

Funeral services will be held at his Pelham Manor home Wednesday. Burial will be in a private mausoleum in Woodlawn Cemetery, Westchester, N. Y.

Patriotic Unit to Get Charter in Washington

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Fredericksburg, Va., March 28.—The charter of the newly formed Gen. John Minor Chapter, Daughters of 1812, here, will be presented at the organization's national congress in Washington during the week of April 26. It will be received by Mrs. William A. Porter, of Richmond, State president.

Charter members are Mrs. George A. Scott, president; Mrs. H. H. Smith, secretary; Mrs. S. P. Powell, treasurer; Mrs. R. O. Gordon, of Spotsylvania County; Mrs. William S. Chesley, Miss Mary Lou Chesley, Miss Caroline Hindman Barney, Mrs. George P. King and Mrs. J. E. Timberlake.

The Weather

Today's Sun and Tide Table

(Furnished by United States Department of Commerce, Coast and Geodetic Survey.)

	A.M.	P.M.
Sun rises.....	6:57
Sun sets.....	6:28
High tide..	9:30	9:50
Low tide..	3:59	4:33

Weather Conditions.

U. S. Dept. of Agri., Weather Bureau.
Washington, Sunday March 28—7:30 P.M.

Forecast for the District of Columbia—Fair and continued cold Monday and Tuesday; fresh northwest winds.

For Maryland and Virginia—Fair and continued cold Monday and Tuesday.

Conditions.

Pressure remains low from the Atlantic States and Quebec eastward to mid-Ocean and it is abnormally low from Labrador and eastern Quebec southward and southeastward. S. S. Cardonia, about 500 miles south of Cape Race, Newfoundland, 28.94 inches and Anticosti, Quebec, 29.00 inches. The far western disturbance is advancing slowly eastward over the southern Plateau and southern Rocky Mountain regions, Durango, Colo., 29.54 inches. Pressure continues high over northern and eastern Alaska, western and central Canada, the North Pacific States, and from the northern Rocky Mountain region and the central and southern Plains States eastward over the Great Central Valleys and the upper lake region. Norman, District of MacKenzie, 30.74 inches; Omaha, Nebr., 30.38 inches, and Northhead, Wash., 30.26 inches. The tempearture is still considerably below normal from the Rocky Mountain and southern Plateau region eastward to the Atlantic Coast, except from North Daokta eastward to northern Michigan, although there has been some reaction to slightly higher temperature from the Plains States eastward to the upper Ohio and the southern Appalachian region.

Temperature—Midnight, 34; 2 a. m., 32; 4 a. m., 31; 6 a. m., 30; 8 a. m., 33; 10 a. m., 38; 12 noon, 40; 2 p. m., 42; 4 p. m., 43; 6 p. m., 40; 8 p. m., 39; 10 p. m., 38. Highest, 43. Lowest, 30. Relative humidity—7:30 a. m., 48; 1:30 p. m., 36; 7:30 p. m., 40. Hours of sunshine, 8.1. Per cent of possible sunshine, 65.

Departures from Normal.

Accumulated excess of temperature since January 1, 1937, 344 degrees.

Deficiency of temperature since March 1, 1937, 14 degrees.

Accumulated excess of precipitation since January 1, 1937, 2.47 inches.

Deficiency of precipitation since March 1, 1937, 1.87 inches.

Temperatures and Precipitation.

Temperatures and precipitation during 24 hours ended 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

	Highest Sun.	Lowest Sat. night.	7:30 p.m.	Rainfall.
Washington, D. C.	43	30	40	....
Asheville, N. C.	40	24	36	....
Atlanta, Ga.	48	28	44	....
Atlantic City, N. J.	42	30	36	....
Baltimore, Md.	42	32	38	....
Birmingham, Ala.	50	28	44	....
Bismarck, N. Dak.	38	26	34	....
Boston, Mass.	38	24	30	....
Buffalo, N. Y.	26	20	26	0.01
Cheyenne, Wyo.	32	16	30	....
Chicago, Ill.	34	28	34	....
Cincinnati, Ohio	44	24	38	....
Cleveland, Ohio	32	26	30	....
Dallas, Tex.	48	28	46	....
Davenport, Iowa	42	30	40	....
Denver, Colo.	36	20	36	....
Des Moines, Iowa	38	30	38	....
Detroit, Mich.	40	24	36	....
Duluth, Minn.	42	16	34	....
El Paso, Tex.	60	34	56	....
Galveston, Tex.	52	44	50	....
Helena, Mont.	36	12	28	....
Huron, S. Dak.	30	26	30	....
Indianapolis, Ind.	40	24	38	....
Jacksonville, Fla.	60	42	54	....
Kansas City, Mo.	34	26	34	0.01
Little Rock, Ark.	44	26	42	....
Los Angeles, Calif.	64	48	62	....
Louisville, Ky.	46	28	42	....
Marquette, Mich.	36	22	32	....
Memphis, Tenn.	42	28	42	....
Miami, Fla.	76	60	68	....
Minneapolis, Minn.	42	24	40	....
Mobile, Ala.	52	32	52	....
New Orleans, La.	54	38	52	....
New York, N. Y.	34	26	28	....
North Platte, Nebr.	32	16	30	....
Omaha, Nebr.	22	28	32	....
Philadelphia, Pa.	38	30	34	....
Phoenix, Ariz.	56	46	52	0.01
Pittsburgh, Pa.	38	22	32	....
Portland, Me.	38	26	28	0.01
Portland, Oreg.	52	42	50	....
Rapid City, S. Dak.	26	4	26	....
Salt Lake City, Utah	52	26	46	....
St. Louis, Mo.	40	30	40	....
San Antonio, Tex.	50	36	48	....
San Diego, Calif.	60	52	58	0.06
San Francisco, Calif.	62	48	56	....
Santa Fe, N. Mex.	40	28	30	....
Savannah, Ga.	58	40	52	....
Seattle, Wash.	52	44	52	....
Springfield, Ill.	46	30	40	....
Tampa, Fla.	60	52	54	....
Vicksburg, Miss.	48	34	46	....

Wirephoto: Three Fires Destroy New York Synagogue

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

The ruined interior of New York's West End Synagogue where fires were discovered three times within 12 hours Saturday. The edifice is one block from Rodeph Sholom Synagogue, marked with crude swastikas by vandals three weeks ago.

World Peace Catholic Topic For Tomorrow

Clergymen and Officials to Join in Discussion of Pressing Problems.

Prominent Catholic clergymen, diplomats and Government officials will join in a discussion of peace problems beginning here tomorrow when the Catholic Association for International Peace opens its eleventh annual conference.

The international dinner tomorrow night at which Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, speaks will be an important feature of the conference. However, sessions in the Mayflower Hotel will open with a round-table conference at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

The Rev. Charles C. Miltner, dean of the college of arts and letters, University of Notre Dame, will be chairman of the first meeting, which will be devoted to a consideration of "Moral Foundations of a World Society."

"Social Relations in a World Society" is the subject for discussion at an early afternoon session over which Dr. Elizabeth M. Lynskey, of Hunter College, New York, presides. Later in the afternoon, Dr. Carlton J. H. Hayes, of Columbia University, will conduct a forum on "Nationalism in Relation to a World Society."

Michael Francis Doyle, Philadelphia, who was a member of the President's Commission to Buenos Aires for the Maintenance of Peace will preside at the evening banquet. Senator O'Mahoney will speak on "Faith or Fear—the Basis of Peace." Dr. Charles G. Fenwick, of Bryn Mawr College, who is president of the association, will be another speaker, his subject being "Our Responsibility for World Peace."

Police Officer Shot Hunting Prowler At Middleburg, Va.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Middleburg, Va., March 28.—Sheriff E. S. Adrian and his deputies are investigating the shooting last night of Sergt. Fred McGuinn, of Middleburg, and the robbery of two stores and a filling station there last night.

McGuinn suffered a rifle wound in the right shoulder when an unidentified man fired at him from behind a stone wall a quarter of a mile from the town as he cruised in his car searching for burglars who earlier in the night had robbed the stores of G. D. Gartrell and J. R. Allison.

Gartrell, when told by a neighbor that a prowler was in his store, went to the place to find a man hiding behind the ice box, rifle in hand. The thug, dashing for the rear entrance, disappeared in an alley. After firing at McGuinn, he fled across a field.

In the Allison store, police found a bag left by the burglar containing 18 boxes of .22-caliber bullets and a flashlight they said had been stolen from the Sinclair service station in Middleburg earlier in the night.

Band Concert.

UNITED STATES MARINE BAND, The White House, at 3 P. M. PROGRAM.

March, "The Children" .....Goldman
Overture, "Oberon" .....Weber
Cornet solo, "Carneval of Venice" .....Del Staigers Musician Robert DeHart.
Selections from "The Chocolate Soldier" .....Oscar Strauss
Two characteristis—
(a) "The Whistler and His Dog" ..Pryor
(b) "Baby Parade" .....Pryor
Waltz, "Jolly Fellows" .....Volistedt
Trio for piccolos, "The Three Birds" .....Pillevestre
Musicians Clayton Lindsay, Bartley Moor and Luis Gusman.
Suite, "Looking Upward"
(a) "By the Light of the Polar Star"
(b) "Beneath the Southern Cross"
(c) "Mars and Venus"
"Shepherd Fennel's Dance" .....Gardiner
Humoresks, "The Merry Widow" ..Bellstedt
"Unfold Ye Portals," from "Redemption" .....Gounod
March, "Franklin D. Roosevelt" ...Woodin
"The Star-Spangled Banner."

UNITED STATES NAVY BAND. Sail Loft, Navy Yard, at 2 P. M. PROGRAM.

March, "Fifth Engineers" .....Smith
A Manx lone poem, "Mannin Veen" .Wood
Solo for cornet, "Hosanna" .....Granier
Grace Adams East, Guest Soloist.
Hymn, "Abide With Me" .....Monck
Wilfred Smith, Tenor, Church of Covenant, Guest Soloist.
Song, "Drive Safely" .....De Leath
Selections from Gluck's operas..arr. Godfrey
"Introduction" (Don Juan")
"Air Gai." ("Iphigenia in Aull")
Song, "She Was Bred in Old Kentucky"
Solo for trombone, "Love's Enchantment" .....Pryor
Student J. T. Lenoir, United States Navy School of Music.
Waltz, "Spring Is in My Heart Again" .....Woodin
Song, "I Cannot Forget Thee" .Mrs. Gillett
Wilfred Smith, Guest Soloist.
Humoresque on "Comin' Round the Mountain" .....Fillmore
Overture, "Zampa" .....Herold
Song, "Under the Bamboo Tree" .Johnson
Song, "I Love You Truly" .....Bond
March, "Salute to Alexander" .....King
March, "Beating of the Drums" ..Hildreth
"The Star-Spangled Banner."

Post Ad-Writers will be glad to assist you in preparing a good, result-producing ad when you call National 4200.

Flight by Hit-and-Run Driver Unavailing; Arrest Is Certain License Number and Description Quickly Broadcast; Motorists Involved in Accidents Often Become Frightened.

By Howard F. Wentworth.

(Winner of first prize in the Nation-wide C. I. T. Safety Contest with his 1936 series appearing in The Post.)

In Washington during recent weeks, one person has been killed and several injured by the most vicious of highway safety offenders—the hit-and-run driver.

But no matter how well this traffic criminal covers his trail, records show, his escape is short-lived. With radio waves in constant communication with roving police cars, the hit-and-run offender has little chance to avoid apprehension for any extended length of time.

District traffic regulations provide that a motorist must stop and make known his identity following an accident—no matter how minor nor how serious. And when a driver leaves the scene of a mishap, he sets in motion a far-reaching machine, designed to uncover his whereabouts at any cost.

Perhaps a witness to the accident has noted the law-breaking driver's license number. This is given to authorities. And in the space of a few moments, every policeman on duty in the city is searching for the offender.

The police radio and teletype systems broadcast the "lookout." And while the hit-and-run driver, perhaps cringing at every footstep, attempts to conceal his identity, traffic officials have secured his name from the files and his capture is a matter of time.

The psychological reaction of a hit-and-run driver has long baffled authorities.

"It is hard to understand what makes a person flee from the scene of an accident," said Traffic Director William A. Van Duzer. "Fear of punishment is possibly the only reason. Our records show that motorists have fled after denting a fender almost as frequently as in serious cases."

In many instances, authorities point out, the runaway driver is wanted on other charges and fears this will be uncovered. These cases, however, are in the minority. Most drivers have no explanation to offer when they are apprehended.

For many years police authorities have been attempting to show that a hit-and-run driver has nothing to gain by his attempted escape. The consequences are less severe, it is pointed out, if the drivers of all cars involved in an accident remain on the spot to "take their medicine."

Offer No Excuses.

During daily cruises of the new safety patrol, several motorists have been stopped who were trying to "cover up" a traffic law infraction. They admit seeing the patrol car, but offer no excuse for attempting to escape.

In one incident encountered by Policeman George M. Patton, the "safety officer," and this reporter recently, a driver was seen to pass a stop sign.

His violation was not flagrant and traffic was light. But apparently believing he was about to be arrested, the youthful motorist "stepped on the gas."

Then followed a lengthy chase at nearly 45 miles an hour. Not content with violating one law, the frightened driver chose to break another in a futile effort to escape punishment.

When he was finally overtaken, the motorist said:

"I thought I was going to get in trouble—so I decided to prevent it."

But he found himself in more serious trouble than he anticipated. His driver's permit had expired and the registration card for his car—required to be carried at all times—was missing.

Had this driver stopped after passing the sign, there was a possibility he would have been warned—and nothing more. But instead, he was forced to post collateral for a court appearance.

Holmes to Join Patrol.

Encouraged by results of the new safety patrol, Inspector William E. Holmes, who becomes the Police Department's new traffic supervisor on April 1, will join the tour of the city streets within the next few days.

Holmes is preparing plans for a general reorganization of traffic enforcement activities and will place them in effect soon after his appointment is made official, it was learned.

Established to bring about safer and better traffic conditions in the District, the much-discussed traffic school, sponsored by the Department of Vehicles and Traffic, will open April 5, it was announced yesterday.

Several hundred "students" have enrolled for courses. Among them are new drivers as well as "old hands." Sessions will be held in the auditorium of McKinley High School and local police and traffic officials will act as instructors.

Highway safety will be stressed in all lessons. Traffic Director Van Duzer yesterday urged all drivers—young and old—to register for the classes.

Five Persons Injured.

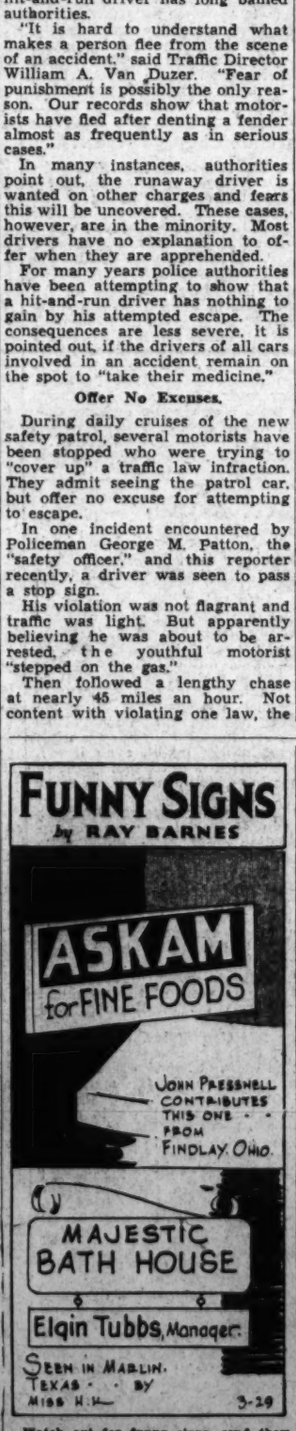
Five persons were injured in traffic accidents yesterday as police instituted a search for a hit-and-run driver who knocked down a pedestrian at Fourth and G place northwest.

Raymond Alsop, 51, of 717 First street northwest, was treated at Casualty Hospital for lacerations and bruises after being struck by the automobile which failed to stop. His condition was not serious. A lookout was sent for the driver of the car.

Thurston Brown, 57, of 1147 Morse street northeast, was brought here to Casualty Hospital after an accident in College Park, Md. He suffered cuts on his face.

Three persons suffered cuts and bruises in a collision near Oxon Hill, Md., and were brought to Casualty Hospital for treatment.

They gave their names as Margaret W. Davis, 26, of 3351 Brothers place southeast; Mary West, 26, of 649 Ninth street northeast, and W. E. Davis, 28, of the Brothers place address. All were released after treatment.



Watch out for funny signs, send them to Ray Barnes, in care of this newspaper, and share your laughs.

Death Blocks Solution of Triple Slaying

By the Associated Press.

Galax, Va., March 28.—The death of Thomas Nail, middle-aged property owner, apparently closed today a futile search for a motive in the slaying of two store clerks officials said he shot before sending a bullet crashing into his own brain.

Nail died in a hospital here shortly after midnight of a wound Police Chief J. C. Jones said he inflicted after shooting down Swift Waugh, 47, and Floyd Sutphin, 54, in a department store here Saturday morning.

A pall of sorrow shadowed the community's Easter as friends of Waugh and Sutphin gathered this afternoon for their funerals in the same church, but an hour apart.

Funeral services for Nail will be held at Oakland Church, in Carroll County, at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Nail, who worked in a furniture factory but was well-to-do, was part owner of the building in which, Chief Jones said, he shot down the two clerks without a word of warning, remarked to a man he met as he walked into a nearby alleyway, "Don't crowd me; I've been crowded enough this morning," and turned the pistol on himself.

Taxi Operator Slugged; Cash And Cab Taken

Police Recover Auto; Liquor Store and Gas Station Manager Robbed.

A taxicab driver was injured seriously by holdup men early yesterday and several homes and business places were broken into over the week-end with nearly $500 worth of property taken.

John Edward Dean, 27, of 1454 Euclid street northwest, a cab driver, collapsed in the Fourth Precinct station shortly after 2 a. m. before he could tell police of the attack.

Taken to Gallinger Hospital, Dean did not regain consciousness for several hours and physicians believed his neck was broken. He recovered later and gave police the details of the robbery.

Dean said he was hired by two men at Eckington place and Florida avenue and ordered to drive around. On First street northwest between K and L he was struck from behind and knocked unconscious. He regained his senses to find himself lying on the ground with his wallet and automobile gone.

He went to the station house and collapsed. the wallet contained about $30, he said. Police later found the cab abandoned at the Peace Monument.

After receiving treatment yesterday, Dean improved and was allowed to leave the hospital.

More than $200 in bills and a quantity of liquor was stolen from the Vintage Liquor Co., at 2610 Connecticut avenue northwest, early yesterday by thieves who entered the place after breaking a panel from a rear door.

Meanwhile, detectives were searching for a bandit who robbed Charles R. Sangster, manager of a gasoline station at Thirteenth and L streets northwest, of between $140 and $150 late Saturday night.

Sangster said the man forced him into a taxicab and drove him to Seventeenth and R streets northwest, where he was robbed of the money and forced out of the car.

Cleric Changes Charge.

Winchester, Va., March 28.—The Rev. Allen Jones, pastor of the Opequon Group of Presbyterian Churches in this county for the past three years and pastor in the county for seven years, has been released from his charge in order to accept a call to the Moorefield, W. Va., charge.

For quick results at the lowest cost, use Post Classified Ads.

Presbytery Group Elects Officers

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., March 28.—Miss Modena Pyles, of Keyser, W. Va., was elected president of the Young People's Conference of Winchester Presbytery at the meeting held Friday at Romney and attended by 100 young people from over the area, which includes northern Virginia and eastern West Virginia churches.

Miss Virginia Lewis, of Davis, W. Va., was elected vice president; Miss Helen Knipe, Winchester, Va., secretary, and Miss Ada Glass, Piedmont, W. Va., treasurer.

Dr. S. R. Diehl, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, this city, made the principal address.

Martinsburg was awarded the banner for the best work of the year, and Charles Town was given an award for the greatest number of members traveling the greatest distance to the meeting.

Pastor Asserts Easter Began Christian Era

Dr. Rasmussen Tells of Terror of Disciples; Faith of U. S. Fathers Cited.

The disciples' conviction that Christ had risen from the dead, and not the mere fact of Jesus' birth, makes the Galilean's life "the birth date of a new era," Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, pastor, declared in his Easter sermon yesterday in Luther Place Memorial Church.

"They (the disciples) had been ready to embalm Him," said the minister, "like any other dead leader. They hid themselves in a paralysis of fear. They cast their minds back to their old vocations, feeling that the iridescent dream had faded and left them as dupes and a laughing stock for their acquaintances.

"They refused to believe, when the incredible report came that He was again alive and in their midst."

Dr. Rasmussen, outlining the evidence in the Gospels in support of Christ's resurrection, added, "John tells how they hid behind closed doors, in their terror—and suddenly He stood in their midst, and spoke to them in familiar and previous accents.

"Luke says that faithful inquiry established the fact that for a space of forty days He manifested Himself in many infallible proofs."

America's foundir.; fathers had a faith in their religion which their descendants today might well revive, declared the Rev. Ernest G. Mobley, evangelist, in an Easter sermon at Columbia Heights Christian Church.

"Out at Mount Vernon, our national shrine, the sweeping declaration, 'I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live, and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die,' is chiseled over the entrance to the little building where George and Martha Washington are buried," recalled the preacher.

"In a strange way this symbolized the strident faith of our early fathers. These complex days are vocal with an urgent call on Easter for our National Capital to again express a positive faith in immortality."

Former D. C. Director Of High Schools Dies

Dr. Francis Ransom Lane, director of District high schools from 1894-1902, died yesterday in Sheffield, Mass. He was 78.

Born in Manchester, N. H., December 23, 1858, the son of John Godfrey and Ann Caroline Lane, Dr. Lane was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1881, and from George Washington, then Columbian, University Medical School in 1885. In 1907, Lafayette College gave him an honorary master of arts degree.

He had be nethe head of the Franklin School here from 1881 to 1885. In 1907 Lafayette College head of the department of English in Washington High School, 1882-1888; principal of Central High School, 1888-1894, and director of District high schools, 1894-1902.

He had been the head of the come principal of the Poly Prep School there. In 1906 he was made director of the Jacob Tome Institute, Port Deposit, Mich. In 1908, he became principal of the State Normal School, Worcester, Mass., and in 1912 headmaster of Brooklyn Poly Prep.

Prizes Awarded By Garden Club

Purcellville, Va., March 28.—Mrs. J. P. Hatcher won the blue ribbon in the class for forced fruit and shrub branches at the meeting of the Purcellville Garden Club at the Fairway yesterday afternoon. Other winners in this class were Mrs. O. L. Emerick and Miss Mary Simpson. Miss Dorothy Smith, with a crocus plant, took first ribbon in the plant class. Other winners in this number were Mrs. W. E. Nichols and Mrs. O. L. Emerick.

Hamburg edging lends Victorian charm to this black frock for a sophisticated miss. Square neck, hem, short sleeves—white borders all. Tiny buttons march trimly down the front. $39.75

MISSES' DRESSES, THIRD FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10TH 11TH F AND G STREETS — PHONE DISTRICT 5300

Dyed-in-the-Yarn to Match

Botany Sweaters, Skirts, Slacks

Knitted slip-ons and cardigans—woven skirts and slacks, but their colors "twin" because their yarns are the same—dyed by the exact formula. Still better, because their dye formulas are so exact—you can, for instance, buy skirt and cardigan now, and match their rose, Nanking blue, copper tint or turquoise with slip-on and slacks later.

Pull-ons ... $5 Cardigans $5.95
Skirts $8.95 Slacks .. $10.95

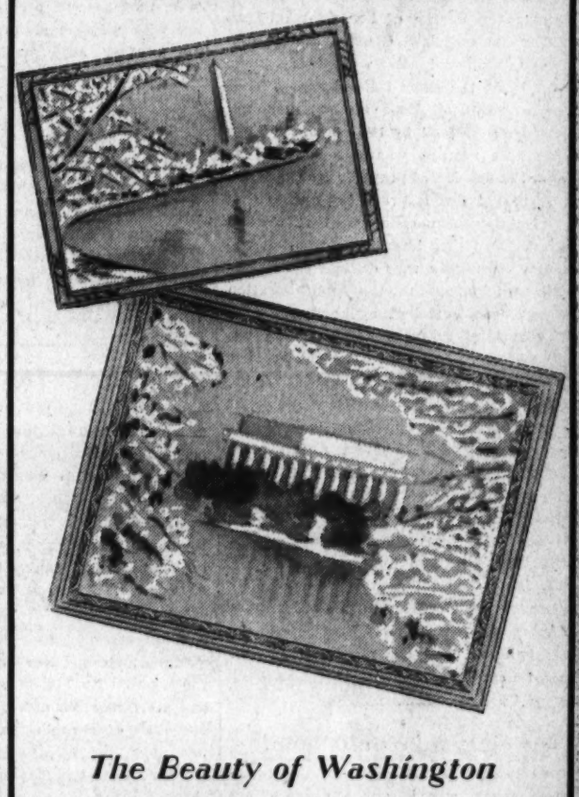
SPORTSWEAR, THIRD FLOOR



The Beauty of Washington in the Spring

Cherry Blossoms in tinted photographs

The breath-taking loveliness of thousands of Japanese cherry trees in bloom, setting off the classic dignity of buildings and monuments is one of the best-loved sights of Washington. You may remember them, but a photograph, hand-tinted in oils to reproduce faithfully their exquisite colors, will mean added pleasure to you or to some friend who has never seen them. We sketch two, framed appropriately:

Upper—showing the Washington Monument and the Tidal Basin. $1
Lower—the Lincoln Memorial literally framed in pink blossoms. $3

In several sizes, $1 to $5

PICTURES, SIXTH FLOOR

The Washington Post

Registered in U. S. Patent Office.

An Independent Newspaper.
(Published every day in the year.)

Eugene Meyer, Publisher.
Floyd R. Harrison, Comptroller.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

OFFICES OF THE WASHINGTON POST.

New York, N.Y. ..... 270 Madison Avenue
Chicago, Ill. ..... 360 North Michigan Avenue
Detroit, Mich. ..... 3-241 General Motors Building
St. Louis, Mo. ..... 305 Globe-Democrat Building
San Francisco, Calif. ..... 746 Ruse Building
Los Angeles, Calif. ..... 1151 South Broadway
Portland, Oreg. ..... Public Service Building
Seattle, Wash. ..... 1004 Second Avenue

DELIVERED IN WASHINGTON.

Daily, Sunday, 1 yr.	$7.80	Daily, Sunday, 1 week	15c
Daily only, 1 yr.	5.20	Daily only, 1 week	10c
Sunday only, 1 yr.	2.60	Sunday only, per copy	5c

BY MAIL—MARYLAND, VIRGINIA, WEST VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA.

Daily and Sunday		Sunday Only		Daily Only
One year	$9.00	One year	$4.00	One year	$6.00
Six months	5.00	Six months	2.00	Six months	3.50
One month	.85	One month	.40	One month	.60

OTHER STATES, MEXICO AND CANADA.

Daily and Sunday		Sunday Only		Daily Only
One year	$11.00	One year	$4.50	One year	$7.50
Six months	6.00	Six months	2.50	Six months	4.00
One month	1.00	One month	.45	One month	.70

All Subscriptions by Mail Payable in Advance.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

TELEPHONE NATIONAL 4200.

Monday, March 29, 1937.

Evading The Issue.

It is difficult to reconcile the legalistic position assumed by the Administration in respect to the sit-down strike with the general philosophy of the New Deal. The President has always taken pride in the fact that he is a man of action. One of his chief rules of conduct is to strike out boldly in the interests of democracy. But when he is sharply criticized for maintaining an aloof silence during the recent crisis in Detroit he falls back upon an argument which he usually attributes to defeatist lawyers and economic royalists—that the problem is one for the States to handle.

The Senate majority leader, Joseph T. Robinson, was undoubtedly speaking for the Administration when he emerged from a White House conference on the strike situation with this statement: "Except in such cases where interstate commerce is interfered with or States request aid, the Federal Government does not or cannot initiate action." Of course, no one expected the Federal Government to step in and force a settlement of the strike. The negotiations have been commendably handled by Gov. Murphy. And there has been no thought whatever of the Government sending troops to Michigan on its own initiative to oust the strikers who were illegally occupying the plants of their employers.

By thus intimating that its hands have been tied and that the President could have done nothing to ease the tension, the Administration is weakly trying to evade the real issue. Aside from any violation of Federal laws or any encroachments upon Government property, the Department of Labor has authority under the law to act as mediator in labor disputes. In the General Motors strike Secretary Perkins made an energetic attempt to use this power.

During the course of her efforts Secretary Perkins criticized General Motors officials for "failing in their public responsibilities." At the same time she said, "The legality of this sit-down method has not yet been determined by the courts." Even though this remark was not intended to indorse the seizure of property by the strikers, it created a widespread impression that the Administration condones that lawless practice. And that impression was left uncorrected through a very critical period.

It is well known that the Administration does not have sufficient authority to cope with industrial disputes affecting the national welfare. But that does not prevent the President from throwing the weight of his influence behind the cause of law and order when a crisis arises. Secretary Perkins now concedes that "the sit-down strike technique is a violation of the law of trespass, which is at present very local and a matter of regulation by local authorities." No one looks to Federal agencies for enforcement of that law. But so long as a suspicion exists that the Administration is tacitly sympathetic with the sit-down device there is danger that violence will increasingly spread where only collective bargaining should be employed.

The Guggenheim Fellows.

The Guggenheim fellows for 1937, announced today, will pursue a usual diversity of researches and endeavors. One will study the structure of the atom, another the composition of mountains. The propaganda technique of political parties will absorb a third, while a fourth will dedicate himself to historical investigations in the Sumerian culture of 2000 B. C. Others plan creative attempts in poetry, music and painting as well as experimental work in biology, physics and medicine.

More intimate interest will be aroused by the background and affiliations of certain recipients of the Guggenheim patronage. The fellowships are awarded without distinction as to race, color or creed. Thus this year two Negroes—one a member of the faculty of Howard University—have received grants. Nor do political complexions affect a candidate's application. Cases in point are the names of George Gross and William Gropper among the 63 fellows. Both are artists proudly identified with left-wing thinking.

This is cultural democracy in its finest flower. Cynics may answer that aristocrats through the ages have traditionally scattered largesse in the name of "the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding and appreciation of beauty." This is incontestable; but the Guggenheim fund is dispensed with one essential difference. There is no condescension and no favoritism. Fellows are chosen by a committee of scholars and artists whose impartiality is plainly attested by their selections. Gropper, for example, is perhaps best known for his violently anticapitalist cartoons appearing regularly in the New Masses.

Clogging The Legislative Mill.

Congress is so thoroughly upset by the controversy over the Supreme Court that it seems to have little concern for the jam into which its legislative program is slipping. During the 83 days of its present session it has passed no major legislation. In both houses bills are moving at a snail's pace, if at all. Present indications are that the session will extend far into the summer.

Last year at this time six appropriation bills had passed both houses and four were in conference. This year only four have passed both houses and only two are in conference. Moreover, both houses had approved six important legislative bills a year ago, and three of them had been enacted. No comparable measures have been enacted this year. And only the neutrality bills are in conference.

This contrast becomes the more striking when the important problems scheduled for consideration of Congress are listed. In one category are the Wagner housing bill, a comprehensive measure dealing with farm tenancy, a flood control program and the perennial unemployment relief dilemma. Each of these proposals calls for expenditure of a large sum of money. How can they be reconciled with the continuing enormous deficit in the Treasury and the opposition of many Administration leaders to higher taxes?

As a unit Congress appears to be callous to extravagant spending, but there are indications that the consequences of deficit financing are giving the Treasury a good deal of concern. If the Administration launches ambitious and costly new projects, regardless of how desirable they may be, it will be at a serious disadvantage in combating inflationary tendencies. Which course will Congress choose? Here is a major question of policy that demands the most careful deliberation in our legislative halls. But there is little evidence that it is even being considered, apart from the analysis of specific spending bills.

In another category may be placed a number of proposals dealing with social and economic conditions, some of them still in nebulous form. The Department of Agriculture expects enactment of the crop insurance bill and establishment of the so-called ever-normal granary. The new railroad retirement measure, the bituminous coal bill and a measure setting up a "little NRA" for the textile industry are also being pushed. More effective agencies to deal with strikes may be sought.

President Roosevelt has indicated, moreover, that he will propose legislation dealing with wages and hours of work before the session adjourns. This prospective measure, like the O'Mahoney bill requiring Federal charters for corporations, lurks in the background of the Supreme Court controversy. Indeed, the whole legislative program is so overshadowed by this protracted dispute that the session may be barren of constructive results in any field.

As matters stand, therefore, the President's attempt to pack the court threatens to delay insead of hastening some of the measures needed to cope with present conditions.

Peace In The Adriatic.

The Italo-Yugoslav non-aggression pact, signed at Belgrade last week, should go a long way toward consolidating peace in the Adriatic, hitherto regarded as one of Europe's danger zones. It is not the least significant aspect of this agreement that it should have been made at this time. For in recent days Italian foreign policy has been under suspicion as the very reverse of peaceful.

Whatever one may think of Mussolini's attitude and activities with regard to Spain, the accord with Yugoslavia is a constructive and statesmanlike move. At one fell blow 18 years of chronic tensions between the two neighbors have been mitigated. For the next five years, at least, Italy and Yugoslavia are to be at peace and explore the possibilities of co-operation. This development should have a stabilizing effect on the Balkans and central Europe. It should also lead to an improvement in Italo-Yugoslav trade relations.

The Belgrade pact pledges the signatories to respect each other's territorial integrity, to tolerate no agitation within their respective borders against the other power, to seek a peaceful adjustment of any disputes that may arise between them and to cooperate in matters of trade.

For Yugoslavia this pact ends the haunting fear, long entertained at Belgrade, that Italy in conjunction with Hungary and other dissatisfied powers might seek to upset the peace treaty arrangements in the Balkans. It also gives promise of ending the chronic squabbles over Yugoslav minority rights in Italy and Italian minority rights in Yugoslavia. So far as Italy is concerned, this agreement not only means the safeguarding of its exposed Adriatic flank but, in addition, Yugoslavia's implicit recognition of Ethiopia as an Italian colony.

Since Yugoslavia's loyalty to the League has hitherto been above suspicion, as witnessed by its wholehearted execution of the League's sanction program against Italy, this latter step may foreshadow the crumbling of Geneva's non-recognition policy. In spite of that possibility, the Italo-Yugoslav non-aggression agreement represents a distinct gain for peace.

It would be of truly immense significance if, taking a leaf out of his own book, Mussolini should now decide to pursue a similar peaceful policy with regard to Spain. Nothing would contribute more to European appeasement than a decision by Italy scrupulously to refrain from further intervention in the unhappy Iberian Peninsula.

The World Textile Conference.

Delegates from many countries are assembling in Washington for the World Textile Conference to convene next Friday under the auspices of the International Labor Organization. Dr. Lewis L. Lorwin, economic adviser to the I. L. O., says that it will be the first international conference at which "a single great world industry will be examined in detail by employers, workers, and government representatives whose economic welfare is bound up with the destinies of that industry." The agenda is extraordinarily broad, calling for discussion of all those aspects of the industry which "may have a bearing directly or indirectly on the improvement of social conditions in the industry."

Intelligent planning to improve textile labor standards calls for knowledge of wages, hours and working conditions in all parts of the world. In addition, it requires an understanding of the economic, commercial and financial problems of the industry. The delegates will be aided in this respect by an extensive survey prepared for their guidance by the International Labor Office.

The character and scope of the conference is indicated by the subject matter of the report. Official and unofficial data of a most varied sort have been assembled and presented in convenient form for study and comparison. The relative importance of the industry in world economy, the sources of raw materials, the distribution of manufacturing establishments, and the changing currents of international trade are shown. Expansion of textile manufacturing in the newer industrial countries, notably in the Far East, is discussed. The intense competition accompanying such shifts in textile production and trade is related to the various commercial, monetary and exchange policies by which these competing countries seek to gain or retain trade.

The I. L. O. report is unavoidably deficient in some respects because of a lack of reliable statistical information, but it is, notwithstanding, a veritable mine of information for a student of economic history. The generally low level of wage rates in the industry as a whole and the great disparity in rates of pay from country to country is particularly arresting. These data throw a revealing light upon the causes of the industry's instability, and emphasize the need for better standardization of hours and conditions of work. At the same time, the report shows that the task is one of extreme difficulty, not to be solved by mere resolutions approving shorter hours or higher wages for the underpaid.

Nothing could be gained by presenting an unduly simplified statement of these complex problems to the textile conference. That body must have all the essential facts at its disposal in order to reach any useful conclusions.

Pessimism engendered by a better knowledge of the formidable obstacles now standing in the way of effective international cooperation may be the first result of a free and open-minded exchange of views. Eventually, however, out of fuller knowledge will come a keener realization of the importance of such co-operation. Only by that method can orderly development of the textile industry and decent living standards for its workers be achieved in all countries.

Spring Has Been Here!

Spring is here! Officially, it crept in on flower-laden feet eight days ago. But actually it has been parading Washington streets for weeks in the form of straw hats, lightweight coats and pushcarts loaded with premature jonquils. That's the trouble with spring these days—it's getting more and more anticlimactic.

The springs of yesteryear were marked by orgies of housecleaning, hurdy-gurdies, magazine covers blooming with flora and fauna, saloon windows filled with bock beer signs, and a general shedding of red flannels. Nowadays Mrs. Babbitt efficiently cleans one room at a time; hurdy-gurdies for the most part have given way to radios; magazines are on the stands so far in advance that the first crocus is seen on their covers while the front yard is still snowbound. Moreover, bock beer goats have been cavorting in local windows for weeks, and nobody wears red flannels these days, except baseball pitchers. About the only thing left to look forward to is the open street car.

Pippa is supposed to be the star of this seasonal show. But, alas, there are so many preliminaries these days that the audience is pretty fed up before she ever makes her appearance.

Smithsonian's Dr. Hrdlicka says a man's head continues to grow until he's 40. After that he begins to realize that he was mistaken about nearly everything he thought he knew.

Cosmetics were found recently among the ruins of an ancient Mesopotamian city. The skin game, it seems, is nothing new.

Blocking The Stream.

Letters to the Editor

All communications must carry the writer's name and address, though pen names are permitted at the Editor's discretion. In fairness to other correspondents, brevity is requested. Letters are subject to condensation.

Alertness On The Highways.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: May I have the pleasure of stating that the articles being written for your paper by Mr. Wentworth are being accorded much commendation by traffic authorities, members of the traffic advisory council, leaders in motoring clubs and citizens.

Fatality figures indicate that eternal vigilance on highways is the price of life. Thus it seems to follow that any relaxation in vigilance is an invitation to disaster. Prominent among the factors contributing to 36,800 traffic deaths and 967,840 traffic injuries in 1936 were (a) excessive speed, (b) using wrong side of road, (c) theft of right of way of another, (d) driving vehicle off roadway, and (e) miscellaneous recklessness. Pedestrians were often at fault, but most of the fault lay with motorists.

You seem to be awakening the public to a realization that to disregard time-tested safety measures is a practice far too hazardous for indulgence by either intelligent or ignorant persons.

Traffic safety is the individual problem of every man, woman and child. Regrets have no value at the morgue, nor do they ease heartaches in saddened homes of traffic victims.

Presence on highways calls for constant alertness.

EDWIN S. HEGE,
President, the Citizens Association of Chevy Chase.
Washington, March 25.

Temperance Meeting.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I am a die-hard on the prohibition question, and I am reluctant to admit the failure of the prohibition law. The evidence, however, seems to be against me, and I feel that we should now definitely abandon the idea that it can be enforced.

The suggestion made by Mr. Walter Walton in your columns seems to offer common ground upon which drys may reasonably unite. Since we cannot do away with liquor, our next best bet is to control it. As Mr. Walton says, we have done away with the brothel and the saloon. I have been in the old time saloon, and I never saw one that was not disgusting. I have also been in the modern cocktail room, and I must say it is far superior, if liquor must be sold, as people seemed to be having a normally good time, men and women together, and there was no roistering or drunkenness.

I think the suggestion that the factions now existing among the drys join with the repealists in the common cause of temperance presents an ideal for getting results. I think we should get the more temperate faction of the wets to join us in the cause of temperance, even if we have to prove our belief in temperance by serving them a mild cocktail at the first meeting.

Count me in on it, Mr. Walton, whether your first meeting is held at a schoolhouse or a church.

MRS. CONWAY WALSH.
Washington, March 25.

Careful Bus Drivers.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I want to say a word of praise regarding the careful driving of the bus drivers around the city. I find most of them very careful, much more so than the average auto driver. I have been riding in them since the service started.

Why not run a campaign on the screen and in the papers and show some of the mangled, torn remains? It might deter some others from traveling that road. Why there is not more of a campaign about mixing liquor and gasoline, I cannot understand. We might as well face the facts whether the liquor advocates like it or not.

A MERE PEDESTRIAN.
Washington, March 25.

Memorial Doubts.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Mr. Louis Bessemer's recent excellent letter to The Post about the proposed Jefferson Memorial has aroused widespread speculation in regard to the real animus back of the determined effort to misplace a useless $3,000,000 mausoleum where it would not only ruin the present lovely Tidal Basin, but where the terrain is utterly unsuited to support such a structure.

Mr. Bessemer asks: "Can anyone see wisdom in digging out a foundation in the Tidal Basin area when near the surface the good earth provides solid rock in other parts of the District? If this proposition is carried through, will not the public assume that the memorial project is dominated by the cement trust and its allied financiers? Can concrete peddlers, whose chief desire is to find the biggest sink hole possible, take public funds and pour them down a cavity of this kind?"

These questions are pertinent and their implications so sinister that the whole subject should be thoroughly investigated before this project is furthered.

A year ago, when the so-called "parks rehabilitation program" was put over on the District despite a storm of spontaneous protests from indignant citizens, disturbing rumors were afloat that the animating motive back of the totally unnecessary and ill-advised changes in our local parks was to provide profitable contracts for certain large asphalt and cement interests.

A cynical catch-phrase became current, what a pity that landscape gardening and horticultural interests did not have influential political connections, instead of cement. How different would be the appearance of our park system!

Despite many specious assurances and promises, the parks were not improved but were injured by their "rehabilitation," the net result of that waste of public funds being to fill all available space with solid, ugly, depressing expanses of concrete and cement where grass, shrubbery and trees formerly gladdened the eye. That particular piece of vandalism was put over quietly and quickly before a really effectual public protest could be organized. Is it possible that we are going to accept this present imposition now that we have had due warning?

In conclusion here are a few more questions that Mr. Bessemer might well add to his queries.

When there is not enough money to feed the hungry, why is there plenty for this senseless "project?"

The swimming beaches in the Tidal Basin, which gave relief and enjoyment to countless thousands, were abandoned for lack of funds.

If we could not afford the few hundreds that they cost, how is it that we can afford these millions?

TAXPAYER.
Washington, March 22.

Plato's Warning.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I read with great interest Dr. Richmond's quotation from De Tocqueville and I am taking the liberty of quoting a still older authority who, although writing 2,300 years ago, describes the present situation in this country with startling exactness:

Democracy ruins itself by excess—of democracy. Its basic principle is the equal right of all to hold office and determine public policy. This is, at first glance, a delightful arrangement; it becomes disastrous because the people are not properly equipped by education to select the best rulers and the wisest courses.

As to the people, they have no understanding and only repeat what their rulers are pleased to tell them; to get a doctrine accepted or rejected it is only necessary to have it praised or ridiculed in a popular play. Mob rule is a rough sea for the ship of state to ride; every wind of oratory stirs up the waters and deflects the course. The upshot of such a democracy is tyranny or autocracy; the crowd so loves flattery, it is so "hungry for honey," that at last the wiliest and most unscrupulous flatterer, calling himself the "Protector of the People," rises to supreme power.—Plato, 428-348 B. C.

EDWARD C. POTTER.
Washington, March 21.

"In Defense Of Mr. Pope."

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The controversy that is going on in our Washington papers relating to the fitness of Mr. John Russell Pope as architect for the Jefferson Memorial, has been quite a shock and a surprise to me, and I am therefore taking the liberty of clarifying the situation. I wish it distinctly understood that this letter is written without any intention of approving or criticising Mr. Pope's preliminary drawing in its present stage, but merely in regard to the attack upon his appointment as architect for the memorial.

A commission of Congress, appointed from the Senate and House, with due authority have selected Mr. Pope as the architect for the Jefferson Memorial. His design, which, of course, is in its early stages, has been approved by the Fine Arts Commission, the Park and Planning Commission, and, I am told, by the President.

Under these conditions, if the critics of Mr. Pope's memorial are members of the American Institute of Architects, to which most reputable architects belong, I would like to call their attention to one of our principles of professional practice, namely:

8. An architect will not falsely or maliciously injure, directly or indirectly, the professional reputation, prospects or business of a fellow architect. He will not attempt to supplant another architect after definite steps have been taken by a client toward his employment; nor will he undertake a commission for which another has been previously employed until he has determined that the original employment has been definitely terminated.

I wonder if the gentlemen who are opposing the proposed design so strenuously think they would be able to do as well as Mr. Pope in a competition? It is interesting to note that he competed for the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial, proposed for a somewhat similar location, with the best talent in the country against him, and won the competition. This is one of the reasons he was selected for the Jefferson Memorial, which commission he did not solicit aside from the fact that he is undoubtedly an outstanding genius in architecture and has been for years.

I would like to go on record as saying that I am not at all opposed to competitions and think in many ways they are a very good method of bringing out our unknown talent, but in a work as important as this it might be quite dangerous to have such a competition, since the present peculiar differences of so many architectural juries as to what is good design might, even if Mr. Pope's design is not liked, result in something which would arouse more controversy.

Henry Bacon was selected for the Lincoln Memorial on the recommendation of Mr. McKim, because of his outstanding reputation as an architect in his day, which in my opinion is equalled by Mr. Pope.

I am not writing this letter with malice aforethought, and possibly numbers of the people who have objected to Mr. Pope may be strong personal friends of mine, but I feel it my duty to speak in defense of Mr. Pope in view of the unethical attack upon his appointment and his work.

The selection of Mr. Pope as architect does not neceassarily mean that he will not have to restudy his proposed design for the memorial, and he no doubt will be glad to do it a number of times in order to get the best result. It is possible that the design and the location will have to be modified. It is my opinion that it is not so much the present preliminary design that has influenced the Government in its selection of Mr. Pope, as the sureness of getting an architect who can design a satisfactory memorial.

Finally, in view of the approval of the Congressional commission, the Fine Arts Commission, the Park and Planning Commission, and the President of the United States, it seems to me the issue of Mr. Pope's appointment as architect for the Jefferson Memorial is closed.

Respectfully submitted for the information of your readers.

WADDY B. WOOD.
Fellow of the American Institute of Architects.
Washington, March 25.

Washington Sits In

PRIME MINISTER MACKENZIE KING has gone down to Washington today to confer with President Roosevelt on matters 'of mutual interest to Canada and the United States."

What he is actually doing is helping to frame a North American program and policy which will govern his course of action in the forthcoming Imperial Conference.

This means that for the first time since 1776 the United States will indirectly sit in on the council of the Empire.

It may sound like an amazing and revolutionary circumstance that the Prime Minister of Canada should seek the views of the President of the United States before conferring with the leaders of the Motherland and our sister Dominions.

Actually, nothing is more natural and proper. For since the Empire has been subjected to political abjunction, the United States is just as much a unit of the Empire as any one of the self-governing and independent Dominions.

* * *

What, after all, unites the Empire?

First there is the tie of blood which the United States possesses in almost as full measure as Canada.

Secondly, there is the tie of common traditions, common ideals, and common habits of mind and heart, all of which are shared by the American peaople.

Thirdly, there is the tie of trade in which the United States could and should be associated, particularly in regard to Canada with whom she forms a single economic unit.

Fourthly, there is the tie of the Crown which, although not actually shared in a formal manner by the American people, is merely symbolic of those traditions and ideals cited above.

The fact is that the British Empire is rapidly breaking away from the Roman conception of empire which was purely political, and taking on the aspects of the ancient Greek conception of empire, which was purely cultural and idealistic.

This being the undoubted course of our imperial evolution, why should we not admit frankly and promote earnestly the true nature of our Canadian relationship to the American people?

* * *

As we have said, in the Grecian notion of empire, the United States is definitely a part of the imperial structure.

But please remember that the imperial structure, in the Grecian interpretation, has nothing to do with politics. Each unit of empire, under that interpretation, is as politically free as Canada is from Great Britain.

Thus the changing conception of Empire that will gradually enfold the United States, if we encourage it, involves absolutely no political change whatever. The United States and Canada will still be as politically distinct as they are today.

We are glad to see the opinion of the American President being carried in an intimate way to London. We are glad to see a closer association between the Empire and the United States.

For in some way or other, Canada is inevitably destined to draw closer to her southern neighbor.

Is it not better that Canada and the United States should seek a common destiny under the aegis of the best economic and cultural features of the Empire, rather than tumble together in some unsatisfactory and unworkable political union when time and circumstances happen to make that union necessary?

Canada and the United States are destined to some form of wedlock. Let that wedlock occur under the gentle sacrament of a great Empire united against war, against violence, and against extremism rather than under the shotgun of political expediency.

(Vancouver Sun.)

Please.

Pittsburgh has put on a campaign of police politeness. The director of safety in the Pennsylvania city has ordered all members of the department to observe strict courtesy under all circumstances. This does not mean that policemen interrupting a bank robbery shall say: 'Pardon, sir, but there is a prejudice against shooting cashiers." But it is entirely feasible to hand out a traffic citation without rough talk or deal with a good-natured parade crowd not as though its members were public enemies. If Pittsburgh sticks to the effort and does set a national example, it will be a triumph for the city where the jokesmiths started the gag about the citizen who became famous by introducing the exotic fashion of eating pie with a fork.

(San Francisco Chronicle.)

A Private Life.

Some politicians and newspapers are still trying to focus the spotlight on to the Duke of Windsor. They are doing service to nobody—and least of all to the Duke, who made his decision, desired privacy and sought it.

The Duke has retired into private life. Let his life be veiled under the anonymity which is the lot and privilege of every other private citizen. Surely these are times when we must look ahead—not behind us.

(Manchester, England, Sunday Chronicle.)

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

The Plummer Act.

WAS EVER a virtuous public servant played so foul a trick as the Kansas State Legislature has just perpetrated on Representative George W. Plummer, long a toiler in the cause of prohibition? Mr. Plummer introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of beverages with any alcoholic content whatsoever. The House passed his bill, but the Senate in an evil moment, with the devil hovering by the chair, made an amendment permitting 3.2 beer. The bill then went back to the House, which concurred in the amendment, to the horror of Mr. Plummer.

"As men of God—and that I believe you are," Mr. Plummer pleaded—"vote against this iniquitous act and prevent it going out to destroy the reputation that I have built up in 67 years."

But they only sneered at the good man's anguish, for they were not men of God, as he believed. So henceforth, as the fathers and mothers and the youth of Kansas go staggering about the State, sodden, incoherent and a ready prey to other vices which follow alcoholism as the night the day, the world will attribute their plight to the blameless Mr. Plummer. Even the recording angel, if of a legal turn of mind, will merely note that all this sin is due to the Plummer act, failing to note his fine moral intent, and charge him with a deed almost too foul to be washed away.

• • • •

IT IS a strange and striking illustration of the perversion that may be practiced on the most virtuous proposals of the very good under the rules of the bodies which make our laws. The 3.2 beer amendment is bad enough in all truth, but Mr. Plummer may console himself, unless he is beyond comforting, with the knowledge that it could have been even worse. They might have put in a paragraph to legalize whisky and craps and cockfighting.

But why speculate on potential horrors? Kansas now has beer to the extent of 3.2 after 56 years of total drought, and the prospect is sad. Not yet the insidious cocktail nor the demoralizing side-car in the State of Kansas, but the day is at hand when Kansans will sit in the lunch wagon or the Elite Cafe drugging their moral sense and rotting their character with beer, while the radio on the counter among the pies and crullers emits the seductive mooing of a crooner far away. They will play footie under the table, and who can guess what loss of virtue will ensue, all in the name of a man who didn't go to do any such thing?

• • • •

SO IT LOOKS as though Kansas has been infected by the vices of her sisters and joined the heedless dance of death. There was not merely a straw but a scantling in the wind of sinfulness when Kansas some years ago repealed the anti-cigarette law. There are no statistics at hand, but it must be that this concession to Satan has seriously reduced the stature of Kansas manhood and womanhood and accelerated the crime rate. For all cigarette laws in the day of their adoption were accepted as hygienic and moral safeguards.

Cigarettes stunted the growth and weakened the resistance to temptation, so obviously Kansas must be in a fairly bad way from cigarettes even now. Add 3.2 beer to cigarettes and you have an era of licentiousness in a State which long prided herself on her resistance to temptation.

Perhaps Mr. Plummer will permit an outsider to offer a word of cheer in his hour of distress. If so let him take hope that his fellow citizens will be none the worse for the distortion of his intentions regarding beer. Kansans are long accustomed to the robust jolt of shoe polish and spot remover which they have drunk for many years in defiance of not alone the State law, but the laws of Nature and gravity. Kansans coming to New York or Washington complain that the legal Scotch and bourbon, the wines and gin are insipid to their taste, too feeble to be felt. A Kansan schooled on the native beverages of his State is a man to contend with on a party around here, and Mr. Plummer might like to know that many of his fellow citizens wouldn't even water a garden with his 3.2.

Copyright, 1937, by United Features Syndicate, Inc.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Everything's Lovely Now.

(Hollywood reports the selection of Miriam Hopkins to play Scarlett O'Hara; Clark Gable to play Rhett Butler, Leslie Howard to do Ashley Wilkes and Janet Gaynor to play Melanie in "Gone With the Wind."—News item.)

I.

Phooey on worries that burden the world,
Let this globe's troubles turn out as they may;
Europe can war to its final delight—
What do I care if it's all swept away?
What if America's streaking to hell?
What if we're all to be parboiled and skinned?
This has been settled for once and for all—
Who'll play the chief roles in "Gone With the Wind!"

II.

Never mind reading what's doing in Spain!
Gone's my concern about carnage and war;
Give me no tidings of Italy's threats—
Matters of that type now fret me no more;
Whether the Germans and British will clash
Now doesn't cause me so much as a tear;
Everything's jake now, as long as I know
Who'll play the leads in the Film of the Year!

III.

Whether the Communists mop up our land—
Whether the U. S. goes Fascist or no,
Worries me not in the slightest just now—
What do I care what becomes of my dough?
This is the issue that's kept me agog—
Lord! How it caused me to fume and to fret!
Now it's been settled and now it is told
Who will play Scarlett and who will play Rhett!

IV.

Gone are my cares over saving our land,
What does it matter what Franklin D. does
What do I care what becomes of the courts
I am now carefree and happy because
This is the issue that's settled at last,
Ending the rumors, debates and the strife;
Who is the actor who'll do Ashley Wilkes?
Who is the screen star who'll give us his wife?

V.

Miriam Hopkins as Scarlett; Oh boy!
Gable as Butler the devil-may-care!
(Hitler and Stalin and Baldwin and Blum . . .
Figures like these I consign to the air);
Howard as Ashley, Janet as his bride—
(Phooey on sit-down strikes, class wars and such!)
"Gone With the Wind" has been cast and I'm glad—
Nothing else mattered or worried me much!

"This Department Nominates . . ."

Already there are predictions that we are headed for a dictatorship, and from the shape things are taking we think the dictator may be Gracie Allen. It is hard to think of anybody whose types of thinking is so much in accord with the spirit and utterances of the times.

It is now claimed that the earliest man on American soil has been found in a fossil known as "Jerry" dug up in a WPA pit in Minnesota. It is at least interesting to hear of a case where the WPA workers used those shovels.

Proof.

I've hinted long that Spring was here—
I'm sure of it now;
On the trees outside my window
Robin redbreast takes a bough!
—Virginia Chumley.

Copyright, 1937, by The Associated Newspapers.

The I. L. O. Textile Conference

Called "Experiment" in Advance Report From Geneva.

By Bertram Pickard.
Special Correspondence of The Post.

Geneva.

TO SOME it may seem like tempting Providence for the International Labor Organization to stage an important conference in Washington at a moment when Geneva stock is running low in the minds of American political and public opinion.

On the other hand "safety-first" is not always the safest policy. At a time when the proponents of nationalism take immense risks in the furtherance of their creed, it may be that international leadership is best exemplified through bold initiative and new experiment.

Perhaps some such motive was in President Roosevelt's mind when he suggested that the I. L. O. should summon a technical conference on the textile industry in the Capital of the United States.

If so, the invitation was accepted in the same spirit. "The textile conference . . . is an experiment" we read in the foreword of the preparatory report issued by the International Labor Office. "It represents the first attempt by the I. L. O. to review the general situation of a world-wide industry."

Such an attempt obviously bristles with difficulties of every kind—technical, social, political. There have always been two schools of thought in the I. L. O.: One constantly trying to keep the attenton of the organization fixed upon those so-called "social conditions," alleged to be its exclusive province; another tirelessly asserting that conditions of labor can never be improved apart from study of, and attention to, the wider economic context.

Problems Of Labor Serious In Industry.

IN THIS MATTER of textiles, the second current is in the ascendant with a vengeance. True, the primary purpose of the conference is to consider "how the work undertaken by the I. L. O. in connection with the improvement of conditions in the textile industry can best be advanced."

Nevertheless, the terms of reference of the conference, as laid down by the governing body of the I. L. O. last November, definitely invite the conference "to consider all those aspects of the industry which directly, or indirectly, may have a bearing on the improvement of social conditions in the industry."

Moreover, as the preparatory report explains, the demand for so comprehensive a study comes not only from "several major textile-producing countries" but from "members of the three groups represented in the I. L. O." (i. e. governments, employers annd workers). Furthermore, as the report puts it, discussions to date "reveal either an expressed or an implied belief that a clarification of the economic factors involved in the textile industry cannot but be helpful to an understanding of its labor and social problems."

That, in fact, is the point of view from which the preparatory report, or study, has been written. And since this 350-page document, together with its 75 pages of statistics, is to form the factual basis of discussion in the conference, it may be useful in this article to sketch very briefly the world textile industry as depicted in those pages.

In a second article some account will be given of the present-day economic factors, and labor standards of special concern to the conference, which it should be borne in mind is strictly preparatory and will not reach binding decisions of any kind. The fact that the report above referred to was prepared under the direction of Mr. Lewis Lorwin, economic adviser to the I. L. O. and formerly of the Brookings Institution, makes it of special interest to Washingtonians.

Report Is Admitted To Be Far From Complete.

THE AUTHORS of the report admit at once that their survey of the world textile industry—the first of its kind—is far from complete.

Furthermore, the treatment of various branches of the industry is admitted to be unequal. Cotton and wool are the most comprehensively dealt with; silk, rayon, linen and jute less so; while certain branches, e. g., knitwear and lace goods, are virtually omitted.

Again, attention is focused primarily upon manufacturing trade and labor aspects and only incidentally upon finance (e. g. capitalization and credit conditions).

Nevertheless, the total picture, despite the complications and ramifications of the industry, emerges sufficiently clear in its broad outlines. If the story be oversimplified, as no doubt it is, the authors are nevertheless to be congratulated for having brought the question within the compass of the lay mind and in a manner, calculated to stimulate public opinion.

The textile industry is described as "one of the greatest industries in the world." "Textiles," we are told, "are the staples of world trade par excellence." More than 10,000,000 men and women are engaged in the industry. Many countries are now dependent upon one branch or another of textiles for their economic well-being.

Textile Industry.

Definition Stresses Diversity Of Industry.

HERE IS one definition of the textile industry which serves as a useful reminder of the operations performed upon wool, cotton, silk, rayon, linen, hemp and jute:

The textile industry consists in the manufacture of yarn and piece goods, hosiery, lace, net of various kinds, etc., mainly for the purposes of clothing and furnishing.

The manufacture of textiles begins with the cleaning and refining of the raw materials and ends with the finishing of the manufactured products mentioned above. It comprises several groups of operations which are not always separate and which may roughly be classified in four different stages: (1) cleaning, softening, and preliminary preparation of the fiber; (2) drawing and twisting the fiber into yarn; (3) weaving; (4) bleaching, dyeing, printing and finishing the fabric. Some of the processes in the last group are sometimes carried out on the yarn before it is woven.

The industry is in constant process of change and development. This process, it is suggested in the report, may be described "as the spread of modern industrial techniques in the making of textiles from their original source in England, first to Western Europe and North America, then to Eastern and Southern Europe and finally to Asia and Latin America." Or again as "the advance of the Industrial Revolution as it reaches to new corners of the earth."

These changes have been accentuated by the special disturbances of the war and the post-war period. For example, the break-up of the Austro-Hungarian and Russian empires, coupled with increased economic nationalism, resulted in "stranded" textile industries in Czechoslovakia, Poland and Austria, i. e., industries cut off to a large extent from their former markets.

Disequilibrium brought about during and after the war by national industrialization programs and policies of economic nationalism generally, was only increased by the depression. Currency devaluations, carried out by various countries, led not only to a spate of new tariff quotas, prohibitions, exchange controls and other barriers to international trade, but was in certain cases, notably that of Japan, a major and permanent factor in throwing the industry out of gear.

Distribution Found Scattered Over Globe.

BUT IF the textile industry in flux is an interesting phenomenon, so is the distribution throughout the world of the industry today. Here are a few facts which show at a glance both its extended international connections, as well as its major concentrations:

Five countries (U. S. A., India, China, Egypt and Brazil) produce more than 80 per cent of the total world supply of ginned cotton.

All cotton textile manufacturing countries, except U. S. A., China, Brazil, India, Mexico, U. S. S. R. (and some of minor importance) import virtually all their raw cotton.

Five countries account for some 75 per cent of exported spun cotton yarn (United Kingdom, Italy, Japan, China and Czechoslovakia). Some very large producers of yarn (e. g., U. S. A., Germany, India and U. S. S. R.) use it chiefly at home.

In 1935 the eight chief manufacturing countries of woven cotton cloth (United States of America, Japan, United Kingdom, India, United States Soviet Russia, Germany, France and Italy) accounted for more than 90 per cent of total world output.

Five countries only (Australia, Argentina, Union of South Africa, New Zealand and Uruguay) supplied more than 85 per cent in 1935 of the raw wool which entered world trade

Some 90 per cent of the raw wool entering world trade is taken by seven manufacturing countries, United Kingdom, France, Germany, Japan, Belgium, United States of America and Italy). Of the other major manufacturers only the United States of America, Union of Soviet Social Republics and Spain are practically self-sufficient as regards raw wool.

Production And Trade Found Important To 20 Nations.

About half of all woolen and worsted exports is supplied by the United Kingdom, most of the remainder by other states of western and central Europe, though some by Japan.

Silk, Rayon, Jute Largely Centralized.

SILK RAYON and jute are simpler stories:

Over 75 per cent of all silk cocoons are produced in Japan; while more than 90 per cent of total world output of reeled silk is accounted for by Japan (especially), China, Manchuria and India. Japan supplies between two-thirds and three-quarters of total world exports of raw silk; while between 70 and 75 per cent of all raw silk exports are taken by the United States of America.

Over 70 per cent of rayon yarn is manufactured in four countries (United States of America, Japan, Italy and Germany), another 20 per cent being accounted for by the United Kingdom and France. Less than one-fifth of rayon yarn enters world trade, being largely manufactured for home use; Italy's exports account for between one-fourth and one-third of this.

India has a virtual monopoly of production and export of raw jute; over half of India's exports go to the United Kingdom, Germany and France. India and the United Kingdom are by far the largest spinners of jute yarn, and producers of jute goods (bags, sacks, etc.)

To sum up, there are some 20 countries in the world to whom production of and trade in textiles is of major importance. The United States of America, the United Kingdom and Japan head this list, in that order. The United States of America is rich in the necessary raw materials; the United Kingdom and Japan (except for silk) feed their tremendous export trade in manufactures by corresponding imports of the raw materials.

The question of the social conditions prevailing in the textile industry, and the problem of improving them, will be dealt with in a second article.

(To Be Concluded.)

Labor Board Lists 2,072 Disputes

By the Associated Press.

The National Labor Relations Board, created under the Wagner act in 1935, reported yesterday it had handled 2,072 cases of industrial disputes involving 745,702 workers during a 17-month period ended March 1.

Suits challenging the constitutionality of the Wagner act are pending in the Supreme Court.

The board said it had handled 378 strike cases involving 67,932 workers and settled 249 strikes affecting 35,805 workers. In addition, the board reported, it had settled 101 threatened strikes, effected the reinstatement of 1,733 workers who alleged they were discharged for union activities, and conducted 81 collective bargaining representation elections.

Out of the 2,072 cases handled, the summary showed 1,579 had been closed, leaving 493 pending on March 1. Agreements between employes and management were reached in 737 cases involving 97,919 workers. There were 230 cases dismissed by the board and 470 withdrawn by the petitioners.

The board said that in 754 cases employers were charged with discriminating against workers because of their union activities, and in 636 employers were alleged to have refused to bargain collectively.

International Law, Diplomats' Topic

Two major questions will come before the Pan American Union when it meets April 5 to continue work on codification of international law.

The group will discuss the international law subjects susceptible of codification, and resolutions and projects on the co-ordination of inter-American peace instruments.

Included in the group of jurists who will attend are Eduardo Suarez, Mexican cabinet officer; Afranio de Mello Franco, former Brazilian minister of foreign affairs; Luis Anderson, Costa Rican cabinet officer; Alberto Cruchaga, legal adviser to the Chilean ministry of foreign affairs; Edwin M. Borchard, professor of law in Yale University; Carlos Saavedra Lamas, Argentinian foreign minister, and Victor Maurtua, Peruvian ambassador to Brazil.

I. C. C. to Observe Its Golden Jubilee

The Interstate Commerce Commission will celebrate its golden jubilee Wednesday with a dinner at the Mayflower Hotel.

The dinner, sponsored by the practitioners before the Interstate Commerce Commission, will be attended by more than 800 people.

Henry Wolf Bikle, general counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., will be the toastmaster, and talks will be given by Elmer A. Smith and Luther M. Walter, both members of the practitioners association.

Guests of honor at the dinner will be the commissioners and former commissioners. The members of the committee on arrangements are Clarence A. Miller, chairman; John E. Benton, R. Granville Curry, John J. Esch and Edward F. Lacey.

Tripped by Big Feet.

New York, March 28 (U.P.).—Big feet tripped Henry Linn, colored, 29, tonight. Patrolman Edward Gallagher, investigating a $3.50 butcher shop robbery, noticed an oversized footprint near the rear door. Searching the neighborhood, Gallagher saw Linn, who has big feet. He questioned Linn who allegedly admitted the robbery.

Off the Record.

By Ed Reed

"Hope you'll excuse me—I'm following this serial in The Post."

Japan's Hitler

By Heinz Pol.

Conversation In Prague.

Excerpts from a translation by the Living Age from the Neue Weltbuehne, Prague German emigre weekly.

AT A RECENT MEETING of Doriot followers in Paris I made the acquaintance of a well-informed young Japanese. He spoke a little German, though with an utterly ludicrous accent. I don't know what he took me for; perhaps my mere presence there was enough to make him regard me as a true blue Nazi. At any rate he went to a cafe with me and told me about the latest developments of Fascism in Japan. His remarks were well worth taking down.

"Japan's coming man," he said, "is Seigo Nakano. In France no one has heard of him yet, and in England perhaps only Mosley knows about him. But in Germany and Italy he is known personally, for during the last five years he has visited those two countries several times. Seigo Nakano is 50 years old today. He is the founder and leader of the Toho Kai Party, which means roughly the "Society of the East." It is the Fascist Party of Japan. Before the last elections it did not have a single seat in Parliament; today it has 15 deputies. Every week now one reads that members of the three great Rightist Parties, which have formed a United Front, have joined Seigo Nakano's party."

• • • •

"WHO IS NAKANO, and where does he come from?" I asked.

"You see, so much in Japan is so vastly different from anything in Europe that it is impossible to draw comparisons. On the other hand, certain developments show an amazing similarity. Nakano reminds one very much of Mussolini or Hitler. He is the son of an attorney, and from early youth he has taken an interest in politics. He early became a leading member of the Kokumin-Domei Party—an out-and-out reactionary party of the right. About six or seven years ago Nakano began to study European conditions. At that time the economic crisis, following a brief boom, had begun to rock Japan. Nakano read Mussolini's speeches and was enchanted by them. He recognized that this was the way things should be done. Millions of the discontented who would otherwise fall a prey to Bolshevism must be got together. Five years ago he drew the consequences, resigned from his party after a violent clash, and founded his Toho Kai Party.

• • • •

"I DON'T KNOW to what extent he had already been influenced by Hitler at that time. At any rate, from the very beginning he sought to establish contact with the younger radical officers of the army and navy. At the same time he succeeded in gaining influence in the press and in drawing to his side a number of the younger economists and the more alert industrialists. He became a friend of Prof. Kita, the editor of a Japanese nationalist newspaper, the Sokutu. It was in his company that Nakano visited Italy and Germany for the first time in 1932. In Italy he made the acquaintance of Grandi, in Germany that of Goebbels. I cannot tell you much about this first visit. But I know more about Nakano's second visit to Berlin in the fall of 1934, for I was there at the time myself.

"Nakano was introduced to Hitler and had long conferences with Goebbels and Rosenberg. Ultimately a Japanese bureau was organized; it is still in operation today. Furthermore, the Berlin ambassador is one of Nakano's men. Things have been running very smoothly, especially in recent months, thanks to the support of the minister of war, Terauchi. It may even be Terauchi who is Japan's coming man. At any rate, Nakano will not be able to get anywhere without him. Fortunately the two are close friends, for they are pursuing the same aim. Terauchi is at least as popular as Nakano, especially in the army; where he is called by his nickname of 'the Robot.' Oddly enough, the reason why Nakano's agitation has been especially successful recently is because it has been directed fundamentally against conditions created by 'the Robot.'"

• • • •

"I DON'T UNDERSTAND," I said. "What do you mean?"

The Japanese smiled politely at the fool from the Occident: "Quite simple! The cabinet, which is completely dominated by Terauchi, has introduced a tremendous new rearmament program, and this program will mean a heavy tax load. To give you a few examples: the tax on beer has been raised 6 per cent, the income tax, 30 per cent, and inheritance taxes have been doubled. The rearmament program is necessary, as I need not tell you, and Terauchi does not care one bit whether he needs five or ten billion yen more to realize his purposes. He has already started a great many projects with the money. For instance: the air service has only recently been provided with a really well trained corps of officers, and training schools for the young and an academy for tank training have been established.

"But all this has its reverse side, especially the dissatisfaction of the masses, who are complaining about the high taxes. To keep them from sliding off into communism there is Nakano, who, of course, has been holding mass meetings throughout the country for months to protest against the high taxes—to the great satisfaction of the 'Robot.' Nakano's party first must get a few million followers. Then the members will gradually be educated in the right direction and made to understand that rearmament means sacrifices. The line of development is quite plain."

• • • •

"WHEN DO YOU THINK Nakano and Terauchi will reach their goal?" I asked.

"We Japanese don't like to prophesy, but it can hardly be more than a short time, for we are already in the middle of the transition; the foundations for what in Europe is called dictatorship or the authoritarian state have been laid. At any rate, Nakano is half a dozen stages farther along than, let us say, Doriot . . ."

Apparently the Japanese have not yet adopted any Fascist salute, for the amiable Fascist offered me his hand when we parted and shook mine firmly.

Elihu Root

By William Lyon Phelps

His Greatness.

The death of Elihu Root on February 7, at the age of 91, closed the earthly career of an American statesman. No one could possibly refuse the name of statesman to this man, who shed luster on Presidential cabinets, on the United States Senate, on every organization and every company he honored by his presence. For his greatness consisted not in the number of positions he held, important and significant as they were; but rather in his own splendid and sagacious mind, in his noble personality, in his integrity. When his brother died, he left in his will a personal tribute of respect and affection for his brother Elihu which is one of the most eloquent and affecting statements I ever read; I wish I had preserved it.

• • • •

When William Howard Taft was Secretary of War in Theodore Roosevelt's cabinet he told me that Roosevelt declared in a loud voice, "Root is worth all the rest of the cabinet put together," which Mr. Taft laughingly acknowledged to be true.

Mr. Root's efforts in behalf of world peace gave him additional international fame and the Nobel Prize. He was regarded as the foremost living American statesman and the foremost living American lawyer; his command of English prose style caused his election to the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

• • • •

Henry Stimson brought to mind Elihu Root's prayer at the New York Constitutional Convention in 1915; the clergyman failed to appear, and Root, in quiet simplicity and reverence, offered the following prayer, which made a lifelong impression on all who were present:

"Almighty God, we pray to Thee to guide our deliberations this day. Make us humble, sincere, devoted to the public service. Make us wise, considerate of the feelings and the opinions and the rights of others. Make us effective and useful for the advancement of the cause of peace and justice and liberty in the world. For Christ's sake, amen."

Copyright, 1937, by The George Matthew Adams Service.

Foreign Powers Request Delay In Publishing Diplomatic Notes

State Department Gets Protest That 15 Years Is Too Close to Events to Have Notes Made Public.

By the Associated Press.

The State Department bowed yesterday to the insistence of several unidentified "leading powers" that some of their secret diplomatic correspondence of latter years remain unpublished at this time.

Dr. Cyril Wynne, chief of the division of research and publication, said that the lapse of time between an event's occurrence and publication of the diplomatic papers in the State Department's volumes on foreign relations resulted from objections by some foreign nations.

"Several foreign offices," Wynne explained, "have in formal communications declared that 15 years is too close to current events, and will not agree to releasing for publication their important documents which are less than 15 years old."

The State Department research staff, he added, had compiled material from the archives for volumes which would present the diplomatic history much closer to the actual events, but those volumes now would have to wait.

The next volumes, Wynne said, would deal with American participation in international affairs in 1922 and would be released within two or three months. A special volume dealing with Russo-American affairs in the turbulent 1919 days also will be published in the immediate future.

Many hitherto unknown, secret, or unpublished episodes in the diplomatic relations between the United States and other countries have been disclosed in the 41 volumes already published.

U. S. Strengthening Defenses In Preparing for Emergency

Continued from Page 1.

eral outcry was heard when former President Herbert Hoover announced a reduction in the personnel of the Navy. There was just apathy.

How then account for the change in sentiment? For evidently the people now are aroused to the need of strengthening the Nation's arms. The evidence is to be found in a poll, the results of which The Post published in its weekly feature, "America Speaks."

The events abroad primarily are responsible for the changed sentiment. After the war, with victory perched on the country's banner, Americans felt secure. They were weary of war and they assumed that the world shared that feeling. They looked upon the Washington Arms Conference of 1921-22 as proof of that. The Kellogg Pact, the Locarno Pact and other gestures toward peace were regarded as further proof.

Is Regular Habit.

What Americans forgot in this period of idealism was that in Europe war seems to be a national habit, particularly when dictators hold the reins.

However, the first real jolt to American hopes of a peaceful future came not from Europe, but from Asia. Japan, flouting her treaties, seized Manchuria from a helpless China. Hitler and Mussolini got restless, as ambitious dictators always must. Hitler started throwing off the military restrictions of the Versailles Treaty, a course of action which some held justified, but which boded no good for the future. Ultimately Mussolini's new Roman legions began to march, and Ethiopia became a part of the Italian Empire. Feeling his oats, Il Duce growled and actually awed mighty Great Britain. Soon all Europe was plunged into a frenzied arms race.

Civil war broke out in Spain, and then developed into a fantastic international free-for-all. Russia went to the rescue of the loyalist reds, while Germany and Italy rushed men and weapons to Franco's Fascists.

Million Slaughtered.

Already more than a million persons have been slaughtered in Spain, including vast numbers of women and children.

Horrified and disillusioned, Americans now are taking a more practical view of the world around them, a world that has been made smaller by fast ships and faster planes, a world that seems more alien than ever before.

President Roosevelt realized early in his administration that something had to be done about national defense, even if it further mired the country in debt.

"I hate war," Roosevelt said in a speech last summer.

Hating it, he feels, as George Washington did, that the best way to keep out of it is to be prepared. Hence his action in approving greater appropriations for the Army and the Navy.

"America must and will protect herself," Roosevelt said in a 1935 Armistice Day speech. "Under no circumstances will this policy go to lengths beyond self-protection.

"Aggression on the part of the United States is an impossibility insofar as the present Administration of your Government is concerned. Defense against aggression, adequate defense on land, on sea and in the air is our accepted policy. * * *"

There is one other answer to the sentiment now behind adequate national defense.

As the years roll on veterans of the World War are more and more becoming an influential force in American life. Today there are 130 veterans in the House of Representatives and 18 in the Senate. The veterans call themselves "practical pacifists." Fathers now, most of them, they hate war because they know what a hellish thing it is.

For 18 years, ever since they came back from the war, the veterans, through the American Legion and other organizations, have been crusading for a stronger Army and Navy. Now they are getting somewhere.

The United States has been engaged in six major wars, and in every instance it has been unprepared. The result has been a tremendous waste of lives and money.

Col. Edward M. House, President Wilson's adviser and European agent, in referring to the situation just prior to our entry in the World War, said:

"I was sure, given a large Army and Navy, that the United States would become the arbiter of peace and probably without the loss of a single life."

Baruch Advice Stressed.

Bernard M. Baruch, dollar-a-year-man and chairman of the War Industries Board, recently told a House committee considering a bill for industrial mobilization:

"The apparent isolation of the United States always has caused us to lag behind in the matter of national defense. Once every generation regularly, we have paid a frightful price for this neglect. A state of armed neutrality can preserve its neutral character much easier than unarmed neutrality can. Who can believe that, had we been ready to fight in 1917, we should have been subjected to English interference and to German insolence that finally made us fight?"

It is not a saber-rattling program that America is embarked on today. This country has no avowed foe, seeks no territory and is so anxious to stay out of war that neutrality bills have been passed by both houses of Congress by overwhelming majorities.

Just the same, those alert individuals—the military and naval attaches of the embassies and legations here—have much more to write home about than they did a few years ago.

Catholics Defiant In Berlin, Munich

Berlin, March 28 (AP).—A defiant note was struck today in Easter messages from the pulpits of Catholic Churches in Munich and Berlin as prelates admonished the faithful to stand firm.

In Munich the prelate of Lindau said:

"In the past men of the Church were stoned and hanged and beheaded, but the Church always emerged triumphant. So, too, it will be in the present fight. Some people say we of the Church will be whipped, but I tell you in the long run it will be our adversaries who will be whipped."

In the Berlin Cathedral Count Conrad von Preysing, Bishop of Berlin, suggested that parents write to authorities personally insisting that the training of youth be left in the hands of, or at least in cooperation with the Church.

'Professionals' Win.

New York, March 28 (U.P.).—The tide has turned. A theater announced tonight that "professional night" will be held once a week along with two feature pictures. "We positively will use professional talent," the manager said.

Camalier & Buckley

Sole Agents
OSHKOSH
Luggage

The Hat-Shoe-Opera Cape Case

A most useful and practical indispensable part of an up-to-date woman's ensemble. Carries 6 pairs shoes—6 hats and cape. Made in "Chief Stripe," $45. Other Oshkosh Pieces from $20

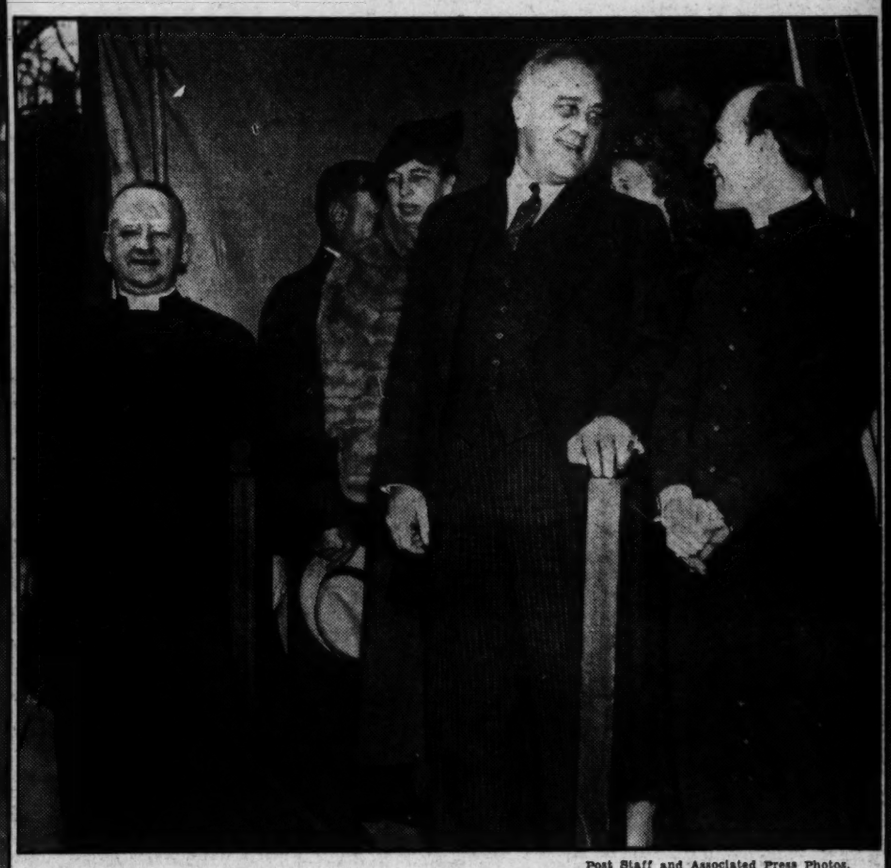
1141 Conn. Ave.
Camalier & Buckley
Fine Leatherware
2 Doors Above The Mayflower
Expert Repairing

Sunrise and Sea: Miami Celebrates Easter With the World

The Post is the only daily morning paper in W ashington with A. P. WIREPHOTO Service.

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

AMID THE PEACE OF PALMS AND SEA—Thousands gathered at Miami Beach at sunrise yesterday to commemorate the Resurrection just as uncounted millions assembled at other spots throughout the world to worship at the shrines of Christianity.

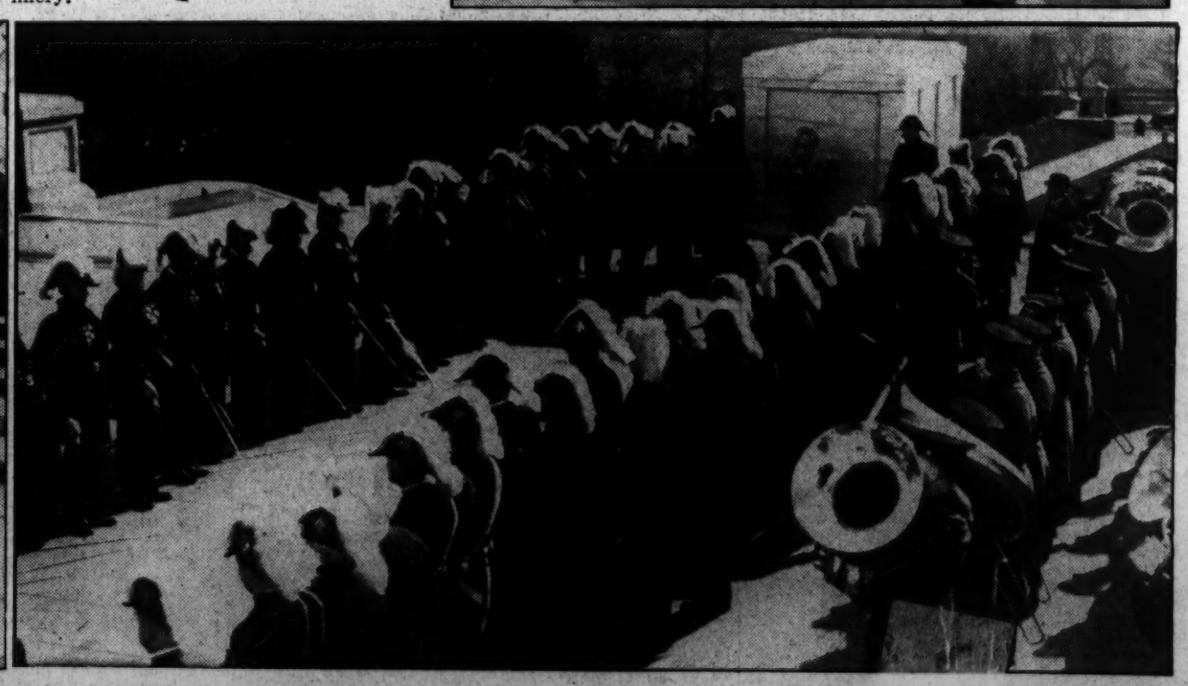


Post Staff and Associated Press Photos.

NOTABLES AT CHURCH—President Roosevelt (center) pauses a moment after St. Thomas services to chat with the rector. Chief Justice Hughes (right) leaves Calvary with Mrs. Hughes. Left, Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith stroll down Fifth avenue in their finery.

Post Staff.

IT WAS A COLD, COLD EASTER PARADE—With a biting, gusty March wind out of the West, Easter visitors to the Capital were almost literally blown from one point of interest to another. This line of young ladies was snapped at the Lincoln Memorial.



Post Staff.

MASONIC ORDER HONORS UNKNOWN SOLDIER—After the sunrise service in Arlington Amphitheater yesterday, Mrs. Roosevelt (immediately to left of tomb), assisted members of the Knights Templar in placing a cross of lilies on the sepulchre.

Staunton Area Gets $129,167 For Road Work

Money Will Be Used for Shorter Route to Clifton Forge.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Staunton, Va., March 28.—Efforts of Clifton Forge and Staunton businessmen, coupled with those of civic leaders in Bath and Alleghany counties, seem to have been rewarded in the announcement just made by the State Highway Commission of tentative allocations in the Staunton district.

The shortest route between Clifton Forge and Staunton lies along the Cowpasture River from the former city to Millboro Springs, and thence direct to Staunton. For years traffic desiring improved road has had to travel by way of Lexington, except that in dry weather the Cowpasture River road of the Bratton's Run route could be traveled to advantage. Either is shorter than by Lexington.

The commission now announces that $129,167 has been tentatively allocated to the stretch lying between Millboro Springs and Clifton Forge. Some work was done on this link last year—the grading having been done for about 4 miles—but so bad did the road become during the past winter, at times, that it was all but impassable, and only those compelled to do so, used it.

Under the proposed setup, a convict camp now completing a project in Highland County, will be moved to Bath County and established in the vicinity of Nimrod Hall. From that point the prisoners will work toward Clifton Forge and Millboro Springs.

Staunton also looks with favor on an allocation of $150,000 for rebuilding the Jefferson highway, east of Churchville, toward this city. This road was the first to be built in Augusta County by convict labor—about 30 years ago. It is very crooked and the grade steep at certain points. In the tentative survey for the new route, a straighter line will be kept and the grade made less severe.

The $100,000 appropriation for work between Fairfield and Lexington, from Fairfield south, also will be widely approved, as this is practically the last "bad" stretch of high-crown road between Winchester and Roanoke—a distance of 182 miles through the heart of the Valley of Virginia.

Post Ad-Writers will be glad to assist you in preparing a good, result-producing ad when you call National 4200.

Wirephoto: German Illegitimates Stay With Mothers

Copyright by the Associated Press.

In the Nazi government's new home for unwed mothers at Fuerstenberg-Mecklenburg, babies are brought in for regular examinations. The home was inaugurated under the government's no discrimination principle.

Boy Scouts Push Fruitless Search For Lost Leader

Safford, Ariz., March 28 (AP).—A "small army" of Boy Scouts, reinforced by National Guardsmen, two Federal agents and CCC enrollees, tramped through rugged wilds near here again today without uncovering "a single definite clew" as to the disappearance of Scoutmaster Robert W. Miller, missing since Wednesday.

The 23-year-old executive vanished while driving his car, somewhere between Pima and Globe, Ariz. His car was found abandoned two hours after he disappeared.

This State's greatest man hunt paused today while searchers prayed at brief sunrise services for success in the hunt, then resumed again.

Widow's Home Cleared.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Hagerstown, March 28.—The widow and eight children of Patrolman Roy E. Davis had a home mortgage-free today. Fellow officers of the Hagerstown Police Department sponsored a benefit dance here two weeks ago and raised enough to pay off the mortgage, insurance and interest. Patrolman Davis was a victim of pneumonia.

Chemical Blast Shatters Windows in 3-Mile Area

Manchester, N. Y., March 28 (AP).—A boxcar of chemicals exploded in the Lehigh Valley Railroad yard today, smashing windows and shaking homes in a 3-mile area.

The blasts sent frightened churchgoers scurrying from shaking churches and homes. A switching crew under Charles Quinter risked their lives by hooking on the rumbling and flaming car and pulled it away from nearby railroad property.

Ship Movements

At New York.
Arrived Yesterday.
Orizaba, from Vera Cruz.
Peten, from Port Limon.
Arrived Today.
American Shipper, from London.
Ancon, from Cristobal.
Cameronia, from Glasgow.
Colombia, from Cristobal.
Arrive Tomorrow.
Antonia, from Liverpool.
Berzenasfjord, from Oslo.
Ile de France, from Havre.
Santa Inez, from Valparaiso.
Westernland, from Antwerp.
Sail Today.
Gerolstein, for Antwerp.
New Brooklyn, for Teneriffe.
Sail Tomorrow.
Exermont, for Genoa.
Exeter, for Ponta Delgada.

Automobiles are bought and sold every day through Post classified Classified Ad. Just phone National 4200.

French Strangler Kills Woman of 23

Strasbourg, France, March 28 (AP).—The "Strasbourg strangler," one of Europe's most dreaded criminals, struck again tonight, spreading terror in this old Alsatian city.

Screams in the poor quarter of the city led to discovery of the body of Marie Karcher, 23. Police said she was victim of the mysterious killer. Authorities have tried for three years to catch the daring slayer who has "signed" his crimes and even boasted of attending his victims' funerals.

His shadow first fell in Strasbourg in 1932 when a ragpicker discovered the nude body of a young girl, strangled with a sock. A day later police received a letter boasting that the writer had committed the crime and attended his victim's funeral.

Official Is Shifted In Moscow Shakeup

Moscow, March 28 (AP).—Nicolai Krestinsky, vice commissar of foreign affairs, was removed from his post today and named vice commissar of justice under Nicolai Krylenko. No reason was given for the surprise shift, and no successor to Krestinsky was named.

Export Decline In Japan Near, Expert Reports

V. P. Copping Finds Nations Are Acting to Shut Off Competition.

"Japan's period of marked expansion in industrial and export trade is coming to a close and * * * it may be difficult in the future to maintain present levels," V. P. Copping, Department of Commerce Far Eastern expert, concluded in a survey made public by the department last night.

The survey analyzes at length Japan's advance to the status of a world power since it abandoned its centuries of isolation in 1868.

Copping's findings had as bases the dissipation of temporary advantages that tremendously stimulated Japanese industry in recent years, the lack of extensive new markets and the fact that "industries of Western countries have recovered from their first shock and have devised measures for meeting the most severe forms of Japanese competition."

Up to 1931 Western nations did not particularly concern themselves with Japan's swift development into a modern state, "one of the most remarkable phenomena of our era," Copping said.

The volume of Japanese exports more than doubled from 1931 to 1935 when they were valued at 2,499,000,000 yen, Copping showed, adding:

"Such a seeming flood of Japanese products pouring into many lands alarmed the older industrial nations. By 1935 practically every important world market had adopted import restrictions, in one form or another, aimed more or less directly at Japanese goods."

Factory workers throughout Japan were forced to receive in 1935 an average wage of 1.99 yen (57 cents) a day for male workers and considerably less for female workers. These rates did not include such various additional compensations as semiannual bonuses, housing facilities and food supplied at cost.

"By Western standards these wages appear extremely small," Copping said. However, Oriental wages must be judged upon the basis of their purchasing power in the countries in which they are spent; and when judged upon this basis the remuneration of industrial labor in Japan will be found sufficient to enable the workers to live decently and in moderate comfort. They even permit modest savings."

The report credited widespread electrification for much of the Japanese industrial progress.

The report pointed out that the United States has long ranked first in Japan's foreign trade.

Young Wife Kills 3 Children, Self AfterBaptismRite

Aurora, Ill., March 28 (AP).—After attending Easter services and the baptism of her three small daughters, Mrs. John Martin, 25, was found hanged and the three children strangled to death in the bedroom of their home late today.

The daughters were Betty Jean, 3 years old; Olga Jeanette, 2, and Joan, born last January.

A note found by police, Capt. Fred Hess said, indicated the mother, apparently despondent because her husband, John, had neglected to remember them on Easter, first strangled her children with a rope and then took her own life.

Police said the husband, little employed in the last two years, had left Aurora recently, apparently in search of work.

Antietam Coin Passage Assured

Hagerstown, March 28. — The Washington County Historical Society, sponsoring the National Antietam Celebration here in September, was notified today by Senator Millard E. Tydings that Senator McNary had withdrawn his objection to the bill authorizing the coinage of 50-cent pieces in commemoration of the Battle of Antietam.

Senator Tydings informed the Historical Society that the coin will likely pass the Senate tomorrow.

Yesterday Senator Tydings had been unsuccessful in geting Senate approval because Senator McNary objected to immediate consideration of the bill, because he said, he wanted to learn the attitude of the banking and currency committee on future legislation of the same kind.

The Antietam coin bill passed the Senate and House last fall, but because of clerical imperfections had to be reintroduced again this season.

The Historical Society is depending upon the sale of the coins to help finance the celebration at Antietam.

Girl, Beaten by Slayer Of Mother, Succumbs

Plainfield, N. J., March 28 (AP).—Bessie Kadesh, 26-year-old University of Pennsylvania graduate, who was brutally beaten by the assailant who killed her mother a week ago, died today in Muhlenberg Hospital without regaining consciousness.

Doran Roach, 27, colored, has been charged with murder in the death of Mrs. Celia Kadesh, 60, and is being held in Union County Jail for grand jury action.

Noose Is Asked For Read Gang In Auto Slaying

3 Montgomery Youths Go on Trial Today in W. Va.; Face Second Charge.

Death by hanging will be demanded today by the State of West Virginia for three Montgomery County, Md., youths accused of murdering Earl Dollman, salesman, last Thanksgiving.

The young men, accused of a series of desperate crimes, are William B. Read, 25; Lawrence Gingell, 21, and War Joseph Kirby, 21.

If the extreme penalty is not exacted in West Virginia, the trio will be brought back to their home county to face charges of murdering Elwood Matthews, aged farmer, who was shot, stoned and drowned by them, police say.

The three were picked up by police in widely separated corners of the continent, after shooting it out with Corpl. C. A. Taylor, who questioned them regarding a stolen car some hours after they are alleged to have murdered Dollman. Kirby was caught by the State policeman, but the others escaped. Gingell later was apprehended as he fled across the Highway Bridge to Virginia. Read was found by a county sheriff in Louisiana.

Judge Jake Fisher, sitting at Sutton, W. Va., will preside over a court which will be told that the trio were fleeing from Montgomery County after slaying M. Ithews, that they ran out of gasoline, flagged a ride with Dollman, and killed the 24-year-old salesman in cold blood in order to steal his car.

The State's case goes on that after killing Dollman, the trio siphoned gasoline into their own car, then threw some on Dollman's car and touched a match to it. His charred body was found in flaming ruins along the roadside.

Kidney Trouble

is often associated with serious diseases. Don't take chances . . . backache, dizziness, shortness of breath, headaches are symptoms dangerous to health. Maybe the ankles swell . . . does the urinalysis show albumen or casts? Learn how Mountain Valley Mineral Water from Hot Springs, Ark., can help you. Phone or write Mountain Valley Water Co., 1405 K St. N.W., MEt. 1062, for booklet.

WINSLOW for PAINTS
Decorate with Moore's Sani-Flat—the wall paint that won't fade.
922 N. Y. Ave. NAtional 8610

ROOF LEAK? NA. 4370 GICHNER?

OLD GOLD AND SILVER will bring you CASH AT SELINGER'S look for the big clock 818 F STREET N.W.

PLUTO take WATER
THOUSANDS OF DOCTORS USE OR RECOMMEND PLUTO FOR INSTANT RELIEF
DO AS DOCTORS DO FOR CONSTIPATION
Dr. I. A. R. Texas, says "I use PLUTO WATER personally"

LOANS
On Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry, Guns, Cameras, Musical Instruments, etc.
Lowest Rates Possible
Confidential Prompt Service
Take Any Bus Transfer 11th and F Sts.
HORNING'S
Opposite Washington Airport

Hold on!

When you find out how mild and good-tasting Chesterfields are . . . you hold on to 'em.

With a bull dog grip, millions of smokers hold on to Chesterfields . . .

Nothing else will do

Copyright 1937, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Mrs. Edward B. McLean Has 150 at Breakfast

Annual Easter Event Held at Friendship, With Diplomats, Government Officials and Many Leaders in Society Attending.

One hundred and fifty persons, including diplomats, Government officials, the chief of police of Washington and "cave dwellers," met yesterday at Friendship, the home of Mrs. Edward Beale McLean, for an Easter breakfast which has become almost traditional in the Capital. These breakfasts were inaugurated by her mother-in-law, the late Mrs. John R. McLean, and formerly were given in her mansion on I street, now the headquarters of New Deal alphabet agencies.

Even during the years when she did little or no entertaining, Mrs. McLean has given an Easter breakfast. Friendship is a charming country estate with spacious rooms and large grounds, gardens and a golf course, where President Harding used to play.

Yesterday the guests were seated at small tables holding ten persons, set up in the dining room and on the porch which Mrs. McLean had inclosed with glass for the large ball at which she entertained on New Year's Eve. Receiving with the hostess was her house guest, Mrs. Goddhue Livingston, of New York; her son, Mr. John McLean, and her daughter, Miss Evalyn McLean. Ethel Barrymore, who was expected to be a guest, was detained by illness in New York, and Edward McLean, another son of the hostess, is at present in Colorado.

Mrs. McLean wore a frock of net embroidered with tiny beads, which reflected the new trend of depth of gowns, reaching to her insteps. As usual, the Hope diamond sparkled at her throat, and during part of the afternoon she wore a sable cape. Her daughter wore a street-length frock of navy blue chiffon and a small Medici cap.

Heavy fur coats, contrasting with bright spring hats, were worn by the women guests. Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, Director of the Mint, wore a mink wrap over her frock, and many others made similar concessions to the chill winds.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador and dean of the Diplomatic Corps, headed the list of guests—Lady Lindsay is still in New York, where she has been for several weeks. The Netherlands Minister, Jonkheer van Haersma de With, and the Irish Free State Minister and Mrs. MacWhite were other guests from the diplomatic ranks.

The Attorney General and Mrs. Homer S. Cummings, the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Henry A. Wallace and Mrs. Claude A. Swanson represented the Cabinet. Mrs. Cummings wore a frock splashed with flowers against a navy blue background, and Mrs. Wallace's close-fitting gray hat matched her gray frock, with which she wore a three-quarter length jacket.

Mrs. Gibson Fahnestock was another guest who chose gray for her ensemble, and with it she wore a black hat trimmed with flowers in different colors. Mrs. James J. Davis, wife of Senator Davis, also in gray, had a lace jabot on her frock.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover chatted with the Chief of Police of Washington and Mrs. Brown, who wore black tailored crepe and a large hat to match. Other guests were Miss Mabel Boardman, secretary of the Red Cross; Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas; Senator and Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis and Mrs. Hugh Campbell Wallace.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Emory Land and Mrs. William D. Leahy, wife of the Chief of Naval Operations, were among high-ranking members of the Navy set present. Others were Mrs. George Marye, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hartson, Mr. Joseph Tumulty, once secretary to Woodrow Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hurja, Mrs. Albert Dewey, Mrs. Harry Meem, in black, with her sub-debutante daughters, Eleanor and Anne; Mr. and Mrs. William Castle—Mr. Castle was formerly Undersecretary of State; Representative and Mrs. Sol Bloom and their daughter, Miss Vera Bloom; Senator and Mrs. Hiram Johnson, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Mark Bristol, Mrs. John Allan Dougherty and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wood Robert, Mrs. Robert, as usual, hatless.

The tables were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers. At each place was a tiny imitation chicken, bright yellow.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman to Give Dinner Before Ball of Nations.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman will entertain at a dinner party tonight at her home, Uplands, before the Ball of Nations at the Mayflower Hotel. She is chairman of the committee which has been working for the success of the event, proceeds of which will be used to establish fellowships for foreign students wishing to do graduate work in Washington.

Among Mrs. Harriman's guests will be the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay; the Argentine Ambassador and Senora de Espil; The Netherlands Minister and Mme. van Haersma de With; Miss Hope Jackson and Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins.

Others entertaining at dinners before the ball include Miss Gertrude Laughlin and the Misses Elizabeth and Marion Shouse.

Costumed as barmaids, a group of young girls, with pushcarts, will sell soft drinks and cigarettes at the ball. In addition, three of Mrs. John R. Williams' famous "dispensers" will be in charge of the special bar in the Chinese room.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Harriman will be Mme. Bonnet, wife of the French Ambassador; Mme. Espil, Mme. de With, Mrs. Henry L. Stimson, wife of the former Secretary of State, and Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins.

Mr. and Mrs. Stimson, who have just returned to town, are among the late boxholders. Mr. Stimson is chairman of the advisory committee of the Hall of Nations, under whose auspices the ball is being given.

Other additional boxholders and subscribers include the Minister of Siam and Mme. Abhibal Rajamaitri, Mrs. John R. Williams, Mrs. Eugene Meyer, Mrs. Lawrence V. Benet, Dr. and Mrs. Edward B. Meigs, Mrs. Anson Phelps Stokes and Mrs. Karl Fenning.

Dr. Ellery C. Stowell, executive secretary of the advisory committee of the Hall of Nations, and Mrs. Stowell will entertain at dinner preceding the ball, having as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Harold G. Moulton, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Rhinedorf, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Hogue and Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Goodale.

The Ambassador of Poland, Count Jerzy Potocki, will entertain at a men's dinner on Saturday evening, April 3, at the embassy.

Staff of the Army and Mrs. Malin Craig will entertain at dinner Thursday, April 22, at Fort Myer, Va.

The Italian Ambassador and Signora de Suvich have issued invitations to a farewell dinner on Saturday for the retiring Counselor of the Embassy and the Marchioness Rossi Longhi. The Marquis has been appointed Counselor of the Italian Legation in Ottawa, and will leave shortly for his new post.

Miss Helen May Bloedorn, daughter of Mrs. May Howard Bloedorn, will give a dinner dance this evening at the Shoreham Hotel instead of at the Army and Navy Club, as originally scheduled.

Mrs. Virginia Jenckes, Representative from Indiana, will entertain at dinner in the Palm Room of 2400 Sixteenth street, where she has an apartment, this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Covers will be laid for 24 guests.

Clark to Entertain.

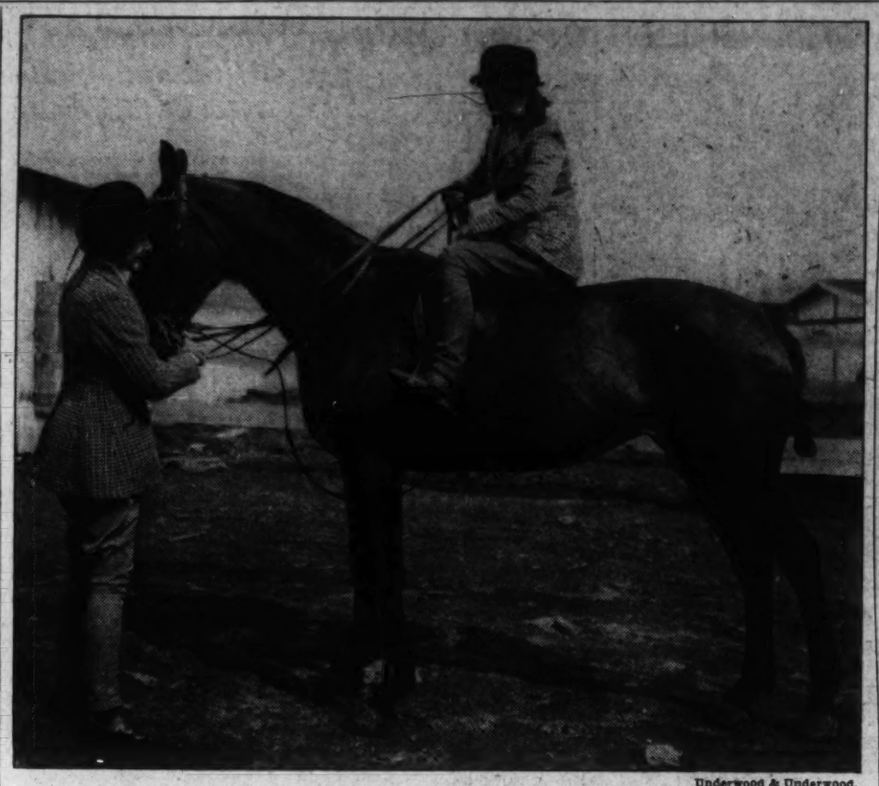
Bennett Champ Clark is chairman of the reception committee of the Missouri State Society, which will entertain delegates to the D. A. R. Congress on April 22, at 9 p. m., at the Mayflower. The committee will consist of members of the D. A. R. from Missouri now residing in the District of Columbia and adjacent area.

In New York for Easter.

Capt. W. D. Fuerston and Mrs. Fuerston, of 2324 Belmont road, Washington, are at the St. Regis Hotel in New York.

Returns to Capital.

Dr. William Gerry Morgan has returned to the city from several days passed in Philadelphia, where he went to deliver an address at the banquet in honor of Dr. David Reisman on his seventieth birthday.



Underwood & Underwood.

Miss Margaret Hill, standing, is master of the Junior Hunt, and is assisting Miss Mary Lou Miles as she adjusts her stirrup. They are both members of the Junior Hunt, which will give a horse show at Bradley Farms April 18. Both are entered, too, in the hunter trials to take place April 10 at Bradley Farms.

THE MERRY WHIRL

By Marylyn.

Attractive Frances Marshall, who is smart and clever enough to have a "Doctor" in front of her name, simply cannot find enough to keep her active mind busy. So-o-o—she is off today for Philadelphia, there to take a course in lectures at Penn State for optometry.

• • • •

Delk Simpson, who delights in paying his former home here visits now and then from the Southland, blew into town Saturday for one of those jiffy stays. He whirled around seeing friends. Caught a glimpse of him in the midst of his series of calls. He had on tweeds, a smart reversible topcoat and a very fuzzy brown hat—we understand that is one of the very latest models. Delk always was up on what the last trick in toggery is anyway.

• • • •

What young lady about town, blonde and spending most of her time away at school, is keeping a tall, dark and good-looking young chap impatiently waiting for her answer to a very important question?

• • • •

Have you ever had writer's cramp or become so tired of sticking stamps to the proper corners of white envelopes? Well, we bet we know one family the members of which won't want to look a letter in the face for ever so long. When Lula Townsend became Mrs. Prew Savoy last week the number of announcements sent out totaled thirteen hundred (1,300) that is some amount of addressing to do, too. They undoubtedly know what the Postoffice Department feels like at Christmas time.

• • • •

Nothing more or less than a frame-up, say we. It was like this . . . Saw Mrs. Wade Hampton Ellis in one of the larger downtown stores. She was carrying any number of pictures and photographs, which she deposited on a convenient counter just as she looked our way and said hello. The pictures, which we stopped to admire, were in need of frames . . . one, a precious stage coach print, had come from Rippon in England, and somehow during its travels had become separated from its glass . . . then there was an old document, written in a fine feathery script—and dating so far back the reader can not help but gasp——.

Mrs. Ellis must be a whizz at shopping, because, even encumbered as she was with all her bundles, she had managed to stop by a bakery to get seven dozen hot cross buns, one of the Ellises' annual Easter gifts to their servants down at Rippon Lodge in Virginia.

• • • •

How very nice Judge and Mrs. Ernest van Fossan looked in their grays, strolling downtown late the other afternoon. Mrs. van F.'s coat was trimmed with soft pearl fox and her husband was in lightweight tweeds of the identical shade.

• • • •

How are you on guessing about romances this morning? Well—what popular and very attractive young divorcee and a young chap who is quite air-minded are that way about each other, with only a matter of time before announcements?

• • • •

Lucky person!—Frances Whitten, completing last-minute plans, sailed Saturday night aboard the steamship Paris for a sojourn in Europe. She will go directly to Havre, and thence about to the various "must" spots, with, of course, a glimpse of the coronation.

Mr. Davis to Wed Miss Lucy Kirkland

Capital Girl Will Become Bride Late in June.

Mrs. Thomas J. Kirkland, of Camden, S. C., announces the engagement of her daughter, Lucy Alexander, to Mr. Thomas William Smith Davis, of Warrenton, Va.

Miss Kirkland, who for the last two years has been living in Washington, is a graduate of Wellesley College. Mr. Davis is the son of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Davis, of Warrenton. He is with the Democratic National Committee.

The wedding will take place the latter part of June.

Brunners, Schroeders, Honor Girls at Tea

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Brunner and Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Schroeder entertained at a tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Nancy Carolyn Brunner and Miss Sally Curtis, of Brookville Center, Conn. The latter is a sister of Mr. Frederick Whiting Curtis, who will wed Miss Brunner on Saturday at the home of her parents in Brookland.

Mrs. Jocelyn Paul Yoder headed the list of pourers at the tea, who also included the Misses Jean and Elizabeth Molster, Miss Nell Hiscox, and Mrs. Warren R. Smith.

Dance Chairman Named.

Miss Nettie E. McCormick has been appointed general chairman of the spring card party and dance committee of St. Patrick's Alumnae Association to be given at the Willard Hotel, Thursday evening, April 22. The proceeds from this affair are to go toward the Mgr. Thomas scholarship fund, of which Miss McCormick is also chairman.

Miss Zanella, J. J. Facchina Married Here

Wedding Reception Is Held for 300 in Y. W. C. A. Residence.

The marriage of Miss Bartolina Catharine Zanella, daughter of Mr. Grazino, Zanella, of Adena, Ohio, and Mr. John Joseph Facchina took place yesterday at noon in the Holy Rosary Church of Washington. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Facchina, of this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Nicholas DeCarlo and the bride was given in marriage by her father. She was gowned in white satin with a trailing lace redingote and a finger-tip tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Raymond V. Gentile, of Wheeling, W. Va., sister of the bride and her only attendant, wore pink mousseline de soie and carried a spring bouquet.

Mr. Columbus Facchina, of Washington, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner for the immediate family was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Facchina.

A wedding reception for 300 guests was held at 1011 Seventeenth street, the first wedding reception to be held in the new Y. W. C. A. Strong Residence. Mrs. John Joseph Facchina was house president of Strong Residence and was an active member of the Y. W. C. A. Blue Triangle Business and Professional Women's Club. Hostesses at the reception included: Miss Elsa Peterson, Miss Edith Reiger, Miss Mabel Cook, Miss Virginia Johnston, Miss Gladys Gordon, Miss Helen Simpson, Miss Louise Danforth, Miss Margaret Cragg, Miss Mary Putnam, Mrs. L. C. Shittsitt, Miss Irene Dickson, Mrs. Homer Wills, Mrs. Annie R. Potbury, Miss Edythe Thomas, Miss Kathleen Dorr, Miss Frances Moeller, Miss Dorothy Towns, Miss Sarah Motley, Miss Mary Nell Smith, Miss Evelyn Sawyer.

Somervilles Easter Guests at Warrenton

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Somerville are in Warrenton, for the Easter holiday, visiting Mrs. Somerville's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McKee, at the Warren Green Hotel. Their son, Jack, jr., has been the guest of his grandparents since Friends School closed for spring vacation.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. McKee entertained at an egg hunt followed by tea for her grandson's friends while their parents were entertained at a cocktail party.

Birthday Ball Is Given For Senorita de Castro

Buffet Supper and Dance Are Held by El Salvador Minister and Senora de Castro for Sub-Debutante Daughter.

The Minister of El Salvador and Senora de Castro entertained at a buffet supper and dance last evening at the legation on Marzachusetts avenue in celebration of the birthday of their sub-debutante daughter, Senorita Helen de Castro. Many members of the Diplomatic Corps were among the 80 guests, as well as younger friends of the daughter of the hostess.

The rooms of the legation were decorated with pale lilacs and spring carnations in delicate pastel shades. On the dining room table was a centerpiece of jonquils, daffodils and bachelor buttons, making a color scheme of blue and yellow. After dinner in this room guests adjourned to the drawing room and large hall for danncing.

Senora de Castro wore a gown of black lace, and her daughter chose for the occasion a spring frock of flowers on a white backgrounnd. They were assisted during the evening by Senora de Puga, wife of the Air Attache of the Chilean Embassy; Senora de Castro Beecher, wife of the Minister of Costa Rica; Senorita Conchita Gonzalez, who makes her home at the legation, and Mrs. Mark Schapiro, who was accompanied by her son, Mr. Mark Schapiro.

Among the guests were the Postmaster General of Costa Rica and Senora de Castro Beecher, brother and sister-in-law of the Minister of Costa Rica. They are visiting him in Washington for several weeks.

Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Benton, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Darton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wyatt, Prof. and Mrs. Alan Deibert and Prof. and Mrs. R. Sterling McGrath.

Among members of the younger set at the party were Senorita Erma Najera, daughter of the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Costello Nojera, with her cousin, Senorita Lupe Davila; Miss Dora Boyd and Mr. Samuel Boyd, son and daughter of the Panamanian Minister and Senora de Boyd; Senorita Laura Recinos, daughter of the Minister of Guatemala and Senora de Recinos; the Misses Jane and Laura Wyatt, and the Misses Isabel and Anna Arcaya, daughters of the former Minister of Venezuela.

Leaves for New York.

Mrs. George U. Rose, jr., has left to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald C. Hooper, at their residence in New York.

In Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. David Frank, of Woodley Park Towers, are spending the Easter holidays in Atlantic City.

Senators Accept State Society Bid

Senator and Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, jr., and Senator and Mrs. F. Ryan Duffy, of Wisconsin, head the delegation from that State who have accepted invitations to the spring Congressional reception to be tendered by the Wisconsin State Society, according to Frank W. Kuehl, president. This is the outstanding annual official function of the Wisconsin Society, and this year will be held on April 14 at the Carlton Hotel.

Other members of the Wisconsin delegation are Representatives Thomas R. Amlie, Gerald J. Boileau, Raymond J. Cannon, Merlin Hall, Raymond J. Gehrmann, Thomas O'Malley, Michael K. Reilly, Harry Sauthoff, George J. Schneider and Gardner R. Withrow.

Young Republican Club To Give Performance

The Young Republican Club of the District has taken over a performance of the play, "Girls in Uniform," at the Wardman Park Theater Monday evening, April 5.

Chairman of the committee in charge is Mr. Malcolm Sharpe, assisted by Mrs. Louise Hunter Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper B. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mondell, Mr. Andrew J. McGarraghy, Mr. George L. Hart, jr., Mrs. Edward E. Colladay and Mr. Albert E. Conradis, ex-officio.

Student Cast To Lunch at White House

Hasty Pudding Players Will Be Roosevelts' Guests Sunday.

Mr. John Roosevelt, youngest son of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, will entertain the members of the Hasty Pudding cast at luncheon on Sunday at the White House, and that afternoon there will be a tea dance given by Mrs. Edward B. McLean at Friendship, her country home.

Many members of Capital society have tried to arrange parties in honor of the members of the cast, but have been unable to as they arrive on Sunday morning and immediately following the show that evening they leave for Hot Springs, Va., where they will play the following night.

The theme of this year's production is a trip on the Hindenburg to London, arriving in time for the coronation and all the functions. Harvard's fair sons will wear costumes of the latest design, and stalwart heads will boast nosegays of flowers and stuffed birds, and flirting eyes will be hidden behind lacy veils in the latest fashion.

Mr. Benjamin Welles 2d, of Washington, son of the Assistant Secretary of State, will be a member of the cast. Mr. Arnett Gordon, who will have the role of leading lady, will wear gorgeous gowns to entice the leading man, Mr. Lawrence Davis.

Mr. Gaspar Bacon, jr., will have one of the principal parts, as Lady Lavinia Doodle, of Doodle Downs, Wussex, a most proper dowager, gowned with trimmings of maribou and feathers. Her daughter, Prunella, a very eccentric young English girl, who is a fanatic concerning candid camera work, will be played by Mr. Joseph Randolph Coolidge. Her other daughter, a somewhat horsey lady, will be played by Mr. William Myrick, who will cavort around in a most unusual gown of checkered tweed.

The high-stepping chorus will dance to the original lyrics of the show, which are already being played at the smart hotels and restaurants in the Capital. The climactic chorus number will be a burlesque of the typical Ziegfeld-Follies Bergeres spectacle, which is called "Jardin d'Amour."

Julius Garfinckel & Company

Announce

FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY

A VERY WONDERFUL SALE OF

STERLING SILVER

HOLLOW WARE, FLATWARE, TOILETWARE, NOVELTY DESIGNS

AT REMARKABLE SAVINGS

MANY OF THEM ARE ONE-OF-A-KIND PIECES AND SETS WHICH WE CANNOT OFFER AGAIN AT THESE GREAT REDUCTIONS

Look ahead to the times when you will be giving wedding or anniversary gifts . . . and did you ever know a more favorable opportunity to buy silver for your own home? Included are Tea and Coffee Services . . . Water Pitchers . . . Vases . . . Platters . . . Bowls . . . Sandwich Trays . . . Salt and Peppers . . . Cream and Sugars . . . Cocktail Shakers and Cups . . . Sherbets . . . Ladies' Dresser Sets . . . Men's Brush and Comb Sets.

F STREET AT FOURTEENTH

FRAUD RIDES ON A SHEET

—And makes "Suckers" of some who don't know Oriental rugs

It's a singular thing, but nevertheless a true fact—many Washingtonians have been hoodwinked into buying "Oriental" rugs which were merely cheap imitations of the real thing.

House-to-house salesmen who sold them gained entry by offering to take orders for a nationally known bed sheet at a fraction of its usual price, but the sheets were to be delivered at a later date . . . and then the salesman offered to sell "the last Oriental rug in his truck" at a very low price. The rugs are not as represented—the sheets have never arrived.

There is wisdom, thrift, and economy in remembering

Before You Invest—Investigate

The appearance of this advertisement in these columns is evidence that The Washington Post co-operates with and supports the Better Business Bureau for your protection.

THE BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU OF WASHINGTON, D. C., INC.
Room 534, Evening Star Building Telephone NAtional 8164

THE PERFECT "CLOTHES LINE"
CLEVELAND 7800
FOR HEALTH'S SAKE SEND IT ALL TO TOLMAN
TOLMAN Laundry
ZORIC DRY CLEANING • 5248 WISCONSIN AVE.

HOSIERY REPAIRS
Highest Quality—Lowest Prices
One-Thread Run—15c
Pulled Threads—10c inch
While-You-Wait Service
SOUTHERN STELOS CO.
613 12th St. N.W. NAt. 8442

Announcing Columbia Heights' newest, most beautiful, completely modernized Beauty Salon.
Permanent Wave Prices Start at $4.00
CARNELL Beauty Shop
3111 14th St. N.W. Col. 9447-9466

STEINWAY PIANOS
Music—Musical Instruments
Radios—Phonographs
RECORDS
DROOP'S 1300 G
Hammond Electric Organ

Security Storage
A SAFE DEPOSITORY FOR OVER 47 YEARS
1140 FIFTEENTH ST.

RUG Beauty Our Duty
CLEANED AND STORED
Call Mr. Pyle NA. 3257
SANITARY CARPET & RUG CLEANING CO.
106 INDIANA AVE.

The Shoreham
Dancing Every Saturday Afternoon 4:45 to 6:45
Barnes's Lounge Orchestra
DANCING One-to-Two Club 1 a.m. to 3 a.m.
COCKTAIL LOUNGE
Connecticut Ave. at Calvert

SUPPER DANCING From 10
MINIMUM One Dollar
Columbia 3000
TEA DANCE Saturday From 4:00

Dance!

"Lift" and "lilt" . . . moving, spirited rhythm by suave, smiling ARTHUR WARREN and his orchestra—the kind of smooth, exciting music that makes you want to dance . . . and from the first step, dance as you've never danced before!

WARDMAN PARK HOTEL
Connecticut Avenue at Woodley Road

Presenting EDDIE ELKINS
AND HIS ORCHESTRA . . .
Don and Sally Jennings
Dancing Delightfully for You. . . .
Sally Evans—in Songs
Luncheon From $1.00
Dinner From $2.00
After 10 P. M. Cover 50c Plus Tax except Friday and Saturday, then $1.00 Plus Tax.
COCKTAIL HOUR 4-6
The Pall Mall
AT THE HOTEL RALEIGH

The GENTLER SEX

By Malvina Lindsay.

Reno Reunion.

"Isn't that May Biffle over there? I thought she married that New York bond salesman."

"That all blew up. She's back at her old job."

"What was the matter? He seemed terribly sweet."

"He was. Only he just couldn't get out of bed. After he got married he just quit his job, went to bed and stayed there."

"You don't mean it?"

"Yes; she had to go to work herself—the bill collectors got so bad. She'd come home at night and find him still in bed. He wouldn't even go places with her. She thinks he really was a sick man—had a complex or something."

"Yes, or maybe a hookworm."

• • • •

"Say, Mobel Mish just told me she'd divorced Arthur."

"No! After all these years!"

"Yes, he just couldn't get his chemical formula worked out—you know, he'd been working at it for ten years. It almost broke her keeping up his laboratory . . . and sometimes the smell would come into the kitchen."

"But everybody said he was a genius."

"He is. A perfect genius. Mable says so herself. She's sure he'll be heard from some day—if he can just get some backing."

"What'll he do now."

"Mabel doesn't know. He's talking of going down in the country and writing a book. What she'd like to see him do, though—she feels sorry for him—she'd like to see him find some nice widow with an annuity."

• • • •

"Say, do my eyes deceive me, or is that Gladys Twitter?"

"That's Gladys. Didn't you know she was back in circulation?"

"But I thought she married that Boston man with all the money."

"Well, it seems it wasn't his money—it was his aunt's. And the aunt wouldn't die."

"What a shame. But I thought he had a private income of $10,000, I know her folks said——"

"Well, it seems there was a slight mistake. It was only the income on $10,000."

"How terrible! You know there ought to be a law about men fooling women that way. In a way it's worse than white slavery."

• • • •

"Say, doesn't Sally Blink look well? Did you hear about her grand job—hotel hostess?"

"You don't mean she's left Horace?"

"Yes; she couldn't stand the entertaining."

"What entertaining?"

"All the girls Horace got crushes on. You know, every time he'd get sweet on some young girl . . . and want to help her with her career, Sally would invite her out for the week-end—so he'd get fed up."

"That was terribly clever."

"Yes, only it got so bad along toward the last—it was almost college rush week, Sally said—so she just decided to let him get what was coming to him."

"You mean——"

"Yes; let him marry one of 'em."

• • • •

"Say, there's Mary Bunch. You know she doesn't look nearly as bad as I expected—after being accustomed to Bob for so long."

"Mary's terribly philosophical about the whole thing. She realizes Valerie could do so much more for Bob. You know he'd never had a valet before in his life. And she's bought him a motorboat and a polo pony and an electrical hair grower and that vice presidency in the pickle company——"

"Well, of course a man can't get anywhere without a rich wife. And then, of course Mary'll always be sure of her alimony."

• • • •

"Oh, say, did you hear the big news about Nell Beetle? She's getting married in June."

"No; who to?"

"She's marrying Sam again!"

"Sam! He was her second, wasn't he?"

"Yes. She ran on to him when she was out in Cincinnati visiting her first husband's mother—you know, the grandmother kept the children. Well, anyway, Sam was there visiting his children by Margie—you know, his second wife—(she's married again, by the way) and—well, they fell in love all over again."

"How terribly romantic!"

The Jacket Frock—In Tailored and Dress-Up Mood

The youthful hip-length jacket frock below is of black acele crepe topped with black and white checks. The frock is short-sleeved, with white pique outlining the neckline, and two flap pockets on either side of the front bodice, stitched in white. For more formal occasions is the jacketed costume at right, in beige and thin crepe; the flattering fur collar is the same shade. A dash of color is given the monotone effect by the fruit and ribbon trimming of the unique beige straw hat.

Most Frocks Have Jackets In This Spring's Fashions

By Ethel Ehlen,
The Post Fashion Editor.

NEARLY every frock has its own jacket this spring. This applies to strictly tailored costumes, semi-tailored versions, and those of the dressier type for afternoon. Jackets to accompany frocks range in length, from the very short Eton styles, and just-below-the-waistline basques, to hip-length models. But, generally speaking, they are all classed as short jackets.

Gives Feminine Effect.

It is undoubtedly the suit influence—this rage for the jacketed dress. Also, the unprecedented vogue for femininity—a jacket being more feminine in character than the swagger topcoat. Whatever the inspiration, one is not in tune with spring fashions, if the wardrobe doesn't boast of at least one jacket-costume.

The jacket may either match the frock in color and material, or form a striking contrast. Both ideas are sponsored by style authorities. Much depends on the material and the styling—also the stature of the individual. Contrasting colors usually cut one's height, and hence should be worn only by tall women, or those of slender build. The same idea applies to solid colors and patterned fabrics.

May Transform Costumes.

If your frock does not own a jacket of its own, you can buy one or several as a chic topping, and thus make a basic costume serve as several. A simple black or navy crepe or sheer wool, for instance, could be transformed from a spectator sports outfit into something appropriate for afternoon. A number of jackets of different colors, is another ideal way to give the illusion of an extensive wardrobe; worn with the same frock.

For a monotone jacketed-frock, tinted accessories work wonders in giving a change of atmosphere. A dark costume of this sort could be dramatized with bright pastels, white or beige. Light-colored jacket-costumes are usually smarter when the accents are dark.

A WOMAN'S NEW YORK

By Alice Hughes.

New York, March 28.

MORE AND MORE does that amazing midtown potpourri of skyscrapers, fountains and gardens known as Rockefeller Center become a genuine civic headquarters. Cute ideas race through the skulls of the clever boys and girls who run the place, and what was once called "John D.'s Folly" is now the focal point for many of Manhattan's better activities.

ALICE HUGHES.

Having furnished single-handed our iceless winter with a reason for existence, thanks to the artificial skating pond in the Sunken Plaza, the bustling center has now decided to go in for spring in a big way. In fact, the place has practically invented the silly season this year. And Jack Rockefeller the Younger can certainly whip up some elegant spring!

Yesterday the second floor cutbacks on the mountainous RCA Building broke out a mass of glorious flowers. Gardens bloomed overnight in the channel between the French and British Buildings. Youngsters whooped at the sight of a big "Bunny Garden." Madrigal singers did their vocal stuff through loudspeakers. Thirty-six Japanese cherry trees seemed to pop full-grown out of the earth. Blue hyacinths to the number of 3,000 appeared magically!

• • • •

As I have said before, we usually have a heck of a time sorting out the seasons, here in these stony canyons of the island. But those puzzling days are over, now that the Rockefeller family has taken full charge of all four of them. By visiting Fiftieth street and Fifth avenue even the blindest and stupidest New Yorker may now find out what time of the year it is! Believe me, ladies, when better seasons are organized, the great oil family will make 'em!

• • • •

GIRL ABOUT TOWN—New York business success plays strange tricks. A couple of years ago Dale Carnegie was just another radio talker. Recently he ground out a Pitkinesque booster-book called "How to Influence People and Make Friends," or words to that affect. Last Wednesday I needed a word with this chap, who used to need the co-operation of all of us, so I called his office. After a few costly moments, his secretary told me that Mr. C. was so busy he couldn't talk to anyone on the phone until Friday! This established a new all-time high for crust. Moral—it takes a level head and a good memory for old friends to stand success in this success-drunk village! Mr. C. certainly influenced me—toward justifiable homicide!

• • • •

I saw little Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell with their heads together at El Morocco the other evening—and what memories the sight evoked! Only a decade ago that was the prettiest romance among the filmites, and it came to naught . . .

• • • •

And Betty Compton Walker, wife of the late Mayor Jimmy, turned up at the Stork Club with a bandaged paw. She said she had been bitten when trying to part a couple of her scrapping pooches. Jimmy and Betty now raise show dogs, and collect a goodly packet of blue ribbons, too . . .

• • • •

Well, the Palm Beach toffs have about all fled Florida. They stopped here just long enough to pipe "Ah there! What ho!" and then pushed their 99 trunks and boxes aboard the skiffs for the dear old coronation. Most of our Anglo-maniacal socialites aren't happy without a duchess or viscount around the place, or at the very least, a baronet. Rule Britannia!

Copyright, 1937, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

TODAY'S HEALTH TALK

By Dr. Logan Clendening.

"Many and serious are the problems confronting Europe and America at the present time, none is more important than the application of the science of nutrition in the daily life of the people."

These words of E. V. McCullum are being taken to heart by practitioners in various specialties. I have before me the report of a specialist in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, who has questioned his patients for several years carefully as to what their food is, and has found that by bringing their diets to a balanced state he is able to improve them considerably. Other work in this line consists of a report in a series of sinus infections that there was a low intake of protein, fat and fluid.

Considering first the protein requirement, it is believed, in the words of the committee on nutrition of the British Medical Asssociation, "Proteins of animal origin—milk, cheese, eggs, meat, fish, etc.—have a higher nutritonal value and can be much more readily assimilated and made use of in the body, than proteins derived from vegetable sources."

The requisite animal protein could be ideally supplied in this way: One glass of milk each meal, one helping of meat or fish, one egg per day. This represents 37 grams, which is the lowest minimum requirement of the British committee. Yet in 300 adult patients with nose or throat disease, nearly half consumed less than 26 grams of animal protein a day, "a quantity too low for a small woman," and 12 per cent ate less than 13 grams a day, which is below one-third of the minimal requirements. Children were better off, showing "that it is evident that parents are applying to their offspring some knowledge of nutrition."

Calcium is another substance of which the doctor found his patients were obtaining deficient amounts. Inasmuch as Vitamin D promotes absorption of calcium and phosphorus, it is worth while to note that "10 per cent of the patients evidently had a Vitamin D intake below the minimum, since they reported that they did not eat eggs or fish and consumed less than three pats of butters (including milk) a day." Two per cent used butter substitutes and did not eat eggs or fish.

Wrong Posture May Spoil Best Spring Clothes

Awkward Body Position or Slovenly Walk Is Easily Corrected.

By Carolyn Abbott.

YOUR SPRING clothes won't show up to their best advantage if your posture is poor. Do you have a sway back or round shoulders? No matter how much time and money you spend on your spring outfit and a new coiffure to accent it, all will be lost if you stand with one foot thrown out in an awkward position or walk in a slovenly manner.

Start now to perk up your posture for your new spring outfit. You know that it is fun to sit in a public place and watch the passers-by. You can obtain valuable information from this pastime. Study these subjects and notice which ones you admire and which ones would naturally go by unnoticed, and why. The persons with high carriage (not exaggerated) and a proud step are envied by everyone. They may not always be handsome or well dressed but because they move easily and smoothly they have made up for a multitude of misfortunes.

Should See Meaning.

All your life you have been listening to posture rules. No matter how often you are told to hold your chin up, your stomach in and your shoulders back, the rules won't work unless you see some meaning to them and notice how they apply to your own person. The best way to do this is to stand, undressed before a mirror and observe what each rule can do for you. Once you see and feel the ideal set-up, you can more easily practice it.

Begin with your feet. Your toes should at all times point straight ahead. It stands to reason that you, as well as an automobile, can get farther if your toes are kept "in line." This is good for grace, for otherwise your alternately pointing feet sway your entire body.

Your knees also should be straight. For instance, lock your knees and see how your entire body is made tense. The knees should be soft and slightly flexed if your body is to have graceful lines.

Hips are important to the figure. They should at all times be kept in the same forward position. If you keep your hips folded down and under you, like a dog with his tail between his legs, you will acquire a firm up-and-down column that will be good for your looks and your golf form.

The best thing to do with your chest is "let it alone." An uplifted chest is bad for it is made up of ribs that are attached to your spine. If you heave them forward by force, you are pulling your spine forward too and causing a muscle strain. But, don't go to the other extreme and have a caved-in chest. It should hang in balance exactly over your hips to look well and feel well.

To "throw back your shoulders" puts your body under another muscle strain. Nature intended them to be free for she attached them to the body like wings. So just let them swing free, floating off of you as broad and wide as possible.

Your head should be carried exactly on top of you. Not dangled in front of you or reared back of its natural position. Because it is a heavy part of the body, it should be balanced evenly so that a book can be carried on it without readjustment.

Now, when your posture has been completely studied, you should be lined up the lobe of your ear, the outermost tip of your shoulder girdle, the outermost tip of your hip girdle and the outside bump of your ankle bone are on one direct line. It is difficult to get into this streamline stance immediately, but once you get it right you will go through the day's notions with ease and grace.

Menus for Today

Breakfast.
Orange juice
Poached eggs on toast
Coffee Milk

Luncheon.
Tomato filled with ham salad
Biscuits Butter
Hot chocolate
Lime jello with whipped cream

Dinner.
Spinach soup
Roast veal
Baked potatoes
Buttered beets
Banana salad
Coffee Milk
Chocolate pie.

CHOCOLATE PIE.

1 pint sweet milk
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons flour or cornstarch
1 tablespoon cocoa or chocolate

Put on stove and cook for five minutes or until thick; put in baked crusts and serve with whipped cream or white of egg.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Why Is It Platonic Friendships Between Men and Women Have 'Gone With the Wind?' Bachelor Asks.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: May a mere man take refuge in your column? I am a bachelor in my late twenties, hold an excellent position, but have only average intelligence and looks. There is one question which perplexes me very much. Why is it that platonic friendship between men and women seems to be "gone with the wind?" It seems to be impossible these days for an unmarried man to be friendly with an unattached woman over a period of months or years and still have no matrimonial intentions.

• • • •

I do not wish to marry now, yet after seeing a girl three of four times her relatives become curious as to "the gentleman's intentions." If the girl's parents finally realize that the caller does not contemplate matrimony now or at any time in the near future, they nearly always assume an injured air and many times wish the friendship to be discontinued.

• • • •

It seems that the only steady friendships a bachelor can have are with members of his own sex. Continuing friendships with unmarried women on a non-matrimonial, non-intimate plane seems to be a lost art these days.

PERPLEXED.

• • • •

The Law of Nature.

DEAR PERPLEXED: Come, come now. Be a realist. You remind me of Willie, newly recruited to the army, of whom his mother said to her next-door neighbor after they had seen Willie in his first military parade: "And did you notice that every man but Willie was out of step with the band?" Like Willie you seem to have no ear for the music of the universe; no honest understanding of "what it is all about," as the modern phrase goes. And like Willie's mother, you seem to believe that all but one (and that one yourself) is out of step.

• • • •

Sexless companionship between the sexes is a comparatively recent and not yet very successful invention of so-called civilized society. It runs contrary to nature's scheme of things, for male and female were created to mate and reproduce after their kind. It is natural, wholesome and sound that personable young women of marriageable age should instinctively assume that personable young men who seek their society are drawn thither by the mating instinct. It is equally natural, wholesome and sound that they should turn in distaste from any young man who represents himself as being so unnatural that he seeks in girls the twentieth century equivalent of a "platonic" friend. Parents of marriage-age daughters who move to weed such human zeros out of the latters' social environment are showing good common sense and setting their daughters an excellent example.

• • • •

The only women who can afford to enjoy sexless friendships with men are those who already are married, those who must make the most of what crumbs of masculine society come their way (i. e., the unattractive girls) or those who, like you, have for one reason or another dedicated themselves to a life of single blessedness for a shorter or longer period.

• • • •

Those girls who recognize marriage as their chosen vocation are not to be censured or despised for hewing to the line and demanding as passport to their company the germ of matrimonial intent in the mind of man. They are to be applauded for the vigorous honesty and singleness of purpose with which they pursue their goal. If today's girls make no bones about not caring a snap of their fingers for the society of a confirmed bachelor, it is because women have at long last elevated themselves to the position where they dare be pickers and choosers; where they dare admit the possession of mind and purpose; where they take an open hand in shaping the face of their own futures. They just don't see the necessity any more of simpering behind a fan and pretending that the thought of marriage never occurred to them and that every proposal is "so sudden." Such attitudinizing belongs on the same shelf as the myth about the doctor's bringing babies in his little black bag.

• • • •

If you are a social outcast so far as congenial companionship with your feminine contemporaries is concerned, it's your own fault, no one's else. It is quite impossible to straddle a fence and pick bouquets from yonder field.

M. H.

Miss Haworth will be glad to help you in solving your problems. Write her in care of The Post Woman's Page.

Mme. Jose M. Sert Sets Costume Pace

Sister of Marrying Mdivanis Watched in Paris.

Paris (U.P.).—Mme. Jose Maria Sert, the former Roussadana Mdivani who was a sister of Princess Alexis, Serge and David, the marrying Mdivanis, is considered one of the best-dressed women in Paris. She is of medium stature with blonde hair, a large, well-shaped head, enormous blue eyes and a short, extremely thin figure.

Mme. Sert, wife of the noted painter, spends a good deal on clothes and is always seen at the smartest places in Paris, on the Riviera and, until recently, at their beautiful home in Spain. For sports wear she has chosen a simply tailored two-piece suit of gray flannel which she wears with a finely knit turtle-back sweater of black wool. A tasseled cord of gray defines the waistline, and she wears a three-quarter length mink coat for extra warmth.

Hearts are Trumps in This New Tyrolean Blouse Effect

Pattern 5812.
By Alice Brooks.

LIKE to be "Queen of Hearts?" This amusing blouse of all-over heart design and fashionably full sleeves is a charmer, and no end of fun to knit! See, the spaced hearts are simply openwork stitches outlined with blanket stitch of contrasting color. Prestol—the new Tyrolean effect. As a playful touch, add heart-shaped buttons and buckle. Worn with suit or matching plain knitted skirt, this blouse is "tops!" In Pattern 5812 you will find complete instructions for making the blouse shown and a plain knitted skirt in size 16 to 18 and 36 to 40; an illustration of it and of the stitches used; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Washington Post Household Arts Department, 259 West Fourteenth street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

"HOOT WOMON! LAUNDRY SAVINGS
Economy Service
A pleasing Service at ebb prices . . . cheaply priced, easy to understand . . . bed and table linen ironed . . . wearing apparel pressed and outer garments touched up by hand . . . men's shirts ten cents each additional . . . turkish towels fluffed if desired.
12c LB.
Thrift Wash
Least money for most service . . . bed and table linen ironed and folded . . . wearing apparel ready to iron . . . turkish towels fluffed if desired . . . men's shirts only ten cents each additional—A service you'll like!
ONLY 7c LB.
PIONEER LAUNDRY
DRY CLEANERS RUG RENOVATORS
★ PHONE NORTH 1315 ★
920 RHODE ISLAND AVE. N.E.
CASH and CARRY SERVICE 10% off

Free Parking for Our Customers at Pratt's Service Station 22nd and M Sts.
Opposite Our Store
IN ONE day we convert "rest-robbing" mattresses into germ free, resilient new ones that suit your weight. Cost $5 and up. Phone for our representative to call.
Beds Springs
Mattresses
ZABAN'S
1215 22nd St. N.W.
National 9410

Socialists Elect Committee, but Leave Hoan Out

Milwaukee Mayor Is Held C. I. O. Opponent; Thomas Named Chairman.

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, March 28.—Delegates to the special national convention of the Socialist Party elected a national executive committee tonight which for the first time in more than ten years did not include the name of Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, of Milwaukee, Wis.

Spokesmen for the party said Hoan requested that his name not be placed in nomination, but gave no specific reason. They added that many delegates at the closed session believed Hoan did not wish to be in a position where he might have to support a convention indorsement of the Committee for Industrial Organization's union drive.

Opposed C. I. O. Indorsement.

Hoan, who attended this morning's session and then returned to Milwaukee, and the majority of the Wisconsin delegation, a spokesman said, have opposed party indorsement of either the C. I. O or the American Federation of Labor.

However, Hy Fish, publicity director for the party, said it appeared certain the convention would support a resolution which favored the organization drive of John L. Lewis' C. I. O. He said there probably would be no formal vote until tomorrow.

The former national executive committee resigned at the opening of the convention. It announced that the problems scheduled for consideration by the special convention were those ordinarily handled by the executive committee, and did not desire to stand in the way of any action.

Discussion in all sessions had centered on whether the party would indorse the C. I. O. drive, favor an alignment with the Farmer-Labor Party and form a united front with the Communist Party.

Resolutions introduced on each subject were scheduled for a vote tonight, when the convention planned to adjourn, but arguments over the Farmer-Labor affiliation delayed procedure. Fish said the convention undoubtedly would continue through tomorrow and a vote probably would not be taken until then.

Norman Thomas, three times Socialist candidate for United States President, was elected national chairman of the executive committee, whose elective membership was increased from 11 to 15 members.

Esther Chapter, Eastern Star, to Honor Worthy Grand Matron, Patron at Party

Easter Week Card Game Set for Tomorrow at Willard.

One of the most important Easter week social events of women's organizations will be the spring card party of the Esther chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at the Willard Hotel tomorrow, from 2 to 5 p. m.

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Rhine, worthy grand matron, and the worthy grand patron, Dr. Victor B. Rench, will be guests of honor.

Arrangements are under the direction of Mrs. Joseph F. Dyers, chairman; Miss Eva Lester, vice chairman; and Miss Elizabeth Allison. Assisting are Mrs. Wallace Streater, president of the board of directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, who is chairman of the patroness committee; Mrs. May P. Gibbon, vice chairman; Mrs. Edgar B. Meritt, Mrs. Charles M. Jones, Mrs. William T. Reed, Mrs. J. Edwin Reid; reservations, Mrs. J. Bernard Jones; prizes, Mrs. J. Edwin Reid; candy, Mrs. Louis L. Bowdler; tickets, Mrs. Raymond N. Babcock.

The patronesses are Mrs. Minnie Evans Keyes, right worthy grand secretary; Mrs. Flora E. Campbell, right worthy grand treasurer; Mrs. William N. Doak; Mrs. Lloyd W. Biddle and Mrs. Ernest H. Daniel, president and first vice president, respectively, of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Tilman Bacon Parks, president of the Political Study Club; Mrs. Charles Carroll Haig, State Regent, D. C. D. A. R.; Mrs. Virginia White Speel, Mrs. Anton Heitmuller, Mrs. Lloyd A. Morrison, Mrs. F. Frank Kimmel, Mrs. Edward Brashears, Mrs. Nellie Fletcher, Mrs. Pearl Watt Gibb, Mrs. Charles Shreve, Mrs. Edward N. Riley, Mrs. George Plitt, Mrs. Joseph H. Milans, Mrs. E. T. Stephenson, Mrs. Bertha G. Hudson, Mrs. A. Frank Kreglow, Mrs. Luther R. Ray, Mrs. Charles F. Consaul, Miss Margaret I. Fraser, Mrs. Wallace Streater, Mrs. Edgar B. Meritt, Mrs. May P. Gibon, Mrs. Christian Heurich, Mrs. Frederick Yates, Mrs. Paul Dietrick, Mrs. William I. Hitchcock, Mrs. Louis Lovel, Mrs. Nell Turpin, Mrs. Harry Wendal, Mrs. F. J. Mulkern, Mrs. E. M. Gustafson.

Also Mrs. J. Harry Cuningham, Mrs. Charles Botsch, Mrs. Leora W. Parks, Mrs. Wallace Stowel, Miss Mabel Botsch, Mrs. David P. Bush, Miss Eva Lester, Mrs. Rose Martin, Mrs. John W. Weaver, Mrs. Archibald Smith, Mrs. William McAinsh, Mrs. Wilson Dodd, Mrs. George Park, Mrs. George E. Anderson, Miss Ella McCord, Mrs. George W. Thecker, Mrs. Dallas H. Watson, Mrs. W. W. Torbert, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. Charles A. Lally, Mrs. Edmund B. Lambert, Mrs. Mabel Ostrander, Mrs. Ara M. Daniels, Mrs. Lelia J. Cooke, Mrs. Frank T. Hines, Mrs. Frank A. Birgfeld, Mrs. Ralph P. Barnard, Mrs. Frank D. Mears, Mrs. David J. Roberts, Mrs. William E. Birgfeld, Mrs. Charlotte M. Pine, Mrs. Alice Bradley, Mrs. J. Bernard Jones, Mrs. F. Karl Werthner, Mrs. Joseph F. Lyvers, Mrs. J. Edwin Reid, Mrs. William T. Reed, Mrs. Charles M. Jones, Mrs. Louis L. Bowdler, Mrs. Raymond N. Babcock, Mrs. Albert C. Shafer, Mrs. Alfred S. Hagerty, Mrs. George W. Evans, Mrs. Elisha Hanson, Mrs. William P. Herbst, Mrs. William J. Dunham, Mrs. Seaton W. Trunnel, Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. Louis Allen Smith, Mrs. Percy Jones, Mrs. Ella Myers, Mrs. Vina E. Opdycke, Mrs. Charles H. Cecil, Miss Mabel Hiatt, Mrs. A. W. Caldwell, Mrs. Charles H. Ferguson, Mrs. Emil Holst, Mrs. Georgienna L. Norris, Mrs. Ethel Hess, Mrs. Grace D. Williams, and others.

Mrs. Luther R. Ray is matron of the chapter and William E. Birgfeld, patron.

In the Club World Today.

Luncheon, Woman's National Democratic Club, 12:30 p. m.

Annual banquet, Washington Alumnae Chapter, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, Wesley Hall.

Meeting Washington Section, National Council of Jewish Juniors, home of Mrs. Harris Krick, of 3116 Dumbarton avenue.

Tea and lecture, A. A. U. W., 4:30 p. m.

Mr. Robert W. G. Merritt has been appointed by Col. George H. Calvert, jr., president of the Maryland Society of Washington, as chairman of the floor committee at the entertainment and dance to be given by the society tomorrow night at the Kenndy-Warren in celebration of Maryland Day.

Others on the committee are Mr. Henry Blake, Mr. John D. Bowling, Mr. Norwood Briscoe, Mr. William B. Brooke, Col. B. F. Crowson, Mr. James Clark, Mr. George Frank Forbes, jr., Judge George B. Merrick, Dr. Zachariah H. Morgan and Mr. Hewett G. Robertson.

The University of Maryland Mixed Glee Club will sing. Guest cards may be obtained at the door that evening, or in advance from the officers of the society.

Maryland State Society Dance Scheduled Tomorrow Night.

Washington chapters of the American Hellenic Educational Progressive Association, known as Ahepa, Washington, No. 31, and Capital, No. 236, will give a dance tomorrow night at Wardman Park Hotel for the benefit of the Ahepa Sanatorium at Albuquerque, N. Mex.

Ahepa chapters throughout the United Stes and Canada are giving similar dances.

The slogan is "Let's Dance to Their Health."

The Sanatorium opened its doors to tuberculosis patients March 25. President Roosevelt, in a recent letter to V. I. Chebithes, supreme president of the Order of Ahepa, said:

"It is a matter of peculiar satisfaction to me that it is possible for Ahepa to undertake so praisworthy a work at this time and one which exemplifies, as it does, the highest tenets of our order. For there is no obligation higher than that of ministering to those who suffer the handicap of illness and who have not means of their own to defray the expenses of medical care and hospitalization."

The Minister of Greece, Demetrios Sicilianos; Nicholas Lely, counselor, and all of the Greek Legation staff; Senator and Mrs. Dennis Chaver, Senator and Mrs. Carl A. Hatch and Representative and Mrs. John Dempsey, of New Mexico, will attend the dance.

The committee in charge of the dance, consisting of Kominos Sukaras (chairman), Anthony Norris, N. Panoutsopoulos, Simos Kritikos, William Revis, Peter Blahos, A. Litina, Dr. Harry Sembecos, P. Sintetas, John Calomeris, John Janis, Nicholas Joran, Richard Kyriakos, George Devakos, Peter Charuhas, John Asvestos, James Mallis, John Xenos, G. Perry, illiam Loomis, Peter Cokinos, Charles Charuhas, George Nicolopoulos, James Mallos and Soterios Nicholson, are working for the success of the dance.

The Ladies' Philanthropic Society, of which Mrs. Charles Mandes is president, also is co-operating with the committee in the sale of tickets. She is assisted by Mrs. Charles J. Demas, Mrs. P. Nicolopoulos, Mrs. George Devakos, Mrs. N. Fountas, Mrs. Emmanuel Geralis, Mrs. S. Demetriou, Mrs. George Gerachis, Mrs. T. Stavropoulos and Mrs. Charles Charuhas.

"The participants," said Soterios Nicholson, a member of the committee, "in such philanthropic causes have the privilege and opportunity of blending benevolence with pleasure. One act of charity gives them pleasant entertainment and helps those who suffer from this dreadful disease and 'who have not means of their own to defray the expense of medical care and hospitalization,' as President Roosevelt so aptly puts it."

The Wanderlust Club, which has as its objective the promotion of interest in travel, selected Bermuda and Nassau as its Easter point of interest. Nearly a hundred members accompanied by friends left Friday for a ten-day vacation in the South.

Mrs. Laura Waters, honorary member, sponsored and arranged the trip, which was under the direction of Miss Anna E. Widmyer, active in all wanderlust activities. A trip is planned to the National Parks of America this summer. Among those sailing on Friday were Mrs. Kathryn Fuqua, Miss Elizabeth Faucher, Mrs. C. C. Keiss, Mrs. Florida H. Minor, Miss Pearl Minor, Miss Margaret Gessford, Miss Mathilde Koehler, Miss Jeanette Baker, Mrs. Florence Kelly, Miss Laura Young, Adam Arnold, president of the Lions Club, and Mrs. Arnold; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Connor and their son, Joseph; Mr. and Mrs. illiam and children, Doris and Roy, and Mr. Charles Denny.

They were joined in Bermuda by the group which sailed Thursday on the Georgic under the direction of Mr. Stuart Wright, and included Mrs. Hugh P. Smith, Mrs. T. H. Smyth, Miss Margaret Smyth, Miss Catherine Furey, Miss Edith Whiteside, Miss Mary B. Young, Mrs. Tuba V. Allmutt, Miss Mary Schade, Miss Anna Burke, Miss Mary Ward, Miss Martha Stoffel, Miss Cecelia O'Leary, Miss Helen Jackson, Mrs. Mary R. Stephenson, Mrs. Elsa P. Emmons, Miss Frances Jennings, Mrs. Ada L. Sutter, Mrs. Virgie Godby, Miss Catherine Wahl, Mrs. John W. Morrell and Miss Rosemary Morrel.

N. Y. Society Woman Wed to Lyle Talbot

Hollywood, March 28 (AP).—Lyle Talbot, motion-picture actor, and Marguerite Ethel Cramer, of New York society, were married today at the home of Municipal Judge E. R. Brand.

They planned a honeymoon trip to Europe, with Talbot to make a picture later in London. Mrs. Talbot, 27, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Cramer, of New York. It is her first marriage and Talbot's second. He is 33.

Faulty Funding Costs States More Than Graft, Says Expert

Financial Consultant, Called to Tennessee for Reorganization of $128,900,000 Debt, Watched by Wall Street.

By the Associated Press.

New York, March 28.—A self-styled doctor of municipal and State financial ills asserted today that taxpayers of the Nation lose more annually by faulty debt funding than by the graft or maladministration they get so wrought up about.

The "doctor" was Norman S. Taber, municipal finance consultant, whose first major operation—a reorganization of the $128,900,000 Tennessee State debt—is being watched closely alike by Wall Street financiers and students of public financing.

Taber will leave Tuesday for Tennessee for a final conference with Gov. Gordon Browning before he submits the plan to the State Legislature.

Tennessee, Taber said today, was an outstanding example of the costliness of faulty financing. He said the debt was by "no means excessive, but structurally, to echo a Dun and Bradstreet expert, one of the worst in the 48 States."

Attacks Frozen Revenues.

The task was to devise a way to release revenues frozen in sinking funds without impairing the value of the specific bonds they backed or the future credit of the State.

To achieve this, Taber recommended the creation of sinking fund certificates—the novel feature experts are watching—to effect a swift pay-off of the debt in serial fashion, at the same time freeing $2,500,000 annually earmarked for sinking funds and saving $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 in debt service yearly over the next 30 years.

"Had Tennessee had for the past 22 years a sound financial plan, it could have saved at least $2,000,000 annually," Taber said, and added:

"More money is wasted on faulty debt funding than in graft and maladministration of public offices combined."

To halt such waste, Taber advised suffering taxpayers to learn more about the costs involved in a bond issue.

Origin Accidental.

Taber's practice was born of the depression, "quite by accident," he declared.

Back in 1930 his partner in an investment counsel business interested him in the financial problem of Cranston, R. I., which could not market $600,000 in tax-anticipatory notes. Taber worked out a plan whereby the city soon after was able to sell a short-term bond issue for the $600,000.

Pawtucket heard about the plan and asked Taber for help. He worked out a similar scheme for that city.

Musing on the fact that there must be countless other cities in similar financial jams, Taber launched into his business, which he believes is the only one of its kind in America.

"At first, the jobs were all rescue work. Now it's different. Most of them call for what you might term 'preventive medicine.' And that's why I enjoy them."

Cities in New Jersey, Ohio, New York and Florida have called upon Taber, and in one case his saving to taxpayers so elated a public official that he dubbed Taber an "M. D.—Municipal Doctor."

Frisco Man Questioned By Graft Hunting Jury

San Francisco, March 28 (AP).—A graft-hunting grand jury, tentatively minus the leadership of a prosecutor whose name became involved in its investigation, prepared today to question Peter P. McDonough, described by undercover investigators as a power behind many houses of prostitution.

Also scheduled to appear at the grand jury's session tomorrow night is Harry Rice, McDonough's nephew and business associate in a bail-bond firm. The long-simmering investigation boiled up sensationally yesterday when the grand jury, after hearing District Attorney Matthew A. Brady's story of an asserted $1,170 obligation to McDonough, asked State Attorney General U. S. Webb to take charge.

Former Governor Dies.

Manchester, N. H., March 28 (AP).—Albert Oscar Brown, 84, former Governor of New Hampshire, died today. A lawyer and a banker, Brown retired March 1 as president of the Amoskeag Savings Bank of Manchester. He was elected Governor in 1921 for two years on the Republican ticket.

Groundwork Laid For Jobless Count

By the Associated Press.

Commerce Department officials reported yesterday they have laid the groundwork for a proposed $15,000,000 census of the unemployed which congressional advocates contend would "let us know where we are when relief needs are considered."

Several bills authorizing a Nation-wide jobless count are pending in Congress, and officials said they would recommend enactment of legislation at this session.

Representative Kerr (Democrat), North Carolina, a member of the House Census Committee, said an unemployment census would provide a valuable yardstick for measuring relief needs.

"Of course, the cost would be substantial," he asserted, "but I think it would be a wise expenditure."

Windsor Bids Farewell To Enzesfeld Citizens

Enzesfeld, Austria, March 28 (AP).—The Duke of Windsor bade farewell to the citizens of tiny Enzesfeld tonight, speaking in German to a crowd gathered in the courtyard of his castle retreat.

"You know I do not speak German well," he said, "but well enough to thank you heartily for coming here. All I can say is auf wiedersehen." Children, firemen, town officials and others led by stout, bristling Mayor Fran Plesskott formed a torchlight procession to the castle to show Windsor their sorrow at his departure tomorrow for St. Wolfgang, in the lake country of upper Austria.

Missing Man's Body Found in Tidal Basin

The body of Sandy Monroe, colored, 24, of 121 Shott's court southwest, was found in the Tiday Basin yesterday morning by Joseph Smith, 624 Maryland avenue southwest, who was walking.

Smith notified the Harbor police who recovered the body and took it to the District Morgue. Police said Monroe had been reported missing March 7.

Retired Educator Dies.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 28 (AP).—John Henry Barr, 75, former professor of machine design at Cornell University, died last night.

CONNECTICUT AVENUE

Where Your Every Wish Is Our Command

IN THESE OUTSTANDING SHOPS BEAUTY AND GOOD TASTE ARE COMBINED WITH ECONOMY

SPRING RUG CLEANING

Rugs Cleaned Absolutely by Hand. Our own special Olive Oil Shampoo Process.

CLEANING—DEMOTHING—STERILIZING
REPAIRING—STORING

Fine Pebbleweave Broadloom, sq. yd., $3.50
CANADIAN HOOKED RUGS, up $1.29
TIBETIAN GOAT SKINS.. SNOW WHITE .$4.95

MARK KESHISHIAN
Washington's Most Beautiful Rug Gallery
1214 CONN. AVE., CORNER 18TH ST. NA. 5348

New Spring

Coiffures

Emile

LET US CREATE YOUR SPRING PERMANENT OR COIFFURE
FREE CONSULTATION
Permanent Wave Specialists 1221 Conn. Ave. DIst 3616
Branches: Mayflower—Raleigh Hotel—Dodge Hotel

We offer the most modern equipment of dry cold storage and our well known process cleaning which beautifies and gives long life to your furs.

Double and Single Silver Foxes

Before you invest in fine furs we invite you to inspect and compare the new arrivals of our beautiful pedigree silver foxes for quality and price.

Russian Sables
Hudson Bay Sables and Capes

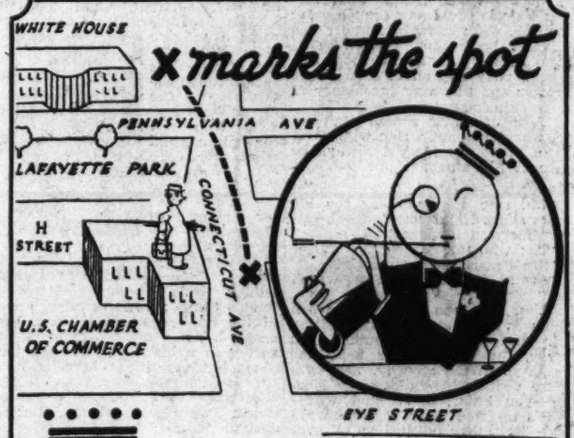
Now is the time to remodel your furs in the latest styles at our summer prices.

Bernard's Fur Shop, Inc.
Individualized Furs
1116 Connecticut Ave.
Opposite Mayflower DIstrict 2284



KING COLE ROOM

for a sip or a snack in that New York atmosphere . . . . . .
HOTEL CLARIDGE
820 Connecticut Ave.

BILTMORE
HANDWOVEN HOMESPUN

Woven by hand in North Carolina from the finest grades of imported wool. This rugged cloth will hold its shape and wear better than any other cloth made.
Now is the time to select your Spring Sport or Business Suit from our new selection of smart patterns.

Suits Hand-Tailored to your individual measurement.

$49.95

M. Stein & Co.
Quality Tailors
1714 L. St. N.W., at Conn. Ave. NA. 2435

STOCK TAKING CLEARANCE
Till MARCH 31st
Of Oddments Drastically Reduced

Odd Bedspreads—Colored luncheon sets—Damask Sets—Towels, Pillows, Etc. All reduced from 20% to 50% to clear.

3 Outstanding Bargains

100 handmade applique silk and satin pillows; were $1.95; now 95c
17-piece colorful luncheon sets, were $8.50; now.... $4.95
2½ yd. Silk Damask Sets, were $15.00; now..... $9.95

WALPOLE BROTHERS, Inc.
1529 CONNECTICUT AVENUE
NORTH 2850
LONDON PARIS DUBLIN BOSTON

Sunshine for Sale!
Don't You Want to Buy Some?

We capture it here on the faces of your children—and make it last forever. Happy, natural pictures of children—made by special artists at $20 the dozen.

That's a low price for the kind of pictures we make. Telephone DIstrict 4488 now. This is the best time for pictures.

UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD
1230 CONNECTICUT AVE. DISTRICT 4488

Be Selective
Put Your Head in Gabriel's Hands

Be lovelier and more alluring with a Gabriel permanent wave, which leaves the hair soft and silky, even tho dyed or bleached. White hair guaranteed not to be disclosed.

Gabriel
NA. 8188
1019 CONN. AVE

Hair Tinting
Facials
Scalp Treatments
Paris Connection
229 Rue St. Honore

SECTION II — Local News, Sports

The Washington Post

Classified, Financial — SECTION II

★★★★ X — WASHINGTON: MONDAY, MARCH 29, 1937 — 13

Bob Burns Says

Copyright, 1937

By Bob Burns.

I'm gonna ask the women not to read this article today. This is for men only. Now, Brothers, yesterday your wife blossomed out proudly in her new Easter hat. For goodness sakes, don't laugh at it! You might as well be nice about it. Don't do like my Uncle Unie. Aunt Boo come home with a new Easter hat on and all of a sudden she says, "What do you think?"

Uncle Unie looked up and says, "Well, my dear, to tell you the truth——"

Aunt Boo cut in on him suddenly and says, "Never mind, if you're gonna talk that way about it—I don't want-ta hear it!"

Copyright, 1937.

THE FEDERAL DIARY

Reg. U. S. Patent Office.

By Scott Hart.

Glimpses

Playing cards are reported to be scarce at Walter Reed Hospital. It's said that cards are so scarce that sometimes packs are cut in half to provide enough to go around among the patients. . . . Aware of this situation, the Farm Credit Club is receiving card donations, which will be given to patients.

An office in the Interior Building has framed on its wall an interesting, if not valuable collection of those old departmental stamps used before the days of the frank. . . . Of orange color, these bear the pictures of Washington, Lincoln and John Marshall, and are of three, six and ten denominations. . . . There was some argument about it, but it was thought that each department used a different color stamp. . . . Antedating the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the stamps were produced by private companies, among these the Continental Bank Note Co. of New York, the American Bank Note Co., and the National Bank Note Co.

The weather that comes in the spring frustrated a piece we meant to write on spring fever. . . . It was a warm afternoon, a typical river bank fishing afternoon, when Dr. Robert Olesen, of the Public Health Service, was asked about the causes (the effects are generally known), of spring fever. . . . Dr. Olesen, a stout, energetic person, looked from a window on a spring day, yawned, and said that spring fever was more mental than anything else. He prescribed a perfectly swell remedy: "Get out of doors and sleep a lot, otherwise," he said. . . . Then, it turned cold on that very night and the weather that came in the spring had much to do with the cherry blossom case.

Farm Credit Hikers are planning three outings for forthcoming Sundays, as follows: April 4, an easy half-day walk along the Potomac (Virginia side, 1½ miles from Chain Bridge) from the dam opposite High Island to Dead Run. Wild flowers are prolific in the region. . . . April 18, an all-day mountain hike in Skyline Drive vicinity. Panorama to Mary's Rock and Hazel Gorge. May 2, "Old Nag" mountain trip from Nethers, Va.

* * * *

Another Joker—?—.

Robert L. Johnson, president, National Civil Service Reform League, points to the bill recently introduced by Representative Hendricks, and says: "This bill would require the Civil Service Commission to furnish each Congressman with the names of persons on eligible lists residing in his district when an appointment is to be made, and would require the appointing officer to consider the recommendations of members of the House as to the "character, residence and fitness" of such persons.

He adds that it takes little imagination to see that this would be a political whip in the hands of the politicians. . . . And it's certainly possible that Johnson has smelled out the real rat of the thing.

* * * *

Joseph Bazata for 40 years watched the goings and comings of thousands of persons into the reading room of the Library of Congress, where he was a guard. . . . It probably hasn't occurred to him that his experiences as a reading-room guard would make an interesting book of itself. . . . He retires at the close of his work today. . . . His home is at 416 New Jersey avenue northwest.

W. D. Termohlen, chief, poultry section of Agriculture's Adjustment Administration, has been selected as secretary for the interdepartmental committee to represent the government in arranging for the Seventh World's Poultry Congress to be held in the summer of 1939. . . . His job will be to co-ordinate the work of Federal departments with the activities of the Poultry Industry Committee which has part responsibility for the arrangements.

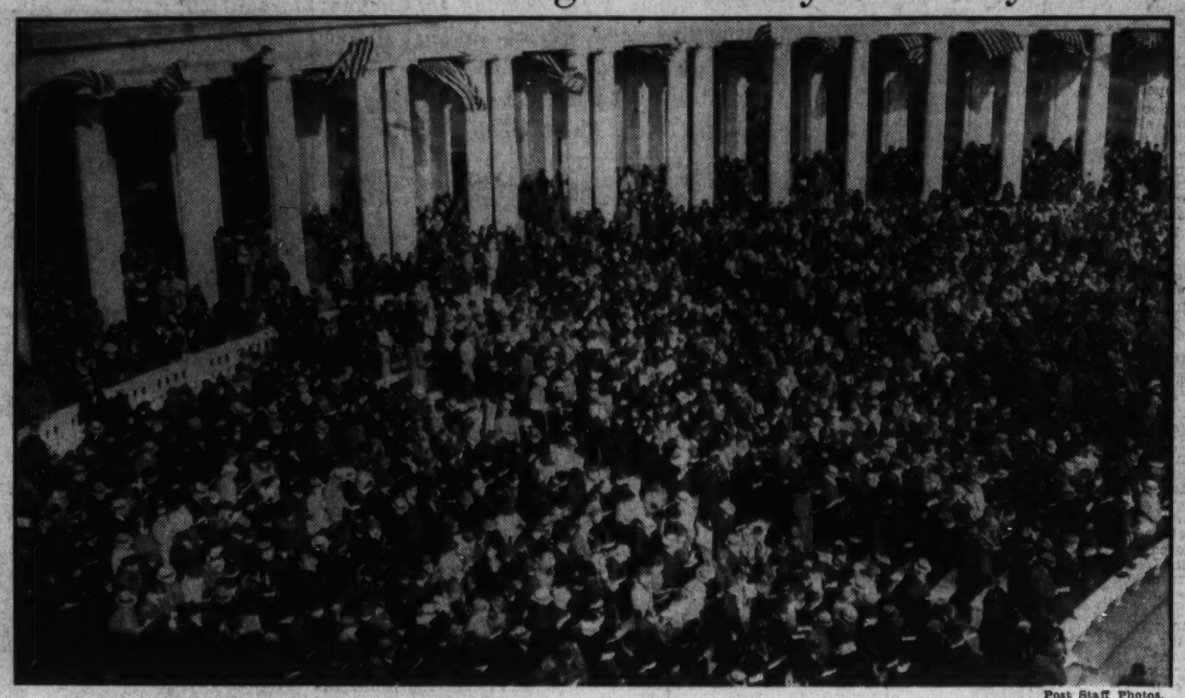
Car Driver Admits Killing Aged Man

Annapolis, Md., March 28 (AP).—Magistrate Joseph M. Armstrong reported today Elmer V. Phipps, 25-year-old West Annapolis man, had come to his office and told him he was the driver of the hit-and-run automobile that struck and killed John Wesley Tucker, 68, of West Annapolis, on the Annapolis-Baltimore boulevard.

The machine hit Tucker as he was walking along the highway near the Navy postgraduate school Friday night. Magistrate Armstrong swore out warrants charging Phipps with leaving the scene of a fatal accident without stopping and with reckless driving. He placed the young man un $1,000 bond for a hearing Thursday night.

Mrs. Roosevelt Leads Thousands in Cold Easter Observance at Arlington Cemetery Yesterday

Following the services, Mrs. Roosevelt assisted in placing a cross on the Unknown Soldier's tomb. Left to right, Eugene E. Thompson, Mrs. Roosevelt and George R. McHenry.



Post Staff Photos.

Part of the 15,000 devout who arose before dawn yesterday to attend sunrise services conducted in the biting wind at Arlington Amphitheater by the Knights Templar. Many notables attended.

Moving Appeal For Tolerance Made by Wise

Rabbi Prays That 'Risen Christ Will Rise for the Jew.'

In a moving appeal for co-operation among religions to end persecutions, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise at the meeting of the Town Hall of Washington last night prayed that this Easter will mark "a brighter era for the brothers of Jesus and for all men."

"I pray that the risen Christ will rise for the Jew," declared Rabbi Wise, president of the American Jewish Congress, as he concluded his address on "Religious and Racial Persecution."

Racial and religious persecutions, Dr. Wise contended, grow out of collective inferiority complexes "masquerading in all the panoply of pride and superiority."

A great measure of ill-will against the Jew, according to Dr. Wise, is bound up with the inferiority complex of Christian people who believe his devout and unshakable loyalty to the religion of his fathers masked an attempt to become superior.

Attempts to break down religious and racial good-will through appeals to bigotry have been shattered in this country on the "rock of American life," Dr. Wise declared. Nevertheless, he pointed out, there are today nearly 200 anti-Jewish organizations in the United States.

Praises Co-operation.

"Nothing could be more harmful to religion than religious persecutions," Dr. Wise asserted. He pointed out that religious persecution in Russia under the Czars played a large part in the final revolution against the church there.

"I give you a friendly warning," said Dr. Wise. "No measure of persecution will destroy the Jew or any other people."

In praising the growing close co-operation between Christian and Jewish religious groups in this country, Dr. Wise emphasized that if the movement is to continue to grow there "must not be the faintest intimation of patronage or condecension" in accepting the Jews to religious counsels.

In response to a question from the audience Dr. Wise said he thinks "it is admirable that the Catholic Church has seen fit to defend its children against the things happening in Germany."

Pleading to be excused from giving vent to his views on Hitler, Dr. Wise said:

"I don't want to put the State Department to the task of sending further communications to our already overworked ambassador in Berlin."

Soldiers of Justice.

Asked why Jews are generally considered to be Communistic, Dr. Wise said:

"We Jews are liberal and some of us are radical and to be liberal is to be a Communist. For insance, if I were to say that I favored President Roosevelt's plan for reorganization of the Supreme Court there would be some people who would say 'I always suspected Dr. Wise was a Communist.'"

For 4,000 years, Dr. Wise continued, the Jews have been soldiers of justice and believers in human freedom, and to be called Communistic for that struggle is a small penalty.

Edward Keating, editor of "Labor" and a panel member, refused to concur in Dr. Wise's contention that persecutions are the result of an inferiority complex resulting from ignorance. He said he knew of thousands of supposedly intelligent persons who are religious bigots.

"I believe bigotry is a form of insanity," said Keating.

Canon Anson Phelps Stokes, of Washington Cathedral, also a panel member, said he believed religious and racial persecutions resulted from a superiority, rather than an inferiority, complex. He pointed out that the Jews persecuted the early Christians and that the Romans persecuted the Christians but exempted the Jews.

King George Attends Rites In Tiny Church

Chill Weather Marks Easter for Most of U. S.; 75,000 See Oklahoma Pageant.

Windsor, England, March 28 (AP). Far from the crowds that watch their comings and going in London, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth today attended Easter services at the tiny church which Queen Victoria built for the tenants on the royal estate here.

Dressed like the average young couple, the King and Queen strolled a few hundred yards across the park to the church from the royal lodge, where they have been staying in virtual seclusion.

Texas Memorial Service.

New London, Tex., March 28 (AP). Hundreds of bereaved relatives and friends stood solemnly with moist eyes in crisp, bright weather this Easter afternoon and heard comforting words in a memorial service for the estimated 455 who died in a school gas explosion ten days ago.

Gathered at the scene of the school disaster, with the gaping foundation of the wrecked school in the foreground, they heard the condolences of the President of the United States and the spoken word of the Governor of Texas via radio.

Rites in Jerusalem.

Jerusalem, March 28 (AP).—Before a silver altar in front of the Tomb of Christ the Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem today celebrated the supreme miracle of the Christian faith, the resurrection of the Saviour.

A throng that filled every point of vantage in the great church looked on, and hundreds, unable to gain admission, milled outside.

Frosty N. Y. Parade.

New York, March 28 (AP).—The weather man made a frost of the Easter parade today, unloosing a near-gale wind and a temperature of 27 degrees to crowd society off the sidewalks of New York.

Snow flakes fell over Fifth avenue early, and the publicized spring fashions went under wraps. There were mostly mink coats and black caracul, and a few society people braved the spanking wind in spring coats.

Laughter in Madrid.

Madrid, March 28 (AP).—A bright and sunny Easter Sunday brought the people of Madrid flocking to the boulevards, laughing, nibbling peanuts and apparently unmindful of potential danger from shellfire.

Downtown streets were thronged with the men in uniform and women in dresses that had been put aside for special occasions. Many women led small children. Others carried babies in their arms. Insurgent guns that have been sending shells screaming into the center of the capital for weeks were silent as the Easter crowds filed into the streets.

Windsor at Church.

Vienna, March 28 (AP).—That the Duke of Windsor has abdicated another job, that of style dictator to the western world, was made clear today when he attended the Easter service of the Anglican Church here.

The former King of England was neatly but unobtrusively attired as he strode down the aisle, flanked on either side by natty Viennese Easter bonnets.

He wore a deep green, conventionally cut suit, with a shirt almost white but with a faint bluish tinge and a dark purple necktie with a dainty red stripe. The tie was the least successful item of the duke's apparel because it was carelessly knotted and was disposed to crawl out of the vest.

Mrs. Simpson Secluded.

Monts, France, March 28 (AP).—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson secluded herself within the Chateau de Cande today, shunning hundreds of Easter tourists who came here in the hope of seeing her. Persons came afoot and in cars, craned their necks outside the chateau grounds and waited for hours until nightfall drove them away.

75,000 Watch Pageant.

Lawton, Okla., March 28 (AP).—An estimated 75,000 bundled and shivering spectators saw the eleventh annual Wichita Mountain Easter pageant presented today in the 22-degree weather at the base of windswept Mount Roosevelt, near here.

Four thinly-clad actors in the drama depicting the life, and death and resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth were overcome by cold and taken to nearby homes.

Cold in Chicago.

Chicago, March 28 (AP).—Middle West residents worshipped the risen Christ and paraded their Easter finery beneath clear to partially cloudy skies, but cold temperatures today. Temperatures ranged from 32 to 40 degrees in the North Central States, with cloudy skies prevalent. In Chicago, thousands saw the Easter sun rise at a service in spacious Soldier Field on the lake front.

Youths of Capital Are Primed For Annual Egg-Rolling Fete

Crowd of 50,000 Is Expected to Take Part in Festivities This Morning on the White House Grounds.

At 9 a. m. today the Capital's annual egg-rolling fete at the White House will begin for an army of young egg-rollers and fans estimated at 50,000. Fair weather is predicted.

An untold quantity of hard-boiled eggs will be stepped on, smashed and fought over by a major part of the juvenile population of the city, while street cleaners, glowering, will hover in the background waiting to clean up the wreckage when the party is over at 5 p. m.

Unusual precautions have been taken for this year's Easter White House omelette. An extra strong fence has been built around the goldfish pond in order to keep youngsters from unwanted baths. A Red Cross first-aid tent will be ready to service children unexpectedly taken with black eyes or other injuries, gained in battles for possession of eggs. A lost baby bureau and a comfort station erected for the day complete arrangements.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will, as is the custom, act as hostess at the melee, bringing two of her grandchildren out to see the fun—4-year-old William Donner Roosevelt and 6-year-old Sara Rooseveltt.

Willy young racketeers, who for a fee of 25 cents, will become anyone's child, thus getting childless adults through the guarded gates, will be plying their trade as usual. The youngsters make a nice profit for the day, dashing in and out, bringing new parents inside every trip.

And as yet unestimated number of colored eggs and chocolate rabbits will be on hand—and face—for the Capital's strangest phenomena, which dates back so far into history that no one dares call it off.

Besides the eggs and candy bunnies, there will be vaudeville at one end of the lawn, where a few people will be able to see the entertainment. A red-coated Marine Band will toot appropriate music throughout the pogrom.

Easter Monday last year was rainy and cold, but nevertheless more than 48,000 people braved the weather. With "fair and warmer" the prediction for this morning, conservative guesses named 50,000 besiegers as today's likely minimum.

Children under 12 will be admitted any time from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., the White House has officially announced. After 3 p. m., adults will be allowed inside the grounds.

Four Young Easter Visitors Seriously Injured in Crash

Four young Easter visitors were seriously hurt last night when they were thrown through the roof of the taxicab in which they were riding. The cab was in collision with an auto at Third and E streets northwest.

The injured, who were removed to Emergency Hospital, were all from Bedford Village, N. Y. They are Robert Melany, 16, fractured skull; Victoria Kosokowski, 17, fractured back; Verner Hall, 18, possible fractured skull, and Virginia Daugherty, 16, possible internal injuries.

Police said the cab was operated by Nathan Davis, 32, of the 100 block of Randolph street northwest, and the other car by Harry F. Calloway, 30, 210 Indiana avenue northwest. Neither was hurt.

U. S. Joins 3 Powers Seeking Radio Pact

Havana, March 28 (AP).—Definite steps to bring order to the radio airways of North America have been taken by the four-nation radio conference, including representatives of Mexico, Cuba, Canada and the United States, T. A. M. Craven, chairman of the Federal Radio Commission, announced today.

Pope in Tears As He Is Carried From Cathedral

Pontiff Bestows Blessing on 150,000 Gathered in Rome Square.

By the Associated Press.

Vatican City, March 28.—Pope Pius XI wept today as he received the homage of thousands of fervently shouting Catholics who jammed St. Peter's Cathedral for the pontifical Easter mass.

A wave of emotion apparently swept over the Pontiff as he was borne from the cathedral on his portable throne at the conclusion of the ceremony. At the exit he ordered his throne turned around so that he could give a final benediction to the thousands of worshipers.

Great tears rolled down the cheeks of his holiness, still ashen from his long illness, as he gave the signal for his throne to be borne from the cathedral.

A few minutes later Pope Pius appeared on an outside balcony of St. Peter's to bestow the apostolic blessing on crowds, estimated at 150,000, which filled St. Peter's square.

Before he appeared on the Loggia the Pope rested for a few minutes in a wooden shelter especially constructed to shield him from the March wind. There a restorative was administered to his holiness by Dr. Amanti Milani, his chief physician. He also took a cordial and some hot broth.

The German ambassador to the Holy See did not attend the pontifical mass, nor did any members of the embassy. Prelates interpreted this as a sign of protest against the Pope's action in issuing a week ago his encyclical dealing with the state-church controversy in Germany.

However, Germany did not go unrepresented. Included in the congregation were Princess Cecelie, wife of the former Crown Prince of Germany, and her two children, Prince Frederick and Princess Cecelie. Another German present was Prince John George of Saxony.

The Pope was carried from his private apartment to the cathedral entrance in a chair. Just before the mass began he greeted the 27 cardinals assembled in his anteroom and administered his blessing. The Pope was visibly moved as he greeted the princes of the church.

$75,000 Fire Sweeps Home Near Warrenton

Warrenton, Va., March 28 (AP).—Fire, believed to have started in the furnace room, did damage estimated at $75,000 today to the home of Dr. Francis A. Georger, on the Lee highway, about 3 miles north of here.

Cherry Blooms Unhurt After Days of Cold

Smudge Pots Protecting Trees; Arrangement Committee to Meet Today.

Though the last few days have been dangerously cold, Washington's renowned cherry trees, with the help of 190 smudge pots, continue unharmed.

Moreover, the committee on festival arrangements, headed by Chairman C. Marshall Finnan, still clings to its prophecy that the trees will bloom sometime during the week of April 4.

At a meeting of the committee to be held this afternoon in the District Building, however, seers and guessers will join forces in an attempt to predict a specific date for the blooms.

In addition, James E. Colliflower will report that he still needs $450 to balance the festival budget. Contributions may be sent to him in care of District Commissioner Melvin Hazen at the District Building.

Elwood Seal and Edward A. Dent, of the seating committee, are striving to raise money by putting "chair privileges" on sale at the following places: Wardman Park, the Shoreham, the Mayflower, the Carlton, the Hamilton, the Washington, the Willard, the Raleigh, the Powhatan, the Dodge and the Continental hotels, the Keystone Automobile Club, the American Automobile Association, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and the Union Drug Co., in Union Station.

The festival ceremonies will include sunrise ceremonies, night fireworks, music by the United States Marine Band, and the Evelyn Davis Dancers in Japanese costumes.

Queen for the day will be 10-year-old Sakiko Saito, daughter of the Japanese Ambassador. She will be attended by her sister, Masako Saito, and by Miss Barbara Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Caldwell.

Goodwill Industries Drive Leader Named

Ernest H. Daniel, general chairman of the Goodwill Industries campaign which will be launched April 13, has appointed Mrs. Samuel Herrick chairman of the residential committee.

Mrs. Herrick was one of the founders of the Women's National Democratic Club and its president for a term. She has been active in the American Association of University Women, head of the civic education committee of the Twentieth Club, and a member of the Wellesley Club of Washington.

15,000 Join Dawn Service In Arlington

Mrs. Roosevelt Places Flowers on Tomb of Unknown Soldier.

Continued from Page 1.

be, such a thing as immortality, he said.

"But it took Jesus to die like a God, and bring new meaning to immortality," the preacher declared.

"He made clear that men should not only have immortality, but also life more abundantly—and he meant by that abundant life after death."

The scoffers, he pointed out, may laugh at the thought of everlasting life. But scoffers ridiculed the thought of airplanes, the radio, and hundreds of other scientific achievements. Their scoffing now cannot lend weight to the impossibility of eternal living.

Jesus died that man might live, the pastor said.

"And He stands in this silent place this morning and says: 'I am the Ressurection and the Life.'"

Maj. Alfred C. Oliver, jr., U. S. A., chaplain of Walter Reed Hospital, gave the closing prayer and the benediction.

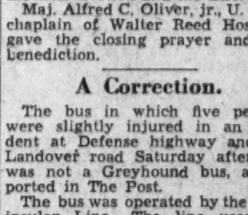
A Correction.

The bus in which five persons were slightly injured in an accident at Defense highway and the Landover road Saturday afternoon was not a Greyhound bus, as reported in The Post.

The bus was operated by the Peninsular Line. The line uses the terminal of the Greyhound Bus Co. here, but there is no connection between the two lines, L. C. Major, regional manager of the Greyhound Company, explained.

SEA FOOD
ALWAYS FRESH—NEVER FROZEN
Olmsted Grill
1336 G St. N.W.

RUG CLEANING
9x12 washed $2.75
REPAIRING—STORAGE
ALL RUGS INSURED FREE
Star Carpet Works
"Most in Service for Least in Cost"
3316-3318 P Street N.W. WEst 2320

SAID MRS. A TO MRS. B, REMEMBER TO USE
CARROLL'S THRIFT WASH


Carroll's
THRIFT WASH
Everything expertly and finely washed, Flat Work Ironed.
8c lb.
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday
7c lb.
Thursday, Friday, Saturday
Carroll's Laundry
ATlantic 3700

Jersey cows give the richest milk of all dairy breeds, so the EMBASSY Dairy offers an extra rich, full flavored
"Golden Jersey" Milk
—for folks who want the highest quality, and consequently the most nourishing dairy food that nature has provided. TRY a bottle —TODAY.
EMBASSY DAIRY
Full line of other fine dairy products delivered to city and suburban homes.
Phone ATlantic 0070

BRAKES
Relined, 4 Wheels, Complete
Ford, Chev. '28 to '34 — $4.50
'35 to '37 — $6.75
Plymouth, Chrysler, De Soto 6-S, Dodge, DD-DH, Essex '29-'35, Willys '37
Other Cars Proportionately Low
FREE ADJUSTMENTS!
GENERAL BRAKE SERVICE
903 N St. N.W. DE. 5483

This Fine WHISKEY Is GOING PLACES

30 Month's Old
CLARK'S MONOGRAM STRAIGHT RYE WHISKEY
Clark's MONOGRAM
STRAIGHT RYE ..... 30 Months Old
STRAIGHT BOURBON .. 2 Years Old
Clark's Straight Monogram Whiskies are going places with those who really appreciate good things to drink. Expertly distilled and carefully aged for 30 months (Bourbon, 2 years), these whiskies are regarded by thousands as best at the price.
$1.69 Quart
*Sold exclusively at 705 14th ST. N.W.
Clark's
PHONE NA. 3320-21

April to Bring Notable Films To the Capital

Loew Theaters Announce Imposing Catalogue of Spring Hits.

April, the month of showers, will be precisely that for patrons of the Loew houses in Washington, the Capitol, Palace and Columbia.

With the advent of this new month, the Loew Theaters will present a string of "big" pictures of infinite appeal and variety. From the line-up that follows it may readily be gleaned that the hit parade will not be confined to April but will carry on through successive months.

The April downpour of potential hits will be started by "Personal Property," described as a merry romance that brings together for the first time Robert Taylor and Jean Harlow. This will open Friday at Loew's Capitol Theater.

The next stellar product from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios will be "Parnell," with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy. Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell, in "Night Must Fall;" the insane Marx Brothers in "A Day at the Races," and the popular-price engagement of "Romeo and Juliet" will follow in chart order.

From United Artists, the approaching hits are "Knight Without Armor," co-starring Marlene Dietrich and Charles Boyer, and "A Star Is Born," bringing together Janet Gaynor and Frederick March.

To this already bountiful crop, the Twentieth Century-Fox cinematic creations, exclusively presented here by Loew's, will contribute what might be called a "Big Seven." Included in this group will be Shirley Temple in her most elaborate vehicle, "Wee Willie Winkie," based on Rudyard Kipling's colorful story and with a cast that includes Victor McLaglen, the scheming Cesar Romero, C. Aubrey Smith and June Lang; the anxiously awaited "Seventh Heaven," with Simone Simon and James Stewart, and Walter Winchell, Ben Bernie, Alice Faye, Grace Bradley, Walter Catlett and a whole carload of favorites in "Wake Up and Live," said to be the last word and note in musical comedy merry-go-rounds.

Then comes Warner Baxter in another characterization that will rival his Dr. Mudd, in the dramatic saga of the slave trade, "Slave Ship," with Wallace Beery, Elizabeth Allan, Mickey Rooney, George Sanders, Helen Westley, Joseph Schildkraut, Minna Gombell, Paul Hurst and many others in an imposing cast.

Don Ameche heads a gay cast in "Fifty Roads to Town," a breezy, sprightly comedy romance; Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, real-life sweethearts, become reel lovers in "This Is My Affair," said to be one of Darryl Zanuck's biggest screen undertakings and including a most important aggregation of male players with Victor McLaglen, Brian Donlevy, Sidney Blackmer, Alan Dinehart, Robert McWade, John Carradine, DeWitt Jennings, Frank Conroy and Willard Robertson supporting the co-stars.

The "Big Seven" comes to a halt with "Cafe Metropole," with Loretta Young, Tyrone Power, Adolphe Menjou, Gregory Ratoff, Helen Westley, Bill Robinson, Charles Winninger and many others of note in an uproarious comedy romance in which most anything can happen—and does.

These attractions will be bulwarked with others from the Paramount studios.

Gayety

"MERRY MAIDENS." Independent Burlesque Association production in two acts and 27 scenes, featuring Max Coleman and Diana Logan, supported by Al Golden, Harry Bentley, Charles Cornell, Chuck Arthur, Frances McAvoy, Claudia Ferris, Mickey Dennis, Ruth Coburn and the Dancing Ensemble. Staged by James J. Lake. Reviewed Sunday matinee by W. A. Whitney. BCAA.

While there are plenty of reasons why this current offering of the Independent Burlesque Association should be denominated "Merry Maidens" it is actually Al Golden—not to be confused with him who adds the "Jr." to his name—who runs away with highest entertainment honors. Golden is one of those rare individuals who, though billed as a straight man, deliver performances which quite outshine those of the comics with whom he is associated.

And when one can steal comedy from Max Coleman, that is something. But Golden does it, and while Coleman still draws his quantum of laughs, it is his stooge who sends the audience all but rolling in the aisles. All this, of course, goes without depreciation to Harry Bentley, assisted by Charles Cornell, as straight, both of whom are to be numbered among the ranking members of their profession.

On the distaff side of the program, the chief of the merry-making maidens is brick-topped Diana Logan, who, abetted in earlier scenes by the revelatory talents of brunette Frances McAvoy and blonde Mickey Dennis, leaves little to be desired in the tantalizing exposure of feminine pulchritude.

Claudia Ferris, a solo danseuse, hard presses the association's prima ballerinas for effective interpretations of the art of Terpsichore. Ruth Cobur nwarbles several sweet melodies and Chuck Arthur triple-taps some hot routines. The dancing ensemble is of high quality, and the entire production mounted in characteristic sumptuousness by Col. James J. Lake.

Rialto

"AMBASSADOR BILL." Twentieth-Century-Fox reissue of the picturization suggested by Vincent Sheean's "Ambassador from the United States," with screen play by Guy Bolton, starring the late Will Rogers, supported by Marguerite Churchill, Greta Nissen, Tad Alexander, Ray Milland, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Arnold Korff, Ferdinand Munier, Edwin Maxwell, Ernest Woods and Tom Rickets. Directed by Sam Taylor.

"STAND UP AND CHEER." Twentieth Century-Fox revival of the picturization of a story idea by Will Rogers and Philip Klein, with dialogue by Ralph Spence, lyrics by Lew Brown, and music by Sammy Lee, featuring Warner Baxter, supported by Shirley Temple, Madge Evans, James Dunn, Sterin Frost, John Boles, Arthur Byron, Ralph Morgan, Jimmy Dallas, "Aunt Jemima," Mitchell & Durant, Nigel Bruce and Joyce Fairbairn. Directed by Hamilton MacFadden. Reviewed by T. Johnson Williams.

As America's free-lance ambassador—without portfolio—the late Will Rogers received not a little public notice. It is fitting, therefore, that the picture inspired by that attention should once more be upon a local screen. "Ambassador Bill," while perhaps not Mr. Rogers' best picture, is nonetheless one which offers the beloved star in a congenial role.

How Mr. Rogers goes to Transylvania and how he fixes difficulties in the royal family and the government need no recounting, for in this work, as it was in those which both preceded and followed this 1931 opus, it is the character of the Ambassador which tops anything else.

The complementary production—one for which Mr. Rogers himself was partly responsible—is "Stand Up and Cheer," the work which first brought Shirley Temple widespread notice. Surely you recall the picture, of vintage 1934, wherein was depicted the establishment of a U. S. Department of Amusement, with Warner Baxter as the secretary.

A glance at the italicized credits above will give a good idea of the entertainment values of both pictures. A release of Paramount News is added.

Little

"ESCAPE ME NEVER." United Artists release of the British & Dominions picturization of the play by Margaret Kennedy, with screen play by her and Carl Zuckmayer, starring Elisabeth Bergner, supported by Hugh Sinclair, Penelope Dudley-Ward, Griffith Jones, Lyn Harding, Leon Quartermain and Irene VanBrugh. Directed by Dr. Paul Czinner. Reviewed (revival) by Richard Q. Jones.

Few English actresses have achieved the American appeal that Elisabeth Bergner has, and, whether it be new or old, a picture with her is always an event. In "Escape Me Never," Miss Bergner returns once again to delight us in the dramatic story of Gemma Jones, a waif and unmarried mother, who, knowing the worst, prefers to stick by her man.

Directed by Dr. Paul Czinner, the picture runs the gamut of emotional display by the star, with commendable interpretations by the supporting cast. Partly filmed in Venice and the Dolomites, the natural beauty of the settings further enhances the power of the drama, in which complete sincerity of presentation in every department is particularly marked.

The supporting bill is headed by "Trees," an eyes-and-ears color presentation of Joyce Kilmer's immortal poem; "The Hare and the Tortoise," a color cartoon, and "Master Will Shakespeare," a rehabilitation of the playwright and Stratford-upon-Avon.

Film Table

Palace—"Maytime," at 11 a .m., 1:35, 4:10, 6:45 and 9:25 a. m.

Earle — "King and the Chorus Girl," at 9:45 a. m., 12:10, 2:35, 5, 7:25 and 9:35 p. m.. Stage shows at 11:25 a. m., 1:50, 4:20, 6:45 and 9:10 p. m.

RKO-Keith's—"Quality Street," at 11:51 a. m., 1:51, 3:51, 5:51, 7:51 and 9:51 p. m. "March of Time," at 11:31 a. m., 1:31, 3:31, 5:31, 7:31 and 9:31 p. m.

Loew's Capitol—"A Family Affair," at 10:15 a. m., 12:35, 2:55, 5:15, 7:50 and 10:15 p. m. Stage shows at 11:30 a. m., 1:50, 4:10, 6:50 and 9:10 p. m.

Metropolitan — "No Man of Her Own," at 11:40 a. m., 1:40, 3:40, 5:40, 7:40 and 9:40 p. m.

Columbia — "Last of Mrs. Cheyney," at 11:10 a. m., 1:15, 3:25, 5:30, 7:35 and 9:45 p. m.

Rialto—"Stand Up and Cheer," at 11:04 a. m., 1:24, 3:44, 6:04 and 8:32 p. m. "Ambassador Bill," at 12:19, 12:39, 4:59, 7:27 and 9:55 p. m.

LittleTheater—"Escape Me Never," at 11:33 a. m., 1:31, 3:34, 5:37, 7:40 and 9:44 p. m.

Trans-Lux—Newsreel and Shorts, at 10 and 11:15 a. m., 12:30, 1:45, 3, 4:15, 5:30, 6:45, 8, 9:15 and 10:45 p.m.

Trivoli—"When You're in Love," at 1:45, 3:40, 5:35, 7:30 and 9:35 p. m.

Ambassador — "King and the Chorus Girl," at 2, 3:55, 5:50, 7:45 and 9:45 p. m.

Uptown—"Lloyd's of London," at 2:25, 4:45, 7:05 and 9:30 p. m.

Nelson B. Bell About The Show Shops

Many Present Film Stars Secured Start in Radio Recent Survey of Sources of Screen Talent Shows

Once-Despised Medium Now Produces Its Full Quota of Clever Performers Well Adapted to Cinema; What Happened to the Elephants in That Indoor Circus at Loew's Capitol; An Expert Corrects a Tyro on the Matter of What a Locust Really Is; News and Gossip of the Amusement World.

MOTION pictures, eagerly conducting an unceasing search for new talent, are meeting with greatest success in the field of radio, Hollywood's recent records reveal.

Getting off to what may be colloquially referred to as a "bad start" by presenting a series of "artists" who were definite "flops" on the screen, the air lanes now are competing with the Broadway stage and the "little theaters" of America as a source of usable camera material.

BELL.

Within the past year Nelson Eddy, Gladys Swarthout, James Melton, Frank Forrest, Dorothy Lamour, Jack Benny, Burns and Allen, Bob Burns, one of The Post's humorists in print; Martha Raye, and numerous others have found a present and, presumably, permanent place in the film colony.

Miss Lamour, one of the most recent to be singled out for favor, was a sustaining artist on a national radio network and sang with an orchestra. She now is appearing with Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray in "Swing High, Swing Low," to be seen on the screen at the Warner Brothers' Earle Theater beginning Friday, after having done rather well by herself and the cinema in "The Jungle Princess."

Jack Benny, ranked as the No. 1 man of the ether waves, has acquitted himself in high feather in such frivolous things as "The Big Broadcast of 1937" and in "College Holiday," with burns and Allen. Martha Raye and Bob Burns, starting from scratch in "Rhythm on the Range," with Bing Crosby, now are ranking screen personalities. They are working again with Crosby in "Waikiki Wedding" and both are headed for individual stardom.

Joe Cook is clicking, as the saying goes, in "Arizona Mahoney," and Joe Penner is under contract to RKO-Radio, duck and all. James Melton is at Warner Brothers-First National, and Eddie Cantor, one of the ace radio stars, is with Samuel Goldwyn, as everyone knows. Frank Forrest and Gladys Swarthout, both with famous operatic voices, are on the Paramount lot. Doris Weston, newest radio "find," is playing opposite Dick Powell in "The Singing Marine," at Warners.

And that's the way it goes—up one day and down the next, or vice versa. Just think what television will do—if it ever gets here.

• • • •

Having been the one to remark in Saturday morning's review upon the misbehavior of one of the elephants appearing in the indoor circus at Loew's Capitol Theater this week, it is no more than fair to announce that any threat to the welfare of the Easter audiences has been removed by he elimination of the elephants from the stage routine. It seems that the whole trouble arose from the fact that a third pachyderm—too big to get into the theater and on the stage, incidentally—necessarily had to be eliminated from the act. This left the other two at a complete loss as to what was expected of them since this towering bull was the leader in everything they were supposed to do.

There is no further threat to audience comfort or peace of mind and after having made the crack about the rebellious trumpeter's having attempted to sit down in my lap, I thought you ought to know.

She didn't sit down in my lap, by the way, but she would have come close if I hadn't sidestepped into the aisle with my left high and still weaving!

• • • •

The mail brings a cordial and kindly correction of a misapprehension on the part of this desk. It is dated March 26, over the signature of Mathilda M. Carpenter, librarian, Division of Insects, United States National Museum, Washington, D. C., and is as follows:

Dear Sir: In your remarks this morning concerning the picture, "The Good Earth," I noticed your statement, "That the locusts turned out to be grasshoppers in no way lessened the tremendous sweep of an incident in the picture, etc." It happens that locusts are grasshoppers and calling the cicada a locust is a misnomer. In the Bible when mention is made of locusts, it refers to grasshoppers, of course. I thought perhaps you might be interested to know the difference. This misunderstanding is quite prevalent among most laymen. Incidentally, I am very fond of your column and count that day lost when I have not had an opportunity to read it."

I am grateful to my correspondent for two reasons. One is the correction of the consequences of my abysmal ignorance of scientific entomology; the other is to be found in the closing lines of her letter.

The genesis of my confusion is not hard to trace. When a small boy in my native town, where all of the streets were coolly shaded by aged maple trees, there once came a devastating swarm of what were known to the laity as "17-year locusts." They emitted strange songs and perched in the trees, with their gossamer wings buzzing, and certainly were not grasshoppers. They must have been the aforementioned cicada.

In passing, it may be said that authentic information is to the effect that the locust plague scenes of "The Good Earth"—and they are among the most amazing in the picture—were filmed in one of the Dakotas during a comparatively recent grasshopper plague and were dubbed in to the action of the M-G-M film by the process known as "montage."

At any rate, I am grateful for Miss Carpenter's letter. Learn one thing each day is what I always say—well, almost always!

• • • •

Tomorrow night in the White House, Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, wife of the President, will present the National Achievement Award to Katharine Cornell. Miss Cornell is the first actress to receive this distinction. Following the dinner, Mrs. Eleanor Robson Belmont and Alexander Woollcott will speak at the reception to be attended by many prominent Americans.

• • • •

From Vice President and General Manager Leonard B. Schloss there arrives word that Glen Echo Park, over which he has presided since a time when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, to whittle out an entirely new one, will inaugurate its 1937 season on Saturday, April 17.

Howard L. Huddleston will be in charge of advertising and publicity for Glen Echo this season and will be the contact man between the popular resort, high on the banks of the Potomac, and the local press. Mr. Huddleston will be welcome in these precincts.

• • • •

Playing Safe Note.

You certainly looked like a million yesterday in that new hat and orchid corsage, even if you did almost freeze to death.

Again Purloins Pearls on F St.

JOAN CRAWFORD,

who, with William Powell and Robert Montgomery, stars in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," M.-G.-M.'s picturization of the Frederic Lonsdale play, brought back to Loew's Columbia Theater as chief screen feature of the current week.

In Hollywood

With JIMMY FIDLER

Hollywood, March 29.—One of the most inspiring friendships in the colony is that of Clark Gable and Robert Taylor. You might think that these two, competing for top stardom on the same lot, would be jealous of each other. Most screen players thrown into such circumstances are insanely jealous. Clark and Bob lunch together, go on hunting and fishinging trips and apparently are as chummy as two kids on a high school football team.

GABLE.

From conversations I have had with them individually, I know that Bob idolizes Clark, and in turn, Gable says of Taylor, "He is one swell guy."

• • • •

As they lunch together in the studio cafe, they form an odd picture. Gable is dark, outdoorishly swarthy. Taylor is fair-skinned. Clark constantly wears that boyish grin on his lips and in his eyes. Taylor's expression is generally serious, the face of a student. Yet, despite his boyish appeal, Gable makes Bob look much younger by comparison.

• • • •

I am positive that to say one harsh word to either about the other would bring a crack on the jaw. Yet both realize they are professional rivals for the most coveted roles on the lot, and both know that upon getting those depends their continuance among the first ten box-office attractions. In similar situations, I have seen other stars grow to hate each other. That is why the Gable-Taylor friendship makes me marvel.

• • • •

Alfred G. Vanderbilt, millionaire sportsman, tells this one on himself and Fred Astaire. He was spending an evening with the star, and as a special treat Fred arranged to show a widely publicized foreign picture in his private projection room. Vanderbilt, tired after a busy day with his horses, slept through most of the picture.

• • • •

When it was over, he maneuvered his host into a corner where he confessed his dereliction. Then he asked for a few tips about the picture so that he might talk intelligently to Mrs. Astaire.

• • • •

Whereupon Fred glanced cautiously around before he leaned close to whisper, "Shhhh! I was asleep, too."

• • • •

I stopped in Margot Grahame's dressing room today and found her fit to be tied. Weeks before her mother and father left England to visit Hollywood, Margot wrote them to bring over a supply of her favorite cigarettes. Ten minutes after their arrival she plunged in search of the smokes.

• • • •

She found them—and that is why she was fit to be tied today. Her parents had forgotten the name of her special brand, and had lugged a case of American cigarettes all the way from England. "Not only that," Miss Grahame fumed, "but they are an American brand manufactured in England, not half as good as the same brand made in America."

• • • •

Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone had just returned from an outing in the mountains when I met her in a boulevard shop. "We had a glorious time in the snow," she exclaimed, "but Franchot almost spoiled things by giving me only two skiis instead of three." "Why three?" I wanted to know. "Goodness, you don't think I was on my feet all the time, do you?" Joan explained.

Contract Bridge

By Mrs. Ely Culbertson.

Expert Disagreement.

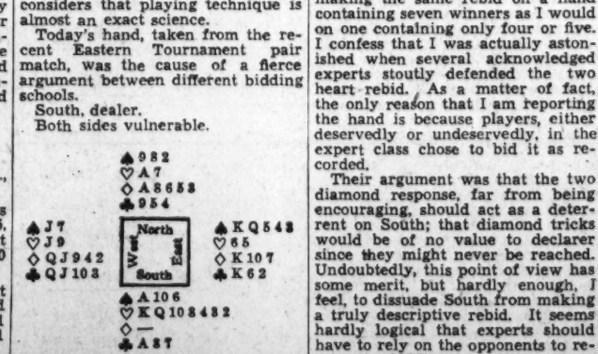
One often hears an inexperienced player say "How can we dubs know what to do when the experts disagree among themselves?"

There is a great deal of truth in this plaint—experts do not always see eye to eye with one another, particularly in matters of bidding. Where the play is concerned there is usually complete unanimity, which is understandable when one considers that playing technique is almost an exact science.

Today's hand, taken from the recent Eastern Tournament pair match, was the cause of a fierce argument between different bidding schools.

South, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.



The bidding, as it occurred at five or six tables, was as follows:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	2 ◇	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	Pass	2 ♠
3 ♡	Pass	4 ♡	Pass
Pass	Pass

Obviously, there was nothing to the play as ten tricks were an absolute laydown. The verbal battle that sprung up in the inevitable post-mortem raged around South's two heart rebid.

Let it be distinctly understood that I myself do not feel that there is ground for argument. I cannot express myself too strongly in condemning the two heart rebid as an unconscionable underbid. All my instincts revolt at the thought of making the same rebid on a hand containing seven winners as I would on one contalning only four or five. I confess that I was actually astonished when several acknowledged experts stoutly defended the two heart rebid. As a matter of fact, the only reason that I am reporting the hand is because players, either deservedly or undeservedly, in the expert class chose to bid it as recorded.

Their argument was that the two diamond response, far from being encouraging, should act as a deterrent on South; that diamond tricks would be of no value to declarer since they might never be reached. Undoubtedly, this point of view has some merit, but hardly enough, I feel, to dissuade South from making a truly descriptive rebid. It seems hardly logical that experts should have to rely on the opponents to reopen the bidding in order to get to game. (Incidentally, East should not be blamed in a match point game for putting in his belated spade bid.)

There are times when I grow a little skeptical as to the expertness of experts!

Copyright, 1937, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Flying Collegians Gather HereToday

More than 100 delegates from 40 colleges and universities will convene here today for the third National Intercollegiate Flying Conference. A three-day program, culminating in the award of the Loening Trophy to the outstanding flying club last year, is sponsored by the National Aeronautic Association.

Many of the delegates are expected to arrive this morning in their own planes. Most of them are active pilots.

The three-day program will be devoted to general discussion of college flying problems, with conferences and meetings arranged by the Aero Club of Washington. Leading figures in commercial and military aviation are expected to speak at various meetings, including a discussion of dirigibles in trans-oceanic flying by Commander C. E. Rosendahl, of the Navy.

The Post's New Yorker

By LEONARD LYONS

MOVIES: Leo Gorcey is the youngster who portrays "Spit" in "Dead End." Leo leaves for Hollywood shortly, to appear in the movie version of that play . . . His father, Bernard Gorcey, portrayed the role of "Isaac Cohen" in the film, "Abie's Irish Rose." Leo, proud of his father's screen accomplishment, therefore is making appropriate gestures before entering upon his own screen career. He's changing his name—to Bernard Gorcey, jr.

• • • •

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT: A young man came to the Harlem Uproar House, with a view toward reserving the entire club for a private function. Jay Faggen, the proprietor, was querulous "In this business," he explained, "before you turn the club over to an entire organization, you've got to be sure they're the right kind of people." The young man smiled. "Perhaps," he said, "it would interest you to know that our committee is composed of Mrs. Herbert Lehman, wife of the Governor; Mrs. Fiorello LaGuardia, wife of the mayor; Mrs. Felix Warburg, wife of the financier, and Mrs. Mortimer Katz." Faggen wrinkled his brow. "Who," he asked, "is Mrs. Katz?"

• • • •

SOCIAL NOTES: The Dell Publishing Co. is featuring a new magazine entitled "The Royal Family." It was published especially for the coronation season, and concerns the British royal family . . . The magazine is replete with photographs of the new king, as well as those of some of his ancestors. The pictures of only two females appear therein—Mrs. Simpson and Queen Victoria . . . The photograph of Victoria actually is a picture made by the New York Times, and the subject isn't Queen Victoria at all. It's a photo of Peter Joray—masquerading as the queen!

• • • •

MUSIC DEPARTMENT: John D. Rockefeller, jr., still is unaware of this event, which occurred in his Bar Harbor home some years ago. He was giving a dinner party and phoned Meyer Davis, then vacationing at Seal Harbor, to furnish an orchestra of 25 musicians. Davis agreed, and too late discovered that only 15 good instrumentalists lived in that region. At the party, however, Davis furnished the 25 men—and Mr. Rockefeller complimented him upon the excellence of the music. He never discovered that 10 of the musicians—violinists—never had played before. They were clerks, bell hops and handymen of the neighborhood. Their bows had been soaped, so that scraping as hard as they could, no sound came forth.

• • • •

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT: The Messrs. Shubert have advertised for a strip-teaser to substitute for Gypsy Rose Lee . . . As a result, a pretty, young girl will picket the Winter Garden Theater stage-door today, bearing a sign reading: "Mr. Shubert—you advertise for a strip-teaser to replace Gypsy Rose Lee. Why go farther? Call us for the best in America—Herbert and Morton Minsky, Oriental Theater, next block."

• • • •

THEATER DEPARTMENT: After hectic argument, the N. Y. T. P. A., the new press agents' organization, decided to permit their assistants to join up, as juniors. When the roll was called at Sunday's meeting, they discovered that only four members are in the junior class. They did not vote, did not nominate officers, did not speak . . . while their elders spent four hours drawing up the first framework of a basic minimum contract . . . After it was over, Ray Henderson, acting chairman, spied the drooping juniors, and asked what they might have to say for the welfare of the organization . . . "When," asked the youngsters, "is our first dance?"

• • • •

HELP WANTED: Mrs. Berdie Gimbel, of the Philadelphia Gimbels, required a new cook in her home and instructed her maid to insert an ad in the German-Democrat . . . The next day applicants began phoning. "I'm German, but not a Democrat," one informed . . . "I'm a Democrat," another confessed, "but not German." . . . Mrs. Gimbel made inquiry and discovered that the maid had misunderstood her. She had inserted the ad in another Philadelphia paper, demanding as qualifications that the applicant must be German-Democrat.

Nonstop Airline To Chicago Opens

Nonstop airplane service between Washington and Chicago, covering the 683 airline miles at speeds of 200 miles an hour and better, will be inaugurated by American Airlines on April 1, it was announced yesterday by Charles A. Rheinstrom, vice president of the company.

The daily trip each way will be made in a luxurious 21-passenger liner, built by Douglas, the largest and fastest land plane yet developed for domestic use.

Westbound the trip is completed in 3 hours and 55 minutes, leaving Washington at 5:30 p. m. Eastbound the plane will leave Chicago at 6:05 p. m., arriving at Washington at 9:40, 3 hours and 35 minutes later.

For several years American has operated twice daily flights from Washington to Chicago, with intermediate stops at Cincinnati and Indianapolis. These schedules will be continued, using 14-place Douglases as before, but flying time will be decreased 22 minutes on the 9:15 a. m. flight and 34 minutes on the 4 p. m. plane.

Arthur Joseph Hedges, Visitor, Falls Dead Here

Arthur Joseph Hedges, 68, Railway Express Co. employe of Wollaston, Mass., fell dead here in the Capital Park Hotel while he was registering for a short stay.

With Hedges was his wife, Mrs. Kate Hedges. Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald issued a certificate of death due to a heart attack.

What's Going On And Where

Luncheons.

Washington Executives Association, Willard Hotel, 12:30 p. m.

Alpha Delta Phi, Women's City Club, 12:30 p. m.

Society of American Military Engineeers, Army and Navy Club, 12:30 p. m.

Dinners.

Worcester Academy Alumni, Lafayette Hotel, 6:30 p. m.

Boveglio Club, Lafayette Hotel, 7 p. m.

Italian Fishing Club, 10 p. m., Shoreham Hotel.

Benjamin B. French Lodge, No. 15, Willard Hotel, 7 p. m.

Meetings.

Hook, Line and Sinker Club, 8 p. m., Willard Hotel.

Catholic Association for International Peace, Mayflower Hotel, 7 p. m.

Trinidad Citizens Association, Wheatley School Library, 8:15 p. m.

Massachusetts Society, Wardman Park Hotel, 8:15 p. m.

Dances.

The Boveglio Club, Lafayette Hotel, 7 p. m.

Italian Fishing Club, Shoreham Hotel, 8 p. m.

Ball of the Nations, Mayflower Hotel, 10 p. m.

Conferences.

National Association of Land-Grant Colleges, Willard Hotel, 9 a. m.

Band Concerts.

United States Marine Band, White House, 3 p. m.

United States Navy Band, Sail Loft, Navy Yard, 2 p. m.

Canal Zone Sergeant Killed

Cristobal, Canal Zone, March 28 (AP).—Sergt. Henry Paul Jones, attached to the Twenty-fifth Bombardment Squadron at France Field here, was killed today when an automobile he was driving collided with a truck.

Circus Starts North.

Sarasota, Fla., March 28 (AP).—The Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus, a harbinger of spring as sure as the first robin, will leave winter quarters here this week for New York.

Rent your spare room with a Post Classified Ad. Just call an Ad Writer, National 4200.

AMUSEMENTS

NATIONAL TONIGHT 8:30 SHARP! MATINEES WED. AND SAT. AT 2:30
MAX GORDON presents the ★★★★ Musical Play Production Conceived & Directed by HASSARD SHORT
THE GREAT WALTZ
Same Brilliant Cast and Gorgeous Production as Last Season Now Presented at These New Low Prices.
Evgs., 55c, $1.10, $1.65, $2.20 & $2.75. Wed. & Sat. Mats., 55c to $2.20 (inc. tax).

Starts SUNDAY NIGHT APRIL 4TH at 8:30
SEAT SALE Starts THURSDAY
Pearl Buck's PRIZE WINNING NOVEL WITH THE 1936 ACADEMY AWARD WINNERS TOGETHER FOR THE FIRST TIME. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's
THE GOOD EARTH
PAUL Muni starring LUISE Rainer
MUNI • RAINER
MATS., 55c, 83c, $1.10
EVES., 55c, 83c, $1.10, $1.65
(INCLUDING TAX)
ALL SEATS RESERVED • TWICE DAILY 2:30 - 8:30
NATIONAL

5 Shows Today—Doors Open 9:30
Warner Bros.
EARLE 25c to 1 P.M.
NOW SHOWING
FERNAND GRAVET
In Warner Bros.—Mervyn Le Roy's
"KING & CHORUS GIRL"
with JOAN BLONDELL
On Stage
JAN GARBER & ORCH.
Next Attraction CAROLE LOMBARD & FRED MAC MURRAY in "SWING HIGH, SWING LOW" On Stage BENT CRAWFORD
"KING & CHORUS GIRL" Can Also Be Seen Today & Tomorrow, At The Ambassador

METROPOLITAN
NOW SHOWING
CLARK GABLE ☆ CAROLE LOMBARD
In Paramount's
"NO MAN OF HER OWN"
Brought Back By Popular Demand
•Prices, Mat. 25c-Eve. 25c & 40c

Loew's CAPITOL F at 14th
NOW
Glorious . . . uproarious . . .
"A FAMILY AFFAIR"
with
LIONEL BARRYMORE
OGDILIA PARKER • ERIC LINDEN STAGE
GALA INDOOR CIRCUS
A thrilling carnival for the whole family

Loew's PALACE F at 13th
NOW
Unforgettable . . . !
Jeanette MacDonald
Nelson EDDY
in "MAYTIME"

Loew's COLUMBIA F at 12th
Joan CRAWFORD • Wm. POWELL
Robt. MONTGOMERY "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney"
25c to 5:30 Nights, 25c • 40c

TODAY'S Neighborhood MOVIES
(NEW) CIRCLE 2105 Pa. Ave. Phone West 0053
Joan Bennett, Cary Grant in "WEDDING PRESENT."
Cartoon—News.
DUMBARTON 1343 Wisconsin Ave.
Humphrey Bogart in "BLACK LEGION."
Comedy—News.
FAIRLAWN ANACOSTIA, D. C.
Gladys Swarthout, Fred MacMurray in "CHAMPAGNE WALTZ."
Cartoon.
SECO 8244 Ga. Ave., Silver Spring, Md.
Special Matinee 2 P. M.
Shirley Temple in "STOWAWAY."
STATE-BETHESDA 6910 Wisc. Ave., Bethesda, Md.
Loretta Young in "LOVE IS NEWS."
News—Cartoon—Comedy.
Matinee 2 P. M. Cont.
FALLS CHURCH, VA.
STATE NO PARKING WORRIES LEE
Tyronne Power, Freddie Bartholomew in "LLOYDS OF LONDON." | Ray Milland in "BULLDOG DRUMMOND ESCAPES."
TAKOMA 4th and Butternut Sts. No Parking Troubles
Sonja Henie in "ONE IN A MILLION."
Selected Short Subjects.
WILSON Opp. Colonial Village Arlington, Va.
Loretta Young, Don Ameche, Tyronne Power in "LOVE IS NEWS"
Direction Sidney Lust
HIPPODROME K Near 9th Today, Tom.
Marlene Dietrich, "Garden of Allah." March of Time.
CAMEO MT. RAINIER, MD. Today.
Irene Dunne, "Theodora Goes Wild."
ARCADE Hyattsville, Md. Today, Tom.
Shirley Temple in "STOWAWAY."
RICHMOND ALEXANDRIA, VA. Today, Tom.
Loretta Young in "Love Is News."
BERNHEIMER'S
JESSE THEATER 18th & Irving Sts. N.E.
Bobby Breen, May Robson in "RAINBOW ON THE RIVER."
Also, March of Time.
SYLVAN 1st and R. I. Ave. N.W.
Gene Raymond, Ann Sothern in "SMARTEST GIRL IN TOWN."
PALM THEATER DEL RAY, VA.
Kay Francis, Ian Hunter in "STOLEN HOLIDAY."

AMUSEMENTS.
RKO NOW KEITH'S
KATHARINE HEPBURN and FRANCHOT TONE in
IN J. M. BARRIE'S
"QUALITY STREET"
AND... the NEW issue of "The MARCH of TIME"
Coming...
CHARLES BOYER
JEAN ARTHUR in
"HISTORY is MADE at NIGHT"

BELASCO Opposite White House
GRAND OPENING TONIGHT
First Time on the Stage Anywhere
"Hitch Your Wagon"
With
George Curzon | Dennie Moore | Joseph Greenwald
(A Skyrocketing Lark)
By Bernard C. Schoenfeld
Matinee—Thurs. & Sat.
Popular Prices—Phone NA. 0149

THE CORCORAN GALLERY OF ART
15th Biennial Exhibition
Contemporary American Oil Paintings
On view daily from March 28-May 9
Easter Sunday—2 to 6 p. m.
Easter Monday—9 a. m.-4:30 p. m.
Friday Evenings—7:30 to 10

RIALTO 9th St. ABOVE G. OPENS 10:30 A.M.
WILL ROGERS
IN
"AMBASSADOR BILL"
and
"STAND UP AND CHEER"
Shirley Temple - Warner Baxter

LITTLE THEATRE 9th ST. ABOVE F
WE BRING BACK THE BIG ONES!
Elisabeth BERGNER
in ESCAPE ME NEVER

TRANS-LUX 14th & H Sts., N.W.
Films of Headline News
Travel, Sport, Comedy
Cont. 10 A.M. to Midnight
Programs Change Friday
Admission (All Hours) 25c

TIBBETT
NEXT SAT. AFT.—3 P. M.
Famous American Baritone of Metropolitan Opera Assn. IN PERSON! IN RECITAL!
Constitution Hall, 18th & C.
Postponed from Sun., Mar. 21.
Seats: Mrs. Dorsey's, 1300 G.
WASHINGTON CIVIC THEATER
Four Evgs., Wed., March 31, Sat., Apr. 3
"GIRLS IN UNIFORM"
AT WARDMAN PARK THEATER
Evgs. at 8:30. Prices $1.50, $1, 75c, 50c
Reserve seats by phone, District 1600
Now on Sale Hotel Raleigh Lobby.

Rookie Catcher Is Losing Pitcher as Red Sox Beat Nats, 13-12

Braddock Moves To Reopen Berlin Title Fight Offer

Gould Reported Asking Schmeling Whether Bid Is Still Open, Though Pilot Claims He Won't Consider Offer Until It Is Boosted to $400,000.

By the Associated Press.

New York, March 28.—By way of keeping up the accepted fight policy of something daffy and different daily, Joe Jacobs came from behind his big black cigar today to state that Heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock is once again considering the offer for a Max Schmeling fight in Berlin.

Coming on top of a comic-opera argument over whether the titleholder or "two other guys" was served with papers in Madison Square Garden's suit to prevent the Braddock-Joe Louis Chicago bout, this development led all observers to the belief that the slaphappy heavyweight situation needed nothing so much as a nice long rest.

Jacobs' assertion that Braddock is reconsidering the $350,000 offer for a Berlin Schmeling fight, which he turned down only a week ago, stirred up the second set of announcements and denials of the week-end.

Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, declared he is not reconsidering the Berlin fight unless the guarantee is boosted to $400,000. He admitted Jacobs' statement that he had been in contact by telephone aboard the liner which is carrying him back to Germany, but said the fight proposition didn't come up—that the call was about something entirely different.

Jacobs, Schmeling's American representative, countered with the announcement that Gould had asked if the proposition was still open, and that Schmeling, who withdrew the offer before he left, had advised the titleholder's pilot that he would have to wait until he reached Germany to find out if it could be reopened. All of which Gould flatly denied.

The give-and-take between Gould and Jacobs, although contradictory, was mild compared to the tempest stirred up over service of papers in the Garden's suit. On one side was the Garden, whose attorney announced Braddock was served outside his home in Woodcliff, N. J., yesterday with a Federal court order to show cause on April 5 why he should not be restrained from meeting Louis in Chicago on June 22.

On the other hand, Gould declared Braddock had not been served, but would accept service, through his lawyer, Judge Samuel B. Gould (Joe's brother), tomorrow. Joe Gould maintained the man served by deputy United States marshals was one "Gunshot Williams," a heavyweight of sorts, but certainly not the champion.

Then William McDermitt, United States marshal in Newark, said his deputies were reported to have served the wrong man. In a few hours, however, Deputy Marshal Robert C. Forrest contradicted that statement with the announcement that he saw a man he definiely knew to be Braddock served with the papers by Deputy Marshal Gerald O'Shaughnessy.

"It's All Ridiculous."

All of which was summed up adequtely and just about completely by the garden's president, Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, when he said:

"This whole thing is ridiculous."

The garden holds a contract for Braddock to fight Schmeling in New York on June 3. Braddock also has signed to fight Louis in Chicago June 22. The garden's suit, filed in Miami last Monday, is against that fight, but Braddock's lawyer said the whole thing is comparatively simple.

"The garden contract," he explained, "says Braddock cannot participate in any fight with Joe Louis until after June 3. The Chicago fight date is June 22. Unless I'm mistaken, June 22 is after June 3."

Meantime, Joe Gould is upset about the move of the Illinois Legislature toward limiting seats for the Louis fight to $10 tops, which would just about slaughter the hopes he has for a $500,000 piece of the gate for the champion. The Legislature took steps in that direction last week, just about the time Gould was turning down Schmeling's $350,000 offer.

Grey Count Wins Derby In Stretch

Corbett Up, Horse Wins Louisiana Classic, Equals Mark.

By the Associated Press.

New Orleans, March 28.—Grey Count, crack 3-year-old, owned by Anthony Pelleteri, was given a beautiful ride by Jockey Charles Corbett to capture the sixteenth running of the historic Louisiana Derby here today.

The victory brought $7,840 to the owner, the winner's share of the $10,000 purse. Those who invested $2 on his nose got $14.40.

Negotiated in a fast 1:50 4-5, which equaled the track record for the mile and an eighth, the race was won in the last sixteenth.

Dead Calm finished second after a stirring drive down the stretch noses apart. Trina, one of the three fillies in the race, finished third.

Laying off the early pace, Jockey Corbett let Virginia J. set the speed for the first half mile. Then Dead Calm moved out front and Grey Count moved up from fourth to second.

Battle Down Stretch.

Turning for home Corbett brought Grey Count up even with Dead Calm and they battled down the stretch. The Pelleteri horse had what it takes, however, and pushed a half length ahead of Dead Calm as they crossed the finish line.

Jewell Dorsett, who shared the position as favorite with Dead Calm, finished fifth. Highly regarded by form players because of her blazing early speed, the daughter of Cohort-Michigan Girl was far back all the way.

Dead Calm paid $4.20 to place and $3.20 to show. Trina paid $5.80 to show.

In the other featured race which closed the 113-day racing meet Pelleteri saddled another winner, his Giant Killer, a brown 4-year-old, captured the Monteleone Hotel Handicap. Giant Killer paid $5.20 to win.

Cumberland Jockey Good.

Hagerstown, Md., March 28.—Ralph Eccard, 18-year-old Chewsville, Md., boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon P. Eccard, a sensation as apprentice jockey during the winter racing season, will ride at the Maryland tracks this spring. Eccard came from Hot Springs, Ark., after riding 52 winners during the winter.

Naval Academy's No. 1 Rooter Shatters a Well-Fed Illusion

By Loren Pope.

A very young and guileless man has shattered one of a newspaperman's illusions. Fact is, he has been undermining it since the football season started last fall.

We had always thought that young and hopeful debutantes were the stanchest of Nayal Academy rooters, what with all the regimented palpitation of marching tier of slick blue uniforms causes in the feminine heart; Annapolis hops and all that.

It now appears we were off our trolley.

When the Sunday paper is finally put to bed in the wee portions of Saturday night, the phones are almost as tired as we who answer them, endlessly repeating that Whoosis beat Watchacalit, seven to nothing.

And most durable of the phone-ringers, week in and week out, has been no deb nor reminiscing grad, but a small-voiced inquisitor who each and every Saturday night is the most frantic to learn how Navy made out, in even the most minor of sports.

When the Middies win, the reply is a highly excited, "Oh, boy," with a couple of exclamation marks. And when they lost, only a pained silence, or a "heck," almost to the tune of a funeral dirge.

When, after months, we could stand it no longer, we collared our questioner, by now a subject of general office curiosity, and invited him down.

Master Harold Nelson, 14, blond son of a Navy commander, ran true to form.

He politely answered all the interviewer's questions, but he was a lot more interested in getting a few scores straightened out for the sake of the records he keeps on Navy teams.

And when there was a lull in the questions, he turned the tables with queries on the more esoteric sports his interviewer couldn't answer.

His interest in Navy, he guessed, was the fault of his father's calling, and had been ever since he could remember. In fact, he looks eagerly forward to becoming one of the Annapolis heroes he now worships.

Gillette, he guesses, is the one whose athletic career he would most like to emulate, but not without reservations:

"Gillette was the hero of the Army game, but he didn't go so hot early in the season, you know," he informed us.

Lynch and Ingram are next choices. Lynch was hurt and didn't get a chance to display his ability throughout, and:

"A cold he had that day kept Ingram out of most of the Army game, you know."

We didn't, nor a whole squadron of facts and figures in re Navy teams our supposed subject has at his tongue's tip.

Right now he's preparing for the day when he hopes to make instead of put down a few of these Middie records by playing on the Leland Stanford Junior High School basketball team. At Annapolis he wants to play that game, football, of course, baseball and lacrosse, although he doesn't expect "to make 'em all."

Before he left, however, a treasonable note slipped in, and Harold is now branded in the seagoing fraternity. Just as a stab to halt the questions we couldn't answer, we asked whether of course he didn't like Army least of all the schools.

"No, I pull for 'e mall the time, 'cept when they're playing Navy."

They're at It Again . . . —By DeMoreland

OH HERBERT- THIS BIT MUST HURT HIM-
NO-IT'S THAT TWO BITS YOU SPENT TO GET DOWN HERE!
NOW DON'T YOU FEEL ASHAMED?
IF I COULD ONLY KNOW THAT YOU DON'T KNOW THAT I DON'T KNOW WHAT I'M DOIN'-
I'D LIKE TO GET A RIDING HABIT!
I WISH MY HORSE HAD IT!
COME ON DOWN- HE'S JUST PLAYFUL-
WELL- LET ME KNOW WHEN HE GROWS UP!
SO THIS IS WASHINGTON
OH- YOU'RE JUST LIKE MY HUSBAND!
HAVE YOU GOT ONE WITH BLUE EYES-I ADORE BLUE EYES!
HOW DO YOU KEEP HIM FROM BOUNCING?
I WOULDN'T KNOW- I'M STILL TRYIN' TO KEEP MYSELF FROM BOUNCIN'!
AH- A SIT DOWN STRIKE, EH?
T'THINK I TOOK THIS UP TO GET BACK ON MY FEET!
NOW DON'T GO GETTIN' FULLA ENERGY!
AND WHERE DID YOU LEARN TO READ!
DO NOT ENTER
DEMORELAND

Feller Fans Six Giants, In No-Hit Mound Effort

Cards Shade Tigers, 7-6; Dean Is Near Blows With Umpire.

By the Associated Press.

Vicksburg, Miss., March 28.—Robert William Feller, the Cleveland Indians' 18-year-old pitcher, showed the New York Giants his fast ball today and the National League champions couldn't do a thing with it.

Young Feller pitched three innings, struck out six Giants, and allowed no hits. And when he jogged into the locker room even Umpire Bill Klem was gasping.

The Indians, incidentally, won the game, 4 to 2, with a three-run rally in the ninth inning.

The Iowa boy walked only one man and hit another. He fanned Lou Chiozza twice and Mel Ott, Tommy Thevenow, Burgess Whitehead and Johnny McCarthy each once.

Umpire Klem, dropping out of his chest protector after the game, said: "Feller showed me stuff the like of which I've never seen in all my life."

"I expected to see plenty," Klem said, "but I never dreamed an 18-year-old kid could pitch like that."

Klem was particularly impressed by Feller's curve.

"The one he threw to Chiozza in the third inning with the count three and two was blinding," he said. "It was as fast as most pitchers' fast balls."

Feller fanned the side in the third inning and was faster than at the start. The Giants got only two foul tips in the third.

Feller has pitched seven innings in spring practice games against the New Orleans Pelicans and the Giants. In the seven he has allowed only one hit and struck out 12.

Chisox Beat Cubs.

Los Angeles, Calif.—The Chicago White Sox defeated the Chicago Cubs for the ninth straight time today, whipping the National Leaguers 6 to 2 on three-hit pitching.

Vern Kennedy gave up no hits for three innings, but walked four Cubs. Then John Rigney, Sox rookie, worked three frames and allowed not a single Bruin to reach first. The Cubs got three scratch singles off John Whitehead in the seventh.

Jackie Hayes got four hits in four trips for the Sox.

Cards Beat Tigers, 7 to 6.

Daytona Beach, Fla.—The St. Louis Cardinals defeated an American League opponent today for the first time of the exhibition season, as they nipped the Detroit Tigers, 7 to 6, in a typical gashouse battle.

Dizzy Dean, making his 1937 debut, almost came to blows with Umpire Emmett Ormsby in the second inning when the American League arbiter refused to rule a third strike on a batsman. The Tigers solved Dizzy for two runs on singles by Greenberg, Tebbets and Rowe. St. Louis bunched five hits for three runs off the schoolboy in the fourth and ran up three more markers in the fifth off Trout.

The Tigers rallied with two runs in the ninth and nearly tied the score, but Terry Moore's fine throw to the plate on Owen's single caught Al Simmons. Held to one hit yesterday, the Cards battered three Detroit hurlers for 14 today, with Moore leading the assault with 4.

Yankees Win, 6 to 5.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Six Boston errors today aided the world champion New York Yankees in scoring their seventh straight win, 6 to 5, over the Bees. The Yanks were outhit, 10-3, but a brace of bobbles in the fifth gave New York four runs on only one hit. Weir, Babich and Harris quieted the Yankee bats. The Bees made all of their runs in the first four innings off Bunk Hadley before Pat Malone arrived with the handcuffs in the fifth.

Dodgers Beat Reds.

Tampa, Fla.—Despite five errors afield by teammates, Fred Frankhouse and Van Mungo held the Cincinnati Reds to seven hits today and led Brooklyn to a 4-to-2 exhibition game victory.

Manager Chuck Dressen started Mickey Hernandez, product of Tampa sandlots, and he retired the

Continued on Page 16, Column 3.

Bitter A.A.U. Ring Finals Wednesday

13 Bouts on Card at Turner Arena; J. C. C. Is Team Favorite.

With the appetitite of the fans well whetted as a result of ferocious semifinals last week, a capacity crowd is expected to view the final round of the District of Columbia A. A. U. boxing championships Wednesday night at Turner's Arena.

Seven championship bouts are in line and six consolation contests will figure prominently in the final team point scoring. Each consolation winner will add three points to his team's score.

The Jewish Community Center especially is counting heavily upon the consolation round to put it over the hurdle to the team championship. The Center has three men in the final round and a like number in the consolation sets.

Stirring battles are expected in championship rounds between Buster Miller and Milton Abels, Eddie Saugstad and Ray Morse, Gilbert Mayo and George Pickerel, Buddy Lazear and Roy Crombie, Willie Witkin and Creighton Allen and Bobby Schwartz and Ernest Walker.

Down in the consolation round the meetings between J. McEntree and Cline Shackelford and Eugene Glanzer and J. Pomps are expected to be hard fought.

Championship Bouts.

112-pound class—Buster Miller (W. B. C.) vs. Milton Abels (Police Club).
118-pound class—Eddie Saugstad vs. Ray Morse (J. C. C.).
126-pound class—Gilberto Mayo (Alexandria B. C.) vs. George Pickeral (Guards).
135-pound class—Buddy Lazear (J. C. C.) vs. Roy Crombie (Guards).
147-pound class—Steve Mamakos (Guards) vs. Bobby Mathias (Guards).
160-pound class—Willie Witkin (J. C. C.) vs. Creighton Allen (Guards).
175-pound class—Ernest Walker (Terminal "Y") vs. Bobby Schwartz (Alexandria B. C.).

Consolation Bouts.

112-pound class—Orville Lyons (N. E. B. C.) vs. Willie Tapp (Police Club).
118-pound class—Angelo Pappas (W. B. C.) vs. Jim Koustenas (W. B. C.).
126-pound class—Jim Willis (J. C. C.) vs. I. Osborne (N. E. B. C.).
135-pound class—J. McEntree (Georgetown) vs. Cline Shackelford (Terminal "Y").
147-pound class—Eugene Glanzer (J. C. C.) vs. J. Pompa (Marine Reserves).
160-pound class—Dave Schlaifer (J. C. C.) vs. Steve Thompson (Guards).

80 Women to Open North-South Golf

Pinehurst, N. C., March 28 (AP).—More than 800 women, including many of the Nation's leading stars, had registered tonight for tomorrow's qualifying round in the thirty-fifth annual North and South golf championship.

Leading the field into the fight for 16 first flight places will be such shotmakers as Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, six times national champion; Kathryn Hemphill, of Columbia, S. C., winner of three top flight Southern tournaments this winter; Jane Cothran, of Greenville, S. C., another star of the winter trek, and Deborah Verry, of Worcester, Mass., defending champion.

Others were Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., last year's runner-up, and Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, of Chapel Hill, N. C., medalist in the national last fall who fired a record-breaking 72 recently on the course where the tournament will be played.

Mrs. Vare took an 80 in practice today, while Miss Cothran had 79 and Miss Hemphill 82.

Japanese Ambassador Invited to A.A.U. Dinner

His excellency, Hiroshi Saito, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, will be invited to attend the testimonial dinner to Jeremiah T. Mahoney to be given by the District of Columbia Amateur Athletic Union at the Mayflower, April 13.

Ambassador Saito will be asked to outline plans now under way by the Japanese government to make the Olympic Games in 1940 the greatest in the history of the international classic.

Shute, Guldahl Pace Augusta Golf Practice

Ky Laffoon, Henry Picard Post Par Rounds Over Wind-Swept Links.

By the Associated Press.

Augusta, Ga., March 28.—The vanguard of the experts in the fourth annual Augusta National golf tournament officially swung their clubs in practice rounds here today.

Densmore Shute, of Boston, Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa.; Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill.; "Wee" Bobby Cruickshank, Richmond, Va., and Horton Smith, of Chicago, were among those already on the registry list. Officials of the club said 30 invitees have arrived for play with at least that many more expected before the $5,000 72-hole medal play tournament swings into action Thursday.

Arrivals on the scene today included Ralph Guldahl, of Chicago, low-scoring professional last winter, and Ky Laffoon. Both went out for a test round.

Laffoon turned in an even par 72 for his 18, while Guldhal, making his debut as an Augusta national player, turned in a 2 under par 34 for the nine holes he played.

Guldahl and Laffoon, in company with Picard, who also carded a neat 72, and Clarence Clark, of Bloomfield, Ill., whose score went slightly above par figures, composed one of the many foursomes which toured the course during the day—a day made tough for golf by a chilly, steady wind which raked the course during the morning and afternoon.

In town, but not yet registered for play, was W. Lawson Little, of San Francisco, former outstanding amateur who turned pro last year just prior to the Augusta tournament.

Jones Visits Atlanta.

Bobby Jones, host to the horde of golfers making a bid for the tournament prize money, and Horton Smith, both laid off today to visit Atlanta, Jones' home.

While few of the golfers kept score—for the public—Jimmy Hines, of Garden City, Long Island, posted even par, while Shute, P. G. A. champion, did par 2 better with a 35-35—70.

Tommy Armour, the Silver Scot from White Plains, N. Y., started on his third nine late today after divulging that he had a 1-over-37 on his first afternoon nine and a "couple of bottles of beer" in the morning nine.

Cruickshank finished strong, playing the back nine for his opening round today, posting three birdies, one each on the seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth, for a 34, while Willie MacFarlane, of Tuckahoe, N. Y., equalled the 2-under-par performance. Revolta, playing in the threesome, could do no better than 37 for the nine.

Other arrivals today included Frank Moore, of Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Herman Barron, White Plains; Ray Mangrum, of Oakmont, Pa.; Wiffy Cox, of Washington, D. C., and Sam Parks, jr., of Pittsburgh, former holder of the National Open crown.

Terp Boxers Reach Coast For Nationals

Birmingham, Alperstein Work Out; Virginia Enters Four.

Sacramento, Calif., March 28.—Tom Birmingham, 125, and Benny Alperstein, 135, who arrived here midnight Saturday after a 16-hour plane ride from Washington, were the first visiting boxers to report for the National Intercollegiate Boxing Tournament opening here on April 1.

The weather here is but slightly warmer than weather in Washington, and the change in climate should have no handicap for visiting boxers from the East. The two Maryland boys were in splendid shape after their initial workout today.

Locally the Far Western teams are favored to win the national titles, although 18 schools are listed to compete. Only picked men from each squad are entered.

Sixty entries are listed from schools as follows: Duke, Clemson, Virginia, Maryland, Tulane, Mississippi State, North Carolina, South Carolina, North Dakota, Arizona, Idaho, California, Washington State, San Francisco, San Jose State, Mississippi, California Aggies, Stanford.

Of interest to Birmingham and Alperstein are the entries of Idaho's 125-pounder, a veteran of 200 bouts and Coast amateur champion, Jack Kneipp, Duke's Southern Conference lightweight champion, and Joe Bracato, Southeastern Conference 135-pound titleholder who licked Alperstein.

The Coast intercollegiate championships were held here last month, with Washington State winning and Idaho a close second.

Washington, Idaho, Duke and Virginia have each entered four men and are topped only by San Jose State College with an eight-man team. The auditorium was completely sold out over a week ago.

Texas Yacht Leads Florida-Cuba Race

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 28 (AP).—Starlight, Albert Fay's 44-foot cutter from Houston, Tex., was reported clearing Rebecca Shoals well in the lead of the ten-boat fleet competing in the eighth annual St. Petersburg to Havana yacht race late today.

Winsome Too, Harness Edward's 64-foot yawl from Easthampton, Long Island, was 20 miles to the northward, while Salabar, 38-foot cutter owned by S. W. Labrot, of New Orleans and skippered by Robert Moore, jr., was charted just northwest of Dry Tortugas.

A continuing moderate northerly wind drove the yachts southward at a fast clip, necessitating a change in plans for the Coast Guard to spot the ships by planes in a morning patrol. A survey north of Rebecca Shoals was made this afternoon by two amphibians based at Dry Tortugas.

Players Wanted.

Any baseball players between the ages of 15 and 17 wanting to play with an organized team call Atlantic 0514.

Sports Postscripts

BURTON SHIPLEY, baseball coach at Maryland, will permit no wisecracks from the bench . . . he believes college baseball should be taken seriously and any player passing quips is dropped from the team for the season . . . HELEN DETTWEILER, one of the District's better woman golfers, attended a party in Hollywood recently . . . the boys and girls started playing one of those parlor games in which golf balls are putted into trick cups . . . VILMA BANKY, the cinemactress, borrowed Helen's putter, and won the pot with it . . . Vilma became so attached to the putter she kept it . . . E. C. TOMLIN, an outstanding athlete at Eastern High School between 1913 and 1915, sends details of the New London (Tex.) school explosion tragedy . . . A. T. (DUTCH) KRAUSS, an old-time catcher, lost his only child—a son . . . Krauss was searching for his son just after the explosion . . . a workman brought the boy and laid him just a few feet from his father . . . Krauss grabbed him up, and the boy died in his arms . . . CARL FREY, former Pittsburgh outfielder, lost his oldest son, aged 12 . . . OSCAR FUHR, once a pitcher with the Chicago Cubs, had one son injured, but the boy is recovering . . . BEN BEDFORD, one-time catcher and outfielder of the Yankees, did not lose any loved ones in the explosion, but he spent hours helping recover bodies . . . DOMENIC CACCARELLI, the light-heavyweight boxing champion of Europe who is now on these shores, was honored by MUSSOLINI for bravery in the Ethiopian war . . . BING CROSBY, the crooner who dabbles in almost every kind of sport, has engaged JOE LA BARBA, brother of the former flyweight champion FIDEL LA BARBA, to train his fighter, GEORGIE TURNER . . . Bing recently purchased Turner's contract for $1,000 . . . WEE WILLIE DAVIS, the big rough man of the mat, wears size 18 shoes . . . incidentally, he played football with the Alexandria Fraters four years ago . . . BILL McCORMICK.

HELEN DETTWEILER.

Mates' Two Errors Cheat Last Resort Hurler of Victory

Crompton Pitches When Cohen, Lanahan Fail; Other Hurlers on Day Off; Nats Outhit Foes 15-13 as 8-Game Streak Is Halted.

By Shirley Povich.
A Staff Correspondent.

Sarasota, Fla., March 28.—Red Sox, 13; Washington, 12, or the strange death of the Nats' winning streak, was the nine-inning farce enacted before 2,000 West Coast natives here today.

The Nats' proud string of eight consecutive victories perished suddenly in the ninth under circumstances both ludicrous and tragic.

Let's Go Slumping

BOSTON.	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Doerr,2b.	5	2	2	1	6	0
Cramer,cf.	3	1	1	6	0	0
Cronin,ss.	5	2	2	2	4	0
Higgins,3b.	4	1	1	0	2	0
Mills,lf.	4	1	1	1	0	0
R.Ferrell,c.	3	1	1	2	0	0
Desautels,c.	1	0	1	1	0	0
Almada,1b.	5	0	1	9	1	0
Gaffke,rf.	4	2	1	1	0	0
Walberg,p.	1	1	0	0	1	0
*Bowers	0	0	0	0	0	0
Ostermueller,p.	2	1	0	0	0	0
Olson,p.	1	1	1	0	0	0
Totals	39	13	13	27	15	3

*Ran for Walberg in fourth inning.

WASHINGTON.	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Chapman,cf.	5	2	2	1	0	0
Lewis,3b.	3	1	1	0	2	0
Mihalic,3b.	2	1	2	0	1	1
Bluege,1b.	4	3	2	8	0	1
Sington,rf.	4	2	3	1	0	0
Stone,lf.	5	0	2	4	0	0
Travis,ss.	5	1	1	1	3	0
Myer,2b.	4	1	1	1	1	0
Hogan,c.	2	0	0	5	0	1
Millies,c.	3	0	1	0	0	0
Cohen,p.	3	0	0	1	1	0
Lanahan,p.	1	0	0	0	1	0
†Hill	1	1	1	0	0	0
Crompton,p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	43	12	15*	26	13	3

*Two out when winning run scored.
†Batted for Lanahan in ninth inning.

WASHINGTON	0	0	0	2	0	1	0	4	5	—12
BOSTON	0	2	0	0	1	0	3	5	1	—13

Runs batted in—Travis (2), Walberg, Cramer, Myer, Cronin (6), Sington (2), Stone (2), Mills, Desautels (3), Bluege (3), Doerr. Two-base hits—Almada, Stone, Sington, Doerr. Three-base hits—Sington, Bluege, Cronin, Myer. Home run—Cronin. Sacrifice—Cramer. Double play—Travis to Myer to Bluege. Left on bases—Boston, 9; Washington, 5. First base on balls—Off Cohen, 2; off Walberg, 1; off Lanahan, 3; off Ostermueller, 1; off Crompton, 2. Struck out—By Walberg, 1; by Cohen, 2; by Lanahan, 1; Hits—Off Walberg, 5 in 4 innings; off Ostermueller, 12 in 4 2-3 innings; off Olson, 0 in 1-3 inning; off Cohen, 7 in 5 innings; off Lanahan, 5 in 3 innings; of Crompton, 1 in 2-3 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Lanahan (Cramer). Balk—Crompton. Winning pitcher—Olson. Losing pitcher—Crompton. Umpires—Hubbard and Kolls. Time of game—Two hours 15 minutes.

Herbert Crompton, rookie Washington catcher, was the losing pitcher.

No, that isn't a misprint, young Crompton, who hadn't toed the rubber of a pitcher's mound since his sandlot days in Milan, Ill., was drafted for pitching service against the Red Sox in the ninth when Manager Bucky Harris suddenly discovered that he was fresh out of pitchers.

Back at headquarters at Orlando, no fewer than eight Washington pitchers were sunning themselves on a day off, Harris having carted only Syd Cohen and Dick Lanahan of his hurling staff, to the game here.

And so it was that when Cohen was relieved by Lanahan in the sixth inning and Lanahan was taken from the game in the ninth for a pinch hitter, Harris found himself short-sanded.

To make it worse, the Nats tied the score with five runs in their half of the ninth and Harris needed a pitcher. He scanned the bench nervously, called for volunteers. Young Crompton, who said he "had pitched some," got the job.

Well, the irony of it all developed when Crompton actually performed out there on the mound as if to the manner born and would have held the Sox both hitless and runless in the last half of the ninth had not his nervous teammates betrayed him with a shocking series of misplays.

With the score tied at 12-12, Crompton strode confidently to the mound, took a few warm-up pitches and faced Gaffke, the first hitter. He disposed of Gaffke on a weak roller to the infield.

Ted Olson, the next hitter, apparently was another victim of Crompton, but Johnny Mihalic muffed his grounder and Olson was safe on first on a scratch hit.

Undaunted, the young catcher, who had been serving up an assortment of schoolboy curves to the wondering Red Sox, next faced Doerr. He had Doerr out, too, until Mihalic made an inexcusable muff of the pop foul Doerr lifted over third base. Crompton's control (where he got it had been a growing mystery) then deserted him briefly and he passed Doerr.

Looking to Harris for instructions in this crisis, like a regular pitcher, Crompton then deliberately walked Cramer to fill the bases and set up a double-play situation. And darned if a double-play situation didn't develop right off the bat—Cronin's bat. The Red Sox manager whacked a Crompton pitch toward Cecil Travis, a double-play ball if there ever were one, and Travis rifled it to Myer at second for one out.

Myer, with plenty of time to retire Cronin at first, then unleashed a wild heave that skidded into the dirt and bounded past Ossie Bluege for a grievous error which permitted Olsen to score from third and the Sox to win the ball game.

Shrugging his shoulders, then managing a grin, young Crompton

Continued on Page 16, Column 3.

Coast Court Title To Stanford, 41-40

Pullman, Wash., March 28 (AP).—Led by the sharpshooting Angelo ("Hank") Luisetti, Stanford won its second consecutive Pacific Coast conference basketball championship when it defeated Washington State's fighting Cougars, 41 to 40, last night in the second game of the North-South playoff.

Luisetti uncorked his fireworks in the first half to put Stanford up in front at half time, 24-30 with four field goals in a spectacular first half display, but was held to two free throws in the second half. Turner, Luisetti's forward mate, was the night's high scorer with 12 points.

Exhibition Scores

At Daytona Beach, Fla.:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit (A.)	020	010 012—6	13 1
St. Louis (N.)	000	331 00x—7	14 2

Rowe, Trout, Logan and Tebbetts; J. Dean, Winford, Smith and Ogrodowski.

	R.	H.	E.
Min'polis (AA.)	001	120 101—6	10 1
St. Louis, Squad 2 (A.)	000	000 100—1	5 4

Weinert, Bean and Hargraves; Jakucki, Knott and Giuliano.

At Sebring, Fla.:

	R.	H.	E.
Phila. (N.L.)	000	031 001—5	7 5
Newark (I. L.)	100	000 010—2	8 3

Joegens, Bowman, Johnson and Atwood, Knapp; Fallon, Branch, Naktenis, Beggs and Hershberger. Rosar.

At Tampa, Fla.—

	R.	H.	A.
Brooklyn (N.)	010	200 100—4	7 7
Cincinnati (N.)	001	000 100—2	7 1

Frankhouse, Mungo and Phelps, R. Moore; Hernandez, Schott, Derringer and Lombardi, V. Davis.

At Vicksburg—

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland (A)	000	001 003—4	6 0
New York (N)	000	100 010—2	6 1

Feller, Brown, Drake and Pytlak, Helf; Fitzsimmons, Hubbell, Gumbert and Danning, Mancuso.

At St. Petersburg, Fla.—

	R.	H.	E.
New York (A)	010	140 000—6	3 1
Boston (N)	021	200 000—5	10 6

Hadley, Malone and Glenn; Weir, Babich, Harris and Lopez.

At Harlingen, Tex.—

	R.	H.	E.
St. L., No. 1 (A)	000	211 000—4	9 2
Toledo (A)	000	000 000—0	1 0

Bonetti, Walkup and Hemsley, Huffman; Hare, Patchin and Linton.

At Sarasota:

Wash'n (A)	000	201	045—	12	15	3
Boston (A)	030	010	351—	13	13	3

Cohen, Lanahan, Crompton, and Hogan, Millies; Walberg, Ostermueller, Olson, and R. Ferrell, Desautels.

At Los Angeles:

Chicago (N)	000	000 200—2	3 0
Chicago (A)	030	030 00x—6	6 1

Lee, Carleton and Hartnett; Kennedy, Rigney, Whitehead and Sewell.

At Ontario, Calif.:

Pittsb'gh (N)	300	010 003—7	8 3
Los Ang. (P)	105	000 03x—9	14 4

Blanton, Bauers and Tood, Paden; Prin, Campbell and Collins.

AUTO RADIO SERVICE
L.S. JULLIEN, Inc.
1443 P St. N.W. NO. 8076

PERSONAL CHARM asks MODERATION —and your taste dictates this whiskey
90 PROOF
Century Club
Unexcelled, too, for COCKTAILS and HIGHBALLS
Century Club BOURBON OR RYE
THE WHISKEY WITH A PERSONALITY
Century Distilling Co., Peoria, Ill.

FENDER BENT? BODY DENT?.. SEE US! "Friendly Prices Always"
CENTRAL AUTO WORKS
OFFICIAL KEYSTONE STATION
443 EYE ST. N.W. DI. 6161

Mader 6-5 Choice Over Hobo Williams in Arena Fight Tonight

9-Rounder Is Rivals' 2d Scrap

First Meeting Ended in Draw, Heavy Claimed "Off."

Alexandria Middleweight Has Lost But One Bout Here.

By Bill McCormick.

Charles (Hobo) Williams, the meandering middleweight who has finally settled in Alexandria, will step out in fast company again at Turner's Arena tonight when he takes on Eddie Mader, on e a high-ranking heavyweight.

The official distance for the bout has been set at nine rounds. This peculiar number of rounds was a compromise between the desires of Mader, who wanted to work ten heats, and Williams, who didn't feel he should be slated for more than eight.

A previous bout between Mader and Williams resulted in a draw decision. Many followers of affairs fistic felt that Williams had acquired a decided edge in the proceedings. Most of those same observers now feel that Williams will settle the thing once and for all by applying the snore t the New York noggin knocker.

Mader a Favorite.

Despite the prevailing belief that Williams had earned the decision in their last encounter, the wagering gentry is offering 6 to 5 that Mader will be returned the winner tonight.

The checker-vested lads have installed Eddie a favorite because they believe he was out of condition for the last bout. Mader himself after the first engagement said that he had taken Williams too lightly and had not properly trained for the contest. Tonight, he insists, will be different.

Mader is just 23. He is managed by Matty Herbert, a familiar figure in fight circles. Eddie is a former golden gloves champion and in 1935 was considered the fourth best heavyweight in the business. At that time he was seriously being considerde as an opponent for Joe Louis. Bad health brought about a lay-off, which shoved him out of the picture. He is trying to climb back now.

Beat Galento Twice.

Mader is one of the few fighters to defeat Tony Galento twice. He also has twice bested Steve Dudas, won from Hank Hankinson and Terry Mitchell and held the sensational Nathan Mann to a draw just a few weeks ago.

Williams, who has roamed the country, has pitched his tent in Alexandria for good, he says. He boxed as an amateur in Utica, N. Y., his home town, winning 90 bouts there.

After leaving Utica, Williams wandered about with a carnival show, meeting all comers. He finally lit here and has lost only one bout in this vicinity. Buddy Scott, a lad with whom he previously had worked to a draw, is the lad who earned the decision over the hobo.

Post Predictions.

Bouts are rated from A (the best) to G (Lose Money).

MAIN EVENT—Charles (Hobo) Williams, Alexandria, vs. Eddie Mader, New York, light-heavyweights; 9 rounds. Rated B. This rematch should prove as much of a war as was the first clash between these two. It should, however, be shorter. Williams was slightly awed by Mader's reputation the first time. This time he should have no fear of Eddie and should batter the New York whirlwind to the canvas for keeps sometime before the scheduled finish.

SEMIFINAL—Max Roesch, Dallas, Tex., vs. Jimmy Wilson, Worcester, Mass., heavyweights; 6 rounds. Rated C. Roesch still is not picking his spots, as was proved when he accepted the bout against Tzmosko, who was forced out by a gymnasium injury. Wilson is no soft touch, but he should go the way of all flesh.

PRELIMINARIES—Tom Ponte, New York, vs. Murray Kanner, Washington, heavyweights; 6 rounds. Rated C. Ponte has the reputation, but Kanner is the better fighter. This one should be close, with Kanner the winner.

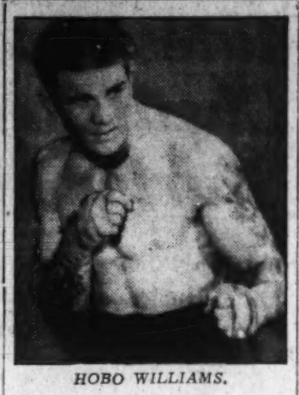
Frankie DeAngelo, Washington, vs. Joe Leto, Baltimore, featherweights; 4 rounds. Rated C. DeAngelo should click again here, but it will be a struggle.

Joe (Palooka) Mathews, Richmond, vs. Mike O'Leary, Baltimore, lightweights; 4 rounds. Rated C. Mathews.

Platak Pressed in U. S. Handball Title Defense

Chicago, March 28 (AP).—Joe Platak, the husky Chicago post-office clerk who is seeking third consecutive singles title, won his first round match today in the opening session of the National A. A. U. handball championships at the Lake Shore Athletic Club.

Platak advanced at the expense of Dr. Herbert E. Noll, Los Angeles, 21 to 18, 21 to 19. Tomorrow, Platak takes on Bill Mauer of St. Paul, who drew a first round bye.



HOBO WILLIAMS.

Grant Seeded First, Riggs 2d In Tennis Play

Atlanta, March 28 (AP).—The annual Atlanta Invitation tennis tournament will open tomorrow afternoon with a field including several high ranked amateurs.

Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, of Atlanta, United States No. 3, is seeded first with Bobby Riggs, 19-year-old national clay courts champion, of Los Angeles, Calif., ranked second. Riggs is fourth ranking national amateur.

Both are contenders for places on the Davis Cup team.

Another Californian, Joe Hunt, ninth in national rating, is seeded third.

Other seeded players in the field of 32 are: Arthur Hendrix, of Lakeland, Fla., 4; Walter Senior, of San Francisco, Calif., 5; Wayne Sabin, of Hollywood, Calif., 6; Martin Buxby, of Miami, Fla., 7, and S. Elwood Cook, of Portland, Oreg., 8.

Cue Aces to Start $8,000 Play Today

New York, March 28 (AP).—An $8,000 prize "pot" has lured 12 stars, including the current titleholder and four previous winners, to the world pocket billiard championship tournament opening tomorrow.

The field is regarded as the strongest in years, largely because of the size of the prize money, from $1,500 for the winner to $350 for the twelfth place finisher, along with $100 each to the players making the high run and the best game, and $200 to any perfect score of 125 for one block.

Jimmy Caras, of Wilmington, Del., defending champion, and Andrew Ponzi, of New York, who retired as undefeated champion last year, are favorites.

The tourney will take 19 days to complete, with 66 matches under the championship rules of round-robin play.

Pin Leaders Jolted By Midwesterners

New York, March 28 (AP).—Alex Carey, Belleville, Mich., Kegler, gave the American Bowling Congress tournament its No. 1 individual performance to date today as Midwesterners took command of the championship show and shifted the standings in all divisions.

Carey's nine-game performance for a total 1,957, shot him into the lead in the all-events division, passing Mike de Bridget, of New York, the previous pace-setter by 30 points.

His 693 in the singles competition boosted him to second place in that division, six pins back of the leader, Emil Garbarino, of Middletown, N. Y., while he rolled a 705 in his half of the two-man event to take third place with his partner, Bileel Metzer, with a total of 1,281.

Princeton U. Wrestlers Re-elect Morris S. Emory

Princeton, N. J., March 28 (AP).—The Princeton University wrestling team re-elected Morris S. "Mouse" Emory, '38, of Baltimore, Md., captain for the 1937-38 season at a banquet of the wrestling squad today in the Nassau Inn.

Emory, a 165-pounder, is a former Eastern intercollegiate champion in his division and led his team in scoring during the past season.

The George B. Treide Trophy, given to the varsity wrestler displaying the greatest sportsmanship and spirit, was awarded to Henry E. "Brud" Perry, '38, of Montclair, N. J.

Sportsmen's Club Formed.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Hyndman, Pa., March 28.—A new sportsman's association was formed here last night. H. H. Deaner was temporary chairman, and Paul Brode, secretary. The club will be called Wills Creek Sportsman's Association. Members voted to affiliate with the Bedford County unit of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.

Bosox Beat Nats, 13-12; Halt Streak

Crompton, Rookie Backstop, Is the Losing Nat Pitcher.

Continued from Page 15.

trotted to the showers with his repentant infield patting him on the back.

It had been a crazy game, anyway, with the losers outhitting the winners, 15 to 13. Syd Cohen had been pounded for three runs in the second inning and another in the fifth, when Joe Cronin hammered a homer to centerfield. He turned the Nats' pitching over to Dick Lanahan in the sixth with the Sox in possession of a 3-2 lead.

Freddie Sington's long triple to center with a man on base in the fourth was responsible for the Nats' only two runs while Rube Walberg was on the mound.

The Nats battled vialiantly to keep their winning streak intact. After Dick Lanahan's dismal performance in the seventh when he filled the bases by handing out two walks and then pitched a hit to DeSautels which emptied 'em and put the Sox in a 7-3 lead, the Nats scored four runs in the eighth to tie the score.

They pounded Fritz Ostermueller for five straight hits, the top of the Nats' batting order in that eighth, with Bluege's triple to center with the bases full being the most explosive blow.

But Lanahan, an errant young fellow today, handed five runs right back to the Sox in their half of the inning, pitching a triple to Cronin with the bases full on one occasion.

Thus the Nats went into the ninth trailing, 12-7, and with one out actually tied the score. They filled the bases on Jesse Hills pinch hit, Chapman's cheap grounder in front of the plate and a freak blow by Mihalic whose drive hit Umpire Kills on the leg and upset him for an automatic safety. Bluege beat out a hit to Higgins, Sington drew a walk, and with the tying run on first and two out, Buddy Myer in a last-ditch effort smashed the required triple to right field to tie the score.

There's no need to go into Boston's half of ninth again.

Play Montreal Today.

Back here at headquarters after reaching the end of an eight-game winning streak when they lost to the Red Sox at Saratoga, the Nats are scheduled to face the Montreal club tomorrow.

It will be intracity strife, what with the Montreal club, managed by Rabbit Maranville, sharing Orlando's training facilities with Washington. Manager Bucky Harris will send the veteran right-handers Joe Cascarella and Jimmy DeShong to the pitching mound.

Feller Pitches Three Frames, Fans 6 Giants

Continued from Page 15.

first three men who faced him. Gene Schott had trouble in finding the plate, however, and was touched for three runs and five safeties. Derringer, hurling the last four frames, gave up only two hits, one of which was converted.

Phillies Beat Newark, 5 to 2.

Sebring, Fla.—Trailing Newark, 1 to 0 for four innings, the Phillies scored three runs in the fifth and proceeded to defeat the international league team, 5 to 2, for their second exhibition victory today.

The Wilson men committed five errors, but Pitchers Orville Jorgens, Joe Bowman and Sylvester Johnson were effective in the pinches.

Gene Corbett, playing first base in the absence of holdout Dolph Camilli, was the batting star for the winners, clouting an inside home run and a single.

Browns Bow, 6 to 1.

San Antonio, Tex.—The Minneapolis Millers of the American Association annexed their second victory in two days today over a squad of St. Louis Browns managed by Jim Bottomley. The score was 6 to 1.

A wild pitch by Bean in the seventh allowed the Brownies to score their lone run after Gerald Lipscomb doubled, then went to third when Tom Carey grounded out.

Pirates Bow, 9-7.

Ontario, Calif.—Los Angeles took advantage of ineffective pitching and loose fielding today to overcome the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9 to 7.

It was the second consecutive victory for the Coast leaguers over their National League foes.

The Pirates took the lead with three runs in the first inning, but a five-run splurge by the Angels in the third frame never was offset.

Rookie John Dickshot, batting star of the International League last season, hit a home run with two men on base in the ninth to narrow the final margin of the Los Angeles victory.

Athletics Score, 13-3.

Mexico City.—The Athletics completed five weeks of spring training here today by walloping the Ford team, 13 to 3, in an exhibition game and then prepared for departure to the States tonight.

Manager Connie Mack, ailing with a bruised right leg caused by a blow from a foul ball, planned to leave with the squad. Mack has been in a hospital for treatment of the injury.

The A's tackled the Ford team when the Mexican All-Stars, scheduled as the opposition, failed to appear. Chubby Dean and Bill Nicholson slammed home runs as the Macks collected 15 hits off the Ford pitchers.

Softball Loop Formed.

Luke, Md., March 28.—The soft ball league among employes of the West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co. was reorganized for 1937 last night with William Gardner, president.

Practices for Masters

Wiffy Cox, Kenwood Country Club profesional, arrived at Augusta, Ga., yesterday in time to tune up his game for the Masters Open tourney starting on Thursday.

Doyle Thinks Nats, at 15 to 1, Are First-Rate, Long-Shot Bet

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 28 (U.P.). Jack Doyle, the betting man in the green suit, has made his annual quotations on the Major League pennant race.

His odds are based largely on last year's percentages and form, but if you want to take a flyer this spring, Jack has two 15-to-1 shots in his book that will give you a run for your dough. They are the Washington Senators in the American League and the Cincinnati Reds in the National League.

Washington and Cincinnati may not get under the wire first, but they are better risks at the price than the two favorites. The Yanks are even money in their league, and the Cardinals 8 to 5 in their circuit. Both clubs have problems which make them dangerous risks at those prices.

The Cardinals already have shown glaring weaknesses. Even Branch Rickey, head of the Cards' vast chain, terms the gashouse gang "the most over-rated team in the majors."

Yanks Need Pitcher.

The Yanks' big problem is to get more pitching strength. Their big winner last year, Red Ruffing, is still a holdout. They cannot afford to lose a 20-game winner.

Washington reeled off eight straight "grapefruit league" victories before today's defeat by the Red Sox, showing the most improved club training in Florida. The best spring exhibition of hurling was turned in Saturday by Monte Weaver and Peter Appleton, who let the Cardinals down with one hit, and allowed only one man to reach second.

The Reds are hustling and scrapping like a college nine. Manager Charlie Dressen has instilled a flaming spirit into his club.

Give the Reds a power hitter and a little improvement around second, and they will be serious contenders.

Billy Sullivan, Cleveland catcher and utility infielder, deserted the holdout ranks last week, leaving only five players unsigned. In addition to Ruffing, they are Paul Waner, Pittsburgh outfielder; Dolf Camilli, Phillies' first baseman; Buck Jordan, Boston Bees' first baseman, and Babe Herman, Cincinnati outfielder.

Rookies' Crisis Near.

The next two weeks will be the crisis for rookies who have their sights trained on regular jobs. Among promising newcomers who appear to be headed for major league berths are Luke Hamlin, Brooklyn pitcher; Mike Makosky, Yankees' pitcher; Lloyd Moore, Cincinnati pitcher; John Dickshot, Pittsburgh outfielder; Chet Laabs, Detroit outfielder; Bobby Doerr, Red Sox infielder; infielders Del Young and George Scharein and outfielder Hershel Martin, Phillies; Luther Thomas, Athletics' pitcher; Joe Marty, Cubs' outfielder; Dick Lanahan, Washington pitcher; Henry Steinbacher, White Sox outfielder, and the highly publicized Mickey Owen, Cardinals' catcher.

Patty Berg And Dot Kirby Beat 2 Stars

Youngsters Defeat Babe Didrikson, Marian Miley, 2 Up.

By the Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., March 28.—Dorothy Kirby, of Atlanta, and Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, a coupl of up-and-coming schoolgirl golfers, defeated Marion Miley, veteran Lexington, Ky., campaigner, and Babe Didrikson, Texas professional, 2 up in an exhibition match today.

A high and chilly wind made it difficult for Miss Didrikson to handle the long drives which are her strong point, and her putting was erratic. The others played their usual games, with the wind handicapping all of them. Miss Berg's putting was a little off. Miss Miley got the best drives.

A gallery of approximately 2,000 followed the players around the course.

Miss Miley and Miss Didrikson were 1 up after nine holes, but Miss Kirby and Miss Berg put on the pressure to forge ahead on the back nine. Miss Kirby sank a long putt on the par 4 eighteenth for a 3 to clinch the match.

Patty Berg had the best score of the foursome, an 81, one stroke over par. Miss Kirby had an 82, Miss Miley an 83, and Miss Didrikson an 85.

The Cards.

Out—
Par	534	563	545	—40
Berg	535	464	435	—39
Kirby	645	463	535	—41
Miley	534	553	558	—40
Didrikson	444	555	545	—41
In—
Par	535	445	554	—40 40 80
Berg	436	556	454	—42 39 81
Kirby	535	555	553	—41 41 82
Miley	545	566	444	—43 40 83
Didrikson	545	556	554	—44 41 85

Haynie, of Michigan, Wins Swimming Award

Minneapolis, March 27 (AP).—Tom Haynie, of the University of Michigan, was declared the Nation's outstanding collegiate swimmer at the finish of the national intercollegiate championships at the University of Minnesota tonight.

In addition to being the Western Conference 220 and 440 yard champion, Haynie also became the national titlist in both events during the meet at Minnesota, being a large factor in his team's easy conquest leading to the title.

Time Out! . . . By Chet Smith

Shades of Jonah! Maybe that explains where two of our members disappeared last night.

Freaks

1936 Produced Beanball Record; New Lows, Highs

By the Associated Press.

New York, March 28.—Credit Charlie White and his new "little red book" of baseball records with an assist for digging up a set of chuckle-provoking freaks that were overlooked in the raft of batting records during the 1936 season.

Charlie's annual publication is the baseball writer's accepted "Bible" of standards for all diamond history. It tells you who made the records, how and when. The 149-page, 1937 edition, just out, aside from listing close to 200 new marks set during one of the biggest record-wrecking years, uncovers some two dozen "queer ones" for the one-for-the-book department.

For instance, there was Elon Hogsett's all-time all-American beanball performance on May 31, when the St. Louis Browns' erratic porisider bounced pitches off four Detroit batsmen in one game. It took him only six innings to turn the trick, after which Manager Rogers Hornsby yanked him—much to the relief of the Tigers.

Brown Yielded Runs.

The Browns also came up with an American League high in having 1,064 runs scored against them for the season, and, with the Cleveland Indians, tied the all-time total of 11 pitchers used in one game. St. Louis tossed in half a dozen hurlers and the Tribe tried five in a tilt on August 14.

There was nothing wrong with Jimmy Foxx's .338 batting average for the season, but the book tells you the Red Sox "Double-X" managed, nevertheless, to become the all-time strikeout king in one respect, by leading the American League in whiffs for the sixth year in his career.

Bob Feller's new strike-out pitching records are listed, but what was overlooked previously was the fact that both times the Indians' youngster went to town, he carried another rookies, Catcher Charlie George, into the books with him. Each time Charlie set up a new American League record for catchers by recording 17 putouts in a game.

Lazerri's Big Week-End.

Scattered through the book are two of the most startling series of marks on record, results of the biggest blasts turned loose by the Yanks in bombarding themselves into the world championship. Their free-wheeling stick work during the week of May 19-27, climaxed by Tony Lazzeri's big Philadelphia week-end, supplied 15 individual and club marks for homers, runs batted in, runs and extra bases. In the second game of the world series, October 2, Murderers' Row tied or shattered 15 more marks when they buried the Giants, 18 to 4.

The Boston Bees did a lot of futile batting with men on the bags during the campaign, hitting into 146 double plays for a new record.

The Detroit Tigers held their laurels as the only outfit never finishing in the cellar, and the Phillies tied the major league mark by winding up at the bottom for the tenth time.

Here and there the book also lists a new low by the Browns, with 20 men caught stealing bases; Washington's 61 sacrifice hits, another low; the sixth year Mule Haas, of the White Sox, led the league in sacrifices, a new high, and the game in which Billy Rogell, of the Tigers, tied a record for shortstops without getting a fielding chance in ten innings.

Columbians Start.

The Columbian A. C. will hold its first practice Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the Roosevelt High stadium. All boys interested under the age of 15 are invited to report.

Everett Marshall Will Defend Title Tonight

Kansas City, March 28 (AP).—Everett Marshall of La Junta, Colo., recognized in Missouri as world heavyweight wrestling champion, will defend his title against Lee Wykoff of Nevada, Mo., here tomorrow night.

Wykoff lost to Marshall on a foul two weeks ago. Both were injured in the match. A "no foul" rule will apply tomorrow night.

This Morning

WITH SHIRLEY POVICH

POVICH.

I am pleased to report that once again the Nats are seemingly a happy family, a state of affairs they couldn't claim last summer and fall when Buck Newsom and Bucky Harris were as cordial as Hitler and Rabbi Wise.

Newsom, like the big kid he is, was pouting all over the place, making no secret that he wanted to be traded to another club, screwing up his face at any mention of Harris and generally disparaging the Nats' manager.

Out there on the pitching mound Newsom was losing too many ball games to suit Newsom—and Harris—and the big pitcher was suffering from wounded pride and punctured ego. He was blaming Harris for overworking him and dropping him into the tough spots and he blamed Harris, too, for benching him and depriving him of a chance to win a bonus.

For his part, the Nats' manager conveyed to Newsom in unminced words that the big fellow "couldn't take it," that he was quite fed up on Newsom's mutterings and, in short, that Bucky Harris was running the ball club.

To which Newsom replied that if Harris were running the ball club, he'd better move into the front office where a fellow named Clark Griffith seemed very much at the controls, especially on Sundays.

By that crack Newsom meant that he was appreciated more by Griffith than by Harris. It is a matter of record that Newsom pitched the majority of the Sunday games at Griffith Stadium, and that, apparently, was no coincidence. Griffith recognized the drawing power of the big, colorful pitcher, and rightly deduced that Newsom was always good for a few extra thousand customers at those profitable Sunday games.

And so Newsom and Harris struggled through the 1936 season at dagger points. At the winter meeting Harris attempted to swing a deal that would send Newsom to Detroit, but Griffith blocked the trade by asking an outrageous price.

Manager and pitcher were regarding each other suspiciously all through the Nats' early training here. Harris was constrained to think that big, blustering Buck hadn't changed much and to Newsom, Harris was still something less than one of Nature's noblemen.

While Newsom was a salary hold-out and Griffith was inveighing against him, minimizing Buck's importance to the team and issuing ultimatum after ultimatum, Harris never missed the opportunity to chime in with something disparaging about the big fellow. Secretly, he was enjoying Griffith's leadership in the castigation of Newsom.

But, eventually, Newsom and Griffith reached terms and Harris found himself with the big fellow on his hands again. Harris and Newsom spoke in passing, but little more. In their respective asides, both gave each other the works. Harris' opinion of Newsom as a pitcher and Newsom's opinion of Harris as a manager would, if stacked atop each other, need a special dispensation from heaven to reach to the level of the gutter.

The showdown would have to come before or on the day of the opening game. Newsom had publicly proclaimed that he was the club's opening-game pitcher and insinuated that Harris wouldn't dare to turn him down for the assignment.

Harris would like nothing better than to give the big guy the go-by on the opening day just to deflate his ego, but he doubts that it would be tactful—especially if Newsom is in shape and warrants the job. Buck cherishes that opening day asignment and he is kid-like enough to resent any failure to get it. Harris knows that and while eager to snub Buck is torn between tact and desire. After all, Newsom's frame of mind is important to the Nats.

But as I started to say up there at the beginning, there are signs that the Nats are a happy family again. Tonight, there was definite evidence of a rapprochement between Harris and his temperamental pitcher.

The two were observed chatting earnestly over their coffee at dinner. There were long spells when Harris was doing the talking and Newsom was bending an attentive ear like a guy who is being let in on something. Anyway, the big fellow was strangely serious. They adjourned for a beer.

Outside the Nats' hotel a half-hour later, big Newsom was whistling a cheery tune as this department chanced by and bummed a smoke.

"Ya know, I was just thinking," said Newsom, "I've been around this baseball business a lot, but I don't think managers come any smarter than this Bucky Harris. Had a long talk with him tonight. Told me I could win 25 games this year if I'd get serious. Pretty smart fellow, this Harris. Don't underrate him."

There seems to be little doubt that the Outdoor Life and Sport Show contemplated for Baltimore next winter is an assured fact, according to the way the many affiliated organizations have taken to the idea and are pushing it to a conclusion.

Philadelphia, New York and other cities have been enjoying the diversion and fun for several years. There is no doubt that there is a distinct need of such a show in this section. In addition, the Wildlife Institute and National Wildlife Federation have been extended an invitation to hold their 1938 convention in Baltimore, the two to run concurrently.

ACKERMAN

It was only a few years ago that talk of catching a wahoo immediately placed one in a class with those who would like to make you believe the do-do bird was some sort of a barnyard fowl.

But today hte wahoo is known and eagerly sought by many anglers for the grand sport fish that it is.

Just a ew days ago a Bermudan angler caught a 91 pounder, the largest ever caught in the Atlantic Ocean and the second largest ever taken on rod and reel. It measured over 6 feet in length, yet was boated in the exceptionally fast time of 20 minutes.

The world record is 124¾ pounds, established off Hawaii in 1935. The former Atlantic record, which this fish replaces, was made at Providence, in the Bahama Islands, in 1911.

Another fish, not a record, to be sure, yet only 8 pounds short of that, was the 55-pound bull dolphin caught by Jockel George Rose off Tavernier Key. Entered in the Miami fishing tournament, htre is hardly any doubt that it will take the prize in its class, because the fingers of one hand will count all the dolphin ever caught that weighed more.

Suckers have been biting for the past week and are averaging about 2 pounds apiece. Thirteen was the largest catch noted. If you want to give them a try, fish the mouths of Pimmett Run, Turkey Run or Dead Run, while the present high water lasts. Difficult Run is good at any time, from the river to the road.

Last Sunday saw many anglers fishing the neighborhood of Great Falls and very few had their license buttons in plain sight. The natural thought is that they had neglected to provide this most necessary fishing accessory. Even catfish and sucker fishermen require one above tidewater.

A 2-pound small-mouth black bass caught up the river, almost on the tal end of the season, which ends Wednesday.

Catfishing is again getting under way, and while most of them have been caught from shore so far, it is now well worth while to try the deeper water from a boat. A 10½-pounder is tops so far.

Shenandoah's Bass Better Than Potomac's

Bass grow faster ,and are more healthy in the Shenandoah River than in the South Branch of the Potomac, near Romney. Experiments have been tried in both streams by Eugene Surber in charge of the Federal Hatchery at Leetown, from which the bass were taken when small a year ago, and released in the two rivers.

Last April, four-mile experimental stations were established along the two rivers, with mail boxes in which were pencils, rulers and report sheets. Fishermen were requested to report all fish caught, stating the time fished, kind of bait used and size. As a result, the report showed that the Shenandoah River bass exceeded the South Branch bass in size.

TANDEM
20 Months Old Straight Kentucky Whiskey Sold Only at MILSTONE'S ACME LIQUOR STORE
$1.29 Full Quart
927 Penna. Ave. N.W.

CAR LUBRICATION
Call CARL INCORPORATED
614 H N.W. DI. 2775

1,000 USED TIRES
Choose from the best selection in town. All sizes—guaranteed!
Priced as Low as $1
LEETH BROTHERS
1230 13th St. N.W. MEt. 0764

Today, one unfailing sign of special hospitality is the serving of Mount Vernon —the patrician of American ryes.
Mount Vernon
STRAIGHT RYE WHISKEY
YOUR GUIDE TO GOOD LIQUORS
Bonded in Bond under U.S. Government supervision—Full 100 proof

SIDNEY WEST, Inc. 14 & G Sts.
Fruhauf CLOTHES FOR MEN
WEST

CAR WASH 65c
Conveyor System
BRIGHTWOOD
SUPER SERVICE CENTER
8949 Ga. Ave. N.W. GE. 9899

Introducing THE NEW NATS

SECOND BASEMAN JOHNNY MIHALIC . . . makes the right side of the Washington infield unanimously Slavic when he is playing beside First Baseman Joe Kuhel . . . is one of that large company of former Cleveland sandlotters who have found their way into the big leagues . . . his presence with the Nats has tempered the misgivings that Buddy Myer will not regain his old form . . . if forced to play Mihalic at second base, Manager Bucky Harris is in no mood to hesitate . . . his performance with the Nats this spring recommends him for the job . . . concedes nothing to Myer around second base and has a better throwing arm . . . but can't hit with Buddy . . . swarthy of skin, trim of build, looks in fact like Myer's double on the field . . . and, strangely, has Myer's actions . . . came up to Washington via Youngstown and Chattanooga, receiving his first tryout with the Nats at the fag end of '35 . . . now 24 years old and fired with an ambition to make good for his new bride in Cleveland . . . batted .314 with Chattanooga last season and .239 with the Nats . . . but he was a tired young fellow when he joined Washington . . . down here in Orlando, the Nats' bosses have begun to sing his praises . . . because, for one thing, he has been the most consistent hitter in the exhibition games . . . knows he's in a tough spot if he has to substitute for Myer in Washington, but he's aching for the chance . . . hits usually to right field, when he decides to hit . . . because there wasn't anybody in the Southern League who could look 'em over any better than Mihalic, according to Calvin Griffith . . . let's put it this way: Mihalic will get preference over Ossie Bluge if Myer is out of the Nats' line-up . . . and that ought to explain a lot.

The Post's Consensus at Tropical Park

Consensus of Leading Handicappers.

First Race	Second Race	Third Race	Fourth Race	Fifth Race	Sixth Race	Seventh Race	Eighth Race
Idyllic (19	Kawagoe (31)	Dar. Duke (29)	Mondorf (21)	Sev. Star (16)	Bat. Girl (25)	Rob. Baron (25)	Ubald G. (22)
Pl. Time (17)	Dk. War (14)	Br. Moth (12)	Air Line (14)	Idle Along (14	Bichlorids (12)	Lambs Wl. (13)	Sir Reg (15)
Opoca (9)	Aunt Flor (8)	Up. Dutch (9)	Narise (11)	Peedeequa (13)	Ch'burger (11)	Chilkat (12)	Ravenna (12)

Bennings (Washington Post).

Idyllic	Queen Vic	Darby Duke	Narise	Peedeequa	Chambersburger	Robber Baron	Ubald G.
Day Dawn	Kawagoe	Byrds Flight	Mondorf	Seven Star	Battling Girl	Bold General	Ravenna
Play Line	Dark War	Upsee Dutch	Cur Crest	Sam Worthy	Adamite	Whittle	Bynums Run

Louisville Times (Associated Press).

Opoca	Kawagoe	Bertillion	Say When	Galloping	Chambersburger	Whittle	Ubald G.
Day Dawn	El Bandido	Sound Wave	Galon Boy	Sam Worthy	Adamite	Chilkat	Sir Reg
Idyllic	M. J. Brennan	Byrds Flight	Our Crest	Pre War	Battling Girl	Bold General	Black Timber

Best bet—Galloping.

At the Post . . .

with Bill Bennings.

Dear Al, Selections at Tropical Park.

If there is any poisoning or doping at the coming Bowie meeting, the track is going to know that it is an inside job. Around the entire plant a tall wire fence has been built and guards will be placed at all entrances throughout the meeting. Bowie didn't like the kind of publicity it got last fall and will leave no stone unturned in an effort to stamp out the work of vandals. As predicted, nothing has ever come out of the poisoning of last November. Bowie also has enlarged its clubhouse, bringing that structure out to the path that leads between the grandstand and the paddock. This will be a help in bad weather. Heretofore on big days the cutsomers were sandwiched into the clubhouse. Roman Soldier, the express train that swept all the important older-horse stakes in Maryland last fall, will not be seen in action at Bowie and perhaps not until summer. He has been turned out. Which reminds me that I should turn out Clocker Mike. About the only thing good I can say about him is that he is on his feed. I asked him for his horse for tomorrow and he likes Galloping again. You can have Galloping—and Mike, too, for that matter. BILL.

First race—Idyllic seems the best suited of those scheduled to face the barrier in this sprint. Breaks off the rail and will have Balaski to do the riding. Day Dawn gets in light and will be dangerous. Play Line should take care of the show end.

Second race—Queen Vic has been operating at a variety of distances. She has worked well at this route and tomorrow may be the day of days. I lean to her due to that inside post position, but she must do her best. Kawagoe and Dark War are a pair of fit ones and will be ready to battle it out if the top one is not ready.

Third race—Darby Duke appears to be a standout in this field. Needs only to run back to one of those good efforts to take the main award here. Byrds Flight is a trifle better than generally rated and may surprise. Upsee Dutch for the show end.

Fourth race—Narise is a rather solid sort when the opposition gets cheap. Gets in this with only 107 pounds and looms as the probable winner. Mondorf has been on the improve of late and is dangerous. Our Crest for the show end.

Fifth race—Peedeequa likes this track and operates at a distance that seems to suit. Seven Star is the one to beat. Sam Worthy, a recent sprint winner, could surprise in a field of this sort.

Sixth race—Chambersburger won his last in hollow fashion. I expect some improvement over that good effort and a set of brackets. Battling Girl is as fit as those recent races. Adamite for the show end.

Seventh race — Robber Baron seems ideally placed in this event. Needs only the right ride. Bold General is a fair sort and may be as close as second. Whittle is an outsider which has worked well.

Eighth race—Ubald G. is the probable favorite and the probable winner in this maiden field. Ravenna has shown good form at this route and is dangerous. Bynums Run may take the show award.

Best bet—Chambersburger.

Fair Grounds Results.

By the Associated Press.

FIRST—Five and one-half furlongs; purse, $700; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Yule Star, 106 (C. F. Simpson) 10.20 4.00 2.40
Irenes Bob, 119 (J. R. Hill) 3.00 2.20
City Slicker, 118 (C. Corbett) 2.40
Kabo, Big Fish and Epernay also ran. Time, 1:06.

SECOND—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds.
Dark Prince, 114 (W. Duffy) 3.20 2.80 2.40
Gustavia, 97 (C. Crowhurst) 4.60 3.60
Tinsel Lady, 104 (J. Dyer) 3.00
Miss Whiskaway, Dominus Witch, Miss Ivory and Broadway Girl also ran. Time, 1:45.

THIRD—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Servant Pride, 101 (Dubois) 27.80 10.40 5.80
Laddie Stone, 114 (O'Malley) .. 4.00 3.20
Julia Grant, 100 (Crowhurst) 3.60
Leeoran, Jubilarco, *The Millay, Bright Don, *Might Surprise, In Memory, *Yes Polly, Ottoman and Eo also ran. Time, 1:13.

FOURTH—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $1,000; handicap; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Giant Killer, 120 (Corbett) . 5.20 3.20 2.80
Flag Cadet, 102 (Dyer) 5.80 3.80
El Puma, 105 (B. Neal) 5.00
Whipowill, Breezing Along, Countess Ann, †Silas and †Compensatory also ran. Time, 1:45.
†Mrs. B. Fransheim entry.

FIFTH—One and one-quarter miles; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Yellow Metal, 110 (Molena) 5.60 3.20 2.60
Union, 113 (Simpson) 4.00 3.00
Hey Flirt, 109 (Marrero) 3.60
Cecil B., Vin Noir, Countess Bye, Arctic Star, Blue Damsel, *Mad Career, Night Flower, *Fair Mole and *Spicson also ran. Time, 2:06 1-5.

SIXTH—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $10,000; Louisiana Derby; 3-year-olds.
Grey Count, 116 (Corbett) 14.40 6.20 4.40
Dead Calm, 114 (O'Malley) 4.20 3.20
Trina, 114 (Neal) 5.80
Virginia J., †Quincy, Jewell Dorsett, Peter, Southland Beau, †Prince Arthur, Fly Pal also ran. Time, 1:50 4-5. (Equals track record.)
†Shandon Farm entry.

SEVENTH—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $700; claiming; 3-year-olds and upward.
Persuader, 105 (Marrero) ..8.20 3.80 2.80
Manhattan, 110 (Corbett) 3.20 3.60
Wee Emma, 103 (Dyer) 5.60
Sky Lad, Pitter Pat, Henry M., Moandmo, High Diver also ran. Time, 1:43 1-5.

EIGHTH—One and one-quarter miles; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Mr. Joe, 109 (Dyer) 8.20 4.20 3.20
Hazel Eye, 104 (C. Molena) 4.00 3.40
Notice Me, 109 (Dubois) 3.20
House Afire, Six Bells, *Scotty's Pride, Defier, Albess, Bright Knot, *Altus Nuba, *Gee Gee and Hows Chances also ran. *Field.

Tropical Park Entries.

(LISTED IN POST POSITIONS.)

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $900; claiming; for 3-year-olds.

No.	Horse and Jockey.	Wgt.	Odds.
9	Idyllic (Balaski)	115	5-2
7	Play Line (Arcaro)	114	3-1
8	*Cuban Boy (Schmidl)	103	8-1
4	*Day Dawn (Le Blanc)	109	6-1
3	*Gabe J. (Keegan)	107	12-1
6	Opoca (Cooper)	107	12-1
5	*Unknown World (Butler)	105	20-1
1	*Octave (Sarno)	100	20-1
2	Leona Reigh (Maschek)	105	6-1

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $900; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

7	*Queen Vic (Sarno)	109	12-1
9	Johnny Bane (Maschek)	110	12-1
8	*Scotch Queen (Bierman)	112	10-1
4	M. J. Brennan (Cooper)	115	12-1
5	Great Shakes (Coule)	110	20-1
3	*†Dark War (Le Blanc)	109	4-1
4	*Buckley's Pride (Clutter)	107	20-1
1	*†Aunt Flor (Schmidl)	112	4-1
2	Kawagoe (Arcaro)	119	5-2
11	*Miss Monk (Swain)	107	15-1
10	*†El Bandido (Le Blanc)	110	4-1
12	*†Ocallaigh (Jaekle)	109	4-1

†Cosgrave Stable entry.
‡Medway Stable entry.

THIRD RACE—Four furlongs; purse, $900; for maiden 2-year-old colts and geldings.

9	*Sound Wave (Le Blanc)	111	15-1
7	*Camaraderie (Schmidl)	111	15-1
5	Bertillon (J. Renick)	116	5-1
3	Blasing Memory (Rosen)	116	20-1
6	Eddie Joe (Cooper)	116	20-1
8	Darby Duke (Balaski)	116	3-1
4	Byrd's Flight (Wright)	116	10-1
2	Upsee Dutch (Wagner)	116	6-1
1	Brown Moth (Arcaro)	116	3-1

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $900; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

6	Mondorf (J. Renick)	106	3-1
9	Gallant Pat (Wright)	112	20-1
8	Mystic Sign (Balaski)	117	15-1
7	Muggins (Wagner)	110	8-1
5	*Air Line (Bierman)	112	6-1
2	Our Crest (Arcaro)	112	4-1
3	*Narise (Schmidl)	107	4-1
1	Say When (Deering)	106	10-1
4	*Galon Boy (Le Blanc)	106	12-1

FIFTH RACE—One mile; purse, $900; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

10	*Idle Along (Le Blanc)	109	10-1
9	*Pre War (Swain)	110	12-1
8	Peedeequa (Wright)	112	4-1
7	Miss Dignity (Merritt)	108	10-1
1	*John Werring (Bierman)	104	12-1
6	Anhelstion (Rosen)	108	20-1
5	Seven Star (Arcaro)	118	2-1
3	*Sam Worthy (Sarno)	111	8-1
4	*Gallopine (Dunbar)	103	12-1
2	*Bushmaster (Jaekle)	113	10-1

SIXTH RACE—One mile and one furlong; purse, $900; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

7	*Battling Girl (Le Blanc)	105	2-1
5	Adamite (Balaski)	118	4-1
1	Bichlorids (Rosen)	112	4-1
3	*Chambersburger (Jaekle)	112	6-1
2	*Herkimer (Sarno)	110	15-1
4	Wilco (Wright)	115	15-1
6	*Treasure Ship (Schmidl)	107	8-1

SEVENTH RACE—One mile; purse, $900; claiming; for maiden 3-year-olds.

9	*War Rumor (Sarno)	105	6-1
10	*Ballot Boy (Schmidl)	105	3-1
7	Robber Baron (Rosen)	118	8-1
8	Polychrome (Landolt)	109	20-1
6	*Chilkat (Jaekle)	104	8-1
4	Merry Kin (Wagner)	118	4-1
5	*Whittle (Le Blanc)	105	20-1
3	Lamb's Wool (Wright)	113	6-1
1	*Bold General (Swain)	113	15-1
2	*Richard III (Le Blanc)	109	20-1

EIGHTH RACE—One mile; purse, $900; claiming; for maiden 3-year-olds (division of seventh race).

7	*Tobacco Buyer (Swain)	113	10-1
10	Bynum's Run (Steffen)	114	4-1
9	*Ubald G. (Le Blanc)	105	2-1
8	Nancy Mae (Rosen)	109	10-1
5	Snood (Arcaro)	110	15-1
3	*Black Timber (Sarno)	100	20-1
2	Ravenna (Cooper)	109	6-1
4	Sir Reg (Balaski)	118	6-1
1	Never Yet (Wagner)	110	20-1
6	Grover O. (Vessell)	110	20-1

Oaklawn Park Entries.

FIRST RACE—Oaklawn course; purse, $600; claiming; for fillies and mares 4 years old and upward.

1	Ivonia	112	7 Cycas 112
2	Rolanda	112	8 Grand Baker. 112
3	Sayloma	112	9 *Squeeze Out. 107
4	*Nagatha	107	10 Dorothy Hicks 112
5	*Twidgets	107	11 Dixie D. 112
6	*Aunt Marie	107	12 *B'ara Carom 107

SECOND RACE—Four and one-half furlongs; purse, $600; for 2-year-olds.

1	†Glenpool	119	5 *Miss Monte.. 113
2	Betty Allene	113	6 Miss Pitty Pat 116
3	Chatterwrack	116	7 Domiworth ... 119
4	Montague	119

†R. L. Oldham entry.

THIRD RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward

1	Curling	102	7 *Computer .. 107
2	†Prince Fox	110	8 Sir Boston .. 113
3	Raymond	110	9 *Ste. d'Espoir. 97
4	Caterer	112	10 Miss Adele... 107
5	Peace Token	102	11 Damascene .. 112
6	Tad	102	12 *Dixie Dan.. 107

FOURTH RACE—Oaklawn course, purse, $700; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1	Cristale	116	5 Miss Saxon... 108
2	†Prince Fox	110	6 Golden Fate.. 110
3	Raymond	110	7 Surveyor 110
4	Bold Lover	116	8 †Jean Lee.... 110

†Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Weant entry.

FIFTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $800; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1	*General Boy	107	7 Our David... 106
2	Speed Queen	104	8 *Sorcery 107
3	Black Hat	112	9 Lightin Bill.. 112
4	Boontime	104	10 Hominy Imp. 107
5	Bahadur	112	11 *Cablegram .. 104
6	Wegoway	109	12 *Logwood ... 107

SIXTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1	*C'ntess Mario	94	7 Zelady 103
2	Lady Penny	99	8 *Florid 110
3	Golden Gower	107	9 Hustle Away. 104
4	Water Play	104	10 *Moon Sweep. 107
5	Th'ering Mike	107	11 Star Cluster.. 107
6	*Kanascitian	102	12 Atina 99

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1	Signa Light	109	4 Pops Betty... 105
2	Broadway Juel	109	5 *Snobeedo ... 107
3	Firing Squad	110	6 Hymarque 110

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1	Facchina	105	7 Muscle In.... 107
2	Easter Sun	107	8 Laura Kiev.. 108
3	*Maine Chance	108	9 Nawab 110
4	*Whiskarita	109	10 Topway 108
5	*Peace Move	109	11 David W.... 110
6	Out of Fire	110

*Apprentice allowance claimed.
Weather, cloudy; track, fast.

Marketeers Win, 44-27.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Hagerstown, Md., March 28.—The Marketeers won the first game of a series for the semipro basketball championship of Hagerstown here last night from the Y. M. C. A., 44 to 27.

On The RECORD

A COLLEGE nine that could almost play in the major leagues! That's the '37 St. Mary's (Calif.) team. The potential value of its "ivory" is estimated at $200,000, six baseballers rated as major material. St. Mary's boasts Ray Cleone, only ambidextrous twirler in college ball today. Cleone tossed two innings with his right arm, two with his south paw, in a recent game.

Racing Selections

Tropical Park.

1—Opoca, Day Dawn, Idyllic.
2—Kawagoe, El Bandido, M. J. Brennan.
3—Bertillon, Sound Wave, Byrd's Flight.
4—Say When, Galon Boy, Our Crest.
5—Galloping, Sam Worthy, Pre War.
6—Chambersburger, Adamite, Battling Girl.
7—Whittle, Chilkat, Bold General.
8—Ubald G., Sir Reg, Black Timber.
Best bet—Galloping.

Oaklawn.

1—Rolanda, Cycas, Aunt Marie.
2—Montague, Glenpool, Chatterwrack.
3—Evening Gown, Sir Boston, Caterer.
4—Surveyor, Bold Lover, Golden Fate.
5—Cablegram, Baadur, Black Hat.
6—Countess Mario, Zelady, Florid.
7—Snobeedo, Broadway Juel, Hymarque.
8—Facchina, Muscle In, Laura Kiev.
Best Bet—Surveyor.
—Louisville Times (A).

Postlude

By Ray C. B. Brown.

Concert by the National Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Hans Kindler, in Constitution Hall Sunday afternoon. Program: Overture to "Le Nozze di Figaro" (Mozart), Symphony No. 8 in B minor (Schubert), "Fruehlingsstimmen Walzer," Op. 410 (Johann Strauss the Younger), Suite from the Ballet, "Schelkunchik," Op. 71 (Chaikovski), Overture to "Tannhaeuser" (Wagner).

That emotional admixture of the festive and the melancholic peculiar to leave-takings at a season's end prevailed in Constitution Hall yesterday afternoon at the penultimate concert of the National Symphony Orchestra. For the program was built of requested numbers, and many of the auditors, subscribers to the Sunday series only, were bidding au revoir to Dr. Hans Kindler and his musicians. Enthusiasm ran so high that there were repetitions of the Strauss waltz and one of the dances from the "Nutcracker" suite, and the prolonged applause at the close of the concert brought Dr. Kindler back a half dozen times.

The orchestra was at the top of its form, both in technical finish and in consentient expressiveness, and played with a zest that made familiar compositions sound fresh and stimulating. Between conductor and musican was that rapport which manifests itself in vitalized performance, in an instant responsiveness to every change in the music's moods. There was no suggestion of the routined playing which is apt to let a composition sag for want of volitional energy.

If the rest of the score of "Le Nozze di Figaro" had perished, the overture alone would suffice to demonstrate Mozart's genius as a dramatic composer. It is not alone the contrapuntal skill with which a modicum of thematic material is proliferated that excites one's admiration. What is more amazing is the finesse with which the essential wit of the comedy is made to sparkle with incessant vivacity; in every measure the composer's unerring instinct for accent points the phrases and quickens them with the verve of spontaneous humor.

It is time that we dropped the adjective, unfinished, when speaking of Schubert's B Minor Symphony. So perfect is its relation between content and form, so complete is the expression of what Schubert had to say in the two movements, that by no norm of art can the work be called a fragment. The inspiration ran its full course, the poetic idea was fulfilled when Schubert laid down his pen. That moment of communion with the mysteries of life and death was over.

Since Schubert composed many a waltz, the transition from his meditative symphony to the gay and irresistible lift of "The Voices of Spring" was natural. Johann Strauss the Younger raised the waltz to a peak of virtuosity that left nothing more to be done with it, and his successors have been able only to imitate his devices.

In the "Nutcracker" ballet Chaikovski gave freest rein to the fanciful humor which contrasts so strongly with the pessimism in his nature. In this happy music, imaginative and delightfully woven of the stuff of faery, there is not the slightest trace of the introspection that plunges into depths of despair in the sixth symphony. Dr. Kindler gave the suite a reading in keeping with its objective character, and then turned to a magisterial performance of the "Tannhaeuser" overture.

Miner Electrocuted.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., March 28.—R. A. Parker, 32, of Lamberts Run, a utility man for the Reppert Coal Co., at its Hepzibah mine, was killed instantly yesterday when he fell on a wire leading to a coal loading machine and was electrocuted.

Virginia Makes $298,907 Gain In WPA Total

Professional and Clerical Workers to Be Given Employment.

By the Associated Press.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Additional funds totaling $298,907.20 have been authorized for providing work on WPA projects in Virginia, William A. Smith, State administrator, announced today.

On the new list of authorizations is a State-wide project for the employment of needy professional and clerical workers for the supervision and co-ordination of recreational activities.

Other authorizations include: $5,250 for the repair or replacement of publicly owned structures and utilities damaged or destroyed by the floods of 1936; $11,400 for construction, rebuilding, and repairing primary and secondary roads; $7,316 for the employment of needy persons in providing co-ordinating and supervising nursery schools, and providing the necessary parents' education; $12,282 for the employment of needy clerical and professional persons in instructional classes in elementary and general adult and vocational subjects.

To Augusta County, $580 to copy court records and for work in various offices.

To Shenandoah County, $448 for the employment of needy persons who will assist in the operation of public school libraries; $795 for constructing, rebuilding and repairing primary and secondary roads.

The Post Radio Time-Table

Monday, March 29 — Washington — Eastern Standard Time.

	WRC 316M-950KC	WMAL 476M-630KC	WOL 229M-1,310KC	WJSV 206M - 1,460KC
6:30	Gordon	.....	.....	Ssh!	6:30
6:45	Hittenmark	.....	.....	"	6:45
7:00	" "	Today's Prelude	Art Brown	Sun Dial	7:00
7:15	" "	Wake-Up Club..	" "	" "	7:15
7:30	" "	" " ..	" "	" "	7:30
7:45	" "	" " ..	" "	" "	7:45
8:00	News	Morn. Devotions	" "	" "	8:00
8:15	Gordon	Island Serenad.	" "	" "	8:15
8:30	Hittenmark	Cheerio	" "	" "	8:30
8:45	" "	"	" "	" "	8:45
9:00	" "	News	" "	" "	9:00
9:15	" "	Chicago Break-	Music	Met. Parade..	9:15
9:30	Easter Egg Rll.	fast Club	"	Easter Egg. Rll.	9:30
9:45	Morning Glories	" "	News; Music ..	Chri'n Science	9:45
10:00	Mrs. Wiggs...	Capt. Tim Healy	Police Flashes..	Betty and Bob	10:00
10:15	Other Wife...	Ma Perkins....	Music	Mo. Cinderella	10:15
10:30	Just Plain Bill	Mountain Man..	Marriage Clinic.	Church Hymns	10:30
10:45	Today'sChildren	Melodic Cameos	John Metcalf...	J. K. Watkins.	10:45
11:00	David Harum..	The O'Neills....	Jane Clifton ...	Magazine of	11:00
11:15	Backstage Wife	Personal Column	Music	of Air	11:15
11:30	To Be Charming	Vic and Sade...	"	Big Sister ...	11:30
11:45	Voice of Exp'ce	Edw. McHugh ..	Cantor Shapiro	Dr.Allan Dafoe	11:45

AFTERNOON PROGRAMS

12:00	News; Music..	Honeyhow Sassa	Music	Gumps	12:00
12:15	Mary Marlin..	CURBSTONE ...	News; Music ..	Bet'n Bookeids	12:15
12:30	Gene Arnold ..	National Farm	Four Star Frolic	Helen Trent ..	12:30
12:45	Rosa Lee.....	and Home Hour	We Are Four...	R.Man'sDarling	12:45
1:00	Joe White....	" " "	Music from Tex.	Five Star Rev.	1:00
1:15	Harding's Wife	" " "	William Rowitz.	Robert Horton	1:15
1:30	Words & Music	Love and Learn	Music	Rhythms	1:30
1:45	" "	Neighbor Nell..	Worries Only ..	Real Life Stor.	1:45
2:00	From Berlin ..	U. S. Navy Band	Tony Wakeman.	Kath. Cravens	2:00
2:15	" "	" "	Salerno & Piano	Concert	2:15
2:30	Mary Mason..	" "	Tony Wakeman.	Miniatures	2:30
2:45	" "	" "	Black and White	Mart & Marge	2:45
3:00	P.Young'sFam'y	Rochester Civic	Tony Wakeman.	Colonel Major	3:00
3:15	Ma Perkins ...	Orchestra	Pauline Alpert .	"	3:15
3:30	Vic and Sade..	" " "	Tony Wakeman.	Pop Concert..	3:30
3:45	O'Neills	" " "	Concert Orch...	" " ..	3:45
4:00	Hour of Charm	Lets Talk It	Tony Wakeman.	Treasures ...	4:00
4:15	" " "	Over	" " ..	College Choir	4:15
4:30	Follow the M'n	O'Brien's Orch..	Variety	Chicago	4:30
4:45	Guiding Light..	News	Tony Wakeman.	Variety Hour	4:45
5:00	Dari Dan	Mary Marlin ...	Music	Rhythms	5:00
5:15	Sundown Revue	Martin's Music .	Johnson Family	Hudsons Tea .	5:15
5:30	Jack Armstrong	Singing Lady...	Music	Robert Horton	5:30
5:45	Lit. Orph. Annie	Laff Parade....	"	Terry and Ted	5:45

EVENING PROGRAMS

6:00	Dinner Dance..	U. S. Army Band	Tony Wakeman.	Apple C. News	6:00
6:15	" " ..	" " "	Music	Arch McDonald	6:15
6:30	" " ..	Dinner Club ...	News; Music...	Man v. Woman	6:30
6:45	" " ..	Lowell Thomas.	Roberts' Orch...	Kitty Kelly ...	6:45
7:00	Amos 'n' Andy	Dr. Chas. Beard	" "	Poetic Melodies	7:00
7:15	Ucle Ezra.....	Bughouse R'ythm	Editorial	WJSV Calls ..	7:15
7:30	Mus. Moments.	John Herrick...	Music	Ray Heatherton	7:30
7:45	Ink Spots	" "	"	Boake Carter .	7:45
8:00	Fibber McGee	To Be	Five Star Final.	Horace Heidt's	8:00
8:15	and Molly	Announced	Male Quartet...	Brigadiers	8:15
8:30	The Voice of	Sweetest Love	Tonic Time....	Pipe Smoking	8:30
8:45	Firestone	Songs Ever Sung	Stamp Club....	Time	8:45
9:00	Warden Lawes.	Good Times	True Detectve..	Radio Theater	9:00
9:15	" "	Society	" " ..	" "	9:15
9:30	To Be	"Ghosts Who	Rendezvous ...	" "	9:30
9:45	Announced	Sneezed"	"	" "	9:45
10:00	Contented	R. Himber's	Boxing Bouts...	Senator Glass	10:00
10:15	Program	Orchestra	" " ..	" " ..	10:15
10:30	National	Music for	" " ..	" " ..	10:30
10:45	Radio Forum	Moderns	" " ..	" " ..	10:45
11:00	News; Sports.	News; Music...	Melody Pageant.	News	11:00
11:15	News	Slumber Hour...	Dinner to	Felton's Orch.	11:15
11:30	Midnight Frolic	" " ...	Adolph Zukor	Freeman's Or.	11:30
11:45	" " "	" " ...	" "	" "	11:45
12:00	Bill Strickland's	Night Watchman	T. Dorsey's	Nelson's Orch.	12:00
12:15	Orchestra	" "	Orchestra	" "	12:15
12:30	Agnew's	" "	Reisman's	Fio Rito's Or.	12:30
12:45	Orchestra	" "	Orchestra	Witching Hour	12:45
1:00	Sign off	(To 2 a. m.	Kayes Orches... (Till 1:30)	Sign off	1:00

★ TONIGHT ★
GEORGE BURNS
GRACIE ALLEN
in
"DULCY"
LUX RADIO THEATRE
Directed by
CECIL B. DeMILLE
9 P. M. Eastern Standard Time
WJSV
and Coast-to-Coast Columbia Network

AUTO RADIO SERVICE
PENN-WASH TIRE CO.
2014 14th St. N.W. NO. 8429
ARVIN RHYTHM RADIO

CALL RADIO CO.
FREE ESTIMATE
RADIO GUARANTEED SERVICE
636-38 H ST. N.E. • LINCOLN 7733
652 PA. AVE. S.E. • LINCOLN 9233
3107 COL. RD. N.W. • LINCOLN 8800

COAL
HUFNAGEL COAL CO.
& ALASKA COAL CO.
2,240 lbs. to the ton.
Every Pound Delivered in Bags to Your Bin at No Extra Charge
PA. BLACK DIAMOND—Bituminous Hard Structure. Light Smoke: Egg Size, $8.50; 75% Lump, $7.50; 50% Lump, $6.75. Lump and fine coal hagred separately.
MARYLAND SMOKELESS — A Bituminous Coal without Smoke, Soot or Gas: Egg Size, $9.50; 80% Lump, $8.50. Wood, $12 cord.
VIRGINIA HARD COALS.
Furnace, Egg Size, $10.75; Special Furnace (half Egg and Pea), $9.50; Stove, $10.75; Nut, $10.50; Pea, $8.50. Special Stove (half Stove and Pea), $9.50.
POCAHONTAS — Smokeless; no gas, low ash, highest grade bituminous; Egg Size, $10.90; Stove, $10.65; Nut, $9.75.
PA. HARD COALS
All Sizes of Old Company's Famous Lehigh Hard Coal.
All Coals Thoroughly Rescreened and Guaranteed.
We Deliver ¼-Ton Orders.
Dial NA. 5885 or Jackson 2000
Phone Orders—DAY OR NIGHT

Whatever you want in a gasoline... the percentage is all in favor of
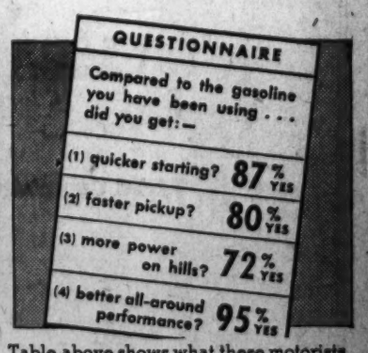
BLUE SUNOCO
THE ONLY TRUE BLUE MOTOR FUEL

Take a tip from the hundreds of motorists who participated in these tests. Put Blue Sunoco up against any other gasoline in town by testing it right in your own car. Prove for yourself that Blue Sunoco's lively, high-test action is unsurpassed, even by extra-priced gasolines. See if you don't agree that today's greatest value for your gasoline dollar is . . . Blue Sunoco.

The Ross Federal Research Corp., nationally known fact-finding organization, asked 1214 motorists in 14 widely separated cities to test a "mystery gasoline" in their own cars. First—the tank of each car was drained of the gasoline it had been using.

The tanks of these cars were then filled with this "mystery gasoline." This unknown motor fuel was Blue Sunoco, with the color left out. E. W. Saybolt & Co., petroleum testing authorities, checked this "mystery gasoline" and certified that it was regular Blue Sunoco.

After these motorists had sufficient time to compare the performance of this uncolored Blue Sunoco in their own cars against the gasoline they had used previously, Ross Federal investigators asked their frank, honest opinions of the unknown motor fuel.



QUESTIONNAIRE
Compared to the gasoline you have been using . . . did you get:—
(1) quicker starting? 87% YES
(2) faster pickup? 80% YES
(3) more power on hills? 72% YES
(4) better all-around performance? 95% YES
Table above shows what these motorists reported after comparing Blue Sunoco against 54 other gasolines, 11 being extra-priced. Furthermore, 85% of the extra-priced gasoline users stated that Blue Sunoco performed better than the higher-priced fuels they had been using.

ONLY ONE QUALITY
NO SECOND GRADE
NO THIRD GRADE

Financial, Business and Industrial News

Demand Lifts Steel Capacity To 90 Per Cent

Delivery Is Major Item, Buyers Disregarding Higher Prices.

Cleveland, March 28.—Steelmakers are "using every effort to prevent speculative buying and hoarding" by scrutinizing all inquiries closely and limiting shipments to consumers' usual needs, the magazine Steel said today.

"Buying shows no sign of easing," the publication said. "Current bookings are in excess of shipments and backlogs are increasing. In the effort to obtain preference some consumers are offering premiums over present prices, but mills hesitate to accept these offers.

"Price seems no bar to buyers, delivery being the important factor. In many instances sales representatives are ordered to submit all inquiries to the home office before completing sales.

"Every indication is that consumers are using steel as rapidly as it is shipped and that efforts to obtain deliveries are based on actual needs, to meet demand for their products.

"Heavy bookings have pushed back deliveries on current buying to an average of close to three months, somewhat less in a few cases and much more in some grades of sheets. Steel bars in some cases can be obtained within eight weeks and in others not short of 12 weeks."

Despite "inevitable interruptions for furnace repair," the national steelworks operating rate edged up an additional point to 90 per cent of capacity, Steel said.

Pittsburgh gained 2 points to 93 per cent, Chicago 1 point to 83½, Buffalo 3 points to 90, and Cincinnati 8 points to 80. Cleveland was off a point and a half to 80½, and New England lost 12 points to 85 per cent, both drops being due to repairs.

Eastern Pennsylvania at 58, Youngstown at 85, Wheeling at 97, Birmingham a 80, Detroit at 100, and St. Louis at 82 remained unchanged.

D. C. Deposit Section Will Hold Election

An election to fill unexpired terms of two former members of the executive council of the safe deposit section, District of Columbia Bankers Association, will be held at a meeting of the section tonight at 8 o'clock at the board room of the American Security & Trust Co.

Names submitted by the nominating committee, as nominees for election, are:

Charles K. West, Security Savings & Commercial Bank; Charles W. Haas, Union Trust Co.; John M. Boteler, National Savings & Trust Co.; Arthur P. Miller, Liberty National Bank; Gerald E. Keene, Second National Bank.

Nominations may also be made from the floor by any accredited delegate.

Plans for the conventions of the National Safe Deposit Association here, in May, also will be discussed.

Bank Stocks Decline $46,203,000 for Week

New York, March 28.—The current downward movement in the New York City bank stock market continued during the past week, according to records compiled by Hoit, Rose & Troster.

The aggregate market value of 16 leading issues on March 25 amounted to $2,278,982,000, compared with $2,235,185,000 at the close of the previous week, a decrease of $46,203,000, or 1.99 per cent.

BLANK BOOKS
By Andrews PAPER COMPANY
716 12th St. N.W. Phone NA. 1974

WE SELL, BUY OR EXCHANGE OFFICE EQUIPMENT
Desks, Tables, Chairs, Steel Files, Steel Cabinets, Safes
BAUM'S FURNITURE HOUSE
1416 Eye St. N.W. Phone NA. 2184

First Trust Loans
Reasonable Rates and Commissions
Tyler & Rutherford, Inc.
1520 K St. N.W. NAtional 0475
Loan Correspondent
Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.

The Market

By Carlton A. Shively,
A Special Correspondent.

Government Bonds Continue Decline but Long-Term View Is Held Favorable.

New York, March 28.—After a rather dismal beginning, the stock and bond markets improved moderately last week, but trading activity was held down because of the shakiness in confidence that resulted from the sharp declines, particularly in Government bonds, of the previous week. Government bonds, in spite of the support given the market by the various Government agencies, acting through the Federal Reserve Banks, and the shift from short term to long term issues by the system itself, failed to make a convincing rally. Presumably the investment market feels that, with the prospect for higher money rates such as it is, the yield bases of long term gilt edged issues is not yet down far enough to warrant acceptance of the offerings by the banks.

Fortunately for the stability of the banking position, and for the credit needs of industry, the banks as a whole are not yet pressed for cash. They do not, in other words, have to sell their Government bonds, but most of them would like to shorten sail in so troubled a sea. Whatever they may wish to do, it is evident that the market simply isn't there. Government agencies may come to the support of prices from time to time, to prevent a panic, but the Federal Reserve System, the postal savings accounts sinking fund and the like are not going to provide a permanent depositing place for bonds.

Too Optimistic on Taxes.

Some have counted on purchases by the Government for account of the social security funds to hold up prices and to relieve banks of their bond holdings but those purchases can be made only when prices fall to a 3 per cent yield basis. Such a fall would mean considerable loss for the banks. Meanwhile the Treasury, it now is clear, has overestimated tax collections under the new undistributed profits tax and possibly also it has overestimated payments on social security account. Both suggest additional bond issues later, for the answer of higher taxes may prove to be too unpopular to give until the situation becomes shakier.

On the point of the banking position relative to the Government bond market, a statement made this week by T. K. Smith, serving as president of the American Bankers Association, is little short of remarkable. Noting that about 3 per cent of the Nation's pay roll will this year be diverted into the reserve fund, which must be invested in Government bonds, he says the act will remove increasing amounts from bank portfolios. With too much cash now on hand, "what will we do," he asks, "if we have to exchange some of our present investment for still more cash?"

Mr. Smith should not worry too much. His brother bankers are wrinkling their brows for just the opposite reason. With the higher reserve requirements that go into effect on May 1, with the fact that Government bonds will have to drop sharply before social security funds can be used, and with the rapidly growing demand for credit by industry and speculators, to say nothing of the undiminishing Federal expenditures, few banks are facing starvation for Government bonds. The country now has fastened upon it a permanent, ordinary budget of seven billions and nobody knows how great the extraordinary spending will be—and for a while longer that means more bonds.

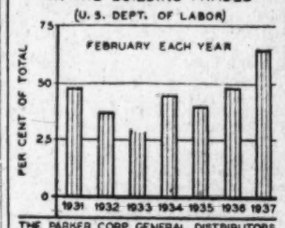
Trade Activity Rises.

Uncertain as may be the future for the bond market barring a collapse in prices, which would tend to unsettle everything, the outlook for stock prices continues encouraging. Recent extensive wage increases and the rise in raw materials suggest a shrinking profit margin for many industries. As an offset, sales volume is increasing and some of the higher costs may be passed on to consumers (particularly in the steel industry). Unless crushing taxation comes, and the Government scarcely will wish to kill the golden egg layer, the force of good earnings combined with the inflationary influence ought to hold or even increase money in the stock market.

Large holders of stocks scarcely have yet found an incentive to sell. They face large income taxes. They have no other adequate employment for their money. Their chances of still further profits in most stocks are at least better than ever.

Trade news of the week followed the familiar pattern. The steel industry has now stepped up to 90 per cent of capacity operations, the highest since the boom war years. Prices for steel scrap have risen again and other metals are again hardening. It may be partly a hoarding of raw materials and finished goods against still higher prices, but that in itself is a great mover of markets, at least for a while.

Building Jobs Rise 146% From Low



Boston, March 28.—The increased activity in building and construction has caused employment in the building trades to jump 44 per cent ahead of a year ago and 146 per ce.t over employment during the depression low.

Chemical Sales Up 15% in Year

New York, March 28.—Due to broadening industrial activity with consequent increased demand for chemical products, the chemical industry is continuing the excellent progress of 1936, it is reported in an analysis appearing in Poor's Industry and Investment Surveys. Sales of chemical products for last year are estimated at 12 per cent to 15 per cent above those of 1935.

"In many cases increases in earning power exceeded the sales gain," the report states. "Moreover, these striking profits were recorded despite chemical price levels considerably below those of 1929. This attests to steady gains in efficiency.

"Despite the favorable outlook for the industry as a whole, the prospects for certain chemical branches are obscure. Although sulphur shipments have increased materially, the Texas Legislature's proposal to advance the taxes on sulphur from $1.03 to $2 a ton will check profits. Prices for commercial alcohol remain relatively low. Moreover, sales of anti-freezes during the unusually warm winter months were well below normal levels."

Anaconda Profit Six-Year Peak

New York, March 28 (AP).—Anaconda Copper Mining Co. reported today the largest profits since 1930 at $15,881,829 for the year ended December 31. This was equal to $1.83 a share on the capital stock. In 1935 net income was $11,180,087 or $1.29 a share.

Cornelius F. Kelley, president, said that gross sales and earnings on a consolidated basis totaled $160,882,734, compared with $127,678,576 for 1935, an increase of 26 per cent.

Production amounted to 552,807,952 pounds of copper, 6,508,847 ounces of silver and 30,579 ounces of gold. Deliveries of copper for the year, in both domestic and foreign markets, amounted to 849,321,306 pounds. These included custom, secondary and purchase intake.

Dow-Jones Averages

By the United Press.

New York, March 27.

Stocks—	Open	High	Low	Close	Net ch.
20 rails	60.77	61.09	60.71	61.05	+0.26
20 utilities	32.03	32.13	31.88	32.02	+0.02

Transactions in stocks used in averages today, 1,300,000.

30 industrials	184.34	185.29	183.99	184.98	+0.87

Industrials	50,800
Rails	27,400
Utilities	31,400

Eason Oil Co. Stock Issue Offered Today

Preferred Shares Priced at $25.75; Common Stock at the Market.

Public offering is being made today by Lyon, Pruyn & Co. and Stemmler & Co., of New York, and Johnston, Lemon & Co., of Washington, D. C., of 40,000 shares of $1.50 cumulative convertible preferred stock, $20 par value, and 136,000 shares of $1 par common stock of Eason Oil Co., Enid, Okla., by means of a prospectus. The initial offering price of the preferred stock is $25.75 per share, while the common shares are priced at the market.

Proceeds from the sale of the preferred stock will be used as follows: To retire the balance of the company's first mortgage 6 per cent bonds and 7 per cent gold debentures, and to retire all bank loans and other notes payable, with the exception of $53,634 of noncallable notes payable which are not due until after November 30. The balance of the proceeds will be used for development, purchase of leases, working capital and other corporate purposes. The sale of the common stock does not constitute new financing.

The preferred stock is redeemable on and after November 1, 1938, in whole or in part, on 60 days' notice, at $27.50 per share plus accrued, unpaid dividends. It is convertible into 5½ shares of common stock until July 1, 1938; thereafter into four shares of common until January 1, 1940, and thereafter into three shares of common.

Authorized capitalization of the company, upon completion of this financing, will consist of 40,000 shares of $1.50 cumulative convertible preferred stock, $20 par value, all of which will be outstanding, and 700,000 shares of $1 par common stock, of which 314,632 shares will be outstanding. Of the common stock an aggregate of 245,216 shares have been reserved for conversion purposes. There will be no funded debt.

Wood Production Declines in Week

The lumber industry during the week ended March 20 stood at 66 per cent of the 1929 weekly average of production and 70 per cent of 1929 shipments.

New orders continued their high record, being only slightly below revised figures for the preceding week, which was highest of the year to date. Production was heavier than previously reported for any 1937 week. Shipments receded somewhat from the preceding week, which holds the year's record to date.

National production reported for the eweek ended March 20 by 5 per cent fewer mills was 2 per cent below the output of the preceding week; shipments were 12 per cent below shipments of that week and new orders were 1 per cent below that week's orders, according to reports to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association from regional associations covering the operations of important softwood and hardwood mills.

United Air Purchases Two Douglas Planes

United Air Lines has ordered two additional Douglas mainliner transports, which will give United a fleet of 29 Douglases, 8 of which are overnight coast-to-coast slepeer planes, 11 of the 21-passenger type and 10 fitted up with 14 swivel chairs in de luxe 21-passenger cabins.

United has already taken delivery of 20 Douglases which are now in operation on various sections of United's system.

Open Market.

Bonds.

	Bid.	Asked.
Barber & Ross deb. 4s, 1945	60	.....
Consolidated Title Co., Inc.	99	.....
D. C. Paper Mfg. 1st 5s, '46	16	.....
Hamilton Hotel 5s, 1950	95	.....
Mayflower 5s 1950	95	97½
Nat'l Press Bldg. 3-5s, 1950.	78	81
Racquet Club 1st 5s, 1945	58	62
Wash. Auditorium 1st 6s, '44	72	.....
Wash. Properties 7s, 1952	60	62

Stocks.

Anacostia Bank	125	.....
Barber & Ross pf. (new)	5	.....
East Washington Sav. Bank	14½	.....
Federal American Co. pf.	32	.....
Federal American Co. com.	1¼	.....
Hamilton National Bank	35½	37½
National Capital Insurance	14	.....
Nat. Mtg. & Inv. pf.	2½	3½
National Metropolitan Bank	240	280
Raleigh Hotel com.	35	40
R. E. Mtg. & Guar. com.	1½	.....
Security Savings & Com'l.	105	.....
Union Finance Units	25	.....
Union Trust Co.	105	115
Wash. Convention Hall pf.	85	.....
Wash. Properties, Inc., vtc.	2½	3½

Get the Facts about our MORTGAGE LOAN PLAN
LEARN how it lowers your interest costs . . how it puts your principal payments on a more convenient basis. Thousands of property owners endorse the plan. Ask us about it.
WEAVER BROS INC REALTORS
Mortgage Loan Correspondent Metropolitan Life Insurance Company
WASHINGTON BUILDING DISTRICT 9486

Stationers Office Outfitters SINCE 1888
3 Convenient Stores
CHAS. G. STOTT & CO. INC.
1513 K.-1310 NEW YORK AVE.-824 17TH.
PHONE NATIONAL 4181

FIRST TRUST LOANS
Long-term REFINANCING . . . Lowest Rates . . . 3-Year Construction Loans . . .
5%
BOSS & PHELPS MORTGAGE CO
Loan Correspondent
John Hancock Mutual Life Ins. Co.
1417 K St. N.W. NA. 9300

Penn. Report Reflects Rise In Industry

Freight and Passenger Revenues Increase Over Previous Year.

Philadelphia, March 28.—The ninetieth annual report of the Pennsylvania Railroad, covering the year 1936, made public today, reflects the general improvement of business throughou the country. Freight revenues, amounting to $333,350,239, increased $61,302,804 over the previous year. The passenger revenues of $67,552,238 advanced $7,755,059. Total operating revenues from all sources, aggregating $441,425,189, increased $73,613,003. Freight earnings were the largest since 1930 and passenger since 1931.

With the improvement in earnings, maintenance expenditures for both roadway and equipment were sharply stepped up and the total, $131,701,065, was $29,059,598 greater than 1935.

The heavier traffic of the year was moved with a proportionately smaller additional outlay for transportation expenses, which increased $20,182,620 or 15 per cent, as against a 20 per cent gain in operating revenues.

The net railway operating income of $84,180,593 showed an increase of $13,785,952 but was equivalent to only 3.27 per cent on the total investment in road and equipment.

After meeting all obligations and providing for sinking and other funds there remained a surplus for the year of $31,399,351, equivalent to 4.8 per cent on the capital stock.

Two dividends were paid during the year aggegating 4 per cent, the dividend of 2 per cent paid December 21, 1936, being charged against the income for the year.

Forecasting a new era in timesaving schedules, both passenger and freight, togethr with the continuance of other forward steps in service and facilities, President M. W. Clement says in the general remarks:

"Your management is continuously seeking new methods of operation and improvements in service and equipment to make its service more attractive to its patrons and increase its business. In the future, passenger service will be faster, and equipment will be more comfortable and more attractive than ever before. Freight service will be faster, more convenient, and in its newer forms, will have much wider and more general appeal to the public.

"The program of extending air-conditioning in coaches, dining cars and Pullman cars has progressed, and the important trains were completely air-conditioned, thus providing the most comfortable and enjoyable means of travel, with speed and regularity greater than ever before attained.

"The 10,000 all-steel freight cars ordered in December, 1935, have been completed these cars were built at a cost of approximately $25,000,000 and involved 11,000,000 man-hours of employment, both in the fabrication of the material used."

Legal Record

District Court
Motions Court Proceedings.
Justice Gordon, Presiding.

William S. Martin vs. the Alcoholic Control Board et al.; rule returnable forthwith.

In re Capital Beef Co.; final report referred to referee.

Eva Alexander vs. William A. Alexander; Cedric Johnson appointed to defend.

Dorothy B. Kyttle vs. Frederick J. Kyttle; rule discharged.

In re Carolyn L. Littlepage; order setting aside order referring to com.

Plaisted vs. Plaisted; defendant permitted to leave jurisdiction.

In re N. Auth Provision Co.; order authorizing trustee to offer assets for sale.

Herbert vs. Herbert; rule continued April 5.

In re William H. Campbell; adjudication and reference to referee.

Ferro vs. Ferro; order for custody and maintenance.

Vermilyea et al. vs. Minter; judgment by default vs. defendant for 14,250, interest and costs.

Eliasson vs. Eliasson; rule returnable April 5.

Dorfman vs. Dorfman; rule returnable April 7.

Quinnette vs. Quinnette; order of publication.

Arumdel Lumber Co. vs. Amer. Const. Co.; decree nisi.

Robinson vs. Robinson; rule returnable first Friday.

Sandy et al. vs. Dorion et al.; decree sub. trustee.

Lawsuits.

John King vs. Cecil L. Jones; damages, $50,000. Attys., David A. Hart, William R. Lichtenberg, John R. Reeves.

John King vs. Otic Garage, Inc.; damages, $50,000. Attys., same.

Agnes M. Scott vs. Francis D. Klimkiewicz; adm.; debt, $4,163. Attys., Simon Hirshman, C. E. Reidy.

Catherine Robb vs. Diller Matthews; damages, $10,000. Attys., Albert Lyman, William C. Sullivan.

Docketed Judgments.

Whitheed Metal Produce Co. vs. Really Construction Corporation, $42.75. Atty., John K. Cunningham.

Twelfth Washington Corporation vs. Salvatore Troizno et al., $450. Atty., John D. Fitzgerald.

Equity Suits.

Conrad S. Beylor vs. Mary A. Beylor; absolute divorce. Atty., R. B. Washington.

Mary M. Thompson vs. William Thompson; absolute divorce. Atty., Ellis Klein.

Margaret E. Holmes vs. Howard V. Holmes; absolute divorce Atty., Burton A. McGann.

Julius R. Hansen vs. Inez M. Hansen; absolute divorce. Attys., Bowie & Stern.

Albert J. Jacobson vs. Helen H. Jacobson; to declare deceased defendant. Atty., William J. Kelly.

Clarence W. Richard vs. Eunice I. Richard; absolute divorce. Atty., Joseph M. Tanenbaum.

Lida S. Sandy et al. vs. Alice W. Darton et al.; sub. trustee. Atty., Francis E. Smith, Jr.

Bankruptcy Petitions.

William H. Campbell; voluntary; assets, $61.78; liabilities, $332.22. Atty., William J. Madden.

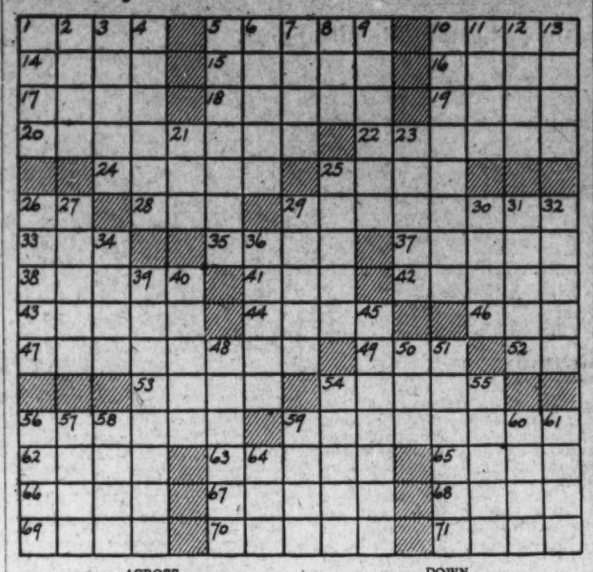
Probate Proceedings.

Estate of Mary E. O'Rourke; will filed dated July 22, 1932.

Estatae of Clarence H. Atherton; will filed dated February 12, 1912.

Estate of Mary Amelia Cochran; will filed dated February 16, 1937.

Daily Crossword Puzzle



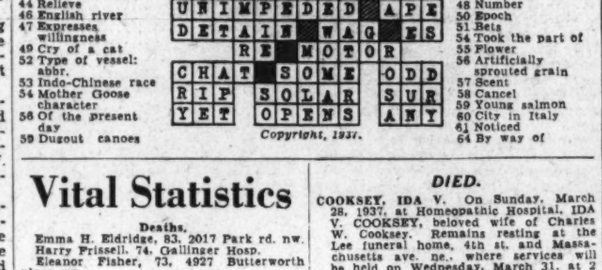
ACROSS.

1 Porgy
5 Cold dish served with dressing
10 Punctuation mark
14 Knitting stitch
15 Grape conserve
16 Silkworm
17 Continent
18 Palm off
19 Confined
20 Definite and explicit
22 Rowing motion
24 Dwelt
25 River in Russia
26 Therefore
28 Oriental dwelling
29 Comers
33 Before
35 Act of exchanging for money
37 Oriental inn
38 Garbed
41 Twice
42 Proclamation
43 Coffee; poetic
44 Relieve
46 English river
47 Expresses willingness
49 Cry of a cat
52 Type of vessel: abbr.
53 Indo-Chinese race
54 Mother Goose character
56 Of the present day
59 Dugout canoes
62 A descendant of Benjamin
63 Escape by artifice
65 Otherwise
66 Lie at ease
67 Outer coverings of wheels
68 Ceremony
69 Playing card
70 Grounds adjoining houses
71 Rotate rapidly

DOWN

1 Health resorts
2 Point of the crescent moon
3 Resent of the sun in Milton's "Paradise Lost"
4 Lake in New York State
5 Allows
6 Sun
7 Not professional
8 Siamese coins
9 Roundabout course
10 Corrupted
11 Measure of surface
12 Carol
13 Detest
21 The yellow bugle or herb eve
23 Aromatic seeds
25 Attire
26 Pinnacle of ice in a glacier
27 Town in Maine
29 Assumed name
30 Tyrant
31 Cords for fastening shoes
32 Locations
34 Short for a year
36 Man's name
38 Encourages
39 Toward the rising sun
40 Melancholy
45 Sovereign
48 Number
50 Epoch
51 Bets
54 Took the part of
55 Flower
56 Artificially sprouted grain
57 Scent
58 Cancel
59 Young salmon
60 City in Italy
61 Noticed
64 By way of

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER



Copyright, 1937.

Vital Statistics

Deaths.

Emma H. Eldridge, 83, 2017 Park rd. nw. Harry Frissell, 74, Gallinger Hosp.
Eleanor Fisher, 73, 4927 Butterworth place nw.
Samuel H. Landy, 72, 1305 Fern st. nw.
Walter A. Brown, 70, 2713 Connecticut ave. nw.
Margaret B. Lerch, 69, 1809 D st. se.
Charles Verner, 68, 1833 Kalarama rd. nw.
Harry C. Alider, 59, 4121 Fourth st. nw.
Reuben A. Redd, 56, St. Elizabeth Hosp.
Leila Wright, 50, Gallinger Hosp.
Marie McGilton, 43, Gallinger Hosp.
Ethel Bateman, 26, Providence Hosp.
Robert M. Russell, 11, 2621 Woodley pl. nw.
Betty Braxton, 59, 903 S st. nw.
Mamie Harris, 55, Gallinger Hosp.
Henry Riley, 53, 928 T st. nw.
John R. Curry, 49, Gallinger Hosp.
George U. Gwynn, 44, 1828 Fourth st. nw.
Mary Birch, 34, 1822 Fourth st. nw.
Thomas Smith, 31, Freedmen's Hosp.
Sallie Prince, 29, Gallinger Hosp.
Clarence W. Brown, 24, St. Elizabeth Hosp.
Ida Smiley, 20, Gallinger Hosp.

Births.

Max and Gertrude S. Kotkin, girl.
Joseph and Lucile Cramer, boy.
Mark and Willena Adams, girl.
Fred L. and Mary Vermillion, girl.
Albert and Gladys Hardy, girl.
Elsworth and Alva Green, boy.
Archie and Mattie Wigfall, girl.
Thomas and Elsie Lewis, girl.

State, City, County Bonds.

(Reported by Gillet & Co., Inc.)

State Bonds.

Issue.	Maturity.	% Yield.
New York	Various	2.00 to 2.80
California	1943	2.00
Pennsylvania	Various	1.80 to 1.90
Virginia	Various	1.75 to 2.50
Maine	1947	2.00
Colorado hwy. rev.	Various	2.40 to 2.70
Illinois highway	1956	2.75
New Jersey	1964	2.50
Oregon	1941	2.00

City and County Bonds.

Issue.	Maturity.	% Yield.
Boston Metro. Dist.	Various	2.40 to 2.50
Philadelphia, Pa.	Various	2.60 to 3.25
Minneapolis, Minn.	Various	2.50 to 2.90
Providence, R. I.	Various	2.40 to 2.60
Kansas City, Mo.	1968	2.65

Dow-Jones Bonds.

By the United Press

New York, March 27.

40 bonds	102.07	—0.01
10 first rails	107.91	+0.31
10 second rails	90.80	—0.11
10 utilities	104.04	—0.07
10 industrials	108.54	—0.16

DIED.

ADAMS, ANNIE LAURIE. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at the residence of her daughter, 1903 N. Quebec st., Cherrydale, Va., ANNIE LAURIE ADAMS (nee Clarke), beloved wife of Louis J. Adams, in the 68th year of her age. She is also survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elsie Shreve, Mrs. Myrtle Dyer and Miss Mabel Adams, and one son, Willard J. Adams, all of Arlington, Va. Funeral services will be held at the residence of her daughter, 1903 N. Quebec st., Cherrydale, Va., on Monday, March 29, at 2 p. m. Interment Andrew Chapel, Va.

BATEMAN, ETHEL. On Friday, March 26, 1937, at Providence Hospital, ETHEL BATEMAN, of Ardmore, Md., beloved wife of Robert E. Bateman and mother of Gertrude Elizabeth and Virginia Yvonne Bateman, aged 26 years. Funeral services at the W. W. Chambers Co. suburban funeral home, 918 Cleveland ave., Riverdale, Md., on Tuesday, March 30, at 8:30 a. m., thence to St. Jerome's Church, Hyattsville, Md., where mass will be offered at 9 a. m. for the repose of her soul. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery.

BLUNT, WILLIAM LAIRD. On Sunday, March 28, 1937, at Emergency Hospital, WILLIAM LAIRD BLUNT, of Popes Creek, Md., beloved husband of Edith Matthews Blunt. Remains resting at Birche's funeral home, 3034 M st. nw., where services will be held on Monday, March 29, at 2 p. m. Interment private.

BIRCH, CORDELIA. On Sunday, March 28, 1937, at her residence, 3051 M st. nw., CORDELIA BIRCH, the beloved mother of Joseph W. Birch, Mrs. David McKeefer, Mrs. Ida Wernig, Mrs. Florence Angel, Mrs. Alice Peano, Mrs. Rosey Rubin, James W. O'Brien and Evelyn Huffer. Remains resting at the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw. Notice of funeral later.

BOND, ALVIN C. On Sunday, March 28, 1937, at his residence, 4327 4th st. nw., ALVIN C. BOND, the beloved husband of Helen Clary Bond and father of Beverly Bond. Funeral from the above residence on Wednesday, March 31, at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment Ivy Hill Cemetery, Laurel, Md. Services by the W. W. Chambers Co.

BURNS, MARY A. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at her residence, 1433 Locust rd. nw., Mary A. Burns, the beloved wife of the late Joseph D. Burns and mother of Joseph D. and Edwin Irwin Burns. Funeral from the above residence on Tuesday, March 30, at 8:30 a. m., thence to the Church of the Nativity, Brightwood, D. C., where requiem mass will be offered at 9 a. m. for the repose of her soul. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery. Services by the W. W. Chambers Co.

BARBER, ROBERT L. On Thursday, March 25, 1937, at his residence, 113 11th st. ne., ROBERT L. BARBER, the beloved husband of Katie Davis Barber and father of Dorcas B. Hickox. Funeral from H. M. Padgett's funeral home, 131 11th st. se., on Monday, March 29, at 11 a. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment St. Anne's Cemetery.

BRADNACK, CHARLES B. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at Garfield Memorial Hospital, CHARLES B. BRADNACK, beloved husband of Minerva A. Bradnack and father of Mrs. Grace B. McCain. Remains resting at the Lee funeral home, 4th st. and Massachusetts ave. ne. Services will be held at the Universalist National Memorial Church, 16th and S sts. nw., on Monday, March 29, at 1 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

DIED.

COOKSEY, IDA V. On Sunday, March 28, 1937, at Homeopathic Hospital, IDA V. COOKSEY, beloved wife of Charles W. Cooksey. Remains resting at the Lee funeral home, 4th st. and Massachusetts ave. ne., where services will be held on Wednesday, March 31, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Congressional Cemetery.

COLLINS, CAROLINE LOUISE. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at 3006 W st. se., CAROLINE LOUISE COLLINS, the beloved wife of John Collins and mother of Mrs. Evelyn Rosalie Mackintosh. Funeral services at the W. W. Chambers Co. Southeast funeral home, 517 11th st. se., on Monday, March 29, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

ELDRIDGE, EMMA H. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at her residence, 2017 Park Road, nw., EMMA HEATH ELDRIDGE, widow of Frank Sylvester Eldridge and mother of Miss Pearle Eldridge, Irving Heath Eldridge, Albert D. Eldridge, of Washington, D. C., and Chauncey T. Eldridge, of Miami Beach, Fla. Services at her residence on Monday, March 29, at 2 p. m. Interment at Charlotte, N. C., Tuesday morning.

FRISSELL, HARRY J. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, HARRY J. FRISSELL, the beloved husband of Addie E. Frissell (nee Leach) and father of Harry L. and Frederick F. Frissell, Mrs. Ruth Beard and Mrs. Clara Sherman. Funeral services at his late residence, 1529 Rosedale st. ne., on Tuesday, March 30, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment Fort Lincoln Cemetery. Services by W. W. Chambers Co. Southeast funeral home.

GLUCKSTEIN, ABRAHAM. On Sunday, March 28, 1937, at Garfield Hospital, ABRAHAM GLUCKSTEIN, of 1707 Euclid st. nw., beloved husband of the late Sophia Rose Glucktein and devoted father of Fannie Gladstone and Nina Gluckstein. Funeral from the chapel of Bernard Danzanski, 3501 14th st. nw., on Tuesday, March 30, at 10:30 a. m. Interment Washington Hebrew Congregation Cemetery. Please omit flowers.

HARDY, EMMA G. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at Alexandria Hospital, Alexandria, Va., EMMA G. HARDY, the beloved wife of the late Joseph S. Hardy and mother of Mrs. J. M. Duty, Mrs. F. K. Davis, Mrs. E. Benesch, Mrs. Pat Sullivan, Miss Margaret Hardy, Joseph S. Hardy, Jr., and Mrs. Lester Crismond. Funeral from the W. W. Chambers funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw., on Monday, March 29, at 8:30 a. m., thence to St. John's Church, Forest Glen, Md., where mass will be offered at 9:30 a. m. for the repose of her soul. Relatives and friends invited. Interment church cemetery.

HARRELL, MARY LUCILLE. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at her residence, 3618 Nichols ave. se. MARY LUCILLE HARRELL, beloved daughter of Elmer H. and Annie J. Harrell (nee Hoffman). Funeral from the above residence on Monday, March 29, at 1:30 p. m. Services at Esther Memorial Church of the Holy Communion, Congress Heights, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery.

HUNDLEY, SALLIE. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at her residence, 1337 Oak st. nw., SALLIE HUNDLEY, the beloved wife of the late Willis M. Hundley and mother of H. B. Hundley, Mrs. Helen Hill and Mrs. George Stout, and sister of W. F. Carter, of Rockville, Md.; Mrs. F. D. Lumpkin, of Danville, Va., and Mrs. T. M. Nunn, of Roanoke, Va. Funeral from the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw., on Monday, March 29, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Columbia Gardens Cemetery, Clarendon, Va.

JONES, MARTHA TAYLOR. Suddenly, on Sunday, March 28, 1937, at the home of her sister, Mrs. George L. Fox, Linden, Md., MARTHA TAYLOR JONES, wife of the late Stokley W. Jones. Body resting at Warner E. Pumphrey's funeral home, 8424 Georgia ave., Silver Spring, Md. Notice of services later.

KENNER, WILSON T. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at his residence, 446 Park rd. nw., WILSON T. KENNER, beloved husband of Bertha M. Kenner and father of Lieut. Comdr. William W. Kenner and Lieut. Comdr. Frank T. Kenner. Funeral from the S. H. Hines Co. funeral home, 2901 14th st. nw., on Tuesday, March 30, at 11 a. m. Interment Arlington National Cemetery.

LANDY, SAMUEL H. On Friday, March 26, 1937, at his residence, 1305 Fern st. nw., SAMUEL H. LANDY, husband of Sophia Landy and father of Mrs. E. J. Bremen, Gilbert M. Landy, of Coral Gables, Fla.; Isadore B. Landy, of Mahaffey, Pa.; Milton S. Landy and Mrs. Vernon Humphrey, of Washington, D. C. Funeral from the chapel of Bernard Danzansky, 3501 14 st. nw., on Monday, March 29 at 1 p. m. Interment Adas Israel Cemetery.

LERCH, MARGARET D. Suddenly, on Saturday, March 27, 1937, at her residence, 1809 D st. se., MARGARET D. LERCH, beloved mother of Mr. Robert Edward Lerch, Mr. William Lerch, Mrs. Margaret McNey and Mrs. Mary Brown, all of Washington, D. C., aged 69 years. Funeral services at St. Mark's Church, 4th and D sts. sw., on Tuesday, March 30, at 2 p. m. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery.

LEWIS, BURTON WILLARD. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at his residence, 68 Harrison st., New Britain, Conn., BURTON WILLARD LEWIS, father of Edwin N. Lewis, executive secretary of Washington Cathedral; Clement H. Lewis, of New Britain, and Margaret Lewis Johnson, of Springfield, Mass., aged 70 years. Funeral services at his late residence on Tuesday, March 30, at 2:30 p. m. Interment at Plainville, Conn.

LISNER, LAURA HARTMAN. On Friday, March 26, 1937, at her residence, 1723 Massachusetts ave. nw., LAURA HARTMAN LISNER, beloved wife of Abram Lisner. Services at the above address on Monday, March 29, at 11:30 a. m. Interment private.

LONGWORTH, J. RODERICK. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at Garfield Hospital, J. RODERICK LONGWORTH, of 3029 M st. nw., beloved husband of Clementine Longworth and son of Harry and Marguerite Longworth. Remains resting at Birch's funeral home, 3034 M st. nw., where services will be held on Tuesday, March 30, at 11 a. m. Interment Falls Church, Va.

MAPHIS, MARY C. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at her residence, 214 4th st. se., MARY C. MAPHIS. Funeral will be held from Zurhorst's funeral parlor, 301 East Capitol st., on Monday, March 29, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Fort Lincoln Cemetery. (Baltimore, Md., papers please copy.)

MILLS, MARJORIE C. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, at the Alexandria Hospital, Marjorie C. Mills, wife of Arthur W. Mills, aged 42 years. Funeral services at the Wheatly funeral home, Alexandria, Va., on Monday, March 29, at 2 p. m. Interment Sharon Cemetery.

MURRAY, EVELYN MAY. On Sunday, March 28, 1937, at Takoma Park Sanitarium, EVELYN MAY MURRAY, beloved wife of Samuel William Murray. Funeral services at the W. W. Chambers Co. Southeast funeral home, 517 11th st. se., on Tuesday, March 30 at 11 a. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

RUSSELL, ROBERT McFARLAND. On Friday, March 26, 1937, ROBERT McFARLAND RUSSELL, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Russell. Services at St. Stephen's and the Incarnation Episcopal Church, 16th and Newton sts. nw., on Monday, March 29, at 11:45 a. m. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery. Please notice change of place of interment.

SKERRETT, ELLA VIRGINIA. On Friday, March 26, 1937, at the residence of her niece, Miss Margaret Durand, ELLA VIRGINIA SKERRETT, sister of Mrs. Anna Hullfish. Funeral from 2118 1st st. nw., on Monday, March 29, at 11 a. m. Interment Rock Creek Cemetery. (Philadelphia Inquirer, Philadelphia, Pa., please copy.)

TUCKER, JOHN EDWARD. On Saturday, March 27, 1937, JOHN EDWARD TUCKER, beloved husband of Maria L. Tucker (nee Lulia Clayton) and father of Marion L. Tucker, and formerly connected with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Funeral from the W. W. Deal funeral home, 816 H st. ne., on Tuesday, March 30, at 10:30 a. m., thence to Fork M. E. Church, Md., where services will be held at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment church cemetery.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

1113 SEVENTH ST. N.W. Telephone: Modern Chapel NATIONAL 2473
FRANK GE

Lose Something? Let a Post Want Ad Help You Find It—Call NA. 4200

18 Planes Hunt Two Army Fliers

March Field, Calif., March 28 (AP). An exhaustive but fruitless search by 18 planes was conducted today for Lieut. Robert C. Love, of Los Angeles, and Private Emory J. Parsons, of Mineola, Tex., Army fliers unreported since late last night on a 64-mile flight from Glendale, Calif., to March Field.

Companion fliers of Love, attached to the Seventy-third Squadron, Seventeenth Attack Group of the United States Army Air Corps, March Field, scoured the area he was flying last night in unfavorable weather conditions, but reported no trace of him or his craft.

Rites to Be Today For Miss Skerrett

Funeral service for Miss Ella Virginia Skerrett, who died Friday, will be held today at 11 a. m. at the home of her niece, Miss Margaret Curant, 2118 First street northwest. Burial will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Miss Skerrett, daughter of the late William H. Skerrett, had been a Washington resident for over 50 years. She was a member of St. Stephen's and Incarnation Episcopal Church.

In addition to her niece, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Anna Hullfish, of 3412 Oliver street, and several other nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Lillian North Dies At Home of Daughter

Mrs. Lillian North, widow of S. N. D. North, director of the census under President Theodore Roosevelt, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Horace Jenks, at Haverford, Pa.

Funeral services will be held today in Haverford and interment will take place at Clinton, N. Y. Mrs. North is survived by a son, Dexter, of Washington, and two daughters, Mrs. Jenks, and Miss Gladys North, of Wilton, Conn.

Legal Notices

ELWOOD H. SEAL
and
WALTER L. FOWLER.
District Building.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the District of Columbia. In re condemnation of land for the extension of Forty-seventh street, between Van Ness and Warren streets northwest, and for the widening of Verplanck place and Warren street, between Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh streets northwest, in the District of Columbia. District Court No. 3469. Notice and order of publication.

Notice is hereby given that the Commissioners of the District of Columbia (pursuant to a certain provision of the act of Congress, approved March 4, 1913, entitled "An act making appropriations for the expenses of the government of the District of Columbia, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, and for other purposes," whereby they are authorized to open, extend, or widen any street, avenue, road or highway to conform with the plan of the permanent system of highways in that portion of the District of Columbia outside of the cities of Washington and Georgetown adopted under the act of Congress approved March 2, 1893, as amended by the acts of Congress approved June 28, 1898, and May 28, 1926, respectively, and in accordance with the provisions of subchapter 1 of Chapter XV of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia), have filed a petition in this court praying the condemnation of the land necessary for the extension of Forty-seventh street, between Van Ness and Warren streets northwest, and for the widening of Verplanck place and Warren street, between Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh streets northwest, in the District of Columbia, as shown on a map or plat filed with the said petition, as a part thereof, and praying also that this court impanel a jury in accordance with the law provided for in such cases to assess the damages each owner of the land to be taken may sustain by reason of the said extension of Forty-seventh street between Van Ness and Warren streets northwest, and for the widening of Verplanck place and Warren street, between Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh streets northwest, in the District of Columbia, as shown on a map or plat filed with the said petition, as a part thereof, and praying also that this court may find, fix and determine what benefits are to be credited, if any, to the owners of the aforesaid lots or parts of lots, respectively, by reason of the said extension of Forty-seventh street,

DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY — The New Cook — By Frank V. Martinek
Lieut. Comdr., U. S. N. R.

THAT EVENING AT CAPT. HOLDING'S APARTMENT
HERE COMES THE OLD BIRD-- NOW I'LL STUDY HIS ROUTINE
SO! HE CHANGES INTO CIVILIAN CLOTHES AND VISITS HIS FLOWER GARDEN
NOW HE PICKS A CARNATION FOR HIS BUTTON HOLE-- I'LL MAKE A NOTE OF ALL THIS AH! SO YOU'RE HILDA BROWN, THE NEW COOK?
YES, CAPTAIN... I'LL TRY TO TAKE GOOD CARE OF YOU!

NED BRANT—A Story of College Athletics — By Bob Zuppke
Famous Football Coach

SHEKELS! WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN?
THEY LOCKED ME IN A CLOSET, COACH!
WHO DID? WHAT FOR?
SO YOU'D SEND DUNK STANFEL IN TO PITCH-DUNK'S DAD CAME ALL THE WAY HERE TO SEE HIM PITCH FOR THE FIRST TIME!
IS THAT TRUE? DID YOU FELLOWS-AND NED BRANT-DID YOU DO THAT?
BRANT WASN'T IN ON IT, BUT THE REST OF US DID
THERE'LL BE A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE SQUAD AFTER THE GAME - SHEKELS, GET WARMED UP! WHERE'S DUNKS DAD SITTING?

Apple Mary — By Martha Orr

I GOTTA DELIVER THIS NOTE TO MARY, SOMEHOW - BUT SHE WON'T LET ME IN HER HOUSE NO MORE. IF DENNIE WAS AROUND HE COULD TAKE IT IN, BUT HE AIN'T.
SLIM'S GETTIN' SECRET LETTERS AT THE POST OFFICE AN' MARY OUGHTA KNOW ABOUT IT. SHE TRUSTS HIM TOO MUCH, BUT THIS LETTER'LL PUT HER ON GUARD.
I DON'T WANT SLIM TO FIND OUT WE'RE WISE TO HIM. I HOPE MARY HAS SENSE ENOUGH TO BURN THIS PAPER AFTER SHE READS IT.
SLIM! WHAT WAS THAT?
IT'S SUMPIN TIED TO A ROCK. OH BOY, FISH IT OUTTA YOUR SOUP SLIM, AN' SEE WHAT IT SAYS!
MARTHA ORR

Tune in on Behind the News
with
Tom McCarthy
The Washington Post's Radio Commentator every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Evening over
Station WMAL

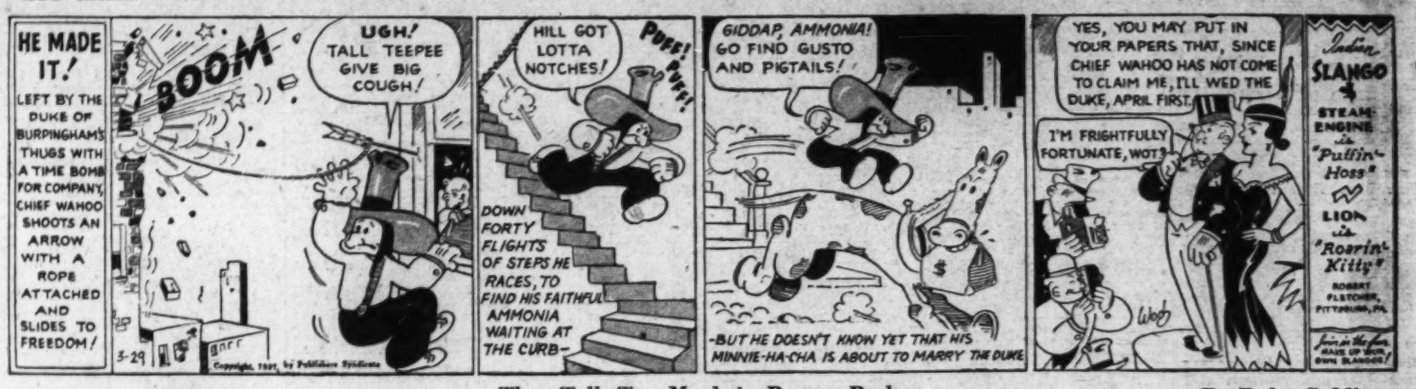
JANE ARDEN — Nothing to Worry About — By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

3-29
GREAT STUFF, CHIEF-WHEN YOU GET THOSE DARK GLASSES ON, YOU'LL PASS FOR FOXY GRANDPA, HERE!
READY, COUNT MORITZ?
THE SHIP WILL DOCK IN A FEW MINUTES!
FINE- I'LL BE RIGHT THERE!
IRENE AND I WILL GO FIRST AND LOCATE A CAR!
DON'T WORRY- COUNT MORITZ AND I WILL LOOK AFTER JANE!
YOUR DISGUISE IS PERFECT, COUNT MORITZ!

THE G-MAN! — BY GEORGE CLARK AND LOU HANLON

THE SPIES ORDERED IMPRISONED BY THE CAPTAIN OF JIMMIE'S SHIP ESCAPED FROM THE BRIG AND LEAPED OVERBOARD.
DID YOU HEAR A STRANGE SPLASH, DOYLE!
I DID! WE'RE INVESTIGATING!
THE TWO IN THE BRIG HAVE ESCAPED, SIR!
MAN OVERBOARD!
IT'S HOPELESS! THEY'RE GONE!
I THINK THIS IS THE RED JUNK!
IT BETTER BE! I'M ALL IN!

BIG CHIEF WAHOO — By Saunders and Woggon



HE MADE IT!
LEFT BY THE DUKE OF BURPINGHAM'S THUGS WITH A TIME BOMB FOR COMPANY, CHIEF WAHOO SHOOTS AN ARROW WITH A ROPE ATTACHED AND SLIDES TO FREEDOM!
BOOM
UGH! TALL TEEPEE GIVE BIG COUGH!
HILL GOT LOTTA NOTCHES!
POFF! PUFF!
DOWN FORTY FLIGHTS OF STEPS HE RACES, TO FIND HIS FAITHFUL AMMONIA WAITING AT THE CURB-
GIDDAP, AMMONIA! GO FIND GUSTO AND PIGTAILS!
-BUT HE DOESN'T KNOW YET THAT HIS MINNIE-HA-CHA IS ABOUT TO MARRY THE DUKE
YES, YOU MAY PUT IN YOUR PAPERS THAT, SINCE CHIEF WAHOO HAS NOT COME TO CLAIM ME, I'LL WED THE DUKE, APRIL FIRST.
I'M FRIGHTFULLY FORTUNATE, WOT?
Indian SLANGO
STEAM-ENGINE is "Puffin'-Hoss"
LION is "Roarin'-Kitty"
ROBERT FLETCHER, PITTSBURG, PA.

LALA PALOOZA — They Talk Too Much in Beauty Parlors — By Rube Goldberg

Y'KNOW, FRANCES, SOME FRESH GOVERNMENT MAN IS COMING TO SEE ME ABOUT MY 1934 INCOME TAX- I HOPE I DIDN'T DO ANYTHING WRONG
WHY, THEY CHECK UP ON EVERYBODY, COUNTESS
I KNOW- BUT I'M SURE I MUSTA MADE SOME MISTAKE BECAUSE I CAN'T ADD TWO AND TWO
IT'S ONLY A MATTER OF FORM- YOU'RE PERFECTLY SAFE
THANKS, DEARIE! I FEEL RELIEVED- I'LL GIVE YOU A GOOD TIP
SALLY, AIN'T IT AWFUL! - MRS. MARKEY'S HUSBAND GOT IN AN INCOME TAX JAM AN' THEY GAVE HIM TEN YEARS IN THE JUG!

MICKEY FINN — By Lank Leonard

THE COPS' BASKETBALL TEAM RETURNS TO FIND A CRIME WAVE SWEEPING THE CITY!
A PICKED SQUAD WITH SERGEANT HALLIGAN IN COMMAND, IS DOING NIGHT DUTY IN THE WHOLESALE DISTRICT.
-SO I'VE HAD YOU BOTH TRANSFERRED TO THE SQUAD- REPORT TONIGHT AT EIGHT!
YESSIR!
THEY SHORE AIN'T WASTIN' NO TIME PUTTIN' US BACK IN HARNESS, MICKEY- GUESS THINGS IS PRETTY BAD!
GOSH, YES- GY' BIG ROBBERIES LAST WEEK- GEE!
OKAY, PARDNER! AH'M GONNA STOP IN TA SEE FLOSSIE! AH'LL BE OVER FOR SUPPER!
FINE, TOM! I'LL HAVE MA MAKE IRISH STEW!
MICKEY! MISTER PHIL SAY MAKEE SNAPEE-TAXI GO TICKEE TOCKEE!
OH, MRS. FINN! -IT'S THEM! -IT'S MICKEY!!
WELL FOR PITY'S SAKE! LOOK WHAT THEY'VE GOT WITH THEM, KITTY- A CHINAMAN!!

DIXIE DUGAN — No More Secrets — By J. P. McEvoy and H. J. Striebel

DIXIE SURPRISED MRS. HACKET NOT ONLY BY RETURNING TO SPEND EASTER WITH HER BUT BY BRINGING HER FLOWERS AND COLORED EASTER EGGS
GULP- -M-MISS DUGAN -YOU'VE BEEN VERY SWEET
OH - I JUST SUDDENLY REALIZED HOW "ALL ALONE" YOU WERE WHEN I GOT HOME - BESIDES I HAD A LONG ENOUGH VISIT WITH TH' FOLKS
YOUR LITTLE GESTURE HAS DONE SOMETHING TO ME
IF IT'S MADE YOU HAPPY THEN WE'RE EVEN, 'CAUSE IT'S MADE ME HAPPY TOO.
I'M NOT GOING TO ASK YOU IF YOU'VE MENTIONED ANYTHING ABOUT THAT- UH - STRANGE ROOM OF MINE - I KNOW YOU DIDN'T -
I DIDN'T BREATHE A WORD
BUT I AM GOING TO DO SOMETHING I'VE NEVER DONE BEFORE - I'M GOING TO TELL YOU ALL ABOUT THAT ROOM - COME!

JOE PALOOKA — Say It Again — By Ham Fisher

I WAS STANDIN' AGAINST THE WALL AN' HE SUDDENTLY SAID 'DING DING'.
BY JOVE!! THAT'S WHAT HE SAID BEFORE!
DO YOU REMEMBER DOING ANYTHING ESPECIALLY? DID YOU SHOW HIM AN OBJECT OF ANY SORT?
I--UH-NOPE- I JIST WAS STANDIN' THERE.
WE'VE BEEN HERE TWO HOURS AND HE WON'T TALK.
OH DEAR- OH DEAR- PUH-LEEZE KNOBBY, WON'T YOUSE SAY IT AGAIN?
THE DOCTORS CAN'T FATHOM IT. BUT WE'LL LET YOU IN ON THE SECRET. THE SIGHT OF WEIDEBOTTOM REACTED ON KNOBBY'S MIND. IT ASSOCIATED ITSELF WITH MONEY---- GOBS OF MONEY- THAT'S ALL HE CAN THINK OF-- AND IN HIS DISORDERED MENTALITY HE BELIEVES HIMSELF TO BE A CASH REGISTER AND MAKES THE SOUND 'DING DING'

BENNY — Such Housekeeping! — By J. Carver Pusey

Post Want Ads Get First Choice "the First Thing in the Morning"

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Apartments—Furnished 45

Continued From Page 19.

NEWTON ST. NW., 1724—Faces Rock Creek; near cars, buses; entire 3d floor; 2 rooms, kitchen, bath; Frigidaire; $50.

ONTARIO RD., 2735—2 lge. rms., ba., enclosed porch; desirable. COl. 7499.

PARK RD. NW., 1725—Front apartment. Just vacated; 2 rooms, kitchenette, tiled bath; four windows fireplace, Frigidaire, free phone.

RHODE ISLAND AVE., 1313—Well furn., 2 rms., kit., bath, c. h. w. elec. refrigeration.

SMALL, beautifully furn. apt. for mo. of April; refs.; refs. NO. 1918-R.

TAKOMA PARK—Attractive 2-room apt. in new home with kitchen and private bath; c. h. w., refrigerator; $36. Employed couple. SH. 3587.

8TH ST. NW., 5414—Private, attractive, entire 2nd floor, bath, hot water; Frigidaire, phone; 3 exposures; cool; quiet. See now. Available 15th. Adults.

47TH ST. NW., 2544—1, 2, rms., kit.; Frigidaire, gas, elec; $11-$13.50 wk.; janitor.

18TH ST. SE., 419—2 rooms, kitchen, semi-bath; heat, gas, lights, elec. refrig.; employed couple preferred. Reasonable.

18TH ST. N.W., 2305 (Cthraiter)—Nice 2-room apts.; frigidaire, gas, elec. $40 mo.

2540 14TH NW.—Nicely furn. 1-2 rooms, kitchen, bath, gas, elec., $36.50-$36.50.

MERRILL MANSIONS.
Fairmont St. NW., 1361. Attractive rm., bath, folding kit., elec. refrigeration. Also sleeping room.

Francis Scott Key, Apt. Hotel
20th and P sts. nw.; 1 room, kit., bath, completely furn.; linens; silver; Frigidaire; day, week, month. NAtional 5425.

LONDON HALL.
1133 13TH ST. N.W.—Bed-living room, dressing room, kit., bath; elec., gas, linen Frigid.; $15 up wk.; $60 up mo. NA. 9010.

THE WESTCHESTER will sublet
April 15 through Sept. 1, charming corner apt., reception hall, distinctively furnished living room, delightful sun porch, medium dining room, lovely bedroom, 3 large closets, bath, well-equipped kitchen; adults only; references. CLev. 8941.

Furn. or Unfurn. 46

BEAUTIFUL SOUTHERN EXPOSURE; 2 rms., kit., bath, shower, elec. refrig.; opp. National Cathedral; high elevation; reason.; refined tenants. 3030 Wis. ave.

APARTMENTS—FURN.—UNFURN.
FREE CAR SERVICE.
DIST. 3780. EVE. EM. 8362.
1010 Vermont Ave., Room 217.

CLIFTON TERRACE
2 rooms, kitchen and bath.
3 rooms, kitchen and bath.
2 rooms and bath.
Switchboard and elevator service.
COLUMBIA 7744.

Moving and Storage 46A

ANDERSON VAN SERVICE—Mills Bldg. NA. 7870. Low rates N. Y., Atlanta, Boston, Fla., Chi., Cleve. Local moving.

HAULING of any kind: trash, etc. O. JENKINS, DEc. 5597.

National Movers of New York, Inc.
Regular trips N. Y., Penn., Conn., Mass., Fla., Ohio, Ill.
Na. 5522 Loads Insured. Return Rates.
1340 New York Ave. N. W.

CHEVY CHASE TRANSFER & STORAGE CO.
Local-Long Distance Moving. Specializing Storage & Moving to Florida. WIs. 3010.

Apartments—Unfurn. 47

BROOKLAND, D. C. (2823 7th st. ne.)—Newly decorated private 5-room apt.; 3 rooms, dinette and kitchen, bath, oil heat, light, gas, refrigerator. Phone included. Adults only.

CONNECTICUT AVE. N.W., 3620—Two rms., kitchen, bath; electric refrigeration; $47.50. Res. mgr. or phone CL. 0580.

DESIRABLE APARTMENTS AVAILABLE.
WAGGAMAN-BRAWNER CO.
1700 Eye St. N.W. ME. 3860.

E ST. N.E., 720—Private entrance, 2 rooms, kitchenette, dinette, priv. bath, elec. refrig., insulated roof, gas, elec. and gas heat incl. $50.

E ST. NW., 2431—Living room, bedroom, kitchenette, dinette, bath; Army, Navy & Gov't clause in lease. West 0147.

F ST. SW., 817—2 rooms, next bath; newly decorated; $6 week.

KENNEDY-WARREN—Washington's air-cooled apartment building; sublease to Oct. 1. Delightful 3-room apt., 2 baths, 10th floor; overlooking park. Available April 15. $170. AD. 0189.

MASS. AVE. NE., 1011—Duplex house; 4 rooms and bath, completely renovated, $50. AT. 6228-J.

N ST. SW., 300—4 large rms., b. h.-w. h.; elec., gas; garage; yard; $32.50. Apply Gordon 305 N sw. ME. 3611.

NEWTON ST. NW., 1724 (1st floor)—3 large rooms, kitchen, bath; enclosed porch. Faces Rock Creek. $58.

PENNSYLVANIA AVE., NW., 2412—4 large rms., bath, kitchenette, gas, elec. incl.; $50; adults only. No pets. WE. 2768.

QUAINT, attrac. new apt., 2 rooms, kitchen and bath; in lovely setting; nearby Va.; convenient to bus, schools and stores; reasonable. ALex. 879-J-12.

SEATON PL. NE., 19—5 rooms, kitchen, bath, rear porch; adults only; $42.50. National 1670.

TAKOMA PARK—New home, living rm., bedroom, dinette; porch, kitchen and private bath; refrig.; continous hot water. Call SH. 3587.

TENTH ST. NE., 520—2 or 3 large bright rooms, kitchenette, ample closet space; electricity, gas, heat included; $39.50.

THE ALTON APTS. (1445 Park rd. nw.)—2 rooms, kitchen and bath, $57.50; 3 rooms, kitchen, foyer and bath, $72.50. Frigidaire on house current; elevator.

THE BOND, 1230 New Hampshire Ave N.W.—1 room, kitchen, dinette and bath; Frigidaire, elevator.

THE RAVENEL, 1610 16th St. NW.—Front, large foyer, 2 rooms, kitchenette, dinette, bath, $65. DEatur 3460.

THE REEDER, 2824 12th St. N.E., Apt. 106—2 rooms, kitchen and bath; fine condition; Frigidaire on house current; rent reduced; see janitor or call Mr. Toms, District 2434, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

2 LARGE ROOMS, kitchen, dinette and private bath; heat, elec., gas and phone. 6320 8th st. nw.

7TH ST. NE., 629—Unfurnished apt. in private home; 2 or 4 rooms; elec. refrigeration, gas stove.

2550 14TH ST. NW.—$62.50, corner apt., 4 rooms, kitchenette, bath; all outside rooms, entirely redecorated. CO. 0638.

2140 PA. AVE. N.W.—$35 TO $45 RENT. EQUIPPED WITH FRIGIDAIRE, GAS, ELECTRICITY AND HEAT INCLUDED. MOST CONVENIENT AND DESIRABLE LOCATION.
ARENDES REALTY CO. WEST 0074.
1207 WISCONSIN AVE. N.W.

Several Desirable Apartments Available. RANDALL H. HAGNER & CO., INC. 1321 Conn. Ave. DEcatur 3600.

3010 WISCONSIN AVE. N.W.
2 rms., kit., dinette and bath, $57.50
Free Refrigeration. Res. Mgr., Apt. 102.
J. C. WEEDON CO. Metropolitan 3011.

1811 WYOMING AVE. N.W.
3 rooms, kitchen, bath, reception hall and porch; refrig. free; see res. mgr.

2145 CALIFORNIA ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, foyer and bath $65.00
Resident Manager, NOrth 1650.

2134 F ST. N.W.
3 rooms, kitchen and bath..... $47.50
JOSEPH P. SMITH (Broker).
2104 Pa. Ave. N.W. WEst 0339.

818 22D ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath..... $45
JOSEPH P. SMITH (Broker).
2104 Pa. Ave. N.W. WEst 0339.

THE FLEETWOOD.
3707 WOODLEY RD. N.W.
Three rooms, kitchen, dinette and bath; Frigidaire on house. CL. 0615.

1430 V ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath... $36.50, $40.
JOSEPH P. SMITH (Broker).
2104 Pa. Ave. N.W. WEst 0339.

THE MOULTON
1277 NEW HAMPSHIRE AVE N.W.
1 room and bath; 2 rooms, kitchenette, bath, screened porch, electric refrigeration; rent reasonable; in fine condition. Apply Apt. 2, or janitor.

1884 COLUMBIA RD. N.W.
3 rooms, kitchen and bath.
RESIDENT MANAGER. ADAMS 8962.

1832 Biltmore St. N.W.
4 rms., kitchen and bath, newly decorated throughout; references

1413 GIRARD ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath; free refrigeration $45

113 KENNEDY ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette and bath with shower; Venetian blinds; refrig..... $53

1201 M ST. N.W.
Downtown—Corner apartment, 5 outside rooms and bath; newly decorated.... $60

Lee D. Latimer Co.
723 Investment Bldg. NA. 4148.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Apartments—Unfurn. 47

FACING PARK— $62.50.
Outside apt. 3 rooms, kit., dinette, screened porch, refrig., heat, hot water. Janitor furn. 232 Hamilton st. nw.
SAM ROSEY ADAMS 2700.

THE SEABRIDGE
$61 12TH ST. NE.
Apt. 33—3 rooms, kitchen and bath; refrigerator; $47.50.
FEDERAL-AMERICAN CO.
1427 Eye St. NW. NA. 8032.

314 V ST. N.E.
2 rooms, kit. and bath..... $47.50
Electric Refrigeration.
See janitor.

6645 GEORGIA AVE. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath..... $50
Electric refrigeration on house.
H. G. SMITHY CO.,
811 15th St. NW. NAt. 5903.

2008 16TH ST. N.W.
One room, kitchen and bath.
See resident manager, Apt. 1.

THE ROSEANNE.
2111 18th St. N.W.
Three rooms, kitchen, bath, porch; electric refrigeration. $47.50.
DREYFUSS BROS.
1528 K St. N.W. NA. 0583.

PINEY BRANCH RD.
First floor apt., 3 rooms, kitchen and bath, inclosed porch, oil heat included; $65.
A. D. CRUMBAUGH.
4703 Wisconsin Ave. CLeve. 1-3-8-4.

THE CAVALIER.
"On the Top of 14th St.—
Overlooking the City."
We have 2 choice units available. A 2-room, kitchenette, dinette and bath corner apt., with northwest cross-ventilated exposure; and a bright, cheery unit of living room with Murphy bed, dressing closet, kitchenette, dinette and bath (southwest exposure). Ample closets, oak floors. Frigidaire. Both units just redecorated. Refrigeration on house current. 24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Convenient location and a refined, quiet building. Conservative rental.
THE CAVALIER.
FRED R. FOSTER, MGR.
3500 14th St. NW. Columbia 3600.

CHEVY CHASE APT.—$55.

Second floor of two-family house; separate front and rear entrances; heat and hot water furnished by oil burner at no cost to you; 4 large rooms, glass-inclosed rear porch and open front porch; garage; nice yard. Address 101 Willard lane, at Wisconsin ave and District Line.

NATIONAL MORTGAGE & INVESTMENT CORP.
1312 N. Y. Ave. NW. NA. 5833.

Offices—Rent 50

MODERN OFFICES—Across from new Municipal Court Building; $10 to $32.50 per month. ME. 5400.

Warehouses for Rent 51A

APPROXIMATELY 110,000 sq. ft. of floor space in modern 6-story downtown warehouse; passenger and service elevators; sprinkler system; wide rear alley available; loading platform; will lease 1 or more floors to responsible tenant. Guy Whiteford, Southern Bldg. NAt. 2432.
WAREHOUSE SPACE FOR RENT.
3,000 to 30,000 Square Feet.
WEAVER BROS., INC. Dist. 9486.

Stores—Rent 53

WILL BUILD TO SUIT TENANT, MODERN STORE, 25x90 FT. LOCATED S.W. BUSINESS SECTION; REAS. DI. 2708.

Houses—Furnished 54

MILITARY RD. N.W. — Det., 9 rms., 2 baths; partially furn.; garage; $95.
CHARLES S. SHREVE.
1001 15th St. N.W. NA. 2336

RITTENHOUSE ST., N.W., 508—Semi-detached home; 8 rooms, 2 porches; Frigidaire; gas, electricity, radio, large yard; 2-car garage. GE. 9247.

Houses—Unfurnished 56

ALEXANDRIA—Restored Colonial residence; 5 bedrooms, 3 baths, charming living rooms; G. E. oil furnace; complete insulation and weather stripping. $125 monthly. NA. 0620.

ALLISON ST. N.W., 1111—Near Roosevelt High School; 6 rooms, tile bath; completely redecorated. DIXIE REALTY CO., NAtional 8800.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C.—6 large rooms, 2 baths, sleeping porch, garage; deep lot; good residential neighborhood; convenient to bus, stores and schools. NA. 1040.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C., 6 rms., ba., $75; 11 rms., 3 ba., brick, $125. Nearby Md., 8 rms., ba., $75. Nearby Va., 6 rms., ba., $60. Fulton R. Gordon, 1427 Eye st. nw. DIst. 5230. Evenings, CLev. 5091.

JEFFERSON ST. NW., 834—Brick, 6 rooms, hot-water heat, garage, redecorated; convenient transportation; $62.50.

THEODORE HEITMULLER CO. GE. 9632.

LYON VILLAGE, VA., $65 month—5-room bungalow; close stores, schools, transportation. McCLAINE 2100 Wilson Blvd., Clarendon, Va. WA. 9292.

OPPORTUNITY—1431 Meridian pl. nw., mod., 6 large rms., porches, gar.; $75. Apply Mon., 1435 Meridian pl. nw.

2616 L ST. N.W.
6 rooms, bath, a. m. l. gas..... $52.50
JOSEPH P. SMITH (Broker).
2104 Pa. Ave. N.W. WEst 0339.

3805 BLAINE ST. NE.
Brick, 6 rooms, bath; a. m. l..... $50
JOSEPH P. SMITH (Broker).
2104 Pa. Ave. N.W. WEst 0339.

CHEVY CHASE, MD. (17 West Irving St.)—Corner Magnolia Parkway; attractive 7-room and bath home on large corner lot; short distance from Chevy Chase Circle; garage; $75 month.
HERMAN E. GASCH.
923 15th St. NW. NA. 1254.

A FEW rental specials in this desirable community; 5 to 10 rooms.
MICKEY-DICKENS,
4617 41st St. N.W. CL. 9687-4356.

Suburban—Rent 58

ALEXANDRIA—512 Duke St.—Very attractive first-floor unfurnished apt.; 3 large rooms, kitchen and bath; nicely located, with surrounding yard. $50. Alexandria 1253-J.

Wanted-to-Rent 62

We Can Rent Your Vacant Property.
HARRY B. PITTS CO.
1019 13th St. N.W. ME. 0100.

WE CAN RENT YOUR APARTMENT.
SERVICE RENTAL AGENCY.
1010 Vt. Ave., Room 217. EMerson 8362.

Sale Investment Property 65

TWO CHAIN GROCERY STORES—Well leased; $3,000 per year rent; priced low for quick sale. Mr. Lichtenberg, NA. 2357.

AN EXCELLENT INVESTMENT.
Priced low for immediate sale. Located on corner of one of the best thoroughfares in Washington, zoned first commercial where there is an established and increasing demand for business property. Three new four-family apartments of fine construction, designed and equipment. Fully rented, price only $40,000.00; easy terms. Call J. J. O'Marr, evenings, NAt. 6850. Beitsell, DI. 3100, 1515 K st.

RENT $47.50—PRICE $4,750
Modern 6-room brick house, near Tech High. B. & O. freight yard, etc. Always rented. Your own terms. J. Leo Kolb, Inc., WEst 0002.

Sale Houses 66

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY PARK—$7,850—2-story, detached, 6 rms., modern; beautiful lot. DI. 5153. Eve., WI. 5928.

BEAUTIFUL new Colonial brick home on wooded corner lot; 5 large rooms and tile bath; built-in garage and large porch; small cash payment, balance as rent. ROBERT E. LOHR, Takoma Park, D. C. GE. 9661.

DETACHED 8-rm. house, wooded lot; double gar.; in Fort Myer Hights., Arlington, Va.; $4,500; easy terms.
T. J. PEARSON,
3243 No. Wash. blvd., Clarendon.
Clar. 1001. Sundays, Wa. 7969.

NEAT white frame; 3 bedrms., grounds. Wis. ave. to Leland st., right 2 blocks to 6704 44th st. Chevy Chase, Md.

NO CASH—Monthly payments will buy the NEW 6-room detached brick; oil heat; garage; N.W. suburb
WASHINGTON REALTY CO., GE. 8300.

GEORGETOWN.
$5,250—9 rm. brick, 2 baths and b. i. basement. Excel. to make into apts., h.w.h. Lipscomb, WEst 0600. Eve., WEst 2445.

TO CLOSE ESTATE.
Must sell 60 beautiful homes at a sacrifice. Small down payment. IRVING LICHTENBERG, Attorney, NAtl. 2357.

$9,990—Near 18th and Taylor nw.; six rms.; garage; large lot; $2,000 cash; $63 mo. Mr. Burleigh, NO. 4134, Br. 553.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Sale Houses 66

CHEVY CHASE BARGAIN.
$46,000 home to go at $23,500; must be sold immediately. Small cash payment.
CONSOLIDATED REALTIES.
600 F ST. N.W. NA. 7785.

$4,600—10TH & MASS. AVE. NE.—Six rooms, semi-detached brick; h.-w. h.; 2-car garage; $3,500 building loan.

$5,250—Detached 8-room brick; h.-w. h.; near 16th and Oak nw.; excellent condition; $4,200 building loan.
Terms. ME. 5400.
LEO M. BERNSTEIN.

LET YOUR HOME PAY FOR ITSELF!
Monthly payments..... $54.00
Rent your second floor for... $45.00
So, it costs you only $9.00 per month to own your own home in Southeast's finest home community.
1615-21 QUE ST. S.E.
New 6-room, 2-bath brick homes.
Open and heated daily.
BRADY BROTHERS, INC.
403 E. Capitol St. AT. 6684, 0582.

$10,950.
NEW FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE.
310 GALLATIN ST. N.W.
The most outstanding feature of this semi-detached house is its unusual width (26 feet) on a lot 157 feet deep. Its eight rooms are light and spacious and well arranged. Additional features—modern scientific kitchen, automatically controlled gas heat, large recreation room with lavatory, two complete baths on second floor, furred walls and thorough insulation. In a new protected Northwest neighborhood near schools, stores and churches. Reasonable price and terms can be arranged.
OPEN DAILY AND SUNDAY 'TIL 9 P. M.
For additional information call
WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., INC.
1519 K St. N.W. DIstrict 1013.

WOODLEY PARK
$13,500.
EXCEPTIONAL VALUE.
Beautifully landscaped; 8 room, 2 bath house; garage; large lot; perfect condition, and in Washington's best residential area. This offer greatly sacrifices property and affords wonderful investment. For information call MET. 5034 any time.

McKinley High School Section
6 rooms and bath brick home. A steal at $4,750. Easy terms.
J. LEO KOLB, INC., WEST 0002.

$3,950.
Six-room house, hot-water heat; Southeast section; excellent condition; rented for $50. You can't beat this if you try! Call Boucher.
R. A. HUMPHRIES,
808 No. Cap. St. Realtor. NA. 6732.

16TH ST. HEIGHTS.
4 BEDROOMS, 3 BATHS.
Large 8-room home, in a beautiful section, overlooking 16th st. and Rock Creek golf course; garage; nice yard. Address 101 Willard lane, at Wisconsin ave and District Line.

NATIONAL MORTGAGE & INVESTMENT CORP.
1312 N. Y. Ave. NW. NA. 5833.

CLEVELAND PARK.
West of Conn. ave., convenient to schools, near street cars, stores, etc.; 2-story and cellar brick; 8 rooms, 2 baths, h.-w. h., stoker, hardwood floors, screens, weather-stripped; attic; brick garage. Price, $9,250. Closing estate.
L. T. GRAVATTE,
729 15th St. Realtor. NA. 0753.

SEE US
FOR YOUR OWN HOME
We have a large varied list of attractive homes in Kensington and surrounding section. Modern bungalows from $5,500 to $6,500. Two-story detached homes, with all conveniences, as low as $5,500.
Many Excellent Building Sites
At Reasonable Prices
KENSINGTON REALTY CO.
KENSINGTON, MD. KENS. 132.

BEAUTIFUL ALL-BRICK BUNGALOW.
$5,650—THIS IS MORE THAN JUST A "LOVE NEST."
Five very large rooms, beautiful tile bath with shower, hardwood floors and many other modern conveniences. On a beautiful lot 60x100, inclosed with white picket fence. Restricted all-white residential section and one of the most popular locations hereabouts; $650 cash, balance like rent.
A. S. GARDINER,
1510 K St. NW. NAtional 0334.

$11,500—New Detached Brick & Stone Near Mass. Ave.
An individual home of good-looking architecture, with very spacious liv. rm. and large din. rm.; also beautiful and modern kitchen. There are 3 large bed rms., 2 complete baths, attic and porch; automatic heat, garage. Surrounded by new homes, close to transportation. We recommend this as the outstanding buy in this neighborhood.
Frank S. Phillips. DIst. 1411.

A DETACHED HOME
FOR ONLY
$9,250.
4534 HARRISON ST. NW.
Check the features of this new group of home offers. Six bright rooms, 2 full baths, smart recreation room featuring a wood-burning fireplace. Large kitchen and the promise of "CAREFREE COMFORT WITH MODERN GAS APPLIANCES."
The construction is just as good as the appearance. Weather stripping, full insulation and Swardman quality throughout. Ample storage space in attic; automatic heat. Just a few blocks from stores, schools, churches and transportation. Fort Bayard Park is just around the corner.
TO INSPECT: Drive out Wisconsin avenue (5100 block) to Harrison street, left on Harrison 3 blocks to houses.
OPEN DAILY AND SUNDAY 'TIL 9.
HARRY WARDMAN, INC.,
1512 K St. NW. DI. 3830.
"Life's Worth Living in a Wardman Home"

COLORED—Near 1st and Florida ave. nw. 6 rooms, bath; h.-w. h.; elec. excellent condition. Reasonable price and terms. DEc. 1160.

Sale or Exchange 68

BIG SELECT LIST BARGAINS on terms or trade. State what you have and wish. Many lots D. C., Md. or Va.; clear trade for equities. Lots, small acreage near Four Corners and Marlboro Hts., reduced. N. E. RYON CO., 1216 N. Y. ave., 3418 14th.

Sale Lots 69

BARGAIN at three-fourths of assessed value for quick sale. 3 large wooded lots over 35,000 square feet, water and electric. Forest Glen Park adjoining Rock Creek Park, Md. Phone, Shep. 3980.

EAST OF WISCONSIN AVE. on Appleton; near Wilson, Deal and Merch schools; 5 lots, 40x150 feet; $1,500 each; from every standpoint THE IDEAL home sites.
J. FRANK TILLER, Owner. RA. 1953.

LOTS—75 by 125 feet, located on North Highland street, two blocks south of the center of Clarendon, Va. Must sell Walnut 1381.

SILVER SPRING—Attractive corner building site, with trees, $800. BAIN'S REALTY CO., 8413 Ga. ave. SHep. 3892.

Suburban Lots 69A

VERY DESIRABLE LOT, 70x101, overlooking Argyle Golf Club. Will accept $600. Call Mr. Price, National 8245.

Sale Suburban 70

ATTRACTIVE modern 8-room home in nearby Md. Priced for quick sale under $7,000. Owner, Ashton 181-M or Mr. Coulon, MEt. 3883.

WHY PAY RENT? Buy a modern 5-room bungalow, close-in. Only $3,600. Easy terms. WA. 6959.

NEAR HIGH SCHOOL—Nearly new frame bungalow, 2 bedrms., living rm., up-to-date kitchen, b. i. bath, h.-w. h. (Arcola) 50-ft. lot, trees, $4,500; $300 cash, balance monthly. J. A. Baker & Co., 1112 N. Irving st., Clarendon, Va. WAl. 7280.

$4,950 UP.
Many attractive 5 and 6 room homes under construction and completed. Nearby Va. Direct from builder. NO COMMISSION. Some are 7 minutes downtown. Long-term pay't plan. Open Sun. & eve.
McCLAINE,
2100 Wilson Blvd., Clarendon.
Walnut 9292.

Sale—Farms, Land 73

BOOKLET describing Maryland farms for sale. Counselman & O'Brien, 6865 Wisconsin ave., Bethesda, Md. Wis. 4240.

DAIRY, stock, tobacco farms; country homes; old Colonials; waterfront. R. D. LILLIE CO., Takoma, D. C. GE. 3301.

"HARD BARGAIN"—Brick Colonial; preserved; South. Maryland; 365 acres fine land; tobacco farm; 45 miles from D. C., overlooking the Wicomico and Potomac. THE MARYLAND REALTY, 1511 Guilford ave., Baltimore, Md.

$50 DOWN; $15 monthly; six acres on good gravel road; 12½ miles D. C. Price $425. NA. 3753, AT. 5205-J.

Real Estate Wanted 76

OWNERS—WE WANT LISTINGS.
NATIONAL CITY REALTY CO.
Tower Bldg. NAtl. 0158.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Real Estate Wanted 76

WANT REAL ESTATE TO SELL.
ROBERT L. McKEEVER CO., INC.
Shoreham Bldg. NAt. 4730.

List Your Property With BOSS & PHELPS
1417 K St. NW. Realtors. NAtl. 9300.

We sell in a day
FARMS AND SUBDIVISIONS
That it takes a year in any other way.
N. C. HINES & SONS, Auctioneers.
1511 K St. NW., Washington, D. C. DI. 7740.

Dogs, Cats, Pets 79

COCKER PUPPIES — Healthy, pedigreed dogs. Reg. A.K.C. 4505 Brandywine st. nw.

COCKER SPANIEL for sale; black; pedigreed; 8 months old; good home desired; $50. 3102 Cleveland ave. nw.

ENGLISH SETTERS—Beautiful prize-winners; also puppies of Huntatone-Llewellyn breeding; 3 mos. old. WAl. 8955.

Horses—Livestock 81

BROOD MARE in foal; registered; thoroughbred. 212 Bryant st. nw.

HORSES—3 large work; 3 cheap horses; reasonable. 110 M st. se. AT. 2731.

Sale Miscellaneous 83

DEALERS' ADS under this heading contain a firm name or a business address or state the word "Dealer." Other ads are presumed to be from private individuals. Readers who find dealers masquerading in this column as private individuals are urged to report the matter to The Washington Post.

ACCORDIONS—Before purchasing a piano accordion it's to your advantage to see Droop's first. 1300 G st. nw.

AMERICAN TYPEWRITER CO.—Selling off 200 machines; all makes; real bargains. Open eves. 1431 E. Capitol st. LI. 0082.

ANTIQUE furniture, chairs, tables, chests, desk, china, glass, silver, bric-a-brac, mirrors, frames. Edelson, 618 5th st. nw.

ANTIQUE carved bellows, the type occasionally found in the fine old mansions in the South; rarely for sale. Several pieces of White House china with coat of arms; old weapons for collectors and as decorations; side street prices. Murphy Galleries, 1724 20th st. nw. NO. 4008.

CAMERA lenses, photographic equipment, binoculars, projectors bought, sold, exchanged. Izzy's Exchange, 906 D st. nw. ME. 6898.

DESKS, chairs, tables, files and other used office furniture. R. Baum & Sons, 616 E st. nw.

FRIGIDAIRES—5 cu. ft., guaranteed excellent condition, only $49.50 while they last. 1319 14th st. nw. Open Sunday.

FURNITURE for 3-room apt. for sale; $150 cash; six-room house, $35 month. 711 C st. ne.

FURNITURE—Almost new; remarkable value; studio couch, colonial rocker, broadloom carpets, chest. PO. 3299-M.

GAS RANGE—Garland; good cond.; $15. 1 Valley View ave., Takoma Park, Md.

GOLF CLUBS (1 set) H. and B. matched irons; almost new; original cost $75; will sacrifice $35. CLar. 732-R.

GOLF SET, matched, "Ky Lafoon" model; practically new; worth $65; sacrifice $25. 1208 Evart st. ne., Apt. 301.

HANDBAGS—All latest styles and colors, including gray, navy, green and red. Under-arm or handle style. $1.19 value, sale price, $1.00. Sigmund's, 736 7th st. nw.

HOOVER late model vacuum cleaner, like new, with agitator and beating action; 1 year guarantee; $25. Best Brands Co., 805 11th st. nw.

HOT-WATER system, complete; 22-in. Arco boiler and 8 radiators. Very cheap. WE. 4626.

LINOLEUM—49 cents square yd. Installed free. Armstrong Agency, Pennsylvania Linoleum Co., 734 9th st. nw. DI. 5674-5.

PIANO BARGAINS—Used grands, $147 up. New grands, $245 up. Easy terms. F. A. North Co., 715 9th st. nw. DI. 3257.

PIANO—Latest model Estey new console piano, just like new, used for a few weeks; special, only $235. Like new in every respect. Very easy terms. Kitt's, 1330 G St.

PIANOS FOR RENT—$3 per month and up. All rental paid applies on purchase price if you buy later. Choose from the largest selection of pianos in the city—$12 famous makes. Kitt's, 1330 G St. NAtl. 4730.

PIANO—Smallest size baby grand in splendid condition, $138. Very easy terms. Nat. 4730. Kitt's, 1330 G St.

RECORDS—Used, popular Victor, Brunswick, Vocalion and Decca records, 10c each, 12 for $1. Open eves. and Sundays. Automatic Music Co., 2429 18th st. nw.

RADIO—Silvertone baby grand; late model, all wave; $9.95; guaranteed and terms. F. S. Harris Co., 2900 14th st. nw.

REFRIGERATOR—General Electric; new condition. 902 East Capitol st.

SEWING MACHINES—Portable Singer; bargain; treadles, $5 up. Renting, repairing. Sewing Machine Exchange, 3412 18th st. nw. COl. 3245.

SPECIAL! This week only! 2 pc. split bamboo salt water rod with lock band reel seat, $2.95. Atlas Sport Shop, 2918 14th st. nw. Open eves. COl. 9401.

TYPEWRITERS—Current model Coronas and L. C. Smith for rent. Bargains in rebuilt and reconditioned machines. The L. C. Smith and Corona Typewriters, Inc., 1018 15th st. nw. NA. 0411.

TYPEWRITERS—New portables, Royal, Corona, $1 week; repairs and rentals. Washington Typewriter Co., 817 10th nw.

TYPEWRITERS—Save 40% and up on machines of quality from factory; some bargains at $12.50. Rentals, $3 mo. We overhaul and repair. NAt. 8129. Central Typewriter Co., 923 G st. nw.

TYPEWRITERS—All makes, $17.50 up; guaranteed 1 year; rent, repair. Standard Typewriter Co., 723 10th st. nw.

WASHER—Brand new, apt. size; 1 year guar.; $12.95; terms. F. S. Harris Co., 2900 14th st. nw.

UPHOLSTERING AND REFINISHING; slip covers, 2-pc. suite, $14.95; reupholstering, 2-pc. suite, $35. American Upholstery Co., 2408 14th st. nw. COl. 0841.

Armstrong's Inlaid.... $15.95
Cemented over felt lining 10 sq. yds.
Royal Rug & Linoleum Co. DI. 7410.

TYPEWRITERS.
Order Now. Only a few days left for this low price. Latest models Royal, Corona, Underwood and Remington Portables. Prices advance April 1. A small deposit will hold any typewriter until desired date of delivery. Easy terms.
UNITED,
813 14th St. NW. NA. 6063.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Coal, Fuel Oil, Wood 83A

ARLINGTON COAL CO.
2,240 Pounds to the Ton.
Bagged and Carried to Bins Free.

Virginia Hard Pea	$8.50
Virginia Hard Special, Furnace	$9.50
Virginia Hard Chestnut	$10.50
Virginia Hard Stove	$10.75
75% Run of Mine	$7.50
50% Run of Mine	$6.75

All Grades of Pocahontas Coal.
Washington Telephone, Jackson 1800.

Miscellaneous Wanted 84

ANTIQUE JEWELRY, discarded large and small watches, dental gold; special high prices paid. Schiller Bros., 922 F st. nw.

BOOKS BOUGHT—All kinds, any quantity. See us first. Spot cash paid. Pearlman's, 1407 G st. nw. ME. 5413.

GOLD OR PLATINUM JEWELRY AND SILVERWARE AND GOLD TEETH, ANY CONDITION. PAY CASH. A. KAHN, INC. 45 YEARS AT 935 F ST. NW.

SPOT CASH PAID IMMEDIATELY.
OLD GOLD AND SILVER
WATCHES, DIAMONDS AND ANY OLD Discarded Jewelry or Gold Teeth.
SELINGER'S, 818 F St. N.W.

CASH FOR OLD GOLD
LOUIS ABRAHAMS, 711 G ST. N.W.

Wanted—Automobiles 88

NORRIS, INC., 2018 14th st. NOrth 3949. See us before selling. We pay unusually high prices.

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
Whether Car Is Paid for or Not
SEE MR. BARNES, 1729 14th St.

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
We will pay you cash for your present car regardless of make or model. See us today. Don't hesitate.
MANHATTAN AUTO & RADIO.
1706 7th St. NW. NO. 7557.

Sale—Automobiles 98

BUICK 1934 $50 or your old car as down payment, 4-door trunk sedan, knee action wheels, ride stabiliser, tastefully upholstered, safety glass. Good tires, perfect motor. 30-day guarantee.
SMOOT MOTOR CO.
4500 Wisconsin Ave. N.W. WEst 1852

BUICK $95
Master "6" Sedan, in excellent shape. Original dark blue finish. Sturdy body; 4 new tires. A car that still can take a lot of punishment.
ADDISON CHEVROLET,
1437 Irving St. NW. ADams 5411.

BUICK—Sedan; must sell for storage; only $117; terms, $17 down. Evans Palmer, N. Y. and Florida ave. ne.

CADILLAC—1935 7-passenger Sedan, 6 disc wheels, trunk rack; black paint, excellent tires, spotless upholstery. This is certainly a clean car. $1,275. C. C. C. Guaranty. Open evenings and Sunday.
CAPITOL CADILLAC CO.
1222 22d St. N.W. NAtional 3300.

CHEVROLET—1932 De Luxe Coupe; rumble seat. Finished in new hornets' green. Only $339. $39 down, balance easy. Evans Palmer, 4432 Connecticut ave.

CHEVROLET—1933 Coupe, rumble seat, $265. Original black finish, red wheels, red stripes. A fine car in perfect condition. See it today. Handley Motor Co., 3730 Georgia ave. ADams 6060.

CHEVROLET—1933 Tudor; $4 down, balance $4 per week. That's $199 rock bottom anywhere. Capitol Motors, Inc., 215 Pa. ave. se.

CHEVROLET $549
Master De Luxe 1936 4-door Sedan. Beautiful green finish; knee-action wheels, all steel body, safety glass, super hydraulic brakes, luxurious interior; motor perfect; tires like new; 30-day guarantee; liberal trade and terms.
GARDNER-STUART MOTORS.
804 Bladensburg Rd. N.E. LI. 8138.

CHEVROLET—Late 1934 Standard Coach. Fine black finish, smooth motor, 20 mi. per gal; given best of care; new battery, best tires; heater; over $50 in new parts. Cash $240. 1317 North Glebe rd., Arlington, Va. WA. 8836-M.

CHEVROLET—1933 De Luxe 2-Door Sedan; like new; only $239; terms, $30 down. Evans Palmer, N. Y. and Florida ave. ne.

CHEVROLET—1932 Coupe, in perfect condition; forced to sell; cut it goes for $169; only $3 down, $3 week. 941 Water st. sw. Open till 9 p. m.

CHEVROLET—1935 4-door Master De Luxe, $375; only $75 down, balance $21 per month. Capitol Motors, Inc., 215 Pa. ave. se.

CHEVROLET 1934 $50 or your old car as down payment. 4-door sedan, built-in trunk; Fisher body; clean interior and exterior; good tires and motor. 30-day guarantee.
SMOOT MOTOR CO.
4500 Wisconsin Ave. N.W. WEst 1852

CHEVROLET—1931 De Luxe Coupe, $160. Steuart Motors, 6th and N. Y. ave. nw. NAt. 3000.

CHEVROLET — 1931 Cabriolet; original two-tone Duco; splendid condition. Bargain, only $130. Easy terms. Standard Motor Sales, 1605 14th st. NOrth 2298.

CHEVROLET $219
1932 De Luxe Coach. An excellent car in perfect condition throughout; motor runs perfectly; tires are good, upholstery clean. A real buy and will sell quickly.
ADDISON CHEVROLET,
1437 Irving St. N.W. ADams 5411.

CHEVROLET $295
A 1933 Master De Luxe Sedan. Shiny black finish. No-draft ventilation. Safety glass. Non-glare windshield. Luxurious mohair upholstery, spotlessly clean. Motor in perfect condition. Modern in appearance. Liberal terms.
ADDISON CHEVROLET,
1437 Irving St. NW. ADams 5411.

CHEVROLET $269
1933

Slaying Feared In Bridegroom Disappearance

Sheriff Suspects Foul Play as Shippensburg, Pa., Man Is Hunted.

By the Associated Press.

Chambersburg, Pa., March 28.—Sheriff C. H. Gillan said tonight he "leaned" to a theory of foul play in the disappearance of J. David Smith, 26, on the way to his wedding.

Young Smith, son of a Shippensburg antique furniture dealer, left home late Friday for a florist's shop to buy a bouquet for his bride-to-be, Miss M. Kathleen Bard, of Chambersburg.

He failed to appear at the florist's shop or the church where he was to have been married Friday night.

Shippensburg police said at the same time they had learned that Smith was of a nervous temperament and that some of the investigators believed he might have suffered an attack of amnesia.

Sheriff Gillan, who led a squad of volunteers searchers into South Mountain without results said:

"I am stumped and hardly know where to begin but sort of lean to the idea that the young man met with foul play.

"If Smith had been the kind of a man who ran around we might change our mind. But he was a fine gentleman, had a good reputation and wasn't the sort of fellow who would walk out on his wedding day.

"The fact that Smith rented a house and bought all the things necessary to go to housekeeping is another angle that does not support the theory that he went away of his own accord."

J. Raymond Smith, the young man's father, also expressed a belief his son might have met with foul play. He said his son had about $300 with him when he left his home by automobile to pick up the bouquet of flowers. He had bought the flowers a few hours previously.

Sheriff Gillan and State police sent a description of Smith and his automobile to nearby States. He described him as more than 6 feet tall, with light, wavy hair.

Irish Arrest Score Of Rebellion Celebrants

Dublin, Irish Free State, March 28 (AP).—Several persons were hurt and a score arrested today as the twenty-first anniversary celebrations of the "The Easter Rebellion" in Dublin were marked by violence in several Free State communities.

Seventeen young demonstrators were arrested at Newport, near Castlebar, when a large party tried to force its way through a police cordon. At Ballybay, police were attacked by parading youths and were compelled to wield their batons. No one was injured seriously.

Washington Clergyman and Poet Awarded Fellowships in Annual Guggenheim Fund

Continued from Page 1.

are Johns Hopkins University professors, also received awards. They are Dr. William Louis Straus, jr., associate in anatomy at Johns Hopkins; Dr. Eric Glendinning Ball, associate in the department of physiological chemistry of the same university; Dr. George W. D. Hamlett, research worker, United States Biological Survey, and Dr. Allan Lyle Graffin, Baltimorean, who now is an anatomy professor at Harvard University. All will use their fellowships to continue research in their respective fields.

The foundation announced its fellowships this year will further work in a great variety of studies ranging from that of the propaganda technique of political parties, investigations into the structure of the atoms and of mountains, and historical reserach in the Sumerian culture of 2000 B. C., to purely creative endeavors in poetry, music and painting and experimental work in biology, physics and medicine.

The fellows will work in all parts of the world—from the American "dust bowl" to Tibet, from Brazil to Iraq, from Scotland to China.

1,000 Applications.

The award list was selected from more than 1,000 applications, the fellowships being granted, the committee of selection, announced on a basis of "distinguished, original work in the various fields of scholarship and the arts and to give promise and extending their work in significant directions. The fellows, who are to carry on their work in the next year, are to work under the "freeest of conditions."

The incumbents for 1937 include Dr. Willem J. Luyten, University of Minnesota, who received a second award to continue studies of stars in the Southern Hemisphere. Since his first fellowship in 1928, Dr. Luyten and assistants have observed 25,000,000 stars "in the most complete survey ever made of the Southern sky," the foundation pointed out.

Dr. Ralph D. Casey, another University of Minnesota professor, received a stipend to make a study of the technique and procedure of political propaganda in the British Isles.

Dr. Eearl J. Hamliton, of Durham, N. C., a Duke University professor, is to prepare a book on the first experiment with a managed currency.

Theories of money, banking and international finance in England between 1800 and 1870 will be studied by Dr. Frank W. Fetter, of Haverford, Pa.

To Study Reich Politics.

A fellowship was awarded Dr. Harwood Lawrence Childs, associate professor of politics at Princeton University, to enable him to make a historical study of labor and capital in German politics.

Eight women and two colored persons were among the recipients.

Established in 1925 by former U. S. Senator and Mrs. Simon Guggenheim as a memorial to their son, the foundation has a capital of $7,000,000. It has assisted 761 scholars, writers, artists and scientists.

Awards other than those already mentioned were made as follows:

For creative work in poetry, drama, and other literary fields.

Sonia Raizizs, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Harold Lewis Cook, English professor; James Hilton Stuart, principal of Greenup County High School, Taylor, Ky.; Robert Turney, Lumberville, Pa., for playwriting; Robert Ardrey, Chicago, for playwriting; Ronald Culross Peattie, nature writer; Dr. Frederick Prokosch, New York University; Louise Bogan, New York; Richard Palmer Blackmur, for literary criticism; Kaj Klitgaard, Bearsville, N. Y.; Robert McBride, Binnington College, Vt.; Rose Lee Finney, Smith College, Northapton, Mass.; Ahron Ben-Shmuel, New York; Aaron Bohrod, Chicago; Mrs. Lu Duble, for sculpture; Frederico Lebrun, New York; Jon Corbino, New York; Joe Jones, St. Louis, Mo.; Gorge Grozz, Douglaston, Long Island; William Gropper, New York; Edward Weston, Santa Monica, Calif.; Lucy Driscoll, University of Chicago; Dr. Carl Schuster, Yenching University, Peiping, China.

Historians Get Grants.

Eight historians were appointed fellowships aiding them in the preparation of the following studies:

Edward Deming Andrews, Pittsfield, Mass., for a history of religious arts; Dr. John Life LaMonte, University of Cincinnati, for a geneaological and biographical catalogue of the crusading states; Dr. Holden Furber, Boston, for a book on "The Consolidation of British Power in India, 1783-1815;" Max Norton, New York for a history of political movements; Dr. Ernest Levy, Seattle, Wash., for a book on the development of Roman law; Dr. Samuel Noah Kramer, University of Chicago, for a study of Sumerian culture; Dr. Charles F. Edson, jr., Athens, Greece, to assist him in continuing a study o ncier. Macedonia.

Stagecraft is represented by awards to two designers, Mordecai Gorelik, New York, for a study of stage techniques; Steward Chaney, New York, for a study of European stagecraft.

Six projects in physics, chemistry and related fields are being aided through these grants:

Dr. Ronold Wyeth Percival King, Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.; Dr. Hans Mueller, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. Lawrence Olin Brockway, California Institute of Technology; Dr. Florence Barbara Seibert, Henry Phipps Institute of the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. James Bathceller Sumner, Cornell University.

Fellowships in anatomy and physiology include grants to the following scientists:

Dr. Samuel Robert Means Reynolds, Long Island College of Medicine, Brooklyn; Dr. Sydney William Britton, University of Virginia; Dr. Herbert Shapiro, Princeton University.

In the field of geology fellowships went to Dr. Aaron Clement Waters, Stanford University, and Dr. Charles Henry Behre, jr., Northwestern University.

Woman Is Honored.

A fellowship in philology was awarded to Dr. Dorothy Bethrum, Lawrence College, for a story of late Old English and early Middle English homilies.

Dr Donald Keith Adams, Duke University, received a fellowship to study child psychology.

Two professors of philosophy will pursue special studies in their fields as a result of fellowships: Dr. Paul Weiss, Bryn Mawr College, and Dr. Donald Cary Williams, University of California.

In the field of anthropology three grants were made: Dr. Melville J. Herskovits, Northwestern University; Miss Zora Neale Hurston, New York, and Dr. William Clouser Boyd, Boston University School of Medicine.

The committee of selection consisted of President Frank Aydelotte, of Swarthmore College, chairman; Dean Marjorie Nicolson, of Smith College; Dr. Florence R. Sabin, of Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research; Dr. Carl Sauer, University of California professor of geography, and Dr. Edwin Bidwell Wilson, professor of votal statistics in the Harvard School of Public Health.

Greater Prosperity Seen for Farmers

By the United Press.

An upsurge in farm prosperity was indicated last night by reports to the Department of Agriculture from every section of the country.

Prices of farm products are the highest in many years and are rising steadily. Rising industrial prosperity has increased consumer purchasing power. Weather conditions are generally favorable.

The crop board reported farmers intend to plant increased acreages this year. Only another severe drought or other catastrophe apparently can prevent bumper crops.

Last year farmers had a gross income of $9,530,000,000. This year's income is expected to equal, if not exceed 1929 income of $10,250,000,000. In 1933 gross farm income was $3,500,000,000.

N. Y. Party Changes Name.

New York, March 28 (AP).—The People's Party of New York, whose membership came largely from the ranks of "old guard" Socialists, voted today to change its name to "The Social Democratic Federation."

Suit Accuses U. S. Of Delaying Ships

By the Associated Press.

The Lykes Bros.-Ripley Steamship Co., Inc., filed for $249,711 a claim with the Maritime Commission Saturday, which it said was its loss from the Government's delay in delivering nine ships it purchased in 1933 from the Shipping Board.

The company operates from New Orleans, Houston, Galveston and other Gulf ports.

It purchased 52 Government-owned vessels in 1933, but later that year the Secretary of Commerce, to whose jurisdiction the Shipping Board had been transferred, held up the delivery of nine vessels because of disclosures before a Senate investigating committee, which raised doubts as to the validity of the purchase contract.

Last December Attorney General Cummings ruled the cotnract was valid, whereupon the Maritime Commission delivered the ships.

Engineer Group to Meet.

The Washington Post, Society of American Military Engineers, will hold its March luncheon meeting at the Army and Navy Club today at 12:30 o'clock. Eugene Meyer, publisher of The Washington Post, will be the guest of honor.

World War Order Asks Army Day Flag Display

The Military Order of the World War yesterday called upon all its members in Washington to display the American Flag on their homes and places of business on Army Day, April 6.

The order called attention to a proclamation issued last week by the District Commissioners urging all patriotic citizens of Washington to display the Flag on Army Day.

Quake Strikes Tokyo.

Tokyo, March 28 (AP).—Violent earthshocks were felt here today at 6:11 a. m. (4:11 p. m. Saturday E. S. T.). No casualties were reported.

Rent your spare room with a Post Classified Ad. Just call an Ad Writer, National 4200.

For Safety's Sake
Buy Mutual Fire Insurance

- Unquestioned Financial Strength
- Prompt Adjustment of Losses
- Substantial Dividend Savings

THE MUTUAL INSURANCE AGENCY

Albert R. Peters, President
Chas. M. Boteler, Secretary
E. I. Oakes, Treasurer

1301 H Street N. W.
Call "The Mutual"—NAtional 6690

John H. Kroll
C. V. Hyson
C. H. Elliott
J. G. White
D. H. Sayer

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Michigan Millers Mutual Fire Insurance Company
OF LANSING, MICHIGAN,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$2,091,620.78
Total interest and rents	255,196.80
Other income	47,219.49
Total income	$2,394,037.07

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$759,676.54
All other disbursements	1,597,793.03
Total disbursements	$2,357,469.57

ASSETS.

Real estate (home office bldg., $383,220.03)	$996,432.47
Mortgage loans on real estate	927,618.52
Collateral loans	14,702.62
Bonds and stocks	1,526,816.42
Deposits in banks	607,878.14
Agents' balances	151,514.66
Interest and rents due or accrued	36,446.89
All other assets	170,701.38
Gross assets	$4,422,111.10
Deduct assets not admitted	146,152.10
Total admitted assets	$4,275,959.00

LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$194,912.89
Total unearned premiums	1,365,570.60
Other liabilities	567,400.00
Surplus over all liabilities	2,148,075.51
Total	$4,275,959.00

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total	District of Columbia
Fire	$1,904,082.95	$2,155.75
Motor vehicles	37,019.27	.....
Earthquake	2,009.99	.....
Inland navigation and transportation	13,334.09	23.45
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	125,988.96	—11.15
Sprinkler leakage	7,419.29	3.58
Riot, civil commotion and explosion	1,766.23	—2.06
	$2,091,620.78	$2,169.57

L. H. BAKER.
First Vice President.
L. B. TOBEY, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 25th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) G. E. PORTERFIELD, Notary Public.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company
OF ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$986,115.76
Total interest and rents	49,452.22
Other income	41,084.31
Total income	$1,076,652.29

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$262,525.74
All other disbursements	797,401.29
Total disbursements	$1,059,927.03

ASSETS.

Real estate	$181,770.60
Mortgage loans on real estate	83,544.19
Bonds and stocks	977,696.26
Cash in company's office	200.00
Deposits in banks	170,321.24
Agents' balances	154,757.21
Interest and rents due or accrued	8,813.68
All other assets	23,744.21
Gross assets	$1,600,847.39
Deduct assets not admitted	3,681.84
Total admitted assets	$1,597,165.55

LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$44,821.66
Total unearned premiums	893,094.90
Other liabilities	45,118.42
Capital paid up	100,000.00
Surplus over all liabilities	514,130.57
Total	$1,597,165.55

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total	District of Columbia
Fire	$737,932.12	$1,654.03
Motor vehicles	240,753.50	*14.32
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	6,309.25	*84.38
Sprinkler leakage	1,190.70	.....
Riot, civil commotion and explosion		*89.81 .....
	$986,115.76	$1,555.33

BURTON S. FLAGG, President.
EDWARD C. NICHOLS, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 19th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) FRANK L. BRIGHAM, Notary Public.
*Credit.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Berkshire Mutual Fire Insurance Company
OF PITTSFIELD, MASS.,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$669,222.74
Total interest and rents	31,572.23
Other income	16,840.71
Total income	$717,635.68

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$202,525.48
All other disbursements	463,352.85
Total disbursements	$665,878.33

ASSETS.

Real estate	$60,000.00
Mortgage loans on real estate	7,726.00
Collateral loans	18,042.42
Bonds and stocks	707,940.56
Cash in company's office	25.00
Deposits in banks	163,112.17
Agents' balances	77,133.22
Interest and rents due or accrued	5,440.54
All other assets	7,175.80
Gross assets	$1,043,591.71
Deduct assets not admitted	75,383.57
Total admitted assets	$968,208.14

LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$25,898.29
Total unearned premiums	617,799.99
Other liabilities	22,136.20
Surplus over all liabilities	302,373.66
Total	$968,208.14

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total	District of Columbia
Fire	$559,623.71	$240.36
Motor vehicles	101,770.63	17.34
Inland navigation and transportation	1,879.76	.....
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	5,244.03	.....
Sprinkler leakage	605.89	.....
Riot, civil commotion and explosion	69.68	.....
All other	29.04	.....
	$669,222.74	$957.70

ROBERT A. BARBOUR, President
CHARLES W. GALLUP, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 15th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) W. ADDISON ROBERTS, Notary Public.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE
Fitchburg Mutual Fire Insurance Company
OF FITCHBURG, MASSACHUSETTS,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$564,774.19
Total interest and rents	29,496.12
Other income	4,904.01
Total income	$599,174.32

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$130,003.19
All other disbursements	373,458.76
Total disbursements	$513,461.95

ASSETS.

Real estate	$130,000.00
Bonds and stocks	437,738.96
Cash in company's office	225.00
Deposits in banks	107,966.56
Agents' balances	61,944.71
Interest and rents due or accrued	5,687.76
All other assets	1,317.57
Gross assets	$744,880.56
Deduct assets not admitted	1,583.85
Total admitted assets	$743,296.71

LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$18,835.50
Total unearned premiums	442,685.58
Other liabilities	16,548.45
Surplus over all liabilities	265,227.18
Total	$743,296.71

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total	District of Columbia
Fire	$485,412.66	$1,571.00
Motor vehicles	76,069.27	7.56
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	3,057.15	.....
Sprinkler leakage	226.62	.....
All other	8.49	.....
	$564,774.19	$1,578.56

WALTER G. GRAVES, Treasurer.
W. BRUCE ADAMS, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 19th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) MINNIE M. TOWNSEND, Notary Public.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE
Pawtucket Mutual Fire Insurance Company
OF PAWTUCKET, R. I.,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$871,941.86
Total interest and rents	81,119.23
Other income	8,785.12
Total income	$961,846.21

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$257,287.46
All other disbursements	573,947.68
Total disbursements	$831,235.14

ASSETS.

Real estate	$122,614.19
Mortgage loans on real estate	135,575.44
Bonds and stocks	1,290,570.68
Cash in company's office	50.00
Deposits in banks	143,173.54
Agents' balances	126,624.43
Interest and rents due or accrued	12,491.30
All other assets	114,280.13
Gross assets	$1,949,379.71
Total admitted assets	$1,949,379.71

LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$25,628.38
Total unearned premiums	865,062.27
Other liabilities	34,035.70
Surplus over all liabilities	1,024,653.36
Total	$1,949,379.71

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total.	District of Columbia.
Fire	$660,501.99	$1,927.89
Motor vehicles	197,742.07	1,337.41
Earthquake	462.82	.....
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	5,958.71	3.60
Sprinkler leakage	911.31	.....
Riot, civil commotion and explosion	5.00	.....
All other—Aircraft, supplemental contracts	6,359.96	20.32
	$871,941.86	$3,289.22

FREDERIC W. EASTON, President.
E. R. HORTON, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) LAWRENCE H. PRATT, Notary Public.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Western Millers Mutual Fire Insurance Company
OF KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$768,867.37
Total interest and rents	32,949.51
Other income	28,897.12
Total income	$830,714.24

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$257,631.39
All other disbursements	537,136.89
Total disbursements	$794,768.28

ASSETS.

Bonds and stocks	$775,039.50
Cash in company's office	2,681.59
Deposits in banks	65,641.50
Agents' balances	106,797.68
Interest and rents due or accrued	6,175.22
All other assets	13,687.37
Gross assets	$970,022.86
Deduct assets not admitted	869.40
Total admitted assets	$969,153.46

LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$47,393.46
Total unearned premiums	490,030.81
Other liabilities	46,895.31
Surplus over all liabilities	384,833.88
Total	$969,153.46

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total	District of Columbia
Fire	$890,248.78	$2,230.93
Motor vehicles	17,349.70	40.64
Earthquake	199.79	.....
Inland navigation and transportation	21,230.98	16.29
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	32,498.99	127.23
Sprinkler leakage	2,843.33	9.54
Riot, civil commotion and explosion	4,495.80	12.58
	$768,867.37	$2,437.21

E. D. LYSLE, Vice President.
R. M. ROGERS, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 26th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) WM. H. FEILD, Notary Public.
My commission expires April 3, 1937.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Shelby Mutual Plate Glass and Casualty Company
OF SHELBY, OHIO,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$1,143,066.66
Total interest and rents	36,162.18
Other income	36,065.84
Total income	$1,215,314.68

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$485,376.46
All other disbursements	572,949.11
Total disbursements	$1,058,325.57

ASSETS.

Real estate	$112,720.00
Mortgage loans on real estate	115,139.49
Bonds and stocks	790,237.70
Cash in company's office	1,978.73
Deposits in banks	129,901.94
Premiums in course of collection	227,279.19
Interest and rents due or accrued	8,268.62
All other assets	539.20
Gross assets	$1,386,064.87
Deduct assets not admitted	2,510.21
Total admitted assets	$1,383,574.66

LIABILITIES.

Total unpaid claims	$263,346.71
Total unearned premiums	585,922.84
Other liabilities	99,669.47
Surplus over all liabilities	434,636.64
Total	$1,383,574.66

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total.	District of Columbia.
Auto liability	$73,128.80	.....
Liability other than auto	30,946.84	259.09
Plate glass	444,599.41	5,372.85
Auto property damage	190,834.96	.....
Auto collision	3,776.85	.....
Totals	$1,143,066.66	$5,631.94

L. A. DENNIS, President.
J. J. CRUM, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) GEORGE WILLIAMS, Notary Public.
My commission expires July 17, 1939.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE National Underwriters Mutual Insurance Company
OF BALTIMORE, MARYLAND,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$71,831.57
Total interest and rents	4,310.72
Other income	7,620.45
Total income	$83,762.74

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$25,736.28
All other disbursements	45,581.94
Total disbursements	$71,318.22

ASSETS.

Real estate	$6,546.99
Mortgage loans on real estate	20,600.00
Bonds and stocks	57,502.50
Deposits in banks	15,496.74
Agents' balances	9,825.13
Interest and rents due or accrued	1,481.76
Gross assets	$111,453.08
Total admitted assets	$111,453.08

LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$5,378.55
Total unearned premiums	55,484.86
Other liabilities	3,495.00
Reserve for contingencies	9,000.00
Surplus over all liabilities	42,094.67
Total	$111,453.08

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total	District of Columbia
Fire	$57,443.69	$7,344.91
Motor vehicles	11,842.51	10,006.23
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	1,365.90	779.97
All other: Inland marine	293.18	13.57
Burglary	965.84	539.40
	$71,911.12	$18,686.17

ALBERT R. PETERS, President.
CHAS. M. BOTELER, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) HELEN C. RUSSELL, Notary Public.
My commission expires October 15, 1940.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Ohio Underwriters Mutual Fire Insurance Company
OF VAN WERT, OHIO,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$224,789.39
Total interest and rents	14,962.32
Other income	1,290.63
Total income	$241,042.34

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$106,449.85
All other disbursements	157,308.67
Total disbursements	$263,758.52

ASSETS.

Real estate	$3,750.00
Mortgage loans on real estate	8,200.00
Bonds and stocks	381,180.00
Cash in company's office	190.00
Deposits in banks	13,983.09
Agents' balances	15,978.68
Interest and rents due or accrued	2,421.26
Gross assets	$425,703.03
Total admitted assets	$425,703.03

LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$20,986.99
Total unearned premiums	170,713.29
Other liabilities	45,487.79
Surplus over all liabilities	187,814.96
Total	$425,703.03

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total	District of Columbia
Fire	$192,720.75	$1,045.67
Motor vehicles	16,398.00	66.39
Earthquake	126.25	.....
Inland navigation and transportation	2,531.08	5.86
Tornado, windstorm and cyclone	7,830.13	61.25
Sprinkler leakage	757.52	50.00
Riot, civil commotion and explosion	170.43	.....
All other	4,255.23	14.26
	$224,789.39	$1,243.43

C. M. PURMORT, President.
L. G. PURMORT, Secretary.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 11th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) VERA CONN, Notary Public.
My commission expires April 8, 1938.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE
United States Branch of the Standard Marine Insurance Company, Ltd.
OF LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND,
On the 31st day of December, 1936, as required under Section 647 of the Code of Law for the District of Columbia.

INCOME.

Net premiums	$955,618.46
Total interest and rents	146,191.68
Other income	159,982.28
Total income	$1,261,790.42

DISBURSEMENTS.

Net amount paid policyholders for losses	$373,123.63
All other disbursements	825,127.15
Total disbursements	$1,198,250.78

ASSETS.

Mortgage loans on real estate	$44,121.23
Bonds and stocks	2,997,173.29
Deposits in banks	264,312.19
Agents' balances	258,799.94
Interest and rents due or accrued	36,979.40
All other assets	44,152.78
Gross assets	$3,645,238.82
Deduct assets not admitted	54,198.68
Total admitted assets	*$3,591,040.14

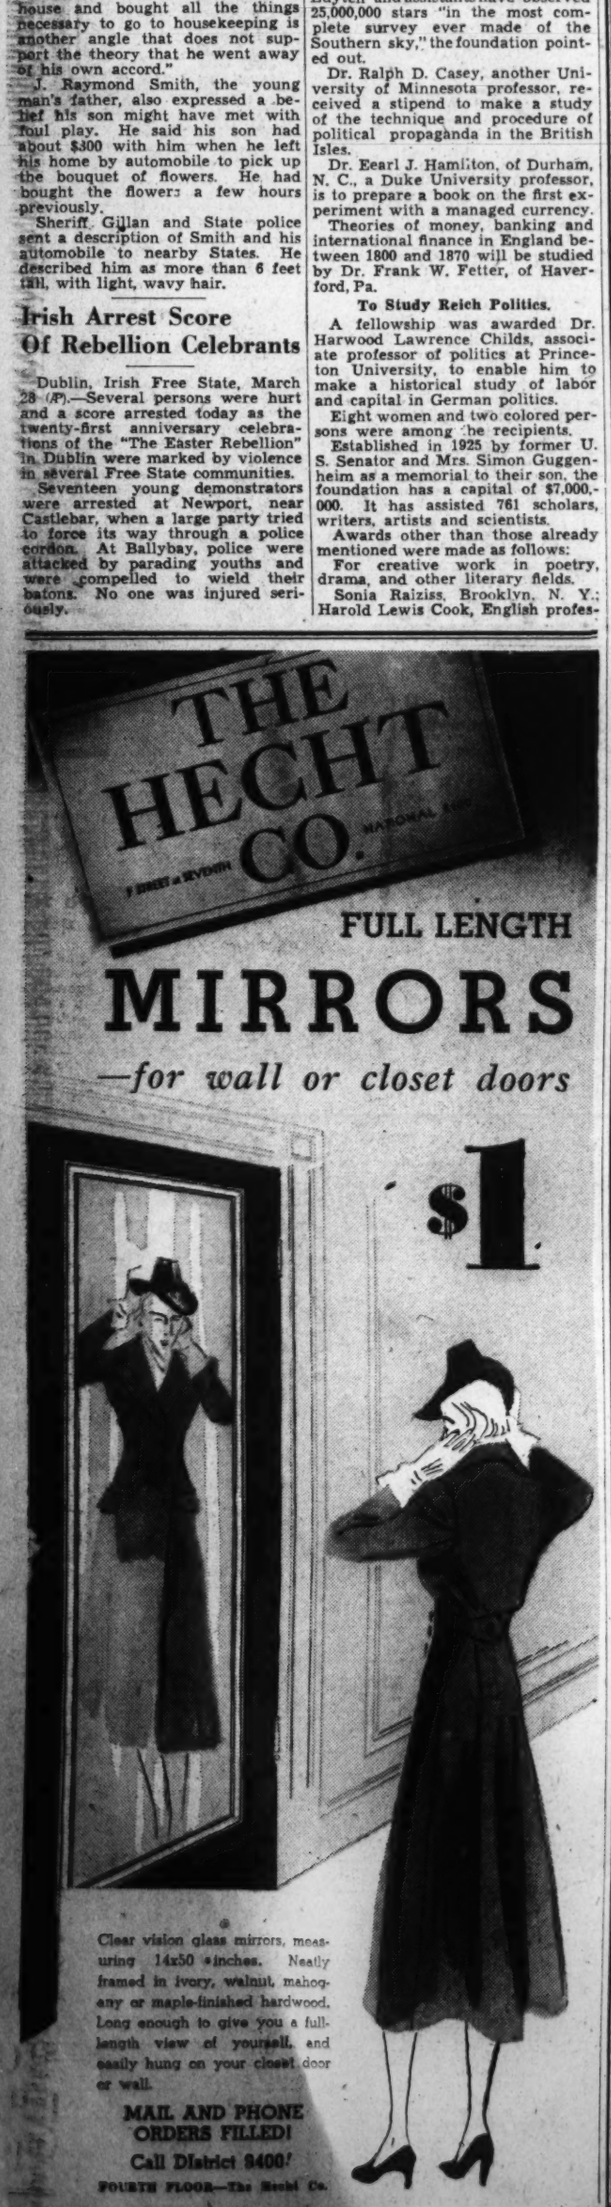
LIABILITIES.

Net unpaid claims	$270,135.31
Total unearned premiums	290,130.91
Other liabilities	248,810.05
Deposit capital	400,000.00
Surplus over all liabilities	2,381,963.87
Total	$3,591,040.14

NET PREMIUMS WRITTEN DURING THE YEAR.

	Total.	District of Columbia.
Ocean marine	$795,093.00	$3,337.63
Inland navigation and tranportation	80,618,449.00	6,390.30
	$81,413,542.00	$8,727.93

STANDARD MARINE INS. CO., LTD.
By W. J. ROBERTS & CO., INC., United States Managers.
Vice President.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of February, 1937.
(Seal.) HARRY HOLINER, Notary Public.
Kings County clerk's No. 82, Reg. No. 8086. New York County clerk's No. 178, Reg. No. 8-A——. Commission expires March 30, 1938.
*On the basis of December 31st, 1936, Market Quotations for all Bonds and Stocks owned, this Company's total admitted assets would be increased to $4,079,094.35.



Clear vision glass mirrors, measuring 14x50 inches. Neatly framed in ivory, walnut, mahogany or maple-finished hardwood. Long enough to give you a full-length view of yourself, and easily hung on your closet door or wall.

MAIL AND PHONE ORDERS FILLED!
Call District 9400!
FOURTH FLOOR—The Hecht Co.

GIRLS - -
BUDGET AND BUDGET BUNDLE ARE SYNONYMOUS TERMS. MORNINGSIDE'S BUDGET BUNDLE FITS INTO MY FAMILY BUDGET LIKE A BANANA INTO IT'S SKIN!

Morningside

BUDGET BUNDLE Service

Call

Your laundry budget must include more than just laundry and dry-cleaning service. It must take into consideration the replacement of your family's wardrobe. If you submit your own clothing and that of your family to the ordinary methods of washing and cleaning, your replacement costs are bound to be high. Fabrics change constantly. Methods of dyeing change from day to day. Only the plant with the most scientific methods of control can keep abreast of the changes. Morningside Budget Bundle Service sends back 9 pounds of family laundry done perfectly . . . everything ready to use . . . for only $1.49. Shirts finished at no extra charge. If you have more than nine pounds you pay only 11c for each extra pound. Every scientific safeguard surrounds your clothing. Call Shepherd 4050, and ask the man from Morningside to call.